

Biography – Will Gray

Will Gray is a senior executive with over 25 years of experience at Boston Scientific, currently serving as Vice President of Marketing, Commercial Operations, and Government for Corporate Accounts and Healthcare Solutions. In this role, he leads a team of 115 professionals, overseeing strategy, contracting, and economic value propositions for the largest health systems in the United States.

Throughout his tenure, Will has held leadership positions in Corporate Accounts, Interventional Cardiology, and Peripheral Interventions. He has been instrumental in securing multi-year contracts with major commercial health systems and has played a pivotal role in shaping Boston Scientific's commercial strategy. In the past 13 years, Will has collaborated on the Boston Scientific commercial strategy for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and the Department of Defense (DoD), ensuring that veterans and military personnel have access to cutting-edge medical technologies.

Prior to his corporate career, Will served as a Captain in the United States Marine Corps, including a deployment to Mogadishu, Somalia, during Operation Restore Hope. He holds a Bachelor of Arts and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Florida and is pursuing a Master of Science in Artificial Intelligence at Purdue University.

Beyond his professional endeavors, Will is an author, endurance athlete, and committed advocate for veterans.