

Stephen C. Goss

Chief Actuary, Social Security Administration

Biography

Mr. Goss has been Chief Actuary at the Social Security Administration since 2001. Mr. Goss joined the Office of the Chief Actuary in 1973 after graduating from the University of Virginia with a M.S. in Mathematics. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1971 with a B.S. in Mathematics and Economics. He has worked closely with agencies throughout the Executive Branch, members, Committees, and Commissions in the Congress, academic researchers, and private institutions in areas related to pension, disability, and survivor protection as well as health insurance and long-term-care insurance. Mr. Goss is a member of the Society of Actuaries, the American Academy of Actuaries, and the National Academy of Social Insurance.