of the enactment of this Act;

(B) affect any water right of the Tribe in existence before the date of the enactment of this Act; or

(C) terminate or limit any access in any way to any right-of-way or right-of-use issued, granted, or permitted before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(5) RESTRICTED USE OF TRANSFERRED LANDS.—The Tribe may not conduct, on the land described in paragraph (3) taken into trust for the Tribe pursuant to this section, gaming activities—

(A) as a matter of claimed inherent authority; or

(B) under any Federal law, including the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (25 U.S.C.
2701 et seq.) and regulations promulgated by the Secretary or the National Indian Gaming Commission under that Act.

(6) DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this subsection:
(A) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.

(B) TRIBE.—The term “Tribe” means the Santa Ynez Band of Chumash Mission Indians.

SEC. 2869. LANDS TO BE TAKEN INTO TRUST AS PART OF THE RESERVATION OF THE LYTON RANCHERIA.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The Lytton Rancheria of California is a federally recognized Indian tribe that lost its homeland after its relationship to the United States was unjustly and unlawfully terminated in 1958. The Tribe was restored to Federal recognition in 1991, but the conditions of its restoration have prevented it from regaining a homeland on its original lands.

(2) Congress needs to take action to reverse historic injustices that befell the Tribe and that have prevented it from regaining a viable homeland for its people.

(3) Prior to European contact there were as many as 350,000 Indians living in what is now the State of California. By the turn of the 19th century, that number had been reduced to approximately 15,000 individuals, many of them homeless and living in scattered bands and communities.
(4) The Lytton Rancheria’s original homeland was purchased by the United States in 1926 pursuant to congressional authority designed to remedy the unique tragedy that befell the Indians of California and provide them with reservations called Rancherias to be held in trust by the United States.

(5) After the Lytton Rancheria lands were purchased by the United States, the Tribe settled on the land and sustained itself for several decades by farming and ranching.

(6) By the mid-1950s, Federal Indian policy had shifted back towards a policy of terminating the Federal relationship with Indian tribes. In 1958, Congress enacted the Rancheria Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 619), which slated 41 Rancherias in California, including the Lytton Rancheria, for termination after certain conditions were met.

(7) On August 1, 1961, the Federal Government terminated its relationship with the Lytton Rancheria. This termination was illegal because the conditions for termination under the Rancheria Act had never been met. After termination was implemented, the Tribe lost its lands and was left without any means of supporting itself.

(9) The Stipulated Judgment provides that the Lytton Rancheria would have the “individual and collective status and rights” which it had prior to its termination and expressly contemplated the acquisition of trust lands for the Lytton Rancheria.

(10) The Stipulated Judgment contains provisions, included at the request of the local county governments and neighboring landowners, that prohibit the Lytton Rancheria from exercising its full Federal rights on its original homeland in the Alexander Valley.

(11) In 2000, approximately 9.5 acres of land in San Pablo, California, was placed in trust status for the Lytton Rancheria for economic development purposes.

(12) The Tribe has since acquired, from willing sellers at fair market value, property in Sonoma County near the Tribe’s historic Rancheria. This property, which the Tribe holds in fee status, is suitable for a new homeland for the Tribe.

(13) On a portion of the land to be taken into trust, which portion totals approximately 124.12 acres, the Tribe plans to build housing for its members and governmental and community facilities.

(14) A portion of the land to be taken into trust is being used for viniculture, and the Tribe intends to develop more of the lands to be taken into trust for viniculture. The Tribe’s investment in the ongoing viniculture operation has reinvigorated the vineyards, which are producing high-quality wines. The Tribe is operating its vineyards on a sustainable basis and is working toward certification of sustainability.

(15) No gaming shall be conducted on the lands to be taken into trust by this section.

(16) No gaming shall be conducted on any lands taken into trust on behalf of the Tribe in Sonoma County after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(17) By directing that these lands be taken into trust, the United States will ensure that the Lytton Rancheria will finally have a permanently protected homeland on which the Tribe can once again live communally and plan for future generations. This action is necessary to fully restore the Tribe to the status it had before it was wrongfully terminated in 1961.

(18) The Tribe and County of Sonoma have entered into a Memorandum of Agreement as amended in 2018 in which the County agrees to the lands in the County being taken into trust for the benefit of the Tribe in consideration for commitments made by the Tribe.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—For the purpose of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) COUNTY.—The term “County” means Sonoma County, California.

(2) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.

(3) TRIBE.—The term “Tribe” means the Lytton Rancheria of California.

(e) LANDS TO BE TAKEN INTO TRUST.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The land owned by the Tribe and generally depicted on the map titled “Lytton Fee Owned Property to be Taken into Trust” and dated May 1, 2015, is hereby taken into trust for the benefit of the Tribe, subject to valid existing rights, contracts, and management agreements related to easements and rights-of-way.

(2) LANDS TO BE MADE PART OF THE RESER-ERVATION.—Lands taken into trust under paragraph (1) shall be part of the Tribe’s reservation and shall be administered in accordance with the laws and regulations generally applicable to property held in trust by the United States for an Indian tribe.

(d) GAMING.—

(1) LANDS TAKEN INTO TRUST UNDER THIS SECTION.—Lands taken into trust for the benefit of the Tribe under subsection (e) shall not be eligible for gaming under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (25 U.S.C. 2701 et seq.).

(2) OTHER LANDS TAKEN INTO TRUST.—Lands taken into trust for the benefit of the Tribe in Sonoma County after the date of the enactment of this Act shall not be eligible for gaming under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (25 U.S.C. 2701 et seq.).

(e) APPLICABILITY OF CERTAIN LAW.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Memorandum of Agreement entered into by the Tribe and the County concerning taking land in the County into trust for the benefit of the Tribe, which was approved by the County Board of Supervisors on March 10, 2015, and any addenda and supplement or amendment thereto, is not subject to review or approval of the Secretary in order to be effective, including review or approval under section 2103 of the Revised Statutes (25 U.S.C. 81).

SEC. 2870. LITTLE SHELL TRIBE OF CHIPPEWA INDIANS OF MONTANA.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) the Little Shell Tribe of Chippewa Indians is a political successor to signatories of the Pembina Treaty of 1863, under which a large area of land in the State of North Dakota was ceded to the United States;

(2) the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa of North Dakota and the Chippewa-Cree Tribe of the Rocky Boy’s Reservation of Montana, which also are political successors to the signatories of the Pembina Treaty of 1863, have been recognized by the Federal Government as distinct Indian tribes;

(3) the members of the Little Shell Tribe continue to live in the State of Montana, as their ancestors have for more than 100 years since ceding land in the State of North Dakota as described in paragraph (1);
(4) in the 1930s and 1940s, the Tribe repeatedly petitioned the Federal Government for reorganization under the Act of June 18, 1934 (25 U.S.C. 5101 et seq.) (commonly known as the “Indian Reorganization Act”);

(5) Federal agents who visited the Tribe and Commissioner of Indian Affairs John Collier attested to the responsibility of the Federal Government for the Tribe and members of the Tribe, concluding that members of the Tribe are eligible for, and should be provided with, trust land, making the Tribe eligible for reorganization under the Act of June 18, 1934 (25 U.S.C. 5101 et seq.) (commonly known as the “Indian Reorganization Act”);

(6) due to a lack of Federal appropriations during the Depression, the Bureau of Indian Affairs lacked adequate financial resources to purchase land for the Tribe, and the members of the Tribe were denied the opportunity to reorganize;

(7) in spite of the failure of the Federal Government to appropriate adequate funding to secure land for the Tribe as required for reorganization under the Act of June 18, 1934 (25 U.S.C. 5101 et seq.) (commonly known as the “Indian Reorganization Act”), the Tribe continued to exist as a separrate community, with leaders exhibiting clear political authority;

(8) the Tribe, together with the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa of North Dakota and the Chippewa-Cree Tribe of the Rocky Boy’s Reservation of Montana, filed 2 law suits under the Act of August 13, 1946 (60 Stat. 1049) (commonly known as the “Indian Claims Commission Act”), to petition for additional compensation for land ceded to the United States under the Pembina Treaty of 1863 and the McCumber Agreement of 1892;

(9) in 1971 and 1982, pursuant to Acts of Congress, the tribes received awards for the claims described in paragraph (8);

(10) in 1978, the Tribe submitted to the Bureau of Indian Affairs a petition for Federal recognition, which is still pending as of the date of enactment of this Act; and

(11) the Federal Government, the State of Montana, and the other federally recognized Indian tribes of the State have had continuous dealings with the recognized political leaders of the Tribe since the 1930s.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:
(1) MEMBER.—The term “member” means an individual who is enrolled in the Tribe pursuant to subsection (f).

(2) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.

(3) TRIBE.—The term “Tribe” means the Little Shell Tribe of Chippewa Indians of Montana.

(commonly known as the “Indian Reorganization Act”), shall apply to the Tribe and members.

(d) FEDERAL SERVICES AND BENEFITS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the Tribe and each member shall be eligible for all services and benefits provided by the United States to Indians and federally recognized Indian tribes, without regard to—

(A) the existence of a reservation for the Tribe; or
(B) the location of the residence of any member on or near an Indian reservation.

(2) SERVICE AREA.—For purposes of the delivery of services and benefits to members, the service area of the Tribe shall be considered to be the area comprised of Blaine, Cascade, Glacier, and Hill Counties in the State of Montana.

(c) REAFFIRMATION OF RIGHTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this section diminishes any right or privilege of the Tribe or any member that existed before the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) CLAIMS OF TRIBE.—Except as otherwise provided in this section, nothing in this section alters or affects any legal or equitable claim of the Tribe to enforce any right or privilege reserved by, or granted to, the Tribe that was wrongfully denied to, or taken from, the Tribe before the date of enactment of this Act.

(f) MEMBERSHIP ROLL.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—As a condition of receiving recognition, services, and benefits pursuant to this section, the Tribe shall submit to the Secretary, by not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, a membership roll consisting of the name of each individual enrolled as a member of the Tribe.

(2) DETERMINATION OF MEMBERSHIP.—The qualifications for inclusion on the membership roll of the Tribe shall be determined in accordance with sections 1 through 3 of article 5 of the constitution of the Tribe dated September 10, 1977 (including amendments to the constitution).

(3) MAINTENANCE OF ROLL.—The Tribe shall maintain the membership roll under this subsection.

(g) ACQUISITION OF LAND.—

(1) HOMELAND.—The Secretary shall acquire, for the benefit of the Tribe, trust title to 200 acres of land within the service area of the Tribe to be used for a tribal land base.

(2) ADDITIONAL LAND.—The Secretary may acquire additional land for the benefit of the Tribe pursuant to section 5 of the Act of June 18, 1934 (25 U.S.C. 5108) (commonly known as the “Indian Reorganization Act”).

If only partial funding is appropriated by the 60th day of such fiscal year, then the Secretary, in consultation with the Operating Agency, shall select the vessels to retain under Operating Agreements, based on their determinations of which vessels are most useful for national security. In the event that no funds are appropriated, then no Operating Agreements shall be renewed and each Contractor shall be released from its obligations under the Operating Agreement. Final payments under an Operating Agreement that is not renewed shall be made in accordance with section 53206. To the extent that sufficient funds are appropriated in a subse-

Agreement that is not renewed is thereby released from any further obligation under the Operating Agreement;

Operating Agreement was not renewed may transfer and register such vessel under a foreign registry that is acceptable to the Secretary and the Operating Agency, notwithstanding section 56101 of this title;

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents at the beginning of such Act is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 119B the following new item:

“Sec. 119C. Foreign Malign Influence Response Center.”.
Section 5323. ENCOURAGEMENT OF COOPERATIVE ACTIONS TO DETECT AND COUNTER FOREIGN INFLUENCE OPERATIONS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The Russian Federation, through military intelligence units, also known as the “GRU”, and Kremlin-linked troll organizations often referred to as the “Internet Research Agency”, deploy information warfare operations against the United States, its allies and partners, with the goal of advancing the strategic interests of the Russian Federation.

(2) One line of effort deployed as part of these information warfare operations is the weaponization of social media platforms with the goals of intensifying societal tensions, undermining trust in governmental institutions within the United States, its allies and partners in the West, and generally sowing division, fear, and confusion.
These information warfare operations are a threat to the national security of the United States and that of the allies and partners of the United States. As former Director of National Intelligence Dan Coats stated, “These actions are persistent, they are pervasive and they are meant to undermine America’s democracy.”.

These information warfare operations continue to evolve and increase in sophistication.

Other foreign adversaries and hostile non-state actors are increasingly adopting similar tactics of deploying information warfare operations against the West, such as recent state-backed operations from China around the Hong Kong protests identified by social media companies.

