

Reid Ryan is a professional sports executive that has worked extensively in professional baseball for over 25 years. The founder and CEO of Ryan Sanders Baseball. Ryan has successfully owned and operated top tier minor league clubs in the Austin, Corpus Christi and San Antonio, TX markets. Ryan's teams have ranked at or near the top of minor league attendance, stadium satisfaction and franchise value each year since their inception.

Ryan served as president for the Houston Astros from 2013-2019. In his tenure as the club's president the Astros appeared in the World Series twice, winning the title in 2017.

As president, Reid emphasized the importance of the fan experience and openly engaged with the Astros fan base at nearly every home game. He also played a significant role in the opening of the Astros Spring Training facility in West Palm Beach, Florida, the renovation of the new center field area at Minute Maid Park and the securing of the Astros Class A-Advanced affiliate in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Ryan serves as a member of the Major League Baseball Player Develop License governance committee.

Ryan is involved in business outside baseball. Most notably he serves as a director and organizer of R Bank. Based in Round Rock, TX, R Bank is a community bank specializing in small- to medium-sized business. He is also a board member and shareholder for Nolan Ryan Brands, which owns Nolan Ryan Beef.

Recently, Ryan served as an executive producer on a feature length documentary that chronicled the life and career of his father, Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, Nolan Ryan. The project debuted on Netflix in 2022 and recently received the honor of being the highest rated baseball movie on Rotten Tomatoes of all-time.

Ryan has been married to his wife, Nicole, for 28 years. The couple has three children, Jackson (25), Victoria (23) and Ella (20). He and his family enjoy giving back to the community. Ryan currently serves as an advisory board member for Spring Spirit Baseball in Houston, TX and as a board member for the Nolan Ryan Foundation in Round Rock, TX. Both charities focus on children, scholarships and the opportunities that come from the game of baseball. Ryan also serves on the board of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Waco, TX.