Lipsky Construction is a third-generation family-owned Construction Company which was founded by Herbert Lipsky and is based out of Long Island, New York. Joel is a graduate from the University of North Florida and holds a degree in Construction Management. Post-graduation Joel worked for large scale construction companies such as Turner Construction, The Haskell Group, Elkins Construction, and the United States Department of Defense as a private contractor before moving back to New York to join the family General Contracting Firm.

In 2022, Joel embarked on an exciting journey alongside his brother and business partner, Alex, as they assumed leadership of the family construction company. Together, they transformed the business into a thriving commercial general contracting and construction management firm, showcasing their dedication and strategic vision.

Under their leadership, the company experienced remarkable success, becoming a key player in the construction industry. Joel and Alex's commitment to excellence, innovative solutions, and client satisfaction propelled the firm to new heights. With a firm foundation in place, Joel and Alex are eagerly anticipating the future, ready to tackle new opportunities and advancements in the construction field. Their leadership has not only preserved the family legacy but has also positioned the company as a beacon of success in the competitive construction landscape.