Technological advances, including artificial intelligence, will only make it more difficult in the future to detect fraudulent accounts, deceptive material posted on social media, and malign behavior on social media platforms.

Because these information warfare operations are deployed within and across private social media platforms, the companies that own these platforms have a responsibility to detect and facilitate the removal or neutralization of foreign adversary networks operating clandestinely on their platforms.

(8) The social media companies are inherently technologically sophisticated and adept at rapidly analyzing large amounts of data and developing software-based solutions to diverse and ever-changing challenges on their platforms, which makes them well-equipped to address the threat occurring on their platforms.

(9) Independent analyses confirmed Kremlinlinked threat networks, based on data provided by several social media companies to the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate, thereby demonstrating that it is possible to discern both broad patterns of cross-platform information warfare operations and specific fraudulent behavior on social media platforms.

(10) General Paul Nakasone, Director of the National Security Agency, emphasized the importance of these independent analyses to the planning and conducting of military cyber operations to frustrate Kremlin-linked information warfare operations against the 2018 mid-term elections. General Nakasone stated that the reports “were very, very helpful in terms of being able to understand exactly what our adversary was trying to do to build dissent within our nation.”

(11) Institutionalizing ongoing robust, inde-dependent, and vigorous analysis of data related to foreign threat networks within and across social media platforms will help counter ongoing information warfare operations against the United States, its allies, and its partners.

(12) Archiving and disclosing to the public the results of these analyses by the social media companies and trusted third-party experts in a transparent manner will serve to demonstrate that the social media companies are detecting and removing foreign malign activities from their platforms while protecting the privacy of the people of the United States and will build public understanding of the scale and scope of these foreign threats to our de-democracy, since exposure is one of the most effective means to build resilience.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the social media companies should cooperate among themselves and with independent organizations and researchers on a sustained and regular basis to share and analyze data and indicators relevant to foreign information warfare operations within and across their platforms in order to detect and counter foreign information warfare operations that threaten the national security of the United States and its allies and partners;

(2) information from law enforcement and the intelligence community is also important in assisting efforts by these social media companies to identify foreign information warfare operations;

(3) these analytic efforts should be organized in such a fashion as to meet the highest standards of ethics, confidentiality, and privacy protection of the people of the United States, while still allowing timely research access to relevant data;

(4) these analytic efforts should be undertaken as soon as possible to facilitate countering ongoing state or state-backed foreign information warfare operations and to aid in preparations for the United States Presidential and congressional elections in 2020 and beyond;

(5) the structure and operations of social media companies make them well positioned to work with independent organizations and researchers to address foreign adversary threat networks within and across their platforms, and these efforts could be conducted without direct Government involvement, direction, or regulation; and

(6) if the social media industry fails to take sufficient action to address foreign adversary threat networks operating within or across their platforms, Congress would have to consider additional safeguards for ensuring that this threat is effectively mitigated.

(e) Authority to Facilitate Establishment of Social Media Data and Threat Analysis Center.—

(1) Authority.—The Director of National Intelligence, in coordination with the Secretary of Defense, may facilitate, by grant or contract or under an existing authority of the Director, the establishment of a Social Media Data and Threat Analysis Center with the functions described in paragraph (2) at an independent, nonprofit organization.

(2) Functions.—The functions described in this paragraph are the following:

(A) Acting as a convening and sponsoring authority for cooperative social media data analysis of foreign threat networks involving social media companies and third-party experts, nongovernmental organizations, data journalists, Federally funded research and development centers, academic researchers, traditional media, and international counterparts, as appropriate.

(B) Facilitating analysis of foreign influence operation, within and across the individual social media platforms as well as hacking and leaking campaigns, and other tactics, and related unlawful activities that fund or subsidize such operations.

(C) Developing processes to share information from government entities on foreign influence operations with the individual social media companies to inform threat analysis, and working with the Office of the Director of National Intelligence as appropriate.

(D) Determining and making public criteria for identifying which companies, organizations, or researchers qualify for inclusion in the activities of the Center, and inviting entities that fit the criteria to join.

(E) Determining jointly with the social media companies what data and metadata related to indicators of foreign adversary threat networks from their platforms and business operations will be made available for access and analysis.

(F) Developing and making public the criteria and standards that must be met for companies, other organizations, and individual researchers to access and analyze data relating to foreign adversary threat networks within and across social media platforms and publish or otherwise use the results.

(G) Developing and making public the ethical standards for investigation of foreign threat networks and use of analytic results and for protection of the privacy of the customers and users of the social media platforms and of the proprietary information of the social media companies.

(H) Developing technical, contractual, and procedural controls to prevent misuse of data, including any necessary auditing procedures, compliance checks, and review mechanisms.

(I) Developing and making public criteria and conditions under which the Center shall share information with the appropriate Government agencies regarding threats to national se-security from, or violations of the law involving, foreign activities on social media platforms.

(J) Hosting a searchable archive aggregating information related to foreign influence and disinformation operations to build a collective understanding of the threats and facilitate future examination consistent with privacy protections.

(K) Developing data standards to harmonize the sharing of information pursuant to this paragraph.

(A) that assesses—

(B) includes such recommendations for legislative or administrative action as the Center considers appropriate to carry out the functions of the Center.

(1) once each quarter, make available to the public a report on key trends in foreign influence and disinformation operations, including any threats to campaigns and elections, to inform the public of the United States; and

(2) as the Director considers necessary, provide more timely assessments relating to ongoing disinformation campaigns.

(f) FUNDING.—Of the amounts appropriated or otherwise made available to the National Intelligence Program (as defined in section 3 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3003)) in fiscal year 2020 and 2021, the Director of National Intelligence may use up to $30,000,000 to carry out this section.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCES

The managers on the part of the House and the Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the House to the bill (S. 1790), to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 2020 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clarifying changes.
Compliance with rules of the House of Representatives and Senate regarding earmarks and congressionally directed spending items

Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives and Rule XLIV(3) of the Standing Rules of the Senate, neither this conference report nor the accompanying joint statement of managers contains any congressional earmarks, congressionally directed spending items, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits, as defined in such rules.

Summary of discretionary authorizations and budget authority implication

The budget request for national defense discretionary programs within the jurisdiction of the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives for fiscal year 2020 was $741.9 billion. Of this amount, $642.5 billion was requested for base Department of Defense programs, $75.9 billion was requested for overseas contingency operations, $23.2 billion was requested for national security programs in the Department of Energy and the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board, and $300.0 million for defense-related activities.

The conference agreement would authorize $729.9 billion in fiscal year 2020, including $635.0 billion for base Department of Defense programs, $71.5 billion for overseas contingency operations, $23.1 billion for national security programs in the Department of Energy and the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board, and $300.0 million for defense-related activities.

The two tables preceding the detailed program adjustments in Division D of the accompanying joint statement of managers summarize the discretionary authorizations in the agreement and the equivalent budget authority levels for fiscal year 2020 defense programs.

Budgetary effects of this Act (sec. 4)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 4) that would require that the budgetary effects of this Act be determined in accordance with the procedures established in the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 (title I of Public Law 111-139).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1006).

The House recedes.
Columbia-class submarine advance procurement

The budget request included $1.7 billion in line item 1 of Shipbuilding and Conversion, Navy for Columbia-class submarine advance procurement. The House amendment would authorize an increase of $125.0 million above the request. The Senate bill would authorize an increase of $125.0 million above the request. The agreement authorizes an increase of $123.0 million above the request. The conferees' intent in authorizing additional funds for submarine industrial base expansion is to ensure second- and third-tier contractors are able to meet increased production requirements. The conferees direct the Secretary of the Navy to notify the congressional defense committees within 30 days of obligating funds provided for submarine industrial base expansion of the: obligation date, contractor name or names, location, description of the shortfall to be addressed, actions to be undertaken, desired end state, usable end items to be procured, period of performance, dollar amount, projected associated savings including business case analysis if applicable, contract name, and contract number. The conferees believe that expanding the capabilities of the second- and third-tier contractors in the submarine industrial base should lead to greater cost savings and improved efficiency as production increases to meet the Columbia-class schedule and higher requirement for Virginia-class attack submarines in the Navy’s latest Force Structure Assessment.

Virginia-class submarine procurement and advance procurement

The budget request included $7.2 billion in line number 3 of Shipbuilding and Conversion, Navy (SCN) for Virginia-class submarine procurement and $2.8 billion in line number 4 of SCN for Virginia-class submarine advance procurement.
The House amendment would authorize a decrease of $550.0 million below the request in line number 3 of SCN and the funding level of the request in line number 4 of SCN.

The Senate bill would authorize a decrease of $2.5 billion below the request in line number 3 of SCN and an increase of $1.5 billion above the request in line number 4 of SCN.

The agreement authorizes a decrease of $1.7 billion below the request in line number 3 of SCN and an increase of $200.0 million above the request in line number 4 of SCN.

The conferees note that the budget request included a plan to procure 11 Virginia-class attack submarines across the future years defense program (FYDP). The conferees supported that plan in both the House of Representatives and Senate National Defense Authorization Acts for Fiscal Year 2020. Unfortunately, the conferees have learned from the Navy that the original request was not financially or technically executable. For example, the Navy’s request included procuring one boat in each of fiscal years 2020 and 2021 without the Virginia Payload Module (VPM).

The conferees only recently learned that shifting the configuration to a non-VPM design would have resulted in considerable delay and disruption in building attack submarines, and could have harmed the Columbia-class program as well.

The conferees expect budget requests and associated materials to be complete and accurate, with rigorous supporting justification and analysis that demonstrates such requests are fully executable. The conferees further expect that when the Navy finds discrepancies, the Navy will provide timely, full, and open disclosure of such issues. The conferees are concerned that the Virginia-class fiscal year 2020 request lacked both accuracy and timely reporting of discrepancies.

The Navy has recently proposed a revised acquisition strategy with 9 Virginia-class submarines procured in fiscal years 2019 through 2023, with options to procure additional ships over that period. The conferees priority is to ensure the Navy fully preserves a plan to procure 10 Virginia-class attack submarines, nine of which include the VPM, and expects the Navy to budget accordingly in their fiscal year 2021 budget submission. Therefore, the conferees are providing the necessary additional Virginia-class advance procurement (AP) and procurement funds, including the AP funds needed to procure two submarines in fiscal year 2021, as submitted in the fiscal year 2020 budget as well as the 30-year shipbuilding plan.

The conferees recognize that due to recent negotiations the required multi-year certification of a ten submarine contract may not be possible, because it is not fully funded across the FYDP. The conferees note that section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, allows the Secretary of Defense to certify the contract even if all of the requirements are not met. The conferees encourage the Secretary to consider utilizing this authority in order to expeditiously secure a contract for ten submarines.

The conferees regret that they presently lack sufficient budgetary information to support an eleventh Virginia-class submarine in the fiscal year 2019 through 2023 timeframe. The conferees would thoroughly consider an opportunity to increase submarine procurement in the future if it were technically and financially executable.

SUBTITLE A—AUTHORIZED OF APPROPRIATIONS

Authorization of appropriations (sec. 101)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 101) that would authorize appropriations for procurement at the levels identified in section 4101 of division D of this Act.

Ford-class aircraft carrier cost limitation baselines (sec. 121)

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 123) that would establish Ford-class aircraft carrier cost limitation

The House recedes with an amendment that would provide the Secretary of the Navy with the authority to adjust Ford-class aircraft carrier cost limitation baselines if advance notice is given to the congressional defense committees.

Modification of annual report on cost targets for certain aircraft carriers (sec. 122)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 111) that would amend section 126(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328), that requires an annual report on cost reduction efforts for CVN-79 and CVN-80. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require annual reports through fiscal year 2032.

Refueling and complex overhauls of the U.S.S. John C. Stennis and U.S.S. Harry S. Truman (sec. 123)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 128) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to carry out the nuclear refueling and complex overhaul of the USS John C. Stennis (CVN-74) and USS Harry S. Truman (CVN-75). The provision would also authorize the use of incremental funding for a period not to exceed 6 years after advance procurement funds for each nuclear refueling and complex overhaul effort are first obligated. The House amendment contained no similar provision. The House recedes.

Ford class aircraft carrier support for F-35C aircraft (sec. 124)

The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require CVN-79 be capable of deploying with the F-35 prior to the completion of the ship’s post shakedown availability.

Prohibition on use of funds for reduction of aircraft carrier force structure (sec. 125)
The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 114) that would limit the Secretary of Defense from reducing aircraft carrier force structure below the level required by section 5062 of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Modification of prohibition on availability of funds for Navy waterborne security barriers (sec. 126)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 121) that would amend section 130 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115–232) to extend the prohibition on availability of funds for Navy port waterborne security barriers through fiscal year 2020 and would require the Secretary of the Navy to notify the congressional defense committees if exigent circumstances, under which an exception is granted, are deemed to exist.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would limit the sustainment, refurbishment, and replacement to not more than 30 percent of portions of existing waterborne security barriers.

