Matthew L. Smorch

Vice President, Supply and Strategy
Countrymark Cooperative Holding Corporation

Matt holds a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from Michigan Technological University and is a 2008 graduate of the Hoosier Fellows program at Indiana University's Tobias Center for Leadership Excellence.

Prior to CountryMark, he worked at Premcor's refinery in suburban Chicago and at Amoco Corporation in several job roles at various locations. Throughout his career in the petroleum industry, Matt has been active with the American Petroleum Institute (API), Small Business Refiners ad-hoc working group, and a board member of the American Fuels and Petrochemicals (AFPM).

Matt joined CountryMark in 2001, working at the company refinery in Mt. Vernon, IN. After progressing through several roles there—including refinery manager—he moved to Indianapolis, IN to take a role in strategy. Since then, he has led various planning functions and leads the Supply and Strategy organization. His current responsibilities include oversight of supply and optimization, long-term strategic planning, business development, and governmental affairs.

Matt lives in Carmel, IN with his wife, Stacey. They have two adult children, Zach and Ashlyn.
