

Sean Salas, CEO and Co-Founder

Sean Salas is the CEO and Co-Founder of Camino Financial, a Fintech executive and visionary on a mission to empower overlooked entrepreneurs everywhere. Sean is an authoritative voice speaking about the intersection of FinTech and financial inclusion as a podcast host of Fundamental Fairness and contributor on Forbes. He has been featured in CNN, NBC Universal, and Lending Academy. Sean previously worked at ICV Partners, a private equity fund where he invested $50 million in direct equity investments and helped manage 4 portfolio companies with over $250 million in combined revenue. He also held the role of an investment banker at UBS Investment Bank. Sean holds an MBA from Harvard Business School and a BA from UC Berkeley.