LHA Replacement Amphibious Assault Ship Program (sec. 127)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 125) that would authorize the Secretary of the Navy to enter into and incrementally fund a contract for design and construction of the LHA replacement ship designated LHA–9. The provision would also repeal section 125 of the John Warner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2007 (Public Law 109–364).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Strategic sealift fleet vessel (sec. 128)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 118) that would direct the Secretary of the Navy to enter into a contract for one sealift vessel, subject to certain requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would make entering into a contract or other agreement with a private-sector entity under which the entity would serve as the executive agent permissive.

Design and construction of amphibious transport dock designated LPD-31 (sec. 129)
The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 115) that would authorize the Secretary of the Navy to enter into a contract for the amphibious transport dock ship designated LPD-31. Additionally, the Secretary would be authorized to use incremental funding authority to complete the construction. The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 124). The Senate recedes.

The conferees’ intent is for the Secretary of the Navy to use the $350.0 million appropriated in Shipbuilding and Conversion, Navy (SCN) line number 13 in fiscal year 2019 and additional fiscal year 2020 funds in SCN line number 12 to procure LPD-31 long-lead material and start construction as efficiently as possible. Consistent with the budget request, the conferees expect the Navy to request the balance of costs for LPD-31 in fiscal year 2021.

Limitation on availability of funds for the Littoral Combat Ship (sec. 130)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 126 and sec. 5126) that would prohibit funds from being used to exceed the total procurement quantity listed in revision five of the Littoral Combat Ship acquisition strategy unless the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment submits to the congressional defense committees a certification. The House amendment contained no similar provision. The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Limitation on the next new class of Navy large surface combatants (sec. 131)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 127) that would require design changes identified during the full duration of the combat system ship qualification trials and operational test periods of the first Arleigh Burke-class destroyer in the Flight III configuration be incorporated prior to Milestone B approval for the next new class of Navy large surface combatants. The House amendment contained no similar provision. The House recedes with an amendment that would require a land-based engineering site for the propulsion system.

The conferees note that over the last 10 years, the Comptroller General of the United States has issued at least 26 reports that identified shipbuilding best practices and made 67 recommendations to help the Navy improve shipbuilding outcomes. In a June 2018 report, the Government Accountability Office found that the Navy, in many cases, has not taken steps based upon these shipbuilding best practices.

In order to better understand the key aspects of ship design necessary to provide confidence in a program’s cost, schedule, and reliability targets, the conferees direct the Comptroller General to conduct a review of shipbuilding design practices. This review shall include an examination of the Navy’s design practices for shipbuilding major defense acquisition programs to assess measures of the lead ship or lead ship of a major ship modification’s design maturity and stability sufficient to inform an understanding of the construction costs and the effort needed to execute the design, and any other related matters. The Comptroller General shall provide a briefing and report to the congressional defense committees not later than April 1, 2020 and January 1, 2021, respectively, that describe the findings of the review.

Limitation on availability of funds pending quarterly updates on the CH-53K King Stallion helicopter program (sec. 132)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 116) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to provide quarterly briefings to the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives on the progress of the CH-53K King Stallion program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

Report on carrier wing and aviation combat element composition (sec. 134)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 129) that would direct the Secretary of the Navy to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, no later than May 1, 2020, on the optimal composition of the carrier air wing (CVW) in 2030 and 2040, as well as alternative force design concepts. The provision would also require the Secretary to provide a briefing on the report no later than March 1, 2020, to the congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of the Navy to submit a report on the optimal composition of the CVW on aircraft carriers and aviation combat element (ACE) embarked on amphibious ships in 2030 and 2040, including alternative force design concepts. Of specific concern that should be highlighted is the logistics impact based on the aircraft carriers ability to support the specified air wing.

SUBTITLE D—AIR FORCE PROGRAMS

Modification of requirement to preserve certain C-5 aircraft (sec. 141)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 121) that would amend section 141(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013 (Public Law 112-239) to reinstate the requirement for the Secretary of the Air Force to continue to preserve certain C-5 aircraft in a storage condition that would allow a recall of retired aircraft to future service in the Air Force Reserve, Air National Guard, or Active Force structure.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require storage of C-5 aircraft until a new mobility requirement study is accomplished.

OC-135B aircraft recapitalization program (sec. 142)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 130A) that would ensure that any Request for Proposals for the procurement of an OC-135B aircraft under the Open Skies Treaty aircraft recapitalization program meets the requirements for full and open competition as set forth in section 2304 of title 10, United States Code, and incorporates a full competitive bidding process, to include both new production aircraft and recently manufactured low-hour, low-cycle aircraft.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require a full competitive bidding process, including new and recently manufactured aircraft.

Requirement to align Air Force aviation force structure with National Defense Strategy (sec. 143)
The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 141) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to align the fighter force structure acquisition strategy with the results of the independent studies required by section 1064 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) and to transmit the new strategy in a report to the congressional defense committees no later than March 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, no later than March 1, 2020, on the aviation force structure acquisition strategy that aligns with the stated capability and capacity requirements of the Air Force to meet the National Defense Strategy. Additionally, the amendment would require a waiver from the Secretary of Defense if the Secretary of the Air Force deviates from the strategy.

Prohibition on availability of funds for reduction in KC-10 primary mission aircraft inventory (sec. 144)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 124) that would prohibit the retirement of any primary inventory KC-10 aircraft in fiscal year 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Limitation on availability of funds for F-15EX aircraft program (sec. 145)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 123) that would require the Secretary of Defense to designate the F-15EX program as a major subprogram and subject it to relevant reporting requirements and criteria pertinent to a major subprogram.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the same information pertinent to a major subprogram in the form of a comprehensive report, which the conferees understand would be less burdensome on the Secretary to generate instead of formal acquisition documents that could delay execution of the program using middle-tier rapid-acquisition authorities for the first two procurement lots of aircraft. The amendment would also authorize procurement of long-lead aircraft materials to be procured for all aircraft authorized.

The conferees expect the Secretary of the Air Force to maintain information transparency with the congressional defense committees, and to sufficiently and promptly keep the congressional defense committees apprised of issues particularly associated with the planning, cost, schedule, execution, fielding, or risk related to the F-15EX program.

Limitation on availability of funds for VC-25B aircraft (sec. 146)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 125) that would prohibit the Secretary of the Air Force from obligating or expending any funds to exercise the over-and-above clause of the VC-25B contract until the Secretary submits a certification to the congressional defense committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the notification of congressional committees if the over-and-above clause in the VC-25B contract is used.

Limitation on availability of funds for RC-26B aircraft (sec. 147)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 129) that would limit funds for the retiring of the RC-26B aircraft until the Secretary of Air Force certifies to the congressional defense committees that other platforms or technologies provide equivalent capabilities to the RC-26B aircraft.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would limit funds until the report regarding the efficacy of the RC-26 mission is delivered; the Secretary of the Air Force certifies whether there are missions that the RC-26B is required to complete; and whether there is a more cost effective way to complete those missions should the RC-26B be divested or retired.

Limitation on availability of funds for retirement of RC-135 aircraft (sec. 148)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 126) that would prohibit any use of funds authorized to be appropriated in fiscal year 2020 for the Air Force to retire, or prepare to retire, any RC-135 aircraft until 60 days after the date on which the Secretary of Defense certifies to the congressional defense committees that equivalent RC-135 capacity and capability exists to meet combatant commander requirements for indications and warning, intelligence preparation of the operational environment, and direct support to kinetic and non-kinetic operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Air Force aggressor squadron modernization (sec. 149)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 144) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on Air Force aggressor squadron modernization.
The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 130) that would require the Chief of Staff of the Air Force to submit to the congressional defense committees a plan and report on the strategy for modernizing the organic aggressor fleet.
The House recedes.

Air Force plan for Combat Rescue Helicopter fielding (sec. 150)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 145) that expressed the Sense of Congress that the Air National Guard should retain additional HH-60G helicopters given the delays of the Operational Loss Replacement program and the fielding schedule of the Combat Rescue Helicopter program. Furthermore, it directed a report on the fielding and training plan for the Air National Guard.
The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that expresses a sense of the Congress on the importance of USSOCOM and the Secretary of the Air Force fully coordinating and collaborating on the experimental activities associated with the Air Force light attack aircraft initiative to inform future activities for USSOCOM and the Department of the Air Force regarding procurement of the light attack aircraft platform.

The conferees understand USSOCOM has an operational need and requirement for light attack aircraft for combat mission advisor support and as such expect the Secretary of the Air Force in coordination with the Commander of USSOCOM to consider options to synchronize and leverage Light Attack Aircraft experiments efforts to accelerate the procurement or development of aircraft for supporting the Combat Air Advisor mission requirements.

SUBTITLE E—DEFENSE-WIDE, JOINT, AND MULTISERVICE MATTERS

Economic order quantity contracting and buy-to-budget acquisition for F-35 aircraft program (sec. 161)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 131) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to procure economic order quantities of material and equipment for the F-35 program. This section would also authorize the Secretary to procure F-35 aircraft exceeding the quantity otherwise authorized by this Act.
if procurement of additional aircraft would not require additional funds to be authorized or appropriated.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 153) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to enter into multiyear procurement contracts for F-35 aircraft in economic order quantities for fiscal year 2021 (Lot 15) through fiscal year 2023 (Lot 17).

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the requirement for the Secretary to provide the congressional defense committees a separate business-case analysis performed by the Office of the Director, Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation.

The conferees also support procurement, by the Secretary of Defense, of additional F-35A aircraft beyond the quantity of F-35A aircraft authorized in this Bill, if such procurement of additional aircraft would mitigate any negative cost and schedule impacts for current F-35 program participants resulting from the actions or decisions of foreign partners or customers currently involved in the F-35 program.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would ensure adequate relief from the prime contractors that delivered noncompliant ready-for-issue spare parts.

Limitation on availability of funds for reallocation of Turkish F-35A aircraft to the United States (sec. 163)

The conferees support the removal of the Government of Turkey from the F-35 program due to its purchase of the S-400 Russian air defense system. As such, the conferees would support procurement by the Department of Defense of all F-35A aircraft procured by the Government of Turkey. The conferees also encourage the Secretary of Defense to maximize the procurement quantity of Turkish F-35A aircraft associated with Lots 12, 13, or 14 during fiscal year 2020 using the additional funds authorized in section 4101 of this Act.

Additionally, given the significant impact of the sustainment and spare parts deficit currently within the F-35 program, the conferees emphasize the importance of fully funding spare parts, ancillary mission equipment, publications, and technical data required to sustain F-35 aircraft. Therefore, the conferees recommend a provision that would require the Secretary of Defense to certify that these necessary support equipment items will be procured prior to taking possession of the Turkish F-35A aircraft, and that any Turkish F-35A aircraft will be delivered to the U.S. Air Force in a configuration that allows for integration into the existing Air Force F-35A fleet.

Finally, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force, in consultation with the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment and the F-35 Program Executive Officer, to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than March 1, 2020, that describes the strategy and implementation plan associated with the necessary funding and actions required during each phase to produce, modernize, deliver, field, operate and sustain the Turkish F-35A aircraft authorized to be procured by the Department of Defense elsewhere in this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with clarifying amendments associated with the specific timeline that achievable actions will be implemented by the F-35 program to address sustainment-related issues and that will reduce sustainment costs at a more expedient pace.

Reports on the progress and performance of the F-35 aircraft program (sec. 166)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 132) that would require the Secretary of Defense to designate the F-35 Block 4 and Continuous Capability Development and Delivery (C2D2) program as a major subprogram of the F-35 program in accordance with Title 10, United States Code, section 2430a. The amendment would also require the Comptroller General to submit annually to the congressional defense committees a report on various aspects of the F-35 Block 4 and C2D2 program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the requirement to designate the F-35 Block 4 and C2D2 program as a major subprogram, but require the Secretary of Defense to submit annually to the congressional defense committees an integrated master schedule and past performance assessment for each planned phase of Block 4 and C2D2 upgrades.

The conferees expect the Secretary of Defense to keep the congressional defense committees fully and promptly informed on the planning, cost, schedule, execution, fielding, and programmatic risk associated with the Block 4 and C2D2 program.

