

Austin Ramirez
CEO, Husco International Inc.

Biography

Austin Ramirez is the President and CEO of Husco International, a global engineering and manufacturing company that provides hydraulic and electromechanical components for automotive and off-highway applications. Under his leadership, the company was designated a Global Growth Company by the World Economic Forum and recognized as Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year.

Austin served as a White House Fellow on the National Economic Council of both the Trump and Obama administrations. He is a member of the 2018 Class of Henry Crown Fellows at the Aspen Institute and a 2014 Young Global Leader of the World Economic Forum.

An All-American swimmer at the University of Virginia, Austin was a USA Swimming National Champion and FINA World Championships gold medalist. After graduating from Virginia with degrees in Systems Engineering and Economics, he worked in the San Francisco office of McKinsey & Company. Austin attended the Stanford Graduate School of Business as a Goldman Sachs Fellow and graduated as an Arjay Miller Scholar.

Austin is an active citizen of Milwaukee with a passion for urban education. He has volunteered on a number of education-focused boards including Teach for America, the Boys and Girls Clubs, the YMCA and the United Performing Arts Fund. He is a co-founder and board member of St. Augustine Preparatory Academy. Austin has also served as a director of the Greater Milwaukee Committee, Metropolitan Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers.