The Senate recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act to conduct a review of existing programs, tools, and resources of the Department of Defense for training members of the Armed Forces and employees of the Department regarding the threat of disinformation campaigns and to submit the finds of such review not later than 270 days after the enactment of this Act.

Command matters in connection with transition assistance programs (sec. 568)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 595) that would require each command climate assessment for the commander of a military installation to include an assessment of the extent the commander and other command personnel encourage and support participation in transition assistance programs of servicemembers. The provision would also require an installation commander to undergo training on such programs available to servicemembers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the training provided to an installation commander, upon assignment to the installation, to include a module on covered transition assistance programs available for servicemembers assigned to the installation.

Machine readability and electronic transferability of Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty (DD Form 214) (sec. 569)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 565) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modify the DD Form 214 to make it machine readable and electronically transferable.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense, in the course of modifying the DD Form 214 to make it machine readable, to also include a specific block where a servicemember may provide one or more email addresses.

Records of service for Reserves (sec. 570)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 566) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish and implement a standard record of service for members of the Reserve Component that summarizes the record of service of the servicemember including dates of Active Duty service.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Limitations and requirements in connection with separations for members of the Armed Forces who suffer from mental health conditions in connection with a sex-related, intimate partner violence-related, or spousal abuse offense (sec. 570A)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 552) that would require that, before a member of the Armed Forces—who was the victim of a sex-related, intimate partner violence-related, or spousal abuse-related offense during the period of the member's military service, and who has a mental health condition not amounting to a disability—is separated, discharged, or released from military service based on that condition, the diagnosis of the condition must be both corroborated by a competent mental health care professional at or above the level of the healthcare professional rendering the diagnosis and endorsed by the Surgeon General of the military department concerned. This provision would apply to all separations, discharges, and releases from the Armed Forces that occur on or after the date that is 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on involuntary separation of certain members of the Armed Forces; consideration of military service in removal determinations (sec. 570B)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 530G) that would provide that neither a member of the Armed Forces, nor a former member who was discharged under honorable conditions, who has received deferred action under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program of the Department of Homeland Security, or who has "Temporary Protected Status" in accordance with section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, may be involuntarily separated from the Armed Forces, placed into removal proceedings, or removed from the United States, solely on the basis of such status.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would provide that no member of the Armed Forces who possesses a current, valid Employment Authorization Document issued pursuant to the June 15, 2012, U.S. Department of Homeland Security Memorandum,

"Exercising Prosecutorial Discretion with Respect to Individuals who Came to the United States as Children", or who is currently in a temporary protected status under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1254a) may be involuntarily separated from the Armed Forces, solely on the basis of their deferred or protected status.

The amendment would further provide that in evaluating whether to issue a notice to appear in removal proceedings, administrative order of removal, or reinstatement of a final removal order, and in evaluating whether to execute a final order of removal, evidence that an individual served as a member of the Armed Forces and the characterizations associated with of each period of the individual's service shall be considered by the immigration officer.

Inclusion of question regarding immigration status on preseparation counseling checklist (DD Form 2648) (sec. 570C)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570G) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modify the preseparation counseling checklist for active component, active Guard Reserve, active Reserve, full time support, and Reserve program administrator servicemembers (DD Form 2648) to include a specific block wherein a member of the Armed Forces may indicate a desire to receive information regarding that member's immigration status and expedited naturalization.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Counseling for members of the Armed Forces who are not citizens of the United States on naturalization in the United States (sec. 570D)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570H) that would require the Secretary concerned to furnish counseling with regard to how to apply for naturalization to a member of the Armed Forces under the jurisdiction of that Secretary, which member is not a citizen of the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Pilot program on information sharing between Department of Defense and designated relatives and friends of members of the Armed Forces regarding the experiences and challenges of military service (sec. 570E)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 580) that would require the Secretary of Defense, within 1 year of the date of the enactment of this Act, to enter into an agreement with the American Red Cross to conduct a pilot program to encourage members of the Armed Forces to designate up to 10 persons to whom certain information regarding the military service of each such member would be shared. The provision would require the Secretary, within 2 years after the pilot program begins, to administer a survey to persons who elected to receive information under the program to receive feedback on the quality of the information they received. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary to submit a final report on the pilot program to the congressional defense committees within 3 years after the program begins.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 570C).

The House recesses.

Connections of members retiring or separating from the Armed Forces with community-based organizations and related entities (sec. 570F)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 568) that would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs to enter jointly into a memorandum of understanding or other agreements with State veterans agencies to transmit information from Department of Defense form DD-2648 on individuals undergoing retirement, discharge, or release from the Armed Forces, if elected by such individuals, to provide or connect veterans to benefits or services.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Pilot program regarding online application for the Transition Assistance Program (sec. 570G)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570F) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, and the Secretary of Labor jointly to conduct a pilot program, which would create a one-stop source for online applications to assist servicemembers and veterans participating in the Transition Assistance Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

SUBTITLE H—MILITARY FAMILY READINESS AND DEPENDENTS' EDUCATION

Authorizing members to take leave for a birth or adoption in more than one increment (sec. 571)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 516) that would amend section 701 of title 10, United States Code, to remove the requirement that military leave taken in connection with the birth or adoption of a child be taken only in one increment.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 571).

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Deferred deployment for members who give birth (sec. 572)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 572) that would amend section 701 of title 10, United States Code, to standardize new mother deployment deferral policy across the military services, to include the Coast Guard.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to deploy a servicemember who has given birth within the previous 12 month if such deployment is determined to be in the interest of national security.

Authority of the Secretary concerned to transport remains of a covered decedent to no more than two places selected by the person designated to direct disposition of the remains (sec. 573)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 573) that would amend section 1482(a)(8) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize transportation of remains of a covered decedent, and travel and transportation allowances for a single escort to the place selected by the person designated (designee) to direct disposition of the remains, or to a national or other cemetery, which is selected by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. Additionally, the provision would authorize the Secretary concerned to transport the remains to no more than two places selected by the designee. Finally, the provision would authorize the Secretary concerned to provide delivery of remains by air, to the maximum extent practicable, to an airport nearest to the place selected by the designee.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Military funeral honors matters (sec. 574)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 591) that would amend section 1491(b) of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretaries of the military departments to provide full military honors for the funeral of a veteran who: (1) Is first interred or inurned in Arlington National Cemetery after the date of the enactment of this Act; (2) Was awarded the medal of honor or the prisoner-of-war medal; and (3) Is not entitled to full military honors by the grade of that veteran. Additionally, the provision would require each commander of a relevant military installation to maintain and carry out a plan for the provision, upon request, of full military funeral honors at funerals for veterans for whom funeral honors details are authorized under section 1491 of title 10, United States Code. The provision would prescribe elements of the required plans, including the provision of a gun salute by either appropriate personnel of the installation, reserve component members, or members of veterans' organizations or other organizations referred to in section 1491(b)(2) of such title.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 580E) that would amend section 1491(b) of the same title to require the Secretaries of the military departments to provide full military honors for the funeral of a veteran under the same criteria as section 591 of the Senate bill.

The House recesses with technical amendments.

Improvement of occupational license portability for relocated spouses of members of the uniformed services (sec. 575)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 577) that would amend section 1784 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments to assist with the funding and development of interstate compacts on licensed occupations.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 624) that would also guarantee residency for spouses of servicemembers for the purposes of registering a business.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments to assist with the funding and development of interstate compacts on licensed occupations. The conferees note that the guarantee of residency for spouses of servicemembers is included in another provision in this Act.

Continued eligibility for education and training opportunities for spouses of promoted members (sec. 576)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 623) that would amend section 1784a(b) of title 10, United States Code, to allow a military spouse eligible for a program under this section to finish his or her course of education or training for a degree, license, or credential, regardless of whether the servicemember to whom the spouse is married is promoted to a higher grade.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees encourage the Department of Defense to improve the data collection for military spouse education and employment programs, to establish a better understanding of utilization and completion of the programs.

Modification to authority to reimburse for State licensure and certification costs of a spouse of a servicemember arising from relocation (sec. 577)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 576) that would amend section 476(p)(4) of title 37, United States Code, to extend the authority for reimbursement of state licensure and certification costs of military spouses arising from relocation to another State to December 31, 2024.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 628) that would amend section 476(p) of title 37, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary concerned to reimburse a member of the uniformed services for qualified relicensing costs of the spouse of the member, not to exceed $1,000, until December 31, 2024. Additionally, the provision requires an analysis of whether the maximum reimbursement amount is sufficient to cover the average costs of relicensing.

The Senate recesses.

Clarification regarding eligibility to transfer entitlement under Post-9/11 Educational Assistance Program (sec. 578)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 574) that would amend section 3319 of title 38, United States Code, to prevent the Secretary of Defense from imposing a limit on transferability of Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits based on maximum number of years of service.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses. The conferees note the provision authorizing some servicemembers to transfer their education benefit was originally included as part of the Post-9/11 Veterans' Educational Assistance Act of 2008 (Public Law 110-252) to serve as a retention incentive. Section 3319 of title 38, United States Code, is explicit in stating the purpose of the transferability provision is to "promote recruitment and retention in the uniformed services." Therefore, the conferees fully expect the Department of Defense to require that any servicemember who requests, and is authorized, to transfer their education benefits serve the mandated four additional years as a member of the uniformed services. This payback period should be applied in all cases, regardless of when a servicemember actually elects to transfer their benefits.

While this provision prohibits the Department of Defense from imposing a general limit on transferability based on the number of years served, the overall authority on whether to grant an individual servicemember's request to transfer benefits remains entirely at the service secretary's discretion. The conferees encourage service secretaries to develop policies that properly treat transferability as one of many possible recruiting and retention tools to attract and keep high-quality servicemembers.

Annual State report card (sec. 579)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5501) that would amend section 1111(h)(1)(C)(ii) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 576).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Improvements to child care for members of the Armed Forces (sec. 580)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 579) that would clarify section 559(e) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) by including family childcare coordinator services and school age childcare coordinator services in the direct hire authority.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 629) that would: (1) Expand the authority to provide financial assistance to civilian providers of child care services or youth program services that provide services to survivors of members of the Armed Forces who die in the line of duty; (2) Expand the direct hire authority for childcare service providers; (3) Require the Secretary of Defense to conduct an assessment of financial assistance provided to civilian childcare providers; (4) Require the Secretary of Defense to conduct an assessment of childcare capacity on military installations and require remedial action to alleviate the waiting lists for childcare if necessary; (5) Require the Secretary of Defense to conduct an assessment of the accessibility of websites of the Department of Defense related to childcare and spousal employment; and (6) Ensure the portability of background investigations and training certifications for childcare providers employed by the Department of Defense when such providers are transferred to another Department facility.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would clarify the direct hire authority for Department of Defense childcare development centers to include family childcare coordinator services and school age childcare coordinator services. Additionally, the provision would require the Secretary of Defense to take remedial action if necessary to reduce waiting lists for childcare at military installations and to provide a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on any action taken or any additional resources necessary to increase access to childcare. The provision would also require a review of the assessments conducted by the Secretary under this provision by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Transportation of remains of casualties; travel expenses for next of kin (sec. 580A)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 577) that would amend section 562 of the John Warner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2007 (Public Law 109-364) to require the Secretary of Defense to extend travel privileges via international travel authorization to family members of servicemembers who die outside of the United States and whose remains are returned to the mortuary facility at Dover Air Force Base, Delaware.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Meetings of officials of the Department of Defense with representative groups of survivors of deceased members of the Armed Forces (sec. 580B)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 578) that would require the Secretary of Defense to direct the service chiefs and the Chief of the National Guard Bureau to meet periodically with survivors of deceased members of the Armed Forces to receive feedback regarding issues affecting survivors.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to direct the service chiefs and the Chief of the National Guard Bureau to meet periodically with representative groups of survivors to receive feedback regarding issues affecting survivors.