Other reports on F-35 aircraft program (sec. 167)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 133) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide reports to the congressional defense committees on F-35 reliability and maintainability metrics, Block 4 capability development and fielding activities, and modernization and upgrade plans for the F-35 Autonomic Logistics Information System (ALIS).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment that would modify the information provided by the Undersecretary of Defense for Research and Engineering, and by the Director, Operational Test and Evaluation for the F-35 Block 4 Upgrade and Continuous Capability Development and Delivery program.
Limitation on availability of funds for communications systems lacking certain resiliency features (sec. 168)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 151, as amended by sec. 5151) that would prohibit funding of any current or future Department of Defense (DOD) communications programs of record that do not meet certain resiliency requirements.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

The conferees understand that Department of Defense policy will continue to prioritize commonality, open architecture, and non-proprietary systems for current and emerging platform, sensor, and weapons requirements. Repeal of this provision should not be construed as tacit permission to procure proprietary, unique data links for intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR) systems. The conferees expect the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to update the DoD CDL policy dated May 3, 2018, as necessary to emphasize that program priorities, such as the congressionally-mandated migration off the common data link-To Be Sunset (TBS) waveforms, will proceed as previously planned. Further, the conferees expect a detailed accounting from USD A&S on plans to address data link requirements for emerging ISR systems and concepts.

The conferees also encourage the Secretaries of the military departments to provide additional opportunities for members of the reserve to serve in joint reserve detachments at the Defense Innovation Unit in order to utilize their relevant private sector experience to advance the technology requirements of the Department of Defense.

Research and educational programs and activities for Historically Black Colleges and Universities and Minority-Serving Institutions of Higher Education (sec. 214)

The analysis and briefing should also include: (1) A comprehensive assessment of the relative technical quality of activities in the United States and China; (2) A comprehensive assessment of the likelihood that developments in artificial intelligence will successfully transition into military systems of China; (3) Predicted effects on United States national security if current trends in China and the United States continue; (4) Predicted effects of current trends in the digital and technology export relationships of both countries with existing and new trading partners; and (5) An assessment of the relationships that are critical and in need of development in the private and public sectors to ensure that investment in artificial intelligence keeps pace with that of global investment.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 219) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Secretary of Energy, and the heads of other Federal agencies as deemed appropriate by the Secretary of Defense, to carry out a program on the research, development, testing, evaluation, study, and demonstration of technologies related to blue carbon capture and direct air capture.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 217).

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Requiring defense microelectronics products and services meet trusted supply chain and operational security standards (sec. 224)
The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 233) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish, by January 1, 2021, supply chain and operational security standards and requirements for microelectronics and require the Department of Defense to purchase microelectronics and related services to the maximum practicable extent from providers that meet these standards.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 230C).

The House recedes with an amendment that would: (1) Modify the required purchase implementation date; (2) Clarify the purchase requirement definition and specification; (3) Refine the applicability statement; (4) Clarify that suppliers should maintain the ability to sell commercially; and (5) Clarify that the standards be comprised of best practices.

The conferees intend that by incorporating and standardizing best practices the Department will improve its acquisition of securely manufactured, commercially-available products and ensure that a growing industrial base is more resilient to a variety of risks in the supply chain. Relevant best practices include those relating to: manufacturing location; company ownership; workforce composition and access during manufacturing; suppliers’ design, sourcing, manufacturing, packaging, and distribution processes; and reliability of the supply chain. Rather than MIL-SPEC style standards that would inhibit the Department’s flexibility, the standardization of best practices is intended to strike a balance between security and the cost-effectiveness of commercial solutions.

Development and acquisition strategy to procure secure, low probability of detection data link network capability (sec. 225)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 211, as amended by sec. 5211) that would require the Chief of Staff of the Air Force (CSAF) and Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) to develop a joint development and acquisition strategy to procure a resilient, low latency, and low probability of detection data link network capability that would enable effective operation in the contested environments highlighted in the National Defense Strategy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment that includes the Chief of Staff of the Army as part of the requirement.

The conferees are concerned about an absence of coordinated effort by the Department and the military services on resilient, anti-jam, low probability of intercept/low probability of detection (LPI/LPD) communications. The conferees note that Congress previously directed a similar strategy on LPI/LPD data links in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115–91). The Department’s response was incomplete and inadequate, recommending no change to current Department policy that designates the F-35’s Multifunction Advanced Data Link (MADL) as the solution for 5th to 4th generation air platform networked communications. Both the Navy and Air Force acknowledge that the aircraft modifications needed to install MADL are unaffordable at scale. A January 2019 memorandum signed by all three service secretaries commits the military services to common data standards to ensure interoperability across the joint force. While this is a positive step, the conferees believe progress on the specific LPI/LPD communications issue requires additional leadership and attention from both the Department and the military services. The conferees expect a more comprehensive and executable response to this legislative provision and subsequent investment in the Fiscal Year 2021 budget submission.

The amendment would also require an implementation plan describing how the Department of Defense will execute its policy to promote and maintain digital expertise and software development as core competencies of the civilian and military workforce.

The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to include in the implementation plan required by this section the following: (1) An assessment of progress made in recruiting an individual to serve as the Chief Digital Engineering Recruitment and Management Officer; (2) A timeline for implementation of the policy required by this section; and (3) Recommendations for any legislative or administrative action needed to meet the requirements of this section.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 224) that would direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering and the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation to establish a digital engineering capability to serve as the foundation for automated approaches to software testing and evaluation and to establish a pilot to demonstrate whether such testing could satisfy developmental and operational test requirements; that would direct associated changes to policies and guidance for both efforts; and that would require an initial report regarding these activities to be submitted to the congressional defense committees not later than 90 days after enactment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes with amendments that would further elaborate the governance process and that would further define the scope of the demonstration and selection of programs to participate, as well as clarifying amendments to the roles and responsibilities of officials and organizations and technical amendments to the reporting requirements.

The conferees believe that establishing a digital engineering capability is critical to accelerating the adoption of best practices in the use of software to model and simulate complex system behavior to assess potential effects of proposed hardware or software engineering changes on system performance. Further, the conferees note the significant potential value of digital engineering capability for automating developmental and operational test and evaluation, and especially where a weapon or business system is software-defined and is developed using agile or secure continuous development/continuous delivery methods.

Process to align policy formulation and emerging technology development (sec. 232)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 225) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a process, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, to ensure that the policies of the Department of Defense relating to emerging technology are formulated and updated continuously as such technology is developed by the Department.

The Senate bill contained no similar amendment.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would: (1) Modify the elements required for the process; (2) Modify the required report to a briefing; and (3) Modify definitions.

Improvement of the Strategic Capabilities Office of the Department of Defense (sec. 233)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 226) that would limit the ability of the Secretary of Defense to transfer the functions of the Strategic Capabilities Office (SCO) to another organization or element of the Department unless certain conditions are met.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 905) that would prohibit any reorganization to the Department of Defense (DOD) that would impact SCO until the Chief Management Officer provides to the congressional defense committees a report assessing the impacts of such an organizational change.

Report on plan to decontaminate sites formerly used by the Department of the Army that have since been transferred to units of local government and are affected by pollutants that are, in whole or in part, a result of activity by the Department of Defense

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The conferees note that there are numerous properties formerly under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Army, such as former Nike missile sites, that have been transferred to units of local governments and may remain polluted due to Department of Defense activity. This pollution may prevent these properties from being used for commercial or residential purposes.

As such, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Army to submit a report, not later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act, specifying the covered properties that may remain polluted because of Department of Defense activities and a plan for how the Secretary plans to decontaminate each covered property. The report should be submitted to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate as well as to the Committees on Armed Services, the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and the Committee Natural Resources of the House of Representatives.

The term “covered property” means property that was under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Army and was transferred to a unit of local government before the date of the enactment of section 120(h) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, but that would have triggered Federal Government notice or action under that section had the transfer occurred on or after that date.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees note that the joint logistics enterprise of the Armed Forces faces high-end threats from strategic competitors – China, Russia, and Iran – all of which have invested in anti-access area denial capabilities and gray zone tactics. As such, the conferees believe that resilient and agile logistics are necessary to implement the 2018 National Defense Strategy because it enables the United States to project power and sustain the fight against its strategic competitors in peacetime and during war.

Additionally, there are significant logistics shortfalls, as outlined in the November 2018 final report of the Defense Science Board Task Force on Survivable Logistics, which, if left unaddressed, would hamper the readiness and ability of the Armed Forces to conduct operations globally. The conferees believe that since the military departments have not shown a strong commitment to funding logistics, the Secretaries of the military departments should review the full list of recommendations in the report and address the chronic underfunding of logistics relative to other priorities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 548).

The House recedes.

The conferees request the DAC-IPAD review, as appropriate, whether other justice programs (e.g., restorative justice programs, mediation) could be employed or modified to assist the victim of an alleged sexual assault or the alleged offender, particularly in cases in which the evidence in the victim's case has been determined not to be sufficient to take judicial, non-judicial, or administrative action against the perpetrator of the alleged offense.

Further, the conferees recognize the importance of providing survivors of sexual assault an opportunity to provide a full and complete description of the impact of the assault on the survivor during court-martial sentencing hearings related to the offense. The conferees are concerned by reports that some military judges have interpreted Rule for Courts-Martial (RCM) 1001(c) too narrowly, limiting what survivors are permitted to say during sentencing hearings in ways that do not fully inform the court of the impact of the crime on the survivor.

Therefore, the conferees request that, on a one-time basis, or more frequently, as appropriate, and adjunct to its review of court-martial cases completed in any particular year, the DAC-IPAD assess whether military judges are according appropriate deference to victims of crimes who exercise their right to be heard under RCM 1001(c) at sentencing hearings, and appropriately permitting other witnesses to testify about the impact of the crime under RCM 1001.

Any such request on the part of the victim would not affect the restricted nature of the victim’s report of sexual assault. The provision also would require a Sexual Assault Response Coordinator or Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Victim Advocate to inform the victim of his or her right to request the return of personal property under these procedures, but that any such return might negatively affect a subsequent adjudication of the case, should the victim later decide to convert the restricted report to an unrestricted report. The provision would not affect the requirement to retain a sexual assault forensic examination kit for the period required in law.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

In cases in which the member of the Armed Forces alleged to have committed the sexual assault is subject to prosecution by both court-martial and by a civilian court under Federal or State law, the commander of the victim would be required to create and maintain appropriate documentation of the victim's expressed preference, if any, of forum for prosecution of the offense. The Secretary of Defense would be required to prescribe regulations applicable to the notifications, elections, and documentation required by the provision.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 534).

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require notification to a victim of each significant event in the military justice process, and documentation of that notification, as well as documentation of the victim's preference for prosecution jurisdiction, in an appropriate system of records of the military department concerned. The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the secretaries of the military departments, within 1 year from the date of enactment of this Act, to increase the number of personnel assigned to the military criminal investigative organization of that department, with the goal of ensuring that, to the extent practicable, the investigation of any sex-related offense is completed not later than 6 months after the date on which the investigation is initiated. An investigation would be deemed complete when the active phase of the investigation is sufficiently complete to enable the appropriate authority to reach a decision with respect to the disposition of charges for the sex-related offense. The provision would further require each secretary to increase the number of personnel serving as Victim Witness Assistance liaisons to address personnel shortages in the program, also within a period of one year. Finally, the provision would specify that neither the statement of an aspirational timeline for the completion of investigations of sex-related offenses, nor the directive to increase the number of criminal investigators and Victim Witness Assistance liaisons creates a cause of action enforceable at law or in equity against the United States, the Department of Defense, or any person.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes. The conferees note the provision authorizing some servicemembers to transfer their education benefit was originally included as part of the Post-9/11 Veterans’ Educational Assistance Act of 2008 (Public Law 110-252) to serve as a retention incentive. Section 3319 of title 38, United States Code, is explicit in stating the purpose of the transferability provision is to “promote recruitment and retention in the uniformed services.” Therefore, the conferees fully expect the Department of Defense to require that any servicemember who requests, and is authorized, to transfer their education benefits serve the mandated four additional years as a member of the uniformed services. This payback period should be applied in all cases, regardless of when a servicemember actually elects to transfer their benefits.

While this provision prohibits the Department of Defense from imposing a general limit on transferability based on the number of years served, the overall authority on whether to grant an individual servicemember’s request to transfer benefits remains entirely at the service secretary’s discretion. The conferees encourage service secretaries to develop policies that properly treat transferability as one of many possible recruiting and retention tools to attract and keep high-quality servicemembers.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require a Voting Assistance Officer or other person designated by the secretary of the military department concerned, to provide a Federal write-in ballot to a member of the Armed Forces, upon the request of that member. Further, in the case of a member intending to vote in a State that does not accept the Federal write-in absentee ballot as a simultaneous application and ballot, the member would be provided instructions on, and an opportunity to fill out, the official post-card form.

