

Joan E. McInerney, MD, MA, MBA, FACEP
Director - Veterans Integrated Service Network 3

Joan E. McInerney, MD, MA, MBA, FACEP, was selected as the Network Director for VISN 2 effective May 1, 2016. The current VISN 2, created by merging VISN 2 and VISN 3, which now includes VA medical centers throughout the entire state of New York as well as New Jersey, and serves over 500,000 Veterans.

Dr. McInerney is Board Certified in Emergency Medicine and Internal Medicine. She joined VA in April, 2011 as the Chief Medical Officer of VISN 3 where she led clinical innovation efforts which included integrating new models of care and implementing evidence-based clinical practice. An advocate of Lean processes, Dr. McInerney has championed efforts to reduce inefficiencies while improving safety and quality of care across VA medical centers and community based outpatient clinics.

Prior to joining the Department of Veterans Affairs, Dr. McInerney was the Chairman of Emergency Medicine at two Level 1 Trauma Centers in metropolitan New York for 18 years. She is an Associate Professor of Clinical Emergency Medicine School of Medicine, State University of New York at Stony Brook and she had been designated a member of the National Disaster Preparedness and Response Committee of the American College of Emergency Physicians.