Information and opportunities for registration for voting and absentee ballot requests for members of the Armed Forces undergoing deployment overseas (sec. 580C)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5502) that would require that not later than 45 days prior to a general election for Federal office, a Voting Assistance Officer or other person designated by the secretary of the military department concerned, shall provide a member of the Armed Forces with a Federal write-in absentee ballot and instructions on the use of that ballot in the State in which the member is registered to vote. The provision also would require that in the case of a member intending to vote in a State that does not accept the Federal write-in absentee ballot as a simultaneous application and ballot for Federal elections, the member would be provided a briefing on, and an opportunity to fill out the official post-card form for absentee voter registration application and absentee ballot application prescribed in law. The provision concludes with a Sense of Congress relating to the use of the Federal write-in absentee ballot.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 575) that would amend section 102(h) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (52 U.S.C. 20302(h)) to require a chief State election official, in coordination with local election jurisdictions, to establish and operate an absentee ballot tracking program for absentee uniformed voters and overseas citizen voters.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require a Voting Assistance Officer or other person designated by the secretary of the military department concerned, to provide a Federal write-in ballot to a member of the Armed Forces, upon the request of that member. Further, in the case of a member intending to vote in a State that does not accept the Federal write-in absentee ballot as a simultaneous application and ballot, the member would be provided instructions on, and an opportunity to fill out, the official post-card form.

The conferees urge the Federal government and State governments to remove all obstacles that would inhibit deployed servicemembers from voting. Further, the conferees strongly advocate that States that do not allow servicemembers to use the Federal write-in absentee ballot as a simultaneous application and acceptable ballot for Federal elections modify their laws to permit such use.

Study on two-way military ballot barcode tracking (sec. 580D)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5503) that would require the Director of the Federal Voting Assistance Program of the Department of Defense to conduct a study on the feasibility of a pilot program providing full ballot tracking of overseas military absentee ballots through the mail stream in a manner similar to the 2016 Military Ballot Tracking Pilot Program. The provision would further require the Director to submit a report to Congress, not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, detailing the results of the feasibility study, together with an estimate of the costs of conducting a pilot, the organizations that would support the pilot, and the timeline for the phased implementation of the pilot program to all military personnel serving overseas.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Director of the Federal Voting Assistance Program to include in the feasibility study report, a method to determine under the pilot program if a ballot was counted, and to provide that information to the servicemember casting the vote, and a description of the efforts being undertaken to ensure a reliable and secure military ballot tracking system.

Assistance to schools with military dependent students (sec. 580E)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 571) that would authorize $40.0 million in Operation and Maintenance, Defense-wide, for continuation of the Department of Defense (DOD) assistance program to local educational agencies impacted by enrollment of dependent children of military members and DOD civilian employees.

The Senate bill contained another provision (sec. 572) that would authorize $10.0 million in Operation and Maintenance, Defense-wide, for impact aid payments for children with severe disabilities (as enacted by Public Law 106-398; 114 Stat. 1654A-77; 20 U.S.C. 7703a) using the formula set forth in section 363 of the Floyd D. Spence National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2001 (Public Law 106-398), for continuation of DOD assistance to local educational agencies that benefit eligible dependents with severe disabilities. Subsection (b) of the provision would allow the Secretary of Defense to use $5.0 million of the total amount authorized for payments to local educational agencies with higher concentrations of military children with severe disabilities at the Secretary's discretion and without regard to the formula set forth in section 363 of the Floyd D. Spence National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2001 (Public Law 106-398).

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 580) that would authorize $40.0 million for the purpose of providing assistance to local educational agencies with military dependent students and $10.0 million for local educational agencies eligible to receive a payment for children with severe disabilities.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Defense to use $5.0 million of the total amount authorized for payments to local educational agencies with higher concentrations of military children with severe disabilities at the Secretary's discretion.

First expansion of the My Career Advancement Account program for military spouses (sec. 580F)

The House amendment contained a provision (Sec. 580B) that would expand the My Career Advancement Account (MyCAA) program to allow military spouses participating in the program to receive financial assistance to pursue a license, certification, or associate's degree in any career field or occupation, including both portable and non-portable career fields.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow military spouses participating in the MyCAA program the ability to receive financial assistance for the pursuit of a license, certification, or associate's degree in any career field or occupation.

Second expansion of the My Career Advancement Account program for military spouses (sec. 580G)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 580C) that would expand the Department of Defense My Career Advancement Account program (MyCAA) to all spouses of enlisted members of the U.S. Coast Guard.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize eligible spouses of members of the U.S. Coast Guard to participate in the MyCAA program if the U.S. Coast Guard reimburses the Department of Defense.

Report on training and support available to military spouses (sec. 580H)

The House amendment contained a provision (Sec. 580D) that would require a report from the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness on training and support available to military spouses.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the Department of Defense's financial literacy programs designed for military spouses and their efficacy.

Ri'katak Guest Student Program at United States Army Garrison - Kwajalein Atoll (sec. 580I)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 573) that would authorize the Secretary of the Army to conduct an assistance program to educate up to five local national students per grade, per academic year, on a space-available basis at the contractor-operated schools on United States Army Garrison-Kwajalein Atoll. Under this provision, the Secretary would be authorized to provide: (1) Classroom instruction; (2) Extracurricular activities; (3) Student meals; and (4) Transportation.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE I—DECORATIONS AND AWARDS

Modification of authorities on eligibility for and replacement of gold star lapel buttons (sec. 581)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 632) that would amend section 1126 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to determine the eligible recipients of the gold star lapel button. Additionally, the provision would authorize the Secretary to replace a lapel button upon application and without cost.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 581).

The House recesses.

Standardization of honorable service requirement for award of military decorations (sec. 582)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 586) that would amend Chapter 57 of title 10, United States Code, to standardize the requirement for honorable service for awards of medals, crosses, bars, and associated emblems.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Authorization for award of the Medal of Honor to John J. Duffy for acts of valor in Vietnam (sec. 583)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 585) that would authorize the President, notwithstanding the time limitations specified in section 3744 of title 10, United States Code, or any other time limitation with respect to awarding certain medals to members of the Armed Forces, to award the Medal of Honor under section 3741 of such title to John J. Duffy for acts of valor during the Vietnam War.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Review of World War I Valor Medals (sec. 584)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 583) that would require each Secretary concerned to review certain service records of World War I veterans as recommended for review by the Valor Medals Review Task Force or another veterans service organization, to determine whether such veteran should be awarded the Medal of Honor for valor in World War I.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require each Secretary concerned to review certain service records of World War I veterans to determine whether such veteran should be awarded the Medal of Honor for valor in World War I. The review will last no longer than 5 years.

The conferees note that the Valor Medals Review Task Force, jointly established by the United States Foundation for the Commemoration of the World Wars and the George S. Robb Centre for the Study of the Great War, has identified World War I veteran service records for potential review by the Secretaries concerned. The conferees encourage the Secretaries of the military departments to consult with the Valor Medals Review Task Force to identify those service records that warrant further review to determine whether such veteran should be recommended for an upgrade to the Medal of Honor for valor.

SUBTITLE J-MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

Clarification of the term "assault" for purposes of Workplace and Gender Relations Surveys (sec. 591)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 592) that would amend section 481 of title 10, United States Code, to update the Armed Forces Workplace and Gender Relations surveys and the Department of Defense Civilian Employee Workplace and Gender Relations Survey to require solicitation of information about the types and frequency of unwanted sexual contact that have occurred during the preceding year.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would amend sections 481 and 481a of title 10, United States Code, to clarify that the term "assault", for purposes of questions posed on Armed Forces Workplace and Gender Relations Surveys and the Department of Defense Civilian Employee Workplace and Gender Relations Survey, respectively, should be defined to include "unwanted sexual contact."

Inclusion of certain veterans on temporary disability or permanent disabled retirement lists in military adaptive sports programs (sec. 592)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5601) that would amend subsection (a)(1) of section 2564a of title 10, United States Code, to authorize inclusion of servicemembers, who are eligible to participate in military adaptive sports programs, and certain veterans on temporary disability or permanent disabled retirement lists in such programs.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 599B).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Questions in surveys regarding extremist activity in the workplace (sec. 593)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 594) that would require the Secretary of Defense to include in the workplace and equal opportunity, command climate, and workplace and gender relations surveys whether respondents had ever experienced supremacist activity, extremist activity, or racism in the workplace.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to include in appropriate surveys questions about whether a respondent had experienced or witnessed extremist activity in the workplace, and whether the respondent had reported such activity to appropriate authorities.

Study on best practices for providing financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces (sec. 594)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 598) that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to conduct a study on the best practices to provide financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces and veterans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Department in which the Coast Guard is operating to conduct a study on the best practices to provide financial literacy education for separating members of the Armed Forces. The results of the study shall be reported to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Report on oversight of authorized strengths of certain grades of commissioned regular and reserve officers of the Armed Forces (sec. 595)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 501) that would amend section 523 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Congress to authorize annually the number of officers serving on Active Duty in the grades of major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel in the Army, Air Force, and Marine Corps or lieutenant commander, commander, and captain in the Navy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on alternative methods to improve the oversight of authorized strengths of commissioned regular and reserve officers of the Armed Forces.

The conferees note the officer strength table was included as a fundamental feature of the Defense Officer Personnel Management Act (DOPMA) (Public Law 96-513). The table was designed to serve as an effective limitation on the number of mid-grade officers within each service. The House report to accompany the legislation (H. Rept. 96-1462) explained that the table would be adjusted over time to align with emerging officer manpower requirements. However, in practice, the authorized strength table is rarely updated and it is no longer linked to strategy or actual officer requirements.

Report on certain waivers (sec. 596)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 597) that would require the Department of Defense to submit an initial report (within 120 days of the enactment of this Act) and an annual report for 2 years thereafter, to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, setting forth detailed information about the number of transgender applicants and serving transgender servicemembers who, in the prior calendar year, sought and received a waiver or exception to current Defense Department policy to permit their enlistment/accession or retention in the military. The reporting would require the Department to distinguish between waivers requested by "exempt" persons—applicants or servicemembers "grandfathered" under the policies for military service by transgender persons enacted in June 2016, and "non-exempt" persons—who are subject to the policy on transgender service that that took effect on April 12, 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the data elements required to be included in the report and would clarify that any report submitted will not include Personally Identifiable Information or Protected Health Information.

The conferees note that the new Department of Defense policy with regard to military service by transgender persons expressly asserts that "[t]ransgender persons may seek waivers or exceptions [to the standards established by DTM-19-004], or any other standards, requirements, or policies, on the same terms as any other person." As regards a transgender person's request for a waiver or exception to policy to permit that individual to serve in the military in other than his or her biological sex, the Secretaries of the Military Departments may delegate waiver authority no lower than a Military Service Personnel Chief. The conferees note that all other waiver authority vests in the regular Service-designated waiver authority, affording transgender persons consideration at the same level of decision-making as persons who are not transgender.

In determining whether an applicant with a disqualifying diagnosis of gender dysphoria or history of gender transition treatment or surgery merits a waiver to permit his or her service in the military, the conferees encourage Service-designated waiver authorities to consider such a waiver under the same circumstances as they would for an applicant who is not transgender, but has been diagnosed with analogous conditions or received analogous treatments, presuming the individual meets all other standards for accession.

Notifications on manning of afloat naval forces (sec. 597)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 518) that would amend section 525 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to make technical changes to congressional notifications germane to the manning of afloat naval forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would sunset such notifications in fiscal year 2025.

Report regarding use of aerial systems of the Department of Defense to support agencies of States, Territories, and the Federal Government (sec. 598)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 514) that would direct the Secretary of Defense, within 90 days of enactment, to issue new guidance that treats the use of unmanned aircraft systems by the National Guard for covered activities in a manner no more restrictive than the use of other aircraft.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense, not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act, to provide a report on the requirements for, and policies and procedures governing the use of Department of Defense manned and unmanned aerial systems to support States, territories, and other Federal agencies.

The conferees note that the Department of Defense provides resources, including unmanned and manned aerial systems, at the request of States, territories, and other Federal agencies for emergency operations, search and rescue operations, and Defense support to civil authorities. However, the conferees note that there is a lack of understanding on the policy, procedures, and overall availability of these resources to provide such requested support.

Information for members of the Armed Forces on availability of services of the Department of Veterans Affairs relating to sexual trauma (sec. 599)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 745) that would require the Secretary of Defense to use available mechanisms to inform members of the Armed Forces of their eligibility for services provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs. In particular, the Secretary would be required to ensure that Sexual Assault Response Coordinators and uniformed victim advocates of the Department of Defense advise members of the Armed Forces experiencing psychological trauma resulting from a physical assault of a sexual nature, battery of a sexual nature, or sexual harassment that occurred while serving on Active Duty, Active Duty for training, or inactive duty training, regarding their eligibility for Department of Veterans Affairs counseling, care, and services.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Authority to issue an honorary promotion to Colonel Charles E. McGee, United States Air Force (ret.), to the grade of brigadier general (sec. 599A)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 599) that would authorize the President to issue an honorary commission promoting, to brigadier general in the Air Force, Colonel Charles E. McGee, United States Air Force (retired), a distinguished Tuskegee Airman.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Authority to issue an honorary and posthumous promotion to Lieutenant Colonel Richard Cole, United States Air Force (ret.), to the grade of colonel (sec. 599B)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 599A) that would authorize the honorary and posthumous promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Richard E. Cole, United States Air Force (retired), to the grade of colonel.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Sense of Congress on the honorable and distinguished service of General Joseph F. Dunford, United States Marine Corps, to the United States (sec. 599C)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5504) that would express the sense of Congress as to the honorable and distinguished career of service to the United States of General Joseph F. Dunford, United States Marine Corps.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

The conferees find that: (1) General Joseph F. Dunford was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps in 1977; (2) Since 1977, General Dunford has served as an infantry officer at all levels and has held numerous leadership roles, including Commander of the 5th Marine Regiment during Operation IRAQI FREEDOM, Commander of the International Security Assistance Force and United States Forces-Afghanistan, and Commander, Marine Forces United States Central Command; (3) General Dunford served as the 32nd Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps from October 23, 2010, to December 15, 2012; (4) General Dunford subsequently served as the 36th Commandant of the Marine Corps from October 17, 2014, to September 24, 2015; (5) General Dunford became the highest-ranking military officer in the United States when he was appointed as the 19th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on October 1, 2015; (6) General Dunford is only the second United States Marine to hold the position of Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; (7) During his nearly 4 years as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Dunford effectively and honorably executed the duties of the office to the highest levels of honor and integrity; and (8) General Dunford has an extensive record of impeccable service to the United States.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Grade of Chief of Veterinary Corps of the Army

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 502) that would require that the grade of the Chief of the Veterinary Corps of the Army be a brigadier general.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on rate of maternal mortality among members of the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 505) that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Department in which the Coast Guard is operating, when not operating under the Navy, to submit a report to Congress, within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, on the rate of maternal mortality among members of the Armed Forces and their dependents.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Senate Report accompanying S. 1790 (S. Rept. 116-48) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020 requires the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives by February 1, 2020, reporting the rate and incidence of pregnancy-associated deaths, defined as the death of a woman while pregnant or during the 1-year period following the date of the end of pregnancy, and severe maternal morbidities, defined as unintended outcomes of pregnancy, labor, or delivery that result in significant short- or long-term consequences to a woman's health.

JROTC Computer Science and Cybersecurity Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 516) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to carry out a program to enhance the preparation of students in Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps for careers in computer science and cybersecurity.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the United States in general, and the military in particular, currently struggle to find and produce sufficient numbers of Americans trained to succeed in computer science and cybersecurity careers. The Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corp, and programs like it, can serve as catalysts to overcoming these systemic shortages by providing an extra-curricular experience to young Americans who demonstrate a penchant for computer science and related subjects. The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to partner with other Federal, State, and local organizations in developing new programs to better prepare the nation's youth for the workforce of the future.

Sense of Congress regarding the National Guard Youth Challenge Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 519) that would express the sense of Congress that the National Guard Youth Challenge Program provides a vital service to at-risk youth and would encourage the Secretary of Defense to use the authority provided in section 519 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-

232) to use equipment and facilities of the Department of Defense in this program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees reiterate the importance of the National Guard Youth Challenge Program and good work the program accomplishes. Additionally, the conferees continue to encourage the Secretary of Defense to utilize authority provided by the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 to use Department of Defense equipment for the purpose of supporting the National Guard Youth Challenge.

Report on expansion of the Close Airman Support team approach of the Air Force to the other Armed Forces

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 519) that would require a report on the expansion of the Close Airman Support team approach of the Air Force to the other Armed Forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees direct the Secretaries of the military departments to submit to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives a joint report on the feasibility and advisability of expanding the Close Airman Support team approach employed by the Air Force for use by the other Military Services.

National guard support to major disasters

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 520D) that would amend section 502 of title 32, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary concerned to order a member of the National Guard to perform duties related to operations or missions authorized by the President or the Secretary of Defense to respond to large scale, complex, and catastrophic disasters. The provision would also establish a permanent authorization of appropriations for sums necessary to carry out National Guard disaster response if a state of emergency has been declared by the respective Governor and the President of the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Report regarding National Guard Youth Challenge Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 520F) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees regarding the resources and authorities the Secretary determines necessary to identify the effects on graduates of the National Guard Youth Challenge Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that section 509 of title 32, United States Code, already requires the Secretary of Defense to submit an annual report on the design, conduct, and effectiveness of the National Guard Youth Challenge Program.

Temporary authority to use Air Force reserve component personnel to provide training and instruction regarding pilot training

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 520H) that would authorize the Secretary of the Air Force to utilize certain reserve component full time support personnel to provide pilot training to Active Duty servicemembers and foreign military personnel who are in the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that reserve component full time support personnel are expressly provided by law to organize, administer, recruit, instruct, or train reserve component units and personnel. To provide an exception to this long-standing requirement would be to undermine the necessary distinction between the active and reserve components.

Enactment and expansion of policy on withholding of initial disposition authority for certain offenses under the Uniform Code of Military Justice

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 522) that would vest only in a commissioned officer in a grade not below O-6, who is authorized to convene special courts-martial, the authority to determine the disposition of specified offenses under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (Chapter 47 of title 10, United States Code).

Generally, if such an officer's disposition determination differs from the recommendation made by the officer's legal advisor, the matter would be referred to a Special Victim Prosecutor, Senior Trial Counsel, or Regional Trial Counsel not in the chain of command of the officer making the initial disposition determination for review and recommendation to a staff judge advocate in the chain of command. That staff judge advocate would advise the next superior commander, who would decide whether to endorse or supersede the initial disposition determination.

The provision would require the training provided to commissioned officers in the grades of O-6 and above on the exercise of such disposition determination authority to include specific training on sexual harassment, sexual assault, and family abuse and domestic violence.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Advisory Committee on record and service review boards

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 523) that would establish a Defense Advisory Committee on Record and Upgrade Review Boards to advise the Secretary of Defense on the best structure, practices, and procedures to ensure consistency of the boards for correction of military records and service review boards in carrying out their responsibilities under chapter 79 of title 10, United States Code, and in granting relief to claimants under that chapter.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on implementation of military service suitability determinations for foreign nationals who are lawful permanent residents

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 525) that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from taking any action to implement the memorandum entitled "Military Service Suitability Determinations for Foreign Nationals Who Are Lawful Permanent Residents" until the Secretary submits a report on the justification for the policy changes made by that memorandum.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act. The briefing shall include: (1) The number of lawful permanent residents (LPRs) who apply for military service; (2) The average length of the military service suitability determination process for LPRs, as detailed in the policy memorandum, measured in six month increments since the policy memorandum was implemented; (3) The number of LPRs who have not been deemed suitable for enlistment or accession into the military based on a matter identified during the process established by the memorandum; (4) A summary of the most common reasons underlying past determinations that an LPR is not suitable for military service; and (5) The Department's plans to improve and expedite the military service suitability determination process as it relates to LPRs.

Independent Study on barriers to entry into the Armed Forces for English learners

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 527) that would require the Secretary of Defense to seek to enter into a contract with a federally funded research and development center to study barriers to entry into the Armed Forces for English learners.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Senate report 114-48 directs the Secretary of Defense to review the effectiveness of current enlistment testing practices in identifying high-potential recruits for military service, specifically among the non-native English speaking population of the United States, in light of evolving standards and methods in civilian education of measuring mental ability and academic potential.

The conferees look forward to receiving the Department's report on this topic.

Reenlistment waivers for persons separated from the Armed Forces who commit one misdemeanor cannabis offense

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 528) that would require the Secretary of Defense to prescribe regulations, within 90 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, that would permit any Secretary of a military department to grant a reenlistment waiver to an individual previously separated from the Armed Forces who has admitted to, or been convicted by a court of a single misdemeanor violation of a Federal or State law relating to the use or possession of cannabis, which violation occurred while that individual was not on Active Duty in the Armed Forces.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Recognition and honoring of service of individuals who served in United States Cadet Nurse Corps during World War II

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 530) that would require the Secretary of Defense to determine that the service of the organization known as the United States Cadet Nurse Corps during the period beginning on July 1, 1943, and ending on December 31, 1948, constitutes active military service.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Nondiscrimination with respect to service in the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 530B) that would add section 651a to title 10, U.S. Code, to require the Department of Defense to consider only the ability of an individual to meet gender-neutral occupational standards for military service generally and the military occupational specialty concerned, in particular, in evaluating a candidate for enlistment/accession. The provision would further require that any personnel policy developed or implemented by the Department ensure equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the Armed Forces, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, and sex (including gender identity and sexual orientation). Finally, the provision promulgates a definition of "gender identity."

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on mechanisms to enhance the integration and synchronization of activities of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution personnel with activities of military criminal investigative organizations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 536) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on mechanisms to enhance the integration and synchronization of activities of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution personnel with activities of military criminal investigative organizations.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, within 180 days from the date of enactment of this Act, a briefing setting forth proposals to enhance the integration and synchronization of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution personnel with the activities of military criminal investigative organizations in investigations in which both may be involved, together with any legislative and administrative actions required to implement those proposals.

Pilot program on prosecution of special victim offenses committed by attendees of military service academies

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 538) that would require the Secretary of Defense to create and carry out a pilot program establishing an independent authority outside of the chain of command to review certain special victim offenses alleged to have been committed by military service academy cadets and midshipmen to determine whether such offenses should be referred to trial by a court-martial convening authority. This provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to establish an Office of the Chief Prosecutor within the Office of the Secretary of Defense, as part of the pilot program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Standard of evidence applicable to investigations and reviews related to protected communications of members of the Armed Forces and prohibited retaliatory actions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 541) that would amend section 1034 of title 10, United States Code, to allow a finding or other determination made under subsections (c), (d), (g), or (h), to be based on the standards of evidence specified in section 1221(e) of title 5, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Repeal of 15-year statute of limitations on motions or requests for review of discharge or dismissal from the Armed Forces

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 546) that would eliminate the 15-year statute of limitations on requests by or on behalf of a former servicemember for review by a discharge review board of the member's discharge or dismissal from the Armed Forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Consultation regarding victim's preference in prosecution jurisdiction

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 547) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, to issue guidance to ensure that a sexual assault victim's preference for prosecution jurisdiction is recorded.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Safe to Report policy applicable across the Armed Forces

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 527) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the secretaries of the military departments and the Secretary of Homeland Security, to prescribe a Safe to Report policy applicable to all members of the Armed Forces, across both active and reserve components, and to cadets and midshipmen at the military service academies. A Safe to Report policy is one in which a victim of sexual assault who may have committed minor collateral misconduct at or about the time of the assault, or whose minor collateral misconduct is discovered only as the result of the investigation of the sexual assault, may report the assault to authorities without fear of discipline, except in cases in which aggravating circumstances increase the gravity of the minor collateral misconduct or its impact on military good order and discipline.

The provision would define minor collateral misconduct as including: (1) Improper use and possession of alcohol; (2) Consensual intimate behavior, including adultery or fraternization; (3) Presence in off-limits areas; and (4) Other misconduct specified in the regulations promulgated.

The provision would further require that the regulations promulgated by the Secretary specify the aggravating circumstances that would increase the gravity of minor collateral misconduct or its impact on good order and discipline.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 550).

The Senate and House recesses.

Preliminary inquiry on Arlington National Cemetery burial

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 550E) that would require the Department of the Army's General Counsel to conduct a preliminary inquiry to investigate the burial of Jack Edward Dunlap at Arlington National Cemetery due to accusations that Mr. Dunlap supplied the Soviet Union with intelligence during the Cold War.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees encourage the Department of the Army to consider this case and, if necessary, to take appropriate action.

Limitation on waiver of rights and protections under Servicemembers Civil Relief Act

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 550I) that would amend section 107(a) of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (Public Law 109-189) to restrict the ability of a servicemember or other covered individual to voluntarily waive their rights and protections provided by the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act.

The Senate contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Effective date of rule regarding payday lending protections

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 550K) that would require section 1041.4 through 1041.6, 1041.10, and 1041.12(b)(1) through (3) of the final rule published on November 17, 2017 by the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection related to Mandatory Underwriting Provisions to go into effect on August 19, 2019, with regards to servicemembers, veterans, and surviving spouses.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Strengthening civilian and military partnerships to respond to domestic and sexual violence

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 550L) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit to Congress a report on partnerships between military installations and civilian domestic and sexual violence response organizations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that page 126 of the House Report 116-120, accompanying H.R. 2500, National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020, directs the Comptroller General of the United States to assess and report on the military services' domestic violence prevention and response programs. The conferees request that the Comptroller General expand this assessment to include a review of partnerships between military installations and civilian domestic and sexual violence response organizations, the scope of services and support provided via such partnerships, and their role in a coordinated community response to domestic and sexual violence in military families.

Education of Members of the Armed Forces on Career Readiness and Professional Development

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 552) that would require the Secretary of Defense to carry out a program to provide education on career readiness and professional development to members of the Armed Forces.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the military already provides numerous opportunities for servicemembers to receive information on career readiness and professional development. The Department of Defense should continue to ensure that all servicemembers are provided opportunities to translate their military experience into civilian education and certifications wherever possible.

Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 553) that would amend section 2168 of title 10, United States Code, to permit the Defense Language Institute to confer Bachelor degrees, in addition to Associate degrees, to graduates that meet the appropriate requirements for that degree.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Liberal consideration of evidence in certain claims by boards for the correction of military records and discharge review boards

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 553) that would require military department boards for the correction of military records and discharge review boards to review all claims relating to a claimant's discharge or dismissal, or the characterization of that discharge or dismissal, with liberal consideration of all evidence and information presented by or on behalf of the former servicemember.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees encourage the military department boards for the correction of military or naval records to apply their powers of equity broadly to redress injustices in the military records of a servicemember or former member, and in appropriate cases--as authorized by law or established in board precedent--to accord liberal consideration to the evidence and information presented by or on behalf of the member or former member. In the view of the conferees, such liberal consideration is particularly warranted in cases in which official military records pertinent to the member's application for relief have been destroyed or are otherwise unavailable, through no fault of the member.

Expansion of Department of Defense STARBASE Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 554) that would amend section 2193b of title 10, United States Code, to expand the Starbase program by including art and design as technical fields for education of elementary and secondary children under the program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Congressional nominations for Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps scholarships

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 557) that would allow the Secretary of the Army to consider any candidate nominated but not selected for appointment to the United States Military Academy by Members of Congress or officials from U.S. Territories to be considered for appointment as a Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadet under section 2107 of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Services already have the authority to ensure qualified military service academy applicants who do not receive an offer of admission are able to receive a scholarship through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC). The Secretaries of the military departments are encouraged to develop creative policies to ensure that those young Americans who have demonstrated their propensity to serve in the military by applying to a service academy are able to qualify for and access ROTC scholarships.

Survey of members of the Armed Forces on their experiences with military investigations and military justice

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 558) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a periodic survey—at least once every 4 years but not more frequently than once every 2 years—to be known as the Military Investigation and Justice Experience Survey, on the experience of members of the Armed Forces with military investigations and military justice. Those surveyed would include members of the Armed Forces who are victims of an alleged sex-related offense and who made an unrestricted report of that offense. Participants would be surveyed on their experience with a Special Victims' Counsel/Victims' Legal Counsel and, if charges in the victim's case were referred to court-martial, with the prosecutor and the court-martial in general.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that the Department already has implemented a Military Investigation and Justice Experience Survey, and encourage the Department to continue to enhance this survey; to monitor trends revealed by survey responses and data over time; as appropriate, to take action to improve military investigations, the Special Victims' Counsel/Victims' Legal Counsel programs, and prosecution processes to address matters raised by survey responses and data; and to include information and insights derived from the survey, when salient, in future briefings and reports to the Congress.

Safe-to-Report policy applicable to military service academies

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to publish regulations for the implementation of a Safe-to-Report policy, which would allow the victims of an alleged sexual assault at the United States Military Academy, United States Naval Academy, United States Air Force Academy, and the United States Coast Guard Academy, who may have committed minor collateral misconduct, an opportunity to report an occurrence of sexual assault without fear of discipline for that misconduct.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Recoupment of funds from cadets and midshipmen separated for criminal misconduct

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560B) that would direct the secretary of each military department to prescribe regulations to require the Superintendent of a military service academy to recoup the costs of advanced education received by a cadet or midshipman who is separated from the Academy for reasons of criminal misconduct, at any time prior to graduation.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that in accordance with section 2005 of title 10, United States Code, and section 303a(e) of title 37 of the Code, the secretaries of the military departments already are vested with authority to recoup the costs of advanced education at a military service academy from a cadet who is separated from the academy prior to graduation. As appropriate, the conferees encourage the secretaries of the military departments to require cadets and midshipmen separated from a military service academy for criminal misconduct to repay the costs of their advanced education, even if the cadet or midshipman is separated prior to having completed 2 years of schooling.

Support of military service academy foundations

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 560D) that would amend chapter 155 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize service secretaries to provide support to certain non-profit fundraising foundations that operate exclusively to support military service academies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the primary funding source for military service academies remains appropriated Federal dollars. Each academy currently receives significant additional support from several dedicated non-profit organizations. While academy superintendents may be formally prohibited from engaging in fundraising on behalf of these private organizations, that restriction helps to maintain a healthy separation between the federally funded military institution and private organizations that are not subject to Federal oversight. The conferees are encouraged that the current arrangement between the academies and their non-profit fundraising foundations has resulted recently in each academy opening new, privately funded, facilities for cadet and midshipmen athletics, character development, and cyber education.

Medical personnel at Marine Corps recruit depots

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 562) that would require the Secretary of the Navy, in coordination with the Navy Medical Department, to assign medical personnel to the Marine Recruit Training Regiment at each Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Inclusion of Specific Email Address Block on Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty (DD Form 214)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 564) that would modify the certificate of release or discharge from Active Duty (DD Form 214) by adding an email address block.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Consecutive service of service obligation in connection with payment of tuition for off-duty training or education for commissioned officers of the Armed Forces with any other service obligations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 566) that would amend section 2007 of title 10, United States Code, to require that an Active-Duty service obligation incurred by an officer for the acceptance of tuition assistance for off-duty training or education be served sequentially with any other service obligation already incurred by the officer.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that section 2007 of title 10, United States Code, requires officers who accept tuition assistance to remain on Active Duty for a period of at least two years after the completion of the education for which tuition assistance was used. In fiscal year 2018, the Department of Defense provided tuition assistance to approximately 15,000 Active Duty commissioned officers at a cost of almost $31 million. According to the Government Accountability Office, around 10 percent of Army and Navy officers who last used tuition in 2017 are now separated from the military. The median number of years served after these officer's last use of tuition assistance was 1.6 years for Army officers and only 1.2 years for Navy officers. These statistics suggest that tuition assistance may not be serving one of its intended purposes, which is to provide a valuable benefit in exchange for continued military service.

Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense in consultation with the secretaries of the military departments to conduct an analysis of the officer voluntary tuition assistance program. The analysis should include: (1) An evaluation of whether the tuition assistance program is serving as a retention tool; (2) A discussion of the merits of lengthening or requiring active duty service obligations incurred as a result of accepting tuition assistance be served consecutively with other service commitments; and (3) An assessment of whether those officers who receive a fully funded bachelor's degree through their commissioning source should be eligible to receive voluntary tuition assistance funding prior to the completion of their initial Active Duty service obligation.

The results of this analysis shall be submitted to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives by April 1, 2020.

Expansion and renaming of the Troops-to-Teachers Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 568) that would amend section 1154 of title 10, United States Code, to expand and rename the Troops-to-Teachers Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Transition outreach pilot program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 569) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretaries of Veterans Affairs, Labor, Education, and Homeland Security, and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration, to establish a pilot program through the Transition to Veterans Program office, within 90 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, to foster contact between veterans and the Department of Defense. The pilot program would terminate by September 30, 2020, and the Secretary would then submit a report to Congress regarding such program within 90 days of the termination of the program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Assessment and study of Transition Assistance Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570A) that would require the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to enter into an agreement with an appropriate entity with experience in adult education to conduct a 1-year independent assessment of the Transition Assistance Program (TAP). Additionally, the provision would require the Secretary, in consultation with the Secretaries of Defense and Labor and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration, to conduct a 5-year longitudinal study regarding TAP on three separate cohorts of discharged servicemembers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Information regarding county veterans service officers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570B) that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that a separating or retiring member of the Armed Forces may elect to have Department of Defense form DD-214 sent to the appropriate county veterans service officer based on the mailing address provided by the member. The provision would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs to maintain a database of all county veterans services officers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that section 570F of this bill would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs to enter jointly into a memorandum of understanding or other agreements with State veterans agencies to transmit information from Department of Defense form DD-2648 on individuals undergoing retirement, discharge, or release from the Armed Forces, if elected by such individuals, to provide or connect veterans to benefits or services.

Notice to separating servicemembers of rights under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 570E) that would amend section 105 of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (Public Law 109-189) to require service secretaries to provide notice to individuals who are no longer eligible for protections provided by the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act not sooner than 150 days and not later than 180 days after the date of termination of a period of military service of that individual.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees encourage the Department of Defense to ensure that those servicemembers leaving the military are provided notice of lost benefits and protections under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act.

Modification of responsibility of the Office of Special Needs for individualized service plans for members of military families with special needs

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 578) that would amend subparagraph (F) of section 1781(c)(d)(4) of title 10, United States Code, to require the Department of Defense (DOD) to develop an individualized service plan for military family members with special needs when requested in connection to the completion of a family needs assessment.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees remain concerned that military family members with special needs are not receiving individualized services plans when necessary or requested, and direct the Secretary of Defense to brief the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives no later than March 1, 2020, on the implementation of the Family Needs Assessment and any other reviews involving individualized service plans, to include: (1) Data on the utilization of the Family Needs Assessment; (2) How the Department is ensuring military families are aware of the services and programs available to them as the Office of Special Needs updates policies and implements the Family Needs Assessment; and (3) How the Department intends to ensure individualized services plans are being completed and followed correctly.

Direct employment pilot program for members of the National Guard and Reserve, veterans, their spouses and dependents, and members of gold star families

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 579) that would enable the Secretary of Defense to create a pilot program that would allow States to establish or expand job placement programs, and related employment services, for unemployed guardsmen, reservists, military spouses, and veterans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Pilot program to fund non-profit organizations that support military families

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 580A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a pilot program to provide grants to eligible nonprofit organizations that support military families.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Increase in assistance to certain local educational agencies

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 580F) that would authorize an additional appropriation of $10.0 million for support to local educational activities that serve military communities and families. The additional funding would be offset by a reduction in funding of $10.0 million for Navy shipbuilding and conversion.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Assistance for deployment-related support of members of the Armed Forces undergoing deployment and their families beyond the Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program

The House amendment contained a provision (Sec. 580G) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide funds to states, territories, and government entities to carry out programs that provide deployment information to servicemembers and their families throughout the deployment cycle.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Briefing on use of Family Advocacy Programs to address domestic violence

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 581) that would require a briefing on the use of Family Advocacy Programs to address domestic violence.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives with a briefing on the various ways in which the Family Advocacy Programs of the military departments could be used and enhanced to end domestic violence among members of the Armed Forces, and to support survivors of such violence and their dependents. The briefing should be provided not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

Establishment of the Atomic Veterans Service Medal

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 582) that would authorize the creation of the Atomic Veterans Service Medal, to be awarded to radiation-exposed veterans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Authorization for award of the Medal of Honor to Alwyn Cashe for acts of valor during Operation Iraqi Freedom

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 584) that would waive the time limitations specified in section 7271 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the President to award the Medal of Honor to Alwyn C. Cashe for the acts of valor during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Eligibility of veterans of Operation End Sweep for Vietnam Service Medal

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 585) that would authorize the Secretary of the military department concerned to award the Vietnam Service Medal to a veteran who participated in Operation End Sweep, upon the application of that individual.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees recognize the outstanding service of veterans who participated in Operation End Sweep, from February 6, 1973, to July 18, 1973, undertaking the harrowing work of clearing sea mines laid in Vietnamese waters. The conferees value the meritorious performance of Operation End Sweep veterans following the cessation of military combat operations in Vietnam.

Authority to award or present a decoration not previously recommended in a timely fashion following a review requested by Congress

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 587) that would amend section 1130 of title 10, United States Code, authorizing the Secretary of Defense to present an award or decoration following the favorable review of a proposal upon request of a Member of Congress.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The Senate bill contained an additional provision (sec. 5587) that would amend section 587 such that section 587 would have no force or effect.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Authority to make posthumous and honorary promotions and appointments following a review requested by Congress

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 588) that would amend section 1563 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to prescribe regulations to make a posthumous or honorary promotion following the submission to the requesting Member of Congress and to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives of a determination as to the merits of approving the posthumous or honorary promotion or appointment. The promotion or appointment would not affect retired pay or other benefits based upon the individual's military service.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.

Repeal of quarterly report on end strengths

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 591) that would repeal paragraph (3) of section 115(e) of title 10, United States Code, to remove the requirement for the Secretary of Defense to notify the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives whenever the Secretary establishes an end-of-quarter strength level pursuant to section 115(e)(2)(A) or modifies a strength level pursuant to section 115(e)(2)(B).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Expressing support for the designation of a "Gold Star Families Remembrance Day"

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 596) that would express the sense of Congress to support the designation of a "Gold Star Families Remembrance Day."

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

The conferees support the designation of a "Gold Star Families Remembrance Day" to honor and recognize the sacrifices made by the families of servicemembers who gave their lives to defend freedom, and encourage the observation of "Gold Star Families Remembrance Day" by performing acts of service and good will in each community and by celebrating the lives of those who have made the ultimate sacrifice so that others could continue to enjoy life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Sense of Congress regarding the High-Altitude Army National Guard Aviation Training Site

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 599C) that would express the sense of Congress that military aviation training in Colorado is critical to the national security of the United States and the readiness of the Armed Forces.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees express their strong support for military aviation training in Colorado and, in particular, the High-Altitude Army National Guard Aviation Training Site (HAATS). The conferees further note that HAATS is the only Department of Defense school where rotary-wing aviators in the Armed Forces, and the militaries of foreign allies, learn how to safely fly rotary-wing aircraft in mountainous, high-altitude environments.

TITLE VI—COMPENSATION AND OTHER PERSONNEL BENEFITS

SUBTITLE A—PAY AND ALLOWANCES

Clarification of continuation of pays during hospitalization and rehabilitation resulting from wounds, injury, or illness incurred while on duty in a hostile fire area or exposed to an event of hostile fire or other hostile action (sec. 601)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 601) that would amend section 372 of title 37, United States Code, to authorize, in the case of a member under the jurisdiction of a Secretary of a military department, the continuation of special pays until the date on which the member is determined fit for duty.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Continued entitlements while a member of the Armed Forces participates in a career intermission program (sec. 602)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 610) that would amend section 710(h) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize servicemembers participating in a career intermission program to be eligible for death benefits while part of the program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Exemption from repayment of voluntary separation pay (sec. 603)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 610B) that would amend section 1175a of title 10, United States Code, to exempt servicemembers who are involuntarily recalled to active duty or full-time National Guard duty and who also incur a total service-connected disability from the requirement to repay voluntary separation pay.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Consideration of service on active duty to reduce age of eligibility for retired pay for non-regular service (sec. 604)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 627) that would amend section 12731(f)(2)(B)(i) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize retirement credit for a servicemember who as a member of the Ready Reserve serves on Active Duty or performs Active service under section 12304(b) of title 10, United States Code. The eligibility age will be reduced below 60 years of age by 3 months for each aggregate of 90 days on which such person serves on such Active Duty or performs such Active service in any fiscal year after January 28, 2008, or in any two consecutive fiscal years after September 30, 2014.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Temporary adjustment of rates of basic allowance for housing following determination that local civilian housing costs significantly differ from such rates (sec. 605)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 603) that would amend section 403(b) of title 37, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to prescribe a temporary adjustment of the basic allowance for housing rates for a housing area where the actual costs of adequate housing differ from the calculated rates of housing for that area as determined by the Secretary.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to prescribe a temporary upward or downward adjustment to Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) if the Secretary concerned determines that the actual cost of civilian housing differs from current BAH rates by more than 20 percent.

*Reinvestment of travel refunds by the Department of Defense
(sec. 606)*

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 622) that would provide the Secretary of Defense with the authority to receive and effectively reinvest miscellaneous receipts obtained through a travel rebate or refund program, a repayment of inaccurate charges, or a collection of an unused travel segment.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Addition of partial dislocation allowance to allowable travel and transportation expenses for servicemembers (sec. 607)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 606) that would amend sections 452 and 477 of title 37, United States Code, to allow servicemembers to receive a partial dislocation allowance if they are ordered to vacate dormitories.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would amend section 477 of title 37, United States Code, to authorize Partial Dislocation Allowance to servicemembers ordered to vacate housing provided by the United States. The amendment would also amend section 452 of title 37, United States Code, to authorize a Partial Dislocation Allowance to be paid to servicemembers ordered to vacate housing provided by the United States after January 1st, 2022.

Reductions on account of earnings from work performed while entitled to an annuity supplement (sec. 608)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 633) that would amend section 8421a of title 5, United States Code, to authorize supervisors of air traffic control instructors who are collecting a Federal retirement annuity to be exempt from reductions to their annuity supplement if re-employed under a contract with the Federal Aviation Administration.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Increase in basic pay (sec. 609)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 606) that would authorize a 3.1 percent increase in basic pay rates for members of the uniformed services.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE B—BONUSES AND SPECIAL INCENTIVE PAYS

One-year extension of certain expiring bonus and special pay authorities (sec. 611)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 611) that would extend, through December 31, 2020, various expiring bonus and special pay authorities for military personnel. The provision would extend special pay and bonus authority for reserve personnel, military healthcare professionals, and nuclear officers and consolidated pay authorities for officer and enlisted personnel. The provision would also extend the authority to provide temporary increases in the rate of Basic Allowance for Housing in certain circumstances.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 611).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

SUBTITLE C—FAMILY AND SURVIVOR BENEFITS

Expansion of eligibility for exceptional transitional compensation for dependents to dependents of current members (sec. 621)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 601) that would amend section 1059(m) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Secretaries of the military departments to provide transitional compensation, in exceptional circumstances, to certain dependents before an eligible servicemember is discharged from Active Duty.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 621).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Phase-out of reduction of Survivor Benefit Plan survivor annuities by amount of dependency and indemnity compensation (sec. 622)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 630A) that would amend subchapter II of chapter 73 of title 10, United States Code, to repeal the requirement that Survivor Benefit Plan payments be offset by any payments received through dependency and indemnity compensation.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require a 3 year phase out of the requirement that Survivor Benefit Plan payments be offset by any payments received through dependency and indemnity compensation.

Death gratuity for ROTC graduates (sec. 623)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 622) that would amend section 1475 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize a death gratuity to the family of a graduate of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps who dies before receiving a first duty assignment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require a graduate of Reserve Officers' Training Corps to also receive a commission before being eligible for a death gratuity.

Expansion of authority to provide financial assistance to civilian providers of child care services or youth program services who provide such services to survivors of members of the Armed Forces who die in combat in the line of duty (sec. 624)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 625) that would amend section 1798(a) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Department of Defense to provide financial assistance to civilian providers of childcare services or youth program services to survivors of members of the Armed Forces who die in the line of duty while on active duty, active duty for training, or inactive duty for training.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would amend section 1798(a) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Department of Defense to provide financial assistance to civilian providers of childcare services or youth program services to survivors of members of the Armed Forces who die in combat-related incidents in the line of duty.

Casualty assistance for survivors of deceased ROTC graduates (sec. 625)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 630) that would provide a casualty assistance officer to the family of Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets who have taken the oath but have not yet reported to their first duty station, in the event of their death.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require Reserve Officers' Training Corps graduates to have received a commission for the graduate's family to be eligible for a casualty assistance officer.

SUBTITLE D—DEFENSE RESALE MATTERS

Defense resale system matters (sec. 631)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 641) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, in coordination with the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense, to maintain oversight of the business transformation efforts of the defense commissary system and the exchange stores system to ensure: (1) Development of an inter-component business strategy that maximizes efficiencies and results in a viable defense resale system in the future; (2) Preservation of patron savings and satisfaction from and in the defense commissary system and exchange stores system; and (3) Sustainment of financial support of the defense commissary and exchange systems for morale, welfare, and recreation services of the Armed Forces. The provision would require the Executive Resale Board of the Department to advise the Under Secretary on the implementation of sustainable, complementary operations of the defense commissary system and the exchange stores system. Additionally, the provision would require the Defense Commissary Agency and the Military Exchange Service to identify and implement best commercial business practices and shared-services systems while integrating certain services provided by the exchange stores system within commissary system facilities. The provision would also require the modernization of information technology and implementation of cutting-edge marketing in the defense resale system. Finally, the provision would amend section 2483(b) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize inclusion of advertising expenses in the operating expenses of commissary stores.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would strike paragraph (c) of the Senate provision.

Procurement by commissary stores of certain locally sourced products (sec. 632)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 631) that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that dairy products, fruits, and vegetables procured for defense commissary stores are, to the extent practicable, locally sourced.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary to maintain mandated patron savings when procuring locally sourced products for commissaries.

GAO review of defense resale optimization study (sec. 633)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 631) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a review of the business case analysis performed as part of the defense resale optimization study conducted by the Reform Management Group, titled "Study to Determine the Feasibility of Consolidation of the Defense Resale Entities" and dated December 4, 2018. The Comptroller General would submit a report by April 1, 2020, to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives. The provision would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from taking any action to consolidate military exchanges and commissaries until such committees notify the Secretary in writing of receipt and acceptance of the findings of the Comptroller General in the reports required under this provision.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the report requirement.

The conferees note that the Senate Report accompanying S. 1790 (S. Rept. 116-48) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020 requires the Comptroller General to provide a similar assessment to the same committees not later than December 1, 2019.

SUBTITLE E—MORALE, WELFARE, AND RECREATION PRIVILEGES

Extension of certain morale, welfare, and recreation privileges to Foreign Service officers on mandatory home leave (sec. 641)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 634) that would amend section 1065 of title 10, United States Code, as added by section 621 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to extend certain morale, welfare, and recreation privileges to foreign service officers on mandatory home leave.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Extension of pilot program on a Government lodging program (sec. 642)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 621) that would extend by 1 year the Secretary of Defense's authority to execute a Department of Defense lodging program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

SUBTITLE F—REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

Annual reports on approval of employment or compensation of retired general or flag officers by foreign governments for emoluments clause purposes (sec. 651)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1057) that would modify section 908 of title 37, United States Code, to require the Secretaries of the military departments to submit annually to appropriate committees and Members of Congress, a joint report enumerating each approval issued during the preceding year for a retired general or flag officer to accept civil employment or compensation for which the consent of Congress is required by the last paragraph of Section 9 of Article I of the Constitution, related to acceptance of emoluments, offices, or titles from a foreign government. The provision would require the first report to cover the 5-year period preceding the year in which the report is submitted.

The House contained a similar provision (sec. 609), with an added requirement that the report be posted on a publicly available Internet website of the Department of Defense no later than 30 days after it has been submitted to Congress.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require that each report be generated in consultation with the Secretary of State, who takes final action on requests for waiver of the prohibition on the acceptance of emoluments, offices or titles from foreign governments, and removes the requirement for public posting of reports.

Report regarding transition from overseas housing allowance to basic allowance for housing for servicemembers in the territories (sec. 652)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 610A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees evaluating whether members of the uniformed services located in the territories of the United States should receive the Basic Allowance for Housing instead of the Overseas Housing Allowance.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Report on extension to members of the reserve components of the Armed Forces of special and incentive pays for members of the Armed Forces not currently payable to members of the reserve components (sec. 653)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5602) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the feasibility and advisability of paying eligible members of the reserve components any special or incentive pay for members of the Armed Forces that is not currently payable to members of the reserve components.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study regarding recoupment of separation pay, special separation benefits, and voluntary separation incentive payments from members of the Armed Forces and veterans who receive disability compensation under laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs (sec. 654)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 608) that would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs to conduct a joint study on recoupment of various separation pay.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Report on implementation of contributions to the Department of Defense Military Retirement Fund based on pay costs per Armed Force rather than on Armed Forces-wide basis (sec. 655)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 631) that would amend section 1465 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to make contributions to the Military Retirement Fund based on an actuarial calculation of each service's planned pension obligations, beginning with fiscal year 2021.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to deliver a report to the congressional defense committees detailing an implementation plan for the Senate-passed provision that would require service-specific contributions to the Military Retirement Fund.

The conferees note that requiring service-specific contributions to the Military Retirement Fund will provide valuable insight into the true costs of each military department's manpower. The current system of Military Retirement Fund contributions produces a disparity between the services. Those services with fewer personnel who reach full retirement eligibility, like the Marine Corps, contribute more to the Military Retirement Fund than needed to pay for retired marines' pensions. Meanwhile, those services that have larger numbers of personnel who reach full retirement eligibility, like the Air Force, effectively receive a discount on their Military Retirement Fund contributions.

As each service updates its overall force profile to support the National Defense Strategy and implements other reforms, like those to the Blended Retirement System, the conferees believe it is critical that senior leaders in the DOD accurately account for the fully-burdened life-cycle cost of each service's manpower plans.

Report on food insecurity among members of the Armed Forces and their dependents (sec. 656)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 602) that would amend section 402 of title 37, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to pay a basic needs allowance to a qualified servicemember.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representative on food insecurity among members of the Armed Forces and their dependents.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Basic allowance for housing for a member without dependents when relocation would financially disadvantage the member

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 604) that would allow the Secretaries of the military departments discretionary authority to authorize a housing allowance based on the old homeport or permanent duty station for single members disadvantaged as a result of a unit's change of homeport or permanent duty station, as long as the member had orders returning to the previous homeport or duty station.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note, in general, the Navy plans ship homeport changes well in advance of the actual relocation occurring. In the same way, the Navy should also plan personnel movements related to homeport changes well in advance in order to minimize disruption to sailors. The conferees note that current law does not require Basic Allowance for Housing be based on a ship's homeport, and would encourage the Navy to work with the Department of Defense to develop a policy solution that provides the necessary authority.

Annual adjustment of basic pay

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 607) that would require the adjustment in rates of monthly basic pay required by subsection (a) of section 1009 of title 37, United States Code, to take effect, notwithstanding any determination made by the President.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Space-available travel on military aircraft for children and surviving spouses of members who die of hostile action or training duty

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 626) that would amend section 2641 of title 10, United States Code, to allow children meeting certain requirements and surviving spouses of members of the Armed Forces who die as a result of hostile action or training duty to use space-available travel.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that section 2641b of title 10, United States Code, authorizes the space-available travel program and provides the Secretary of Defense with the ability to extend eligibility for the program to any category of individual the Secretary considers appropriate. The conferees believe that space-available travel privileges should be extended to spouses and children of servicemembers who die in combat, if there is no impact on readiness or on the priority appropriately afforded to members of the armed forces on active duty and their families, in recognition of the demands of active military service and the need for respite from such demands. Accordingly, the conferees direct the Secretary to report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives by no later than March 1, 2020, on the scope of the population described in section 626 of the House bill, the obstacles in providing this population with space-available privileges, and whether an extension of this benefit to such population would interfere with the use of space-available travel by active duty members and their families, particularly on the most traveled routes.

Report regarding management of military commissaries and exchanges

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 632) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, regarding management practices of military commissaries and exchanges.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Treatment of fees on services provided as supplemental funds for commissary operations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 642) that would amend section 2483(c) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize retention of fees collected on services provided to secondary patron groups, such as Department of Defense contractors living overseas, by the Defense Commissary Agency to offset commissary operating costs.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5642) that would cause section 642, and the amendment made by that section, to have no cause or effect.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The Senate recesses.

TITLE VII—HEALTH CARE PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—TRICARE AND OTHER HEALTH CARE BENEFITS

Modification of eligibility for TRICARE Reserve Select for certain members of the Selected Reserve (sec. 701)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 703) that would amend section 1076d(a)(2) of title 10, United States Code, to modify eligibility for TRICARE Reserve Select for certain members of the Selected Reserve after December 31, 2029.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

TRICARE payment options for retirees and their dependents (sec. 702)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 702) that would amend section 1099 of title 10, United States Code, to require that a premium owed by a member, former member, or dependent, eligible for medical and dental care under section 1074(b) or 1076 of such title, be withheld, to the maximum extent practicable, from the individual's retired, retainer, or equivalent pay. The provision would authorize the Secretary of Defense to determine the method and frequency of payment when circumstances prevent payment through an allotment from retired, retainer, or equivalent pay. The amendments in this provision would apply to health care coverage beginning on or after January 1, 2021.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Lead level screening and testing for children (sec. 703)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 703) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish and disseminate clinical practice guidelines for health care providers in the military health system on screening, testing, and reporting of blood lead levels in children. The provision would require the Secretary to provide blood lead level test results to a child's parent or guardian, the State health department where the child resides, or the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the appropriate country if the child resides outside the United States. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, not later than January 1, 2021, describing the number of children screened, tested, and treated for elevated blood lead levels during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on the date of the report.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 704) that would amend section 1077 of title 10, United States Code, to prescribe certain times when a child should be screened and tested for elevated blood lead levels during well-baby care visits in military medical treatment facilities. The provision would require the Secretary to share test results similarly as prescribed in the Senate provision. In addition, the provision would require the Secretary to submit a similar report to the same committees by the same date and to require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report to those committees, not later than January 1, 2022, on the effectiveness of screening, testing, and treating children for lead exposure and lead poisoning. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary to maintain records regarding military housing and lead-based paint.

The House recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Exposure to open burn pits and toxic airborne chemicals or other airborne contaminants as part of periodic health assessments and other physical examinations (sec. 704)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 705) that would amend sections 1145(a)(5) and 1074f(b)(2) of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that periodic, separation, or deployment health assessments provided to servicemembers include an evaluation whether the member has been: (1) Based or stationed at a location where an open burn pit was used; and (2) Exposed to toxic airborne chemicals or contaminants, including any information recorded in the Airborne Hazards and Open Burn Pit Registry. The provision would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs to enter into a joint memorandum of understanding to share results of such assessments regarding a servicemember's exposure to toxic airborne chemicals or contaminants and to enroll such servicemember in the named registry unless the member elects not to enroll.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 5702).

The Senate recesses.

Enhancement of recordkeeping with respect to exposure by members of the Armed Forces to certain occupational and environmental hazards while deployed overseas (sec. 705)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 717) that would amend section 1074f of title 10, United States Code, to require the Department of Defense to include occupational or environmental health exposures during deployment in its medical tracking system. The provision would also require the Department to provide healthcare providers with questions to ask servicemembers about occupational or environmental health exposures during post-deployment health assessments and to ensure that the medical records of servicemembers include information on the external cause relating to a medical diagnosis of the member. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that the Department's medical personnel have access to information in the burn pit registry maintained by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 706).

The House recesses.

Modifications to post-deployment mental health assessments for members of the Armed Forces deployed in support of a contingency operation (sec. 706)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 707) that would amend section 1074m(a)(1) of title 10, United States Code, to modify the requirement for post-deployment mental health assessments for servicemembers deployed in support of a contingency operation. The provision would provide certain exceptions to the timeline for the administration of mental health assessments. In addition, the provision would amend section 1074m(a)(1)(B) to eliminate the sunset for such assessments during deployment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Provision of blood testing for firefighters of Department of Defense to determine exposure to perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances (sec. 707)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 704) that would require the Secretary of Defense, beginning on October 1, 2020, to provide blood testing to determine and document potential exposure to perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances for firefighters of the Department of Defense during their annual physical exams.

The House bill contained a similar provision (sec. 708).

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE B—HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION

Modification of organization of military health system (sec. 711)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 711) that would amend section 1073c of title 10, United States Code, to make clarifying and technical amendments on the administration of the Defense Health Agency and military medical treatment facilities.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Over the past four years, Congress has enacted several provisions designed to guide the Department of Defense in implementing a major reform of the military health system to make it more effective, efficient, and less costly. These enactments require replacement of the semi-autonomous Service-run components of the system with a single accountable organization, the Defense Health Agency, responsible for managing an integrated health care system that includes all military medical treatment facilities in the direct care system, with a sharper focus on military medical readiness, and the purchased care system, with an emphasis on maximum value and the attainment of better health outcomes for beneficiaries and the Department. Under this construct, the responsibility of the military departments is to recruit, retain, organize, and develop the military medical force and to make it available to combatant commands when needed to support military operations or otherwise to the Defense Health Agency. The conferees are aware of a lack of consensus in the Department on implementing the reforms required by law but see no reason to change direction. The conferees expect the Secretary of Defense to fully implement the law and to accomplish these critically important reforms expeditiously.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 712) that would amend section 712 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-332) to modify and clarify the military health system's support to the medical requirements of the combatant commands.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Requirements for certain prescription drug labels (sec. 713)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 711) that would amend section 1074g of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that drugs made available through facilities of the Armed Forces under the Secretary's jurisdiction shall include printed labels, on or within the drug package, which provide directions for the drug's use. The provision would require implementation within 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that such drugs include labels and other labeling in compliance with the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.)

Officers authorized to command Army dental units (sec. 714)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 723) that would amend section 7081(d) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize Army Medical Department officers to command Army dental units.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 712).

The Senate recesses.

Improvements to interagency program office of the Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs (sec. 715)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 713) that would amend section 1635(c) of the Wounded Warrior Act (title 16 of Public Law 110-181) to require improvements to the Interagency Program Office (IPO) of the Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would amend the same statute to require certain improvements to the IPO. The provision would: (1) Describe the qualifications and authorities for the IPO's director and deputy director and outline the purposes of the IPO; (2) Require the Departments to enter into an agreement with an independent entity to evaluate certain implementation milestones of the Departments' electronic health record systems (EHRs); (3) Require the IPO to maintain a common configuration baseline for the Departments' EHRs; (4) Require the IPO to develop a comprehensive interoperability strategy; and (5) Require the IPO to consult annually with clinical staff and to conduct clinical and patient satisfaction surveys on the EHRs. Finally, the provision would require the IPO director to submit to the Secretaries an annual publicly available report from September 30, 2020, through 2024, on the activities of the office in the preceding year.

Expansion of strategy to improve acquisition of managed care support contracts under TRICARE program (sec. 716)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 714) that would amend section 705(c)(1) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) to include overseas medical support contracts in the strategy to improve the acquisition of managed care support contracts under the TRICARE program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Inclusion of blast exposure history in medical records of members of the Armed Forces (sec. 717)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 716) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the service secretaries, to document blast exposure history in the medical records of servicemembers. The provision would prescribe the elements of a blast exposure history and would specify how the Secretary should collect blast exposure information.

Finally, the provision would require the Secretary to submit a report on the types of information in a blast exposure history to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would strike paragraph (c) of section 716 and define the type of blast exposure incident that should be documented in a servicemember's medical record.

Comprehensive policy for provision of mental health care to members of the Armed Forces (sec. 718)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 717) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, to develop and implement a comprehensive policy, within 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, for the provision of mental health care for servicemembers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Limitation on the realignment or reduction of military medical Manning end strength (sec. 719)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 718) that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense and the service secretaries from realignment or reduction of military medical end strength authorizations until each secretary concerned conducts a review and analysis of the medical manpower requirements of each military department under all national defense strategy scenarios. The provision would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, on such realignments or reductions. The provision would not apply to billets, which have remained unfilled since October 1, 2018, if such billets would not affect the provision of health care services to servicemembers or covered beneficiaries.

The Senate bill had no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the exceptions on the limitation of the realignment or reduction of military medical end strength authorizations.

Strategy to recruit and retain mental health providers (sec. 720)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 719) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report, within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, to the congressional defense committees on the Department's strategy to recruit and retain mental health providers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Development of partnerships to improve combat casualty care for personnel of the Armed Forces (sec. 721)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 720B) that would require the Secretary of Defense, through the Joint Trauma Education and Training Directorate, to develop partnerships by October 1, 2020, with civilian academic centers and large metropolitan teaching hospitals to improve combat casualty care for servicemembers. The provision would require the Department of Defense to establish such partnerships with level 1 civilian trauma centers to train military physicians, including trauma surgeons, to treat critically injured burn patients.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize the Secretary to develop such partnerships.

Modification to referrals for mental health services (sec. 722)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 720C) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to refer a servicemember for mental health services to a provider under the TRICARE program if the Secretary cannot provide mental health services in a military medical treatment facility to the member within 15 days on which the member first requests the services.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE C—REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

Authorization of claims by members of the uniformed services against the United States for personal injury or death caused by medical malpractice (sec. 731)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 729) that would amend chapter 171 of title 28, United States Code, to authorize a claim against the United States for damages relating to personal injury or death of a servicemember arising out of a negligent or wrongful act or omission in the performance of medical, dental, or related health care functions provided at a military medical treatment facility by a person acting within the scope of the office or employment of that person by or at the direction of the United States government.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would amend chapter 163 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to allow, settle, and pay a claim against the United States for personal injury or death incident to the service of a member of the uniformed services that was the result of medical malpractice caused by a Department of Defense health care provider.

Extension and clarification of authority for Joint Department of Defense-Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Facility Demonstration Fund (sec. 732)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 721) that would amend title XVII of the National Defense Authorization for Fiscal Year 2010 (Public Law 111-84) to make certain technical corrections to such title. Additionally, the provision would permit the James A. Lovell Federal Health Care Center to enter into personal services contracts to carry out healthcare responsibilities at the Center to the same extent and subject to the same conditions and limitations as in medical treatment facilities of the Department of Defense. Finally, the provision would extend the authority for the joint Department of Defense-Department of Veterans Affairs Demonstration Fund from September 30, 2020, to September 30, 2021.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Appointment of non-ex officio members of the Henry M. Jackson Foundation for the Advancement of Military Medicine (sec. 733)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 722) that would amend subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of section 178(c) of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the appointment of a member of the council of the Henry M. Jackson Foundation for the Advancement of Military Medicine by currently serving members upon the expiration of the term of a member. The provision would also amend paragraph (2) of such section to repeal an obsolete authority establishing staggered terms of members of the council. The provision would not terminate or otherwise alter the appointment or term of service of council members serving on the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Establishment of Academic Health System in National Capital Region (sec. 734)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 724) that would amend chapter 104 of title 10, United States Code, by inserting a new section to authorize the Secretary of Defense to establish an Academic Health System in the National Capital Region to integrate the healthcare, health professions education, and health research activities of the military health system in that region. The provision would authorize the Secretary to appoint employees of the Department of Defense to leadership positions in such system in addition to similar leadership positions for members of the Armed Forces. Moreover, the provision would authorize the Secretary to use the authorities under chapter 104 for the administration of the system.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Provision of veterinary services by veterinary professionals of the Department of Defense in emergencies (sec. 735)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 725) that would amend chapter 53 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize a licensed veterinary professional of the Department of Defense (DOD) to provide veterinary services in any state, the District of Columbia, and any territory or possession of the United States, if the services provided fall within the scope of authorized duties of the veterinary professional for the DOD.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Three-year extension of authority to continue the DOD-VA Health Care Sharing Incentive Fund (sec. 736)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 726) that would amend section 8111(d)(3) of title 38, United States Code, to extend the authorization of the Department of Defense-Department of Veterans Affairs Health Care Sharing Incentive Fund to September 30, 2025.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would authorize extension of the Fund to September 30, 2023.

Preservation of resources of the Army Medical Research and Materiel Command and continuation as Center of Excellence (sec. 737)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5703) that would preserve the resources of the Army Medical Research and Materiel Command (MRMC) as it realigns under the Defense Health Agency. The provision would require transfer to the Defense Health Program of all funding amounts available for such command upon the realignment. Additionally, the provision would require continuation of the Center of Excellence for Joint Biomedical Research, Development, and Acquisition Management for efforts undertaken under the Defense Health Program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to maintain the resources of MRMC, including manpower and funding, at not less than the level of resources as of the date of the enactment of this Act until September 30, 2022. Additionally, the provision would require transfer of funds available to MRMC for research, development, test, and evaluation for the Army to the Defense Health Program on October 1, 2022. Finally, the provision would require continuation of the center of excellence after September 30, 2022.

Encouragement of participation in Women's Health Transition Training pilot program (sec. 738)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 723) that would require the service secretaries to encourage female servicemembers, separating or retiring from the Armed Forces during fiscal year 2020, to participate in the Women's Health Transition Training Pilot Program administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs. The provision would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the service secretaries, to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services and the Committees on Veterans Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the pilot program not later than September 30, 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

National Guard suicide prevention pilot program (sec. 739)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 724) that would authorize the Chief of the National Guard Bureau to conduct a pilot program to expand suicide prevention and intervention efforts at the community level through a mobile application, which would enable a National Guard member to receive prompt access to a behavioral health professional on a smartphone, tablet computer, or other handheld mobile device.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Pilot program on civilian and military partnerships to enhance interoperability and medical surge capability and capacity of National Disaster Medical System (sec. 740)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 727) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to conduct a pilot program for no more than 5 years to establish partnerships with public, private, and non-profit health care organizations, institutions, and entities in collaboration with the Secretaries of Veterans Affairs, Health and Human Services, Homeland Security, and Transportation to enhance interoperability and medical surge capability and capacity of the National Disaster Medical System. Under this pilot, the Secretary of Defense would establish these partnerships at no fewer than five major aeromedical transport hub regions of the Department of Defense in the United States. The provision would require the Secretary of Defense to submit an initial report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, not later than 180 days after commencement of the pilot program, and a final report to the same committees within 180 days of the completion of the program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Reports on suicide among members of the Armed Forces and suicide prevention programs and activities of the Department of Defense (sec. 741)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 725) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, within 90 days of the date of the enactment of this Act and annually thereafter through January 31, 2021, on suicide among servicemembers during the preceding year of the report. The provision would prescribe the matters included in such reports.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5508) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report to the same committees, within 240 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, on the programs and activities of the Department of Defense and Armed Forces for the prevention of suicide among servicemembers and their families.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment that would include both provisions.

Modification of requirements for longitudinal medical study on blast pressure exposure of members of the Armed Forces and collection of exposure information (sec. 742)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 728) that would amend section 734 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) to modify the requirements of the Longitudinal Medical Study on Blast Pressure Exposure on Members of the Armed Forces. The provision would require the Secretary of Defense to submit annual status reports on the study to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than January 1 of each year until completion of the study.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would ensure data gathered from the study is interoperable and can be uploaded into the Department's electronic health record, MHS Genesis, or a successor system. Additionally, the amendment would prescribe how the Secretary of Defense should collect blast exposure information on servicemembers.

Study and plan on the use of military-civilian integrated health delivery systems (sec. 743)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 726) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the use of local military-civilian integrated health systems pursuant to section 706 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) and to submit a report on the results of the study to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary to submit a plan for further development of the use of local military-civilian integrated health systems by the Department.

Study on case management in the military health system (sec. 744)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 727) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the effectiveness of case management practices at military medical treatment facilities and to submit a report on the results of the study to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary to include in the study an evaluation of the case management and outreach provided by managed care support contractors supporting the Defense Health Agency.

Report on Global Health Security Strategy and the National Biodefense Security (sec. 745)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 731) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on the implementation of the Global Health Security Strategy and the National Biodefense Strategy.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment to clarify the appropriate congressional committees.

Study on establishment of wounded warrior service dog program (sec. 746)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 742) that would require the Secretary of Defense to award grants to nonprofit organizations to assist such organizations in implementing programs to provide assistance dogs to covered members of the military and veterans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require a study on the feasibility of establishing a wounded warrior service dog program.

GAO report on Department of Defense quality assurance program and impacts of medical malpractice actions (sec. 747)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 744) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees identifying the number of medical providers employed by the Department of Defense who, before being employed by the Department, lost medical malpractice insurance coverage by reason of the insurer dropping the coverage.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives, not later than January 1, 2021, which would provide: (1) An assessment of the effectiveness of the quality assurance program of the Department in querying and monitoring the National Practitioner Data Bank; (2) A comparison of outcomes for military health system patients who may bring an action against the Federal government for negligence or medical malpractice and the outcomes for such patients who may not bring such an action; and (3) A comparison of the elements and average amounts of death and disability compensation that apply regardless of the underlying cause of death or disability with those elements and average amounts of settlements that result from medical malpractice litigation against the Federal government.

Reports on Millennium Cohort Study relating to women members of the Armed Forces (sec. 748)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 750) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit annual reports to the appropriate congressional committees on the findings of the Millennium Cohort Study relating to the gynecological and perinatal health of female servicemembers participating in the study.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the matters included in the reports and require the Secretary to submit such reports to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act and annually through January 1, 2022.

Study on effects of sleep deprivation on readiness of members of the Armed Forces (sec. 749)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the effects of sleep deprivation on the readiness of servicemembers and to submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives within 270 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

Study and report on traumatic brain injury mitigation efforts (sec. 750)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a meta-analysis of evidence-based traumatic brain injury (TBI) mitigation efforts by the Department of Defense, related Federal agency partners, and efforts discussed in academic literature, which demonstrate best clinical effectiveness in the treatment of TBI. The Secretary would submit a report on the results of the study to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives within 270 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Contraception coverage parity under the TRICARE program

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 701) that would amend sections 1074d(b)(3), 1075(c), 1075a(b), and 1074g(a)(6) of title 10, United States Code, to require coverage of contraception services for covered beneficiaries under the TRICARE program. The provision would prohibit cost-sharing for any method of contraception provided by a network provider under TRICARE Select or a provider under TRICARE Prime. Additionally, a beneficiary would pay no cost-share for any prescription contraceptive on the uniform formulary that is provided by a network retail pharmacy provider or the mail-order pharmacy program. The effective date of this provision would be January 1, 2020.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5701) that would cause the amendments made by section 701 to take effect on January 1, 2030.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 701) similar to Senate section 701.

The House and Senate recede.

Medical services at military medical treatment facilities for sexual assault survivors

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 702) that would amend Chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to furnish certain information and assistance on pregnancy prevention to sexual assault survivors at each military medical treatment facility.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Inclusion of infertility treatments for members of the uniformed services

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 709) that would authorize infertility treatments for uniformed services members and their spouses under section 1074(a) of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Authorization of appropriations for TRICARE lead screening and testing for children

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 710) that would authorize appropriations for TRICARE lead screening and testing for children.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Tours of duty of commanders or directors of military treatment facilities

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 713) that would require the Secretary of Defense, not later than January 1, 2021, to establish a minimum length of 4 years for tours of duty, with limited exceptions, for commanders or directors of military treatment facilities to ensure greater stability in health system executive management at each facility and throughout the military health system.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Comprehensive enterprise interoperability strategy for the Armed Forces and the Department of Veterans Affairs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 714) that would require the Secretaries of Defense and Veterans Affairs jointly to develop and implement a comprehensive enterprise interoperability strategy and to submit such strategy to the appropriate congressional committees within 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. Subsequently, the Secretaries would provide an update to the strategy to the same committees not later than December 31, 2024.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees included the intent of this provision in a separate provision that focuses on improvements to the Interagency Program Office of the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs.

Demonstration of interoperability milestones

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 715) that would require the Interagency Program Office (IPO) of the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs to enter into an agreement with an independent entity to conduct an evaluation of interoperability, functionality, and seamless health care within the Departments' electronic health record systems by determining if the Departments have met certain prescribed milestone timelines. The IPO would then submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees detailing the evaluation, methodology for testing, and findings for each such milestone. The provision would also require the IPO to: (1) Maintain and continually evaluate a common system configuration baseline; (2) Obtain regular consultations from clinicians using the electronic health record systems; and (3) Conduct clinician and patient satisfaction surveys. Finally, the provision would require the IPO to submit annual reports on such matters to the same committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees included the intent of this provision in a separate provision that focuses on improvements to the IPO of the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs.

Establishment of regional medical hubs to support combatant commands

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 715) that would require the Secretary of Defense, not later than October 1, 2022, to establish up to four regional medical hubs, consistent with section 712 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), to support the operational medical requirements of the combatant commands. Under this provision, each regional hub would include a major military medical center to provide complex, specialized medical services in that region. The regional medical center would be geographically located to maximize medical support to combatant commands. The provision would authorize the Secretary to establish or maintain additional medical centers in locations with large beneficiary populations or locations that serve as the primary readiness platforms of the Armed Forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Monitoring of adverse event data on dietary supplement use by members of the Armed Forces

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 716) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modify the Department's electronic health record (EHR) system to include data regarding use of dietary supplements by members of the Armed Forces and any adverse events associated with such use. The provision would also require the Secretary to educate healthcare providers in the military health system on the importance of including adverse event data in the EHR and reporting those data to the Food and Drug Administration.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Monitoring medication prescribing practices for the treatment of post-traumatic stress disorder

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 720) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report, within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the practices for prescribing medication for post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), which were inconsistent with Department of Defense (DOD)-Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) guidelines from the period January 1, 2012, through December 31, 2017.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees recognize the importance of clinical practice guidelines for prescribing medications for PTSD and strongly encourage medical providers of the DOD and VA to adhere to such guidelines.

Maintenance of certain medical services at military medical treatment facilities at service academies

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 720A) that would amend section 1073d of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that each military medical treatment facility located at a military service academy provides certain covered medical services unless the Secretary determines that a civilian medical facility located within 5 miles from such academy provides that covered medical service.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Establishment of military dental research program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 721) that would amend chapter 104 of title 10, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of Defense to establish a military dental research program at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Pilot program on cryopreservation and storage

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 722) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a pilot program to provide not more than 1,000 Active-Duty servicemembers with the opportunity to cryopreserve and store their gametes prior to deployment to a combat zone.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study on infertility among members of the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 728) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a study on the incidence of infertility among active and reserve component servicemembers to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note a requirement in the Senate Report accompanying S. 1790 (S. Rept. 116-48) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020, that the Secretary of Defense provide a similar report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives by June 1, 2020.

Study on extending parent's level of TRICARE health coverage to newborn child

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 730) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on extending a parent's level of TRICARE coverage to the newborn child of the parent and to submit a report on the study to the congressional defense committees within 120 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on mental health assessments

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 732) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit to the Committees on Armed Services and Veterans Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives, within 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, a publicly available report on the Department of Defense's implementation of section 1074n of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the January 11, 2019, receipt of the Department of Defense's annual report on mental health assessments required by section 701 of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291). In that report, the Department described the tools and processes used to provide annual mental health assessments and also provided certain recommendations to improve monitoring and reporting the number of servicemembers: (1) Who receive mental health assessments; (2) Who get referrals for mental health care; and (3) Who receive care from those referrals. The conferees anticipate receipt and review of the annual report in 2020 to understand how the Department has implemented its recommendations provided in the 2019 report.

Study and report on mental health assessments for members of the Armed Forces deployed in support of a contingency operation

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 733) that would require the service secretaries to conduct a study on mental health assessments provided to servicemembers deployed in connection with a contingency operation and to submit a report containing the results of the study to the congressional defense committees within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees stress the importance of providing mental health assessments to servicemembers in accordance with section 1074m of title 10, United States Code, and direct the service secretaries to ensure accomplishment of those assessments for those servicemembers. Additionally, the conferees expect that all servicemembers demonstrating mental health signs or symptoms will receive rapid referral for evaluation and treatment by the appropriate mental health providers.

Education on family planning for members of the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 734) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in conjunction with the Secretary of the Department in which the Coast Guard is operating, to establish a uniform standard curriculum for servicemembers' family planning education programs within 1 year of the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Funding for CDC ATSDR PFAS health study increment

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 735) that would increase funding for the CDC ATSDR PFAS health study increment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of the House of Representatives on increasing research and development in bioprinting and fabrication in austere military environments

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 736) that would express the sense of the House of Representatives that the Defense Health Agency should take appropriate actions to focus on research and development in bioprinting and fabrication in austere environments.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Increased collaboration with NIH to combat triple negative breast cancer

The House bill contained a provision (sec. 737) that would require the Department of Defense to work in collaboration with the National Institutes of Health to identify specific biomarkers and to provide information useful in drug discovery and clinical trials design to combat triple negative breast cancer.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Funding for post-traumatic stress disorder

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 738) that would increase Defense Health Program funding for post-traumatic stress disorder.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study on readiness contracts and the prevention of drug shortages

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 739) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the effectiveness of readiness contracts managed by the Customer Pharmacy Operations Center of the Defense Logistics Agency in meeting the Department's drug requirements. The study would include an analysis to determine how the contractual approach to manage military health care drug shortages could serve as a model for responding to drug shortages in the civilian health care market.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Update of Department of Defense regulations, instructions, and other guidance to include gambling disorder

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 740) that would require the Secretary of Defense, within 180 days of the date of the enactment of this Act, to consult with the service secretaries and update all regulations, instructions, and other guidance of the Department with respect to behavioral health to explicitly include gambling disorder.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the requirement in section 733 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) for the Secretary of Defense to incorporate medical screening questions related to gambling disorder in periodic health assessments and surveys of military personnel. With this requirement, the Secretary must submit a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the findings of the assessments or surveys in connection with the prevalence of gambling disorder among servicemembers. Until the committees receive this report, the conferees believe it is premature to require updates to the Department's regulations, instructions