The conferees urge the Federal government and State governments to remove all obstacles that would inhibit deployed servicemembers from voting. Further, the conferees strongly advocate that States that do not allow servicemembers to use the Federal write-in absentee ballot as a simultaneous application and acceptable ballot for Federal elections modify their laws to permit such use.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require each Secretary concerned to review certain service records of World War I veterans to determine whether such veteran should be awarded the Medal of Honor for valor in World War I. The review will last no longer than 5 years.

The conferees note that the Valor Medals Review Task Force, jointly established by the United States Foundation for the Commemoration of the World Wars and the George S. Robb Centre for the Study of the Great War, has identified World War I veteran service records for potential review by the Secretaries concerned. The conferees encourage the Secretaries of the military departments to consult with the Valor Medals...
Review Task Force to identify those service records that warrant further review to determine whether such veteran should be recommended for an upgrade to the Medal of Honor for valor.

SUBTITLE J—MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

Clarification of the term "assault" for purposes of Workplace and Gender Relations Surveys (sec. 591)

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would amend sections 481 and 481a of title 10, United States Code, to clarify that the term "assault", for purposes of questions posed on Armed Forces Workplace and Gender Relations Surveys and the Department of Defense Civilian Employee Workplace and Gender Relations Survey, respectively, should be defined to include "unwanted sexual contact."

Inclusion of certain veterans on temporary disability or permanent disabled retirement lists in military adaptive sports programs (sec. 592)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5601) that would amend subsection (a)(1) of section 2564a of title 10, United States Code, to authorize inclusion of servicemembers, who are eligible to participate in military adaptive sports programs, and certain veterans on temporary disability or permanent disabled retirement lists in such programs.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 599B).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Questions in surveys regarding extremist activity in the workplace (sec. 593)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 594) that would require the Secretary of Defense to include in the workplace and equal opportunity, command climate, and workplace and gender relations surveys whether respondents had ever experienced supremacist activity, extremist activity, or racism in the workplace.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to include in appropriate surveys questions about whether a respondent had experienced or witnessed extremist activity in the workplace, and whether the respondent had reported such activity to appropriate authorities.

Study on best practices for providing financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces (sec. 594)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 598) that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to conduct a study on the best practices to provide financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces and veterans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Department in which the Coast Guard is operating to conduct a study on the best practices to provide financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces. The results of the study shall be reported to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Report on oversight of authorized strengths of certain grades of commissioned regular and reserve officers of the Armed Forces (sec. 595)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 501) that would amend section 523 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Congress to authorize annually the number of officers serving on Active Duty in the grades of major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel in the Army, Air Force, and Marine Corps or lieutenant commander, commander, and captain in the Navy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on alternative methods to improve the oversight of authorized strengths of commissioned regular and reserve officers of the Armed Forces.
The conferees note the officer strength table was included as a fundamental feature of the Defense Officer Personnel Management Act (DOPMA) (Public Law 96-513). The table was designed to serve as an effective limitation on the number of mid-grade officers within each service. The House report to accompany the legislation (H. Rept. 96-1462) explained that the table would be adjusted over time to align with emerging officer manpower requirements. However, in practice, the authorized strength table is rarely updated and it is no longer linked to strategy or actual officer requirements.

Report on certain waivers (sec. 596)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 597) that would require the Department of Defense to submit an initial report (within 120 days of the enactment of this Act) and an annual report for 2 years thereafter, to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, setting forth detailed information about the number of transgender applicants and serving transgender servicemembers who, in the prior calendar year, sought and received a waiver or exception to current Defense Department policy to permit their enlistment/accession or retention in the military. The reporting would require the Department to distinguish between waivers requested by “exempt” persons—applicants or servicemembers “grandfathered” under the policies for military service by transgender persons enacted in June 2016, and “non-exempt” persons—who are subject to the policy on transgender service that that took effect on April 12, 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the data elements required to be included in the report and would clarify that any report submitted will not include Personally Identifiable Information or Protected Health Information.

The conferees note that the new Department of Defense policy with regard to military service by transgender persons expressly asserts that "[t]ransgender persons may seek waivers or exceptions [to the standards established by DTM-19-004], or any other standards, requirements, or policies, on the same terms as any other person." As regards a transgender person's request for a waiver or exception to policy to permit that individual to serve in the military in other than his or her biological sex, the Secretaries of the Military Departments may delegate waiver authority no lower than a Military Service Personnel Chief. The conferees note that all other waiver authority vests in the regular Service-designated waiver authority, affording transgender persons consideration at the same level of decision-making as persons who are not transgender.

In determining whether an applicant with a disqualifying diagnosis of gender dysphoria or history of gender transition treatment or surgery merits a waiver to permit his or her service in the military, the conferees encourage Service-designated waiver authorities to consider such a waiver under the same circumstances as they would for an applicant who is not transgender, but has been diagnosed with analogous conditions or received analogous treatments, presuming the individual meets all other standards for accession.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 518) that would amend section 525 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115–232) to make technical changes to congressional notifications germane to the manning of afloat naval forces.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense, not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act, to provide a report on the requirements for, and policies and procedures governing the use of Department of Defense manned and unmanned aerial systems to support States, territories, and other Federal agencies.

The conferees note that the Department of Defense provides resources, including unmanned and manned aerial systems, at the request of States, territories, and other Federal agencies for emergency operations, search and rescue operations, and Defense support to civil authorities. However, the conferees note that there is a lack of understanding on the policy, procedures, and overall availability of these resources to provide such requested support.
Information for members of the Armed Forces on availability of services of the Department of Veterans Affairs relating to sexual trauma (sec. 599)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 745) that would require the Secretary of Defense to use available mechanisms to inform members of the Armed Forces of their eligibility for services provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs. In particular, the Secretary would be required to ensure that Sexual Assault Response Coordinators and uniformed victim advocates of the Department of Defense advise members of the Armed Forces experiencing psychological trauma resulting from a physical assault of a sexual nature, battery of a sexual nature, or sexual harassment that occurred while serving on Active Duty, Active Duty for training, or inactive duty training, regarding their eligibility for Department of Veterans Affairs counseling, care, and services.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

The conferees find that: (1) General Joseph F. Dunford was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps in 1977; (2) Since 1977, General Dunford has served as an infantry officer at all levels and has held numerous leadership roles, including Commander of the 5th Marine Regiment during Operation IRAQI FREEDOM, Commander of the International Security Assistance Force and United States Forces-Afghanistan, and Commander, Marine Forces United States Central Command; (3) General Dunford served as the 32nd Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps from October 23, 2010, to December 15, 2012; (4) General Dunford subsequently served as the 36th Commandant of the Marine Corps from October 17, 2014, to September 24, 2015; (5) General Dunford became the highest-ranking military officer in the United States when he was appointed as the 19th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on October 1, 2015; (6) General Dunford is only the second United States Marine to hold the position of Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; (7) During his nearly 4 years as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Dunford effectively and honorably executed the duties of the office to the highest levels of honor and integrity; and (8) General Dunford has an extensive record of impeccable service to the United States.

of maternal mortality among members of the Armed Forces and their dependents.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that the Senate Report accompanying S. 1790 (S. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that the United States in general, and the military in particular, currently struggle to find and produce sufficient numbers of Americans trained to succeed in computer science and cybersecurity careers. The Junior Reserve Officers’ Training Corp, and programs like it, can serve as catalysts to overcoming these systemic shortages by providing an extra-curricular experience to young Americans who demonstrate a penchant for computer science and related subjects. The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to partner with other Federal, State, and local organizations in developing new programs to better prepare the nation’s youth for the workforce of the future.

Sense of Congress regarding the National Guard Youth Challenge Program

232) to use equipment and facilities of the Department of Defense in this program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.
The conferees reiterate the importance of the National Guard Youth Challenge Program and good work the program accomplishes. Additionally, the conferees continue to encourage the Secretary of Defense to utilize authority provided by the Year 2019 to use Department of Defense equipment for the purpose of supporting the National Guard Youth Challenge.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that reserve component full time support personnel are expressly provided by law to organize, administer, recruit, instruct, or train reserve component units and personnel. To provide an exception to this long-standing requirement would be to undermine the necessary distinction between the active and reserve components.

Enactment and expansion of policy on withholding of initial disposition authority for certain offenses under the Uniform Code of Military Justice

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 522) that would vest only in a commissioned officer in a grade not below O-6, who is authorized to convene special courts-martial, the authority to determine the disposition of specified offenses under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (Chapter 47 of title 10, United States Code).

Generally, if such an officer's disposition determination differs from the recommendation made by the officer's legal advisor, the matter would be referred to a Special Victim Prosecutor, Senior Trial Counsel, or Regional Trial Counsel not in the chain of command of the officer making the initial disposition determination for review and recommendation to a staff judge advocate in the chain of command. That staff judge advocate would advise the next superior commander, who would decide whether to endorse or supersede the initial disposition determination.

The provision would require the training provided to commissioned officers in the grades of O-6 and above on the exercise of such disposition determination authority to include specific training on sexual harassment, sexual assault, and family abuse and domestic violence.

Nondiscrimination with respect to service in the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 530B) that would add section 651a to title 10, U.S. Code, to require the Department of Defense to consider only the ability of an individual to meet gender-neutral occupational standards for military service generally and the military occupational specialty concerned, in particular, in evaluating a candidate for enlistment/accession. The provision would further require that any personnel policy developed or implemented by the Department ensure equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the Armed Forces, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, and sex (including gender identity and sexual orientation). Finally, the provision promulgates a definition of "gender identity."

A Safe to Report policy is one in which a victim of sexual assault who may have committed minor collateral misconduct at or about the time of the assault, or whose minor collateral misconduct is discovered only as the result of the investigation of the sexual assault, may report the assault to authorities without fear of discipline, except in cases in which aggravating circumstances increase the gravity of the minor collateral misconduct or its impact on military good order and discipline.

The provision would define minor collateral misconduct as including: (1) Improper use and possession of alcohol; (2) Consensual intimate behavior, including adultery or fraternization; (3) Presence in off-limits areas; and (4) Other misconduct specified in the regulations promulgated.

The provision would further require that the regulations promulgated by the Secretary specify the aggravating circumstances that would increase the gravity of minor collateral misconduct or its impact on good order and discipline.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees encourage the military department boards for the correction of military or naval records to apply their powers of equity broadly to redress injustices in the military records of a servicemember or former member, and in appropriate cases—as authorized by law or established in board precedent—to accord liberal consideration to the evidence and information presented by or on behalf of the member or former member. In the view of the conferees, such liberal consideration is particularly warranted in cases in which official military records pertinent to the member's application for relief have been destroyed or are otherwise unavailable, through no fault of the member.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that the Services already have the authority to ensure qualified military service academy applicants who do not receive an offer of admission are able to receive a scholarship through the Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC). The Secretaries of the military departments are encouraged to develop creative policies to ensure that those young Americans who have demonstrated their propensity to serve in the military by applying to a service academy are able to qualify for and access ROTC scholarships.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 558) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a periodic survey—at least once every 4 years but not more frequently than once every 2 years—to be known as the Military Investigation and Justice Experience Survey, on the experience of members of the Armed Forces with military investigations and military justice. Those surveyed would include members of the Armed Forces who are victims of an alleged sex-related offense and who made an unrestricted report of that offense. Participants would be surveyed on their experience with a Special Victims’ Counsel/Victims’ Legal Counsel and, if charges in the victim’s case were referred to court-martial, with the prosecutor and the court-martial in general.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees note that the Department already has implemented a Military Investigation and Justice Experience Survey, and encourage the Department to continue to enhance this survey; to monitor trends revealed by survey responses and data over time; as appropriate, to take action to improve military investigations, the Special Victims' Counsel/Victims' Legal Counsel programs, and prosecution processes to address matters raised by survey responses and data; and to include information and insights derived from the survey, when salient, in future briefings and reports to the Congress.

Safe-to-Report policy applicable to military service academies

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to publish regulations for the implementation of a Safe-to-Report policy, which would allow the victims of an alleged sexual assault at the United States Military Academy, United States Naval Academy, United States Air Force Academy, and the United States Coast Guard Academy, who may have committed minor collateral misconduct, an opportunity to report an occurrence of sexual assault without fear of discipline for that misconduct.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Recoupment of funds from cadets and midshipmen separated for criminal misconduct

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560B) that would direct the secretary of each military department to prescribe regulations to require the Superintendent of a military service academy to recoup the costs of advanced education received by a cadet or midshipman who is separated from the Academy for reasons of criminal misconduct, at any time prior to graduation.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that in accordance with section 2005 of title 10, United States Code, and section 303a(e) of title 37 of the Code, the secretaries of the military departments already are vested with authority to recoup the costs of advanced education at a military service academy from a cadet who is separated from the academy prior to graduation. As appropriate, the conferees encourage the secretaries of the military departments to require cadets and midshipmen separated from a military service academy for criminal misconduct to repay the costs of their advanced education, even if the cadet or midshipman is separated prior to having completed 2 years of schooling.

