

Ryan M. Yonk PhD is the Director of Education and Senior Research Fellow at the American Institute for Economic Research. He holds a PhD from Georgia State University and a MS and BS from Utah State University. He is also a Research Fellow at the Independent Institute, and Visiting Professor at the Universidad Francisco Marroquin. Prior to joining AIER he held academic positions at North Dakota State University, Utah State University, and Southern Utah University, and was one of the founders of the Strata Policy. He is the (co) author or editor of numerous books including Green V. Green, Nature Unbound: Bureaucracy vs. the Environment, The Reality of American Energy, and Politics and Quality of Life: The Role of Well-Being in Political Outcomes. He has also (co) authored numerous articles in academic journals including Public Choice, The Independent Review, Applied Research in Quality of Life, and the Journal of Private Enterprise. His research explores how policy can be better crafted to achieve greater individual autonomy and prosperity.