

Sharon Silas is a Director in the Health Care team for the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO)—a nonpartisan and independent investigative arm of the U.S. Congress. Ms. Silas joined GAO in 2000 and has more than 20 years' experience working on a range of public policy issues at GAO. She currently leads the veterans and military health care portfolio conducting a variety of reviews addressing VA health care programs such as community care, long-term care, VA's budget, veterans' quality health care concerns and veterans' mental health issues. She also leads work addressing access and quality of care issues at DOD. Prior to coming to GAO, Ms. Silas held a number of positions in state government and the non-profit sector. Ms. Silas has an undergraduate degree in Anthropology and a Masters of Public Administration from the University of Washington.