Support of military service academy foundations

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560D) that would amend chapter 155 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize service secretaries to provide support to certain non-profit fundraising foundations that operate exclusively to support military service academies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that the primary funding source for military service academies remains appropriated Federal dollars. Each academy currently receives significant additional support from several dedicated non-profit organizations. While academy superintendents may be formally prohibited from engaging in fundraising on behalf of these private organizations, that restriction helps to maintain a healthy separation between the federally funded military institution and private organizations that are not subject to Federal oversight. The conferees are encouraged that the current arrangement between the academies and their non-profit fundraising foundations has resulted recently in each academy opening new, privately funded, facilities for cadet and midshipmen athletics, character development, and cyber education.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 566) that would amend section 2007 of title 10, United States Code, to require that an Active-Duty service obligation incurred by an officer for the acceptance of tuition assistance for off-duty training or education be served sequentially with any other service obligation already incurred by the officer.
The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.
The conferees note that section 2007 of title 10, United States Code, requires officers who accept tuition assistance to remain on Active Duty for a period of at least two years after the completion of the education for which tuition assistance was used. In fiscal year 2018, the Department of Defense provided tuition assistance to approximately 15,000 Active Duty commissioned officers at a cost of almost $31 million. According to the Government Accountability Office, around 10 percent of Army and Navy officers who last used tuition in 2017 are now separated from the military. The median number of years served after these officer’s last use of tuition assistance was 1.6 years for Army officers and only 1.2 years for Navy officers. These statistics suggest that tuition assistance may not be serving one of its intended purposes, which is to provide a valuable benefit in exchange for continued military service.
Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense in consultation with the secretaries of the military departments to conduct an analysis of the officer voluntary tuition assistance program. The analysis should include: (1) An evaluation of whether the tuition assistance program is serving as a retention tool; (2) A discussion of the merits of lengthening or requiring active duty service obligations incurred as a result of accepting tuition assistance be served consecutively with other service commitments; and (3) An assessment of whether those officers who receive a fully funded bachelor’s degree through their commissioning source should be eligible to receive voluntary tuition assistance funding prior to the completion of their initial Active Duty service obligation.

The results of this analysis shall be submitted to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives by April 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to deliver a report to the congressional defense committees detailing an implementation plan for the Senate-passed provision that would require service-specific contributions to the Military Retirement Fund. The conferees note that requiring service-specific contributions to the Military Retirement Fund will provide valuable insight into the true costs of each military department’s manpower. The current system of Military Retirement Fund contributions produces a disparity between the services. Those services with fewer personnel who reach full retirement eligibility, like the Marine Corps, contribute more to the Military Retirement Fund than needed to pay for retired marines’ pensions. Meanwhile, those services that have larger numbers of personnel who reach full retirement eligibility, like the Air Force, effectively receive a discount on their Military Retirement Fund contributions.

As each service updates its overall force profile to support the National Defense Strategy and implements other reforms, like those to the Blended Retirement System, the conferees believe it is critical that senior leaders in the DOD accurately account for the fully-burdened life-cycle cost of each service’s manpower plans.

Report on food insecurity among members of the Armed Forces and their dependents (sec. 656)

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Basic allowance for housing for a member without dependents when relocation would financially disadvantage the member

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 604) that would allow the Secretaries of the military departments discretionary authority to authorize a housing allowance based on the old homeport or permanent duty station for single members disadvantaged as a result of a unit’s change of homeport or permanent duty station, as long as the member had orders returning to the previous homeport or duty station.
The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.
The conferees note, in general, the Navy plans ship homeport changes well in advance of the actual relocation occurring. In the same way, the Navy should also plan personnel movements related to homeport changes well in advance in order to minimize disruption to sailors. The conferees note that current law does not require Basic Allowance for Housing be based on a ship’s homeport, and would encourage the Navy to work with the Department of Defense to develop a policy solution that provides the necessary authority.

Annual adjustment of basic pay

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 607) that would require the adjustment in rates of monthly basic pay required by subsection (a) of section 1009 of title 37, United States Code, to take effect, notwithstanding any determination made by the President.

Space-available travel on military aircraft for children and surviving spouses of members who die of hostile action or training duty

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.
The conferees note that section 2641b of title 10, United States Code, authorizes the space-available travel program and provides the Secretary of Defense with the ability to extend eligibility for the program to any category of individual the Secretary considers appropriate. The conferees believe that space-available travel privileges should be extended to spouses and children of servicemembers who die in combat, if there is no impact on readiness or on the priority appropriately afforded to members of the armed forces on active duty and their families, in recognition of the demands of active military service and the need for respite from such demands. Accordingly, the conferees direct the Secretary to report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives by no later than March 1, 2020, on the scope of the population described in section 626 of the House bill, the obstacles in providing this population with space-available privileges, and whether an extension of this benefit to such population would interfere with the use of space-available travel by active duty members and their families, particularly on the most traveled routes.

Report regarding management of military commissaries and exchanges

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 632) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, regarding management practices of military commissaries and exchanges.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Over the past four years, Congress has enacted several provisions designed to guide the Department of Defense in implementing a major reform of the military health system to make it more effective, efficient, and less costly. These enactments require replacement of the semi-autonomous Service-run components of the system with a single accountable organization, the Defense Health Agency, responsible for managing an integrated health care system that includes all military medical treatment facilities in the direct care system, with a sharper focus on military medical readiness, and the purchased care system, with an emphasis on maximum value and the attainment of better health outcomes for beneficiaries and the Department. Under this construct, the responsibility of the military departments is to recruit, retain, organize, and develop the military medical force and to make it available to combatant commands when needed to support military operations or otherwise to the Defense Health Agency. The conferees are aware of a lack of consensus in the Department on implementing the reforms required by law but see no reason to change direction. The conferees expect the Secretary of Defense to fully implement the law and to accomplish these critically important reforms expeditiously.

TITLE VIII—ACQUISITION POLICY, ACQUISITION MANAGEMENT, AND RELATED MATTERS

SUBTITLE A—ACQUISITION POLICY AND MANAGEMENT

Authority for continuous integration and delivery of software applications and upgrades to embedded systems (sec. 800)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 852) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish initial guidance, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, authorizing the use of special pathways for the rapid acquisition of software applications and upgrades that are intended to be fielded within 1 year. These new pathways would prioritize continuous integration and delivery of working software in a secure manner and prioritize continuous oversight from automated analytics.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 801).
The House recedes with amendments that would modify the timeline for developing the guidance; allow for the use of one or more pathways; clarify that first fielding of capability for operational use shall occur within one year of the date funds are first obligated for software development; and direct a report on use of the authority and recommendations for any changes to statute by October 15, 2020.

The conferees commend the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment’s commitment to adopting the recommendations of the Defense Innovation Board. The conferees emphasize that the ability to deliver meaningful capability for operational use within one year is foundational to the establishment of this authority and associated procedures. The conferees remind the Department that delivery of increments of useful software capability no less frequently than every six months is not only a best practice for software-intensive systems but it has also been a standing government-wide requirement for years. Overcoming the Department’s institutional and cultural resistance to delivering in a year or less requires ruthless prioritization of features, which hinges on more effective cooperation among stakeholders. The conferees also believe that cost estimation and assessment and program evaluation methods are critical to well-informed program oversight, and note that, for software initiatives, such approaches remain nascent. The conferees therefore direct the Director, Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, in coordination with the Defense Digital Service and the directors of developmental test and operational test and evaluation, to incorporate lessons learned from the implementation of sections 873 and 874 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018, and sections 215 and 869 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 in the development of guidance and oversight procedures for managing, estimating, and assessing software programs. First, the conferees remind the Department of flexibility already written into its directive and instruction that the milestone decision authority and program managers “shall tailor program strategies and oversight, including documentation of program information, acquisition phases, the timing and scope of decision reviews, and decision levels, to fit the particular conditions of that program, consistent with applicable laws and regulations and the time sensitivity of the capability need.” Accordingly, the conferees also remind the Department that the use of source lines of code, or “SLOC”, to estimate or to measure productivity, is inadequate, inappropriate, and can be detrimental in incentivizing bad code design. As such, the conferees encourage the Department to implement the recommendations on software metrics in the Defense Innovation Board Software Acquisition and Practices Study. Finally, the conferees request a briefing no later than March 30, 2020 from the Joint Staff on how the JCIDS process can be updated to accommodate more flexibility given the iterative and ever-changing nature of present-day acquisition of software.

The conferees note that this construct revives in a modern context the “alpha contracting” concept that is more than a decade old. Further, it brings together all government personnel involved in the functions that support acquisition actions, to include contracting staff as well as technical staff, operators, and cost personnel. This is intended to ensure that technical requirements are appropriately valued and that the most effective acquisition strategy to achieve these requirements is identified.

The provision would further require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report on the Department's use of fixed-price contracts over time no later than February 1, 2021. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.
The conferees understand that the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment is working with industry to address possible policy modifications related to technical data rights and their disposition during challenges. The conferees encourage the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to continue these engagements and keep the Congress informed of progress with respect to these matters.

Uniformity in application of micro-purchase threshold to certain task or delivery orders (sec. 826)
The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899I) that would amend section 4106(c) of title 41, United States Code, to replace $2,500 with the micro-purchase threshold. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes.

Requirement for cost estimates on models of commercial e-commerce portal program (sec. 827)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 891) that would direct the Administrator of General Services to establish a five-year program to test each of the three models of commercial e-commerce portals before awarding a final contract to a provider. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes with amendments that replace the requirement for a five-year test program with a requirement for cost estimates, and directs that the estimates be submitted within a year after the first contracts are awarded under the program.

In implementing this section, the conferees do not intend to require the Administrator to provide independent government cost estimates, but rather a range of potential costs or a general order of magnitude for each model.

SUBTITLE C—PROVISIONS RELATING TO MAJOR DEFENSE ACQUISITION PROGRAMS

Modification of requirements for reporting to Congress on certain acquisition programs (sec. 830)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 893) that would exclude the selected acquisition reports required by section 2432 of title 10, United States Code, from the reports that will sunset under section 1080 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92). The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to propose an alternative for reporting the status of major defense acquisition programs and other acquisition activities that would include information on cybersecurity tests, software development metrics, and quality metrics for software. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require selected acquisition reports for any defense program estimated to require a total expenditure of more than $300.0 million for research, development, test and evaluation or a total expenditure of more than $1,800.0 million for procurement through fiscal year 2021 and that would clarify the requirement for the Secretary of Defense to report on alternatives models and thresholds for congressional reporting on acquisition programs.

Pilot program to streamline decision-making processes for weapon systems (sec. 831)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 808) that would require the service acquisition executive for each military department to recommend at least one major defense acquisition program to participate in the pilot program to streamline decision-making processes not later than February 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

The conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to brief the congressional defense committees not later than May 1, 2020, on the acquisition programs selected for the pilot program, the associated action plans and timelines for each program, and the manner in which each program conforms to the required elements of the pilot program.

Analysis of alternatives pursuant to materiel development decisions (sec. 832)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5803) that would require updated guidance for analyses of alternatives conducted pursuant to a materiel development decision for a major defense acquisition program, to include requiring that studies are completed within nine months; establishing procedures to waive this requirement on a case-by-case basis; and reporting late studies or the use of the waiver to congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to assess how the Department conducts analyses of alternatives.

Naval vessel certification required before Milestone B approval (sec. 833)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 821) that would require a certification of compliance with section 8669b of title 10, United States Code, for naval vessel programs prior to Milestone B approval.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

SUBTITLE D—PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE ACQUISITION SYSTEM

Extramural acquisition innovation and research activities (sec. 835)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(l)) that would amend chapter 97 of title 10, United States Code, to establish an academic center for acquisition innovation at the Naval Postgraduate School to provide decision-makers with academic analyses and policy alternatives for innovating the defense acquisition system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense to establish extramural acquisition innovation and research activities to include an acquisition research organization within a non-Federal civilian university or college, to provide and maintain essential research and development capabilities through a long-term, strategic relationship with the Department of Defense.

Report on realignment of the defense acquisition system to implement acquisition reforms (sec. 836)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 822) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the committee on lessons learned through the use of the authority provided under section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (10 U.S.C. 2302 note) commonly known as “Middle-Tier of Acquisition,” to include certain risks and how the lessons are applicable to procedures for acquiring major defense acquisition programs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that instead require the Secretary of Defense to report on ongoing efforts to realign the whole Defense Acquisition System in response to recent reforms - through changes to the 5000 series of directives, instructions, guidance and procedures and to address certain elements in the report.

