

Jonathan M. Gaffney is a supervisory attorney in the American Law Division of the Congressional Research Service, where he leads a team of attorneys that covers, among other topics, administrative law, congressional investigations and oversight, and veterans law. Jon joined CRS as an attorney in 2019 and assumed his current position in 2022.

Before joining CRS, Jon served for eight years as a judicial law clerk at the U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, first for Judge Alan G. Lance, Sr., including a year as Judge Lance's senior law clerk and chief of staff, and later for then-Chief Judge Robert N. Davis, including a year as Executive Attorney to the Chief Judge.

Jon earned his J.D., with honors, from the George Washington University Law School in 2011 and dual bachelor's degrees in mathematics and history, summa cum laude, from the University of Idaho in 2008. Jon is a member of the Idaho bar.
