

Daniel Santibanez joined the VA San Diego in 2019 as the Assistant Chief of Nutrition and Food Service, before serving as Service Chief in 2020. He has worked for the VHA in several leadership roles since 2011, including Nutrition Support Dietitian for the Miami VA, Inpatient Section Chief for VA Long Beach and Clinical Section Chief for VA New Jersey.

Mr. Santibanez is a graduate of the University of North Florida with a Bachelor of Science in Nutrition and a Master of Public Health in Community Nutrition. He completed his Juris Doctor degree from Florida International University School of Law. He completed a 1,200-hour internship program in Dietetics at the University of North Florida and is licensed to practice law in Florida.

Mr. Santibanez is a Registered Dietitian Nutrition since 2005 and has additional specialty certification in Nutrition Support. He is the current Chair of the Food Service and Business Committee and sits on the VHA Nutrition Field Advisory Board.