

Ms. BriGette McCoy is the 2020 Congressional Medal of Honor Foundation Citizen's Honors Medal awardee, an Army Gulf War Era Veteran and Learning Sciences Instructional Technologies Ph.D. student at Georgia State University.

Ms. McCoy, in 2009, founded Women Veteran Social Justice Network Inc, a 501(c)(3) which is now a nationally recognized, multi-award-winning, all-volunteer, a multi-platform network supporting and honoring past and present military servicewomen and equipping them for successful advanced executive leadership in philanthropy, entrepreneurship, civic community engagement, and personal economic expansion.

Ms McCoy is a convener, citizen philanthropist, serial entrepreneur, and creative content author who incorporates social justice, instructional technology, and intersectionality into; Keynotes and instructional content for workshops with topics in; DEI, institutional moral injury, entrepreneurship, media and television, civic technology, and politics, and business creative pursuits using digital technology.

Ms. McCoy brings equitable, inclusive, and socially impactful accredited training and transformative, engaging workshops to nonprofits, corporations, and industry experts. She regularly speaks with our Nation's lawmakers and key stakeholders, including senior military, federal senior executive staff, and military retirees.

Ms. McCoy hosted two educational podcasts for three seasons: Go Live Life WELL and WVSJ Connects, on Heroes Media Group. She currently serves as a Board Chair for Protect Our Defenders, Federally Employed Women National Partner, Warrior Songs Board Advisor, and City and County government appointments.

Ms. McCoy is the proud mom of two daughters who are citizen philanthropists and entrepreneurially engaged.

Ms. McCoy can be found on LinkedIn and reached through LinkedIn messaging.