Avi Vaswani is a Vice President at Cerner Government Services and is an experienced Health Information Technology Program Manager with over 10 years of experience with the Department of Veterans Affairs. In his current role as the Program Manager on the Electronic Health Record Modernization (EHRM) Program, Avi leads over 4000 Cerner associates and 1000 partner associates in delivering a modern, commercial off-the-shelf electronic health record (EHR) to the Department of Veterans Affairs in accordance with cost, schedule, and performance requirements. Avi has a Masters in Computer Science from George Washington University and a Bachelor of Science in Systems Engineering from the University of Virginia.