The conferees appreciate the careful consideration the Department is giving to implementing the acquisition reforms legislated through these Acts over the last five years. In doing so, the conferees note that the Department of Defense can no longer afford to use cost, schedule, and performance thresholds as simple proxies for risk when designating the path an acquisition program travels through the Defense Acquisition System, and in organizing how programs are managed and overseen. Exclusive attention to cost, schedule, and performance of major defense acquisition programs and other development programs obscures a myriad of other risks in programs large and small, any one of which could be single points of failure for successful acquisition. Such risks include: technical risks such as engineering, software, manufacturing and testing; integration and interoperability risks – complicated by the implications of systems working across multiple domains while using machine learning and artificial intelligence capabilities to continuously change and optimize system performance; operations and sustainment risks – mediated by access to technical data and intellectual property rights; workforce and training risks – to include consideration of the role of contractors as part of the total workforce; and supply chain risks – to include cybersecurity, foreign control and ownership of key elements of supply chains, and the consequences a fragile and weakening defense industrial base, combined with barriers to industrial cooperation with allies and partners pose for delivering systems and technologies in a trusted and assured manner. Finally, the Secretary’s report under this section should look ahead to consider the implications of these changes for the acquisition of non-developmental items and the implications of the shift in acquisition of capabilities through development, to acquisition of capabilities “as-a-service”.

Based on the Secretary’s report under this section, and given the important role of the Comptroller General’s annual weapons assessment in enabling the congressional defense committees’ detailed oversight of the Defense Acquisition System, the conferees also direct the Comptroller General of the United States to brief the committees on how the Department’s efforts are informing the refresh of that annual report as directed under section 803 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019.

Report and limitation on the availability of funds relating to the “middle tier” of acquisition programs (sec. 837)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 821) that would amend section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114–92) to direct the Secretary of Defense to ensure the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation, the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, and the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering have access to certain data on acquisitions carried out under the authority, and would limit use of the authority to programs below the major defense acquisition threshold unless the Secretary were to issue a waiver. The House amendment also contained a provision (sec. 861(f)) that would direct the Secretary to submit a report that would include the guidance required by section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114–92) and, would limit the Department’s ability to obligate or expend funds on Middle Tier programs until that report is submitted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would strike the provision amending section 804, and, relating to the report and guidance, would expand the limitation of funds beyond acquisition programs, to the organizations which are parties to the disagreements that are preventing the guidance from being finalized.

The conferees believe the difficulty the Department has faced in reaching agreement illustrates the tension of balancing empowered execution by the Services with appropriate oversight by the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation, and the Under Secretaries of Defense for Research and Engineering and for Acquisition and Sustainment, as well as Congressional oversight. To address the latter, the conferees direct the Defense Acquisition Executive and the Service Acquisition Executives to notify the congressional defense committees within 30 days of a decision to designate a program to use the authority provided for under section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114–92). The conferees note the inability of the parties to reach agreement on the use of this authority threatens the momentum of the very initiatives that would most benefit from it. The conferees encourage the parties to focus immediately on the most critical issues, bring them to resolution, and publish the guidance required by section 804.

Report on intellectual property policy and the cadre of intellectual property experts (sec. 838)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(d)) that would amend section 802 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115–91; 131 Stat. 1450) by requiring the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, to submit a report on activities to implement section 2322 of title 10, United States Code, to include the composition and plans for the cadre, and the policy on the acquisition or licensing of intellectual property required. The provision would also limit the funds the Department may obligate or expend until the report is submitted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require that the report include a description of the specific activities performed, and the programs and efforts supported by, the cadre of intellectual property experts and would change the Department of Defense offices subject to limitation of funds.

Guidance and reports relating to covered defense business systems (sec. 839)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(a)) that would amend section 2222(d) of title 10, United States Code, to require that guidance developed by the Department of Defense for defense business systems includes policies to ensure compliance with auditability requirements and approvals. The provision would also establish due dates to provide guidance related to covered defense business systems, as well as due dates to provide the Department’s information technology enterprise architecture and related integration plans and schedules. The provision would also limit the availability of funds until such guidance, architecture and plans are provided.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the limitation on funds and combine the reporting requirements for the information technology enterprise architecture.

Implementation guidance for use of a modular open system approach (sec. 840)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(c)) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of Cost Assessment and Performance Evaluation, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report that includes the study guidance required under section 2446b(b) of title 10, United States Code, and would limit funding available if the report is not provided by the end of 2019. The provision would also modify section 2446c of title 10, United States Code, to require a policy on the support for the acquisition for modular open system approaches (MOSA).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would instead modify section 2446b of title 10, United States Code, to direct the Secretaries of the military departments to develop implementing guidance for the requirements to address MOSA, and as well would amend section 2446c of title 10, United States Code, to direct the Secretaries of the military departments to develop policies relating to the availability of major system interfaces and support for MOSA.

The conferees note the importance of policies in implementing MOSA to the fullest extent. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretaries of the military departments to submit a report to the congressional defense committee by March 15, 2020, that includes the implementation guidance required under section 2446b of title 10 and section 2446c of title 10. Furthermore, the conferees note that MOSA should go beyond the ability to exchange information broadly through the adoption of standards. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretaries of the military departments to include in their policy a description of the goals and anticipated benefits of MOSA, with respect to maintaining and enhancing competition across the life-cycle of systems and programs; enabling systems to be more easily upgraded over their lifetimes; more easily modifying or replacing components and modules without the risk of adversely affecting software or the functioning of other components and modules; achieving interoperability among a wide range of systems, and thereby enabling the creation of novel cross-domain and cross-service kill chains.

Limitation on availability of funds for the Office of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense (sec. 841)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(e)) that would limit the fiscal year 2020 funds that may be obligated or expended for the Office of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense until the date on which the Chief Management Officer submits either a certification of cost savings or the notice and justification described in Section 921(b)(5) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

SUBTITLE E—INDUSTRIAL BASE MATTERS

Modernization of acquisition processes to ensure integrity of industrial base (sec. 845)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 831) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modernize mitigation of risks to the integrity of the supply chain, to include those cited in recent studies on the defense industrial base.

The House amendment contained similar provisions (secs. 853, 855, and 892).

The House recedes with amendments that would establish the requirement for the framework in statute under section 2506 of title 10, United States Code; add certain systems to a list of those being assessed; and provide further detail on phased implementation and reporting on the framework.

The conferees note that contracting is the mechanism by which the Department of Defense operationalizes its relationship with the defense industrial base/national security innovation base. The conferees further note that the Department’s ability to maintain awareness of the sources of procured items or materials, including the degree to which the sources are foreign or domestic, are critical elements for understanding supply chain risks. This is particularly the case for items used in critical programs such as major defense acquisition programs. The conferees believe that certain risks to the defense industrial base are not being appropriately considered. These include but are not limited to risks associated with: insufficient insight into ownership structures, fragile sources of supply, and cybersecurity concerns, as well as contractors' violations of law pertaining to fraud, human trafficking, and worker health and safety. The conferees further note that, even where risks may be a high priority, the existing acquisition processes and procedures are not effective or timely in mitigating such risks. As such, the provision would require the Department to rigorously optimize the policy, processes, and procedures throughout the contracting life cycle, beginning with market research, responsibility determination, technical evaluation/award, mobilization, contract administration, contract management and oversight (to include contractor business systems reviews), and contract audit for closeout. It is critical that this optimization incorporate modern sources of data and methods to conduct appropriate and continuous risk assessment for contractors doing business with DOD. The provision would also require the Comptroller General of the United States to coordinate individual reviews in these risk areas, report on them collectively, and begin annual reviews of the Department's progress in this area.

Report requirements for the national technology and industrial base (sec. 846)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(k)) that would amend section 2501(a) of title 10, United States Code, to establish a deadline for the Secretary of Defense to submit an already-required strategy to Congress after the submission of the national security strategy report required under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947. The provision would also modify section 2504(3) of title 10, United States Code, to require that the Department’s annual report to Congress on the national technology and industrial base include a prioritized list of gaps and vulnerabilities within the base. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that clarifies requirements for the annual report to Congress, and that adds a requirement to submit unfunded priorities for the national technology and industrial base, ten days after the annual budget is submitted to Congress.

The conferees note that the national security strategy developed by the United States for the national technology and industrial base should leverage an analytical framework that uses digital tools, technologies, and approaches to inform decision-makers.

Mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence of Department of Defense contractors or subcontractors (sec. 847)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 833) that would require the Secretary of Defense to amend policy and regulation to take steps to enhance the process for assessing and mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence (FOCI).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with technical and clarifying amendments.

The conferees are concerned by the growing threat to the integrity of the defense industrial base from strategic competitors, like the Russian Federation, the People’s Republic of China, and their proxies, seeking to gain access to sensitive defense information or technology through contractors or subcontractors. The conferees recognize that there are existing efforts underway to understand and mitigate some of these risks as directed by several pilot programs including section 1048 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 and section 1969 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018. The conferees also recognize that the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency (DCSA) has transitioned to a new mission and has taken on additional responsibilities despite resource constraints. However, the acquisition community must have greater visibility into all cleared and uncleared potential contractors and subcontractors seeking to do business with the Department. The Department must ensure that contractors and subcontractors do not pose a risk to the security of sensitive data, systems, or processes such as personally identifiable information, cybersecurity, or national security systems.

Prohibition on operation or procurement of foreign-made unmanned aircraft systems (sec. 848)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 863) that would prohibit the operation or procurement of foreign-made unmanned aircraft systems by the Department of Defense. The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 854, as amended by sec. 899D) that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from operating or entering into a contract for the procurement of certain unmanned aircraft systems.

The House recedes.

Additionally, the conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to take such action as necessary to strengthen the domestic production of small unmanned aircraft systems (as defined in section 331 of the FAA Modernization and Reform Act of 2012 (Public Law 112-95; 49 U.S.C. 44802 note)), as described under Presidential Determination No. 2019-13 of June 10, 2019.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 808).

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Acquisition and disposal of certain rare earth materials (sec. 850)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6401) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Defense Logistics Agency, to submit a report assessing issues relating to the supply chain for rare earth materials.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 807) that would require the Department of Defense to promulgate guidance on streamlined acquisition of items with rare earth materials and allows exceptions to the Joint Capabilities Integration and Development System Manual and Department of Defense Directive 5000.01. The provision would also provide authority for the disposal of tungsten ores and concentrates contained in the National Defense Stockpile and acquisition of other critical materials.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the requirement to establish guidance on streamlined acquisition of covered rare earth materials and would include an assessment of rare earth supply chain issues.

Pilot program for development of technology-enhanced capabilities with partnership intermediaries (sec. 851)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 879) that would authorize the Commander of U.S. Special Operations Command to use not more than 5 percent of funds required to be expended by the Department of Defense relating to small businesses for a pilot program to increase participation by small business concerns in the development of technology-enhanced capabilities for special operations forces. The authority would terminate on September 30, 2021.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would revise the authority of the Commander of the United States Special Operations Command to use the greater of $2.0 million or 5 percent of funds required to be expended by the Department of Defense relating to small businesses for the pilot program and limits the scope to contracts and agreements to small business concerns.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act that details the plan to implement section 844 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act (Public Law 115-232) as soon as possible.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Defense to also consider certain high-quality industry recognized apprenticeship programs when evaluating contractor performance.

The conferees note that the Department of Labor has issued a proposed rule that would establish a process for recognizing Standards Recognition Entities, which will in turn recognize Industry-Recognized Apprenticeship Programs. The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to work with the Department of Labor as the proposed rule takes effect to ensure any apprenticeship programs recognized by the Department of Defense are of sufficient quality.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would reemphasize the preference under the program for awarding to small business concerns overall, as well as the prioritization of such small business concerns; and would limit the total amount of awards under the program within a fiscal year to no more than 25 percent of the total available for that fiscal year.

The provision would, among other things, require procurement center representatives and the appropriate Director of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization to assist participating small business concerns with researching solicitations and providing technical assistance to bid for federal contracts. The provision would also direct agency senior procurement executives, where appropriate, to assist small business concerns with commercializing research developed under SBIR or STTR before awarding federal agency contracts.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require procurement center representatives to consult with appropriate agency personnel to assist small business concerns in the SBIR program and STTR program, particularly in Phase III, and to provide technical assistance to submit a bid for an award of a federal contract.

Cybersecurity technical assistance under the SBIR and STTR programs (sec. 881)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(c)) that would permit the Secretary of Defense to enter into an agreement with one or more vendors to provide cybersecurity technical assistance to small business concerns engaged in Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) or Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) projects.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would instead direct the Secretary of Defense to report on any assistance to small business concerns in fiscal years 2017 through 2019 under the Small Business Innovation Research and Small Business Technology Transfer programs, and any other research, development, test, and evaluation programs.

