

David Klebonis
(David kleh-BOH-niss)

David Klebonis is a consummate healthcare executive, budding entrepreneur, and advocate for physician-led care. As President & Chief Operating Officer of PBACO, he is part of the original executive team that helped physicians achieve the highest cumulative savings in ACO history. Throughout his career, David has been dedicated to supporting independent physicians, blending strategic leadership with hands-on operational experience. Prior to his role at PBACO, he founded two modest healthcare-focused ventures: Medical Insight Partners, a consulting firm and EHR reseller, and CreativeMD, a creative design and marketing agency. He also managed operations and information systems at the Center for Bone & Joint Surgery and began his career in electronic health record implementation, supporting hundreds of physicians across more than 35 states. He holds both a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science in Business Administration, with a specialization in Information Technology, from the University of Florida's Warrington College of Business. Known for his collaborative style and mission-driven leadership, David continues to drive innovation in value-based care.
