

Janice Dean joined FOX News Channel (FNC) in January 2004 where she currently serves as senior meteorologist for the network. In addition, she is the morning meteorologist for FNC's signature morning show, FOX & Friends, and a host/contributor to Fox News Media and Fox Weather Service.

Since the deaths of her husband's parents, Janice has become a fierce advocate on behalf of the thousands of elderly that died in nursing homes and adult care facilities during the covid-19 pandemic, demanding accountability and justice from those who purposely put our greatest generation in harm's way.