Modifications to budget display requirements for the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research Program and Small Business Technology Transfer Program (sec. 883)

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees' aim is to allow visibility into the SBIR/STTR effort to better support the program, and to support the alignment of each military services’ SBIR/STTR program under the Service Secretary’s strategic vision for their budget.

Pilot program for domestic investment under the SBIR program (sec. 884)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(b)) that would express a sense of congress encouraging the Administrator of the Small Business Administration to promulgate regulations implementing existing authority under title 15, United States Code, that permits small business concerns that are majority-owned by multiple venture capital operating companies, hedge funds, or private equity firms to participate in the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program. The provision would further direct the Secretary of Defense to establish a pilot program to exercise this authority and make SBIR awards to such business concerns up to 10 percent of the Department’s annual SBIR allocation and would exempt the Department from the requirement for written determinations in advance of such awards. The provision would also direct the Secretary of Defense to include information about the activities under the pilot program in the annual report on the SBIR program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would eliminate the sense of congress; limit the Department of Defense exemption from the written determination to only those small business concerns meeting certain requirements related to foreign ownership; further expand the information provided in the SBIR annual report; and add a requirement for the Secretary of Defense to notify the Administrator of the Small Business Administration 30 days following an award.

SUBTITLE H—OTHER MATTERS

Review of guidance to contractors on nondiscrimination on the basis of sex (sec. 885)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899C) that would direct a revision to the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement to allow contracts only with entities that have employee policies penalizing instances of sexual harassment, and would direct the Secretary of Defense to initiate a debarment proceeding for entities seeking contracts with the Department of Defense who do not have such policies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to review the implementation of the requirement under Executive Order 11246 relating to the expectations of contractors to ensure nondiscrimination on the basis of sex, to include sexual harassment, and to update any relevant training guidance based on this review.

The conferees note that the appendix to Part 60-20 of Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations outlines best practices and procedures for contractors pertaining to the environment contractors should foster with regard to sexual harassment, which includes communicating that harassing conduct will not be tolerated, providing anti-harassment training, and establishing and implementing procedures for complaints about harassment and intimidation based on sex. The conferees believe the Department should strongly encourage contractors to incorporate such best practices and procedures.

Comptroller General report on contractor violations of certain labor laws (sec. 886)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899F) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to deliver a report to the Congress on the number of Department of Defense contractors who have been found by the Department of Labor to have committed violation of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (Public Law 91-596) or the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Public Law 75-718).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Department to update its policies, guidance, and regulations to include specific guidance for both Department of Defense employees and contractors for monitoring and reporting alleged violations, and clarify its applicability to contractors performing outside the United States.

Comptroller General report on oversight of contractors providing private security functions (sec. 889)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899L) that would direct the Inspector General of the Department of Defense to report on certain contracts for private security performed in contingency operations since 2001, to include data on costs, locations, civilians killed or wounded while performing the work, and disciplinary actions taken against the contractors.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would re-direct the study to the Comptroller General of the United States, and realign the substance of the review to evaluate Department of Defense’s efforts to improve its oversight of contractors providing private security functions since 2009, to include how it has implemented certain new industry-wide law, policy, regulation, standards, and guidance.

The conferees note the significant changes that have occurred in the private security sector since certain reforms were initiated following the final report and recommendations of the Commission on Wartime Contracting in 2011.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 865) that would direct the Comptroller General of the United States to report on the Department of Defense’s efforts to combat trafficking in persons through procurement practices.
The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1080A) that would require the Department of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees containing an analysis of the Department’s progress in implementing the Combating Trafficking in Persons Initiative.

The House recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense to analyze the Department’s progress in implementing the Combating Trafficking in Persons initiative described in DOD Instruction 2200.01.

Noting that the Department’s report will provide further information on the implementation of this program, the conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the Department of Defense’s overall efforts to combat human trafficking not later than January 31, 2021. The required report shall evaluate (1) the processes and procedures to combat human trafficking in the Department’s contracting and supply chain policy, regulation, and practices, to include the implementation of title 27 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013 (Public Law 112-239) and Executive Order 13627, as well as the nature and extent of training for contracting officers on how to evaluate compliance plans, monitor contractor adherence to the plans, and respond to reports of noncompliance; (2) the progress of the current trafficking in persons office within the Department of Defense in leading the Department to address all forms of human trafficking, the efficacy of such office in identifying, tracking, and managing any and all trafficking in persons cases, and what, if any, improvements should be made to the office; (3) the process used by contracting officers to evaluate compliance plans with regards to preventing human trafficking and a description of the remedies imposed by contracting officers in cases where an allegation of human trafficking has been substantiated; and (4) the process for reporting instances of human trafficking to the Inspector General of the Department of Defense and the disposition of those cases.

Improved management of information technology and cyberspace investments (sec. 892)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 851) that would require the Department of Defense Chief Information Officer (CIO) to work with the Chief Data Officer to optimize the Department’s process to account for, manage, and report its information technology and cyberspace investments and would require the CIO to brief the congressional defense committees and to recommend any necessary legislative changes to the committees not later than February 3, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.
The conferees note that the Department of Defense's process to account for, manage, and report its information technology and cyberspace investments—which account for at least $50.0 billion annually—is inefficient. Further, the conferees are concerned that this process results in unnecessary delays in preparing the annual budget exhibit and in regulatory reporting required by the Federal Information Technology Acquisition Reform Act of 2015, incorporated into the Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291). After years of legislation and regulation, the definitions pertaining to and the methods for grouping and accounting for spending on these investments have become cumbersome and obscure, and they hinder, rather than facilitating, insight into and oversight of spending plans and portfolio management. The briefing provided to the committees should include alternative methods for presenting budget justification materials to the public and congressional staff to more accurately communicate when, how, and with what frequency capabilities are delivered to end-users, in accordance with best practices for managing and reporting on information technology investments.

Modification to requirements for purchase of commercial leasing services pursuant to multiple award contracts (sec. 893)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899B) that would amend section 877 of the John S. The House amendment contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The Senate recedes.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 831) that would amend chapter 137 of title 10, United States Code, by allowing the head of an agency to establish a preference for offerors that employ veterans on a full-time basis when awarding a contract for the procurement of goods or services for the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Reporting on expenses incurred for independent research and development costs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 832) that would amend section 2372 of title 10, United States Code, to require Department of Defense contractors to report expenses incurred for independent research and development (IR&D) costs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that IR&D is initiated and conducted by Department of Defense contractors and the Department reimburses a portion of industry’s costs. The conferees acknowledge that it is beneficial for the Department to understand what technologies its contractors are investing in beyond Department of Defense contracts. However, the conferees note that there is an ongoing Comptroller General review of recent changes to IR&D policies and the extent that recently funded IR&D projects align with the Department’s modernization priorities as laid out in the National Defense Strategy. The conferees encourage the Department to use the findings from the Comptroller General’s review as a basis for its IR&D strategy going forward, including what information is required to be reported by the contractor.

Lastly, the conferees remind the Department that it should share information about contractor costs within the Department in a continuous and strategic manner, including in coordination with the Department’s Chief Data Officer.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 832) that would require the Air Force to assess its reliance on foreign sources for all microelectronics in precision guided munitions currently in production.

The conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, not later than August 31, 2020, to brief the congressional defense committees on the reliance of the United States Armed Forces on foreign sources for microelectronics in precision guided munitions currently in production. The briefing should identify whether the microelectronics suppliers are single source or sole-source providers as well as which tier subcontractors supply the microelectronics. The briefing should also include an evaluation of the cybersecurity risk to precision guided munitions posed by foreign-made microelectronics.

Reporting on expenses incurred for bid and proposal costs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 833) that would amend section 2372a(a) of title 10, United States Code, to require that contractors report expenses incurred for bid and proposal costs annually to the Defense Contract Audit Agency, who shall give access to the information to the Principal Director for Defense Pricing and Contracting.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Report on requirements relating to consumption-based solutions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 835) that would require the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to submit a report on requirements relating to consumption-based solutions to the congressional defense committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees recognize the acquisition of supplies and services is still evolving and believe there is a place for consumption-based solutions. The conferees direct the Deputy Secretary of Defense in conjunction with the Chief Management Officer, the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, and the Director, Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, to report to the congressional defense committees by March 15, 2020, on the feasibility of using consumption-based solutions as a procurement option to include recommended definitions, processes, contract types, and funding approaches.

Supply chain security of certain telecommunications and video surveillance services or equipment

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 851) that would require the Secretary of Defense to consult with the Federal Acquisition Security Council to comprehensively assess policies and contractors’ systems relating to telecommunications and video surveillance services and equipment from foreign suppliers; to mitigate risks through a specific interagency debarment and suspension process; to promulgate guidance; and to issue regulation containing certain elements. The House amendment contained another provision (sec. 852) that would require the Secretary of Defense to procure certain telecommunications services or installations of telecommunications infrastructure on national security installations located on territories of the United States in the Pacific Ocean, only from American-owned or -operated companies, with a national security waiver.

The Senate bill contained similar provisions, (sec. 831) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modernize mitigation of risks to the integrity of the supply chain, to include those cited in recent studies on the defense industrial base, and (sec. 833) that would require the Secretary of Defense to amend policy and regulation to enhance the process for assessing and mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence.

The House recedes with amendments to sec. 831 that would direct the Secretary to recommend revisions to certain statutory definitions, would more explicitly emphasize the role of suspension and debarment in supply-chain security, and would direct the Secretary to establish a process to re-assess companies who have addressed certain risks.

The conferees acknowledge that establishing blanket “prohibitions” in legislation can be well-intended and effective in some aspects, while also having unintended consequences. The conferees intend for the Department to be pro-active rather than reactive, in securing its supply chain. The conferees note there are multiple efforts in place and underway at the Department to address supply chain risks, and that similar efforts are being undertaken government-wide. The conferees encourage the Department to harmonize these activities where appropriate in ways that do not inhibit the Department from exercising its discretion in areas of national security interest. In this regard, the Department should pay specific attention to the procurement of telecommunications goods and services for use on installations in the Pacific Ocean.

Revised authorities to defeat adversary efforts to compromise United States defense capabilities

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 853) that would strengthen defense supply chains by including security as a primary purpose for Department of Defense acquisition.

The conferees note other sections of the conference report that modernize the Department’s supply chain risk mitigation efforts by requiring the Secretary of Defense to develop an analytical framework across the acquisition process, assign risk mitigation roles and responsibilities to organizations and individuals, and modernize access to data necessary to assess risk across the acquisition enterprise.

Supply chain risk mitigation policies to be implemented through requirements generation process

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 855) that would amend section 807 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) to require the Secretary of Defense to develop tools for supply chain risk mitigation policies during the requirements generation process.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 831) which addressed this and several other matters pertaining to the defense industrial base.

The House recedes.

The conferees note the House provision was based on the work of the Advisory Panel on Streamlining and Codifying Acquisition Regulations established by section 809 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92). The conferees commend the work of the Panel and note that, since the Panel was established, it has made 98 recommendations across 3 report volumes and continues to identify areas where United States Code can be reorganized for clarity and efficiency. The Congress has enacted a number of the recommendations from the first two volumes in prior National Defense Authorization Acts and continues to carefully consider the recommendations of the Panel.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note the importance of developing a world class cadre of technical talent who can perform critical STEM job functions in both government and industry, including a number which require security clearances. The conferees believe that a strong partnership between the defense industry and the Department of Defense can stimulate efforts to increase that pool of STEM talent. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to enter into an arrangement with one or more academic institutions to study and develop policy options and recommendations to promote DOD-defense industry collaboration in STEM education activities. The conferees note that these partnerships should be primarily focused on developing collaborative DOD-industry activities relevant to: creating a clearable technical workforce to meet defense missions, supporting educational opportunities for defense sector personnel in both government and industry, and increasing educational opportunities for veterans and military dependents.
Further, the study should focus on activities which are based on metrics and education best practices to ensure maximum effectiveness. The conferees direct that the study, accompanied by an assessment and plan for the Secretary to implement the recommended policy options, if appropriate, should be delivered to the congressional defense committees no later than October 1, 2020. The conferees direct that Secretary to ensure that the study is developed in consultation with industry, education experts, and all appropriate defense organizations with expertise in STEM education.

The study should consider the following:

1. Any programs or protocols USACE has in place for the purpose of carrying out its Davis-Bacon Act enforcement obligations as set forth in the Federal Acquisition Regulation.

2. Any programs or protocols USACE has in place for the purpose of identifying and addressing independent contractor problems
