

Matthew A Scholl

Matthew Scholl is the Chief of the Computer Security Division (CSD) in the Information Technology Laboratory (ITL) at the U.S. Department of Commerce's National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST). CSD, one of seven Divisions within ITL, has an annual budget of $32 million, nearly 100 federal employees, and an additional approximately 50 guest researchers from industry, universities, and foreign laboratories.

Mr. Scholl oversees a research program that cultivates trust in information technology and metrology by developing and disseminating standards, measurements, and testing for interoperability, security, usability, and reliability of information systems, including cybersecurity standards and guidelines for federal agencies and U.S. industry.

He also co-leads NIST's participation with Cybersecurity National and International Standards Development Organizations (SDOs) and associated conformance testing programs.

Mr. Scholl has a Master's in Information Systems from the University of Maryland and a bachelor's degree from the University of Richmond.

He is a U.S. Army veteran and currently has more than 20 years of federal service.
