

Tammy E. Williams Bio

Tammy Williams is the Founder & CEO of Envision2bWell, Inc. Known as the Chief Democratizer for Social Health Empowerment®, Tammy is a thought-leader who loves bucking the status quo.

Prior to founding Envision2bWell, Tammy had an illustrious career in Human Resources, Corporate Communications, Business Strategy and Change Management for multiple Fortune and mid-size companies. This experience allows her to provide thought leadership, identify critical insights and develop optimal business strategies supported by clear, actionable recommendations for execution.

Tammy is involved in activism activities such as being a PA State Delegate for the National Women's Equality Initiative, Vision 2020, national nonpartisan equality coalition; member of the Leadership Council for the National Small Business Association (NSBA); member of NAACP and the League of Women Voters of Chester County and more. Tammy is an accomplished speaker and has won several awards including the 25 Most Influential Black Women in Business by The Network Journal and Mobil Oil and she's most proud of the PA Senate Proclamation presented by former Senator Andrew Dinniman for receiving the Distinguished Leadership Award by the Lincoln University Alumni Association.

An accomplished speaker, Tammy has spoken on the national and international stage on Women Entrepreneurship, Leadership and Social Health Empowerment.

Tammy graduated from Rutgers University and attended Kellogg School of Management and Villanova for key certifications. She is married to Donald L. Williams Sr and resides in Chester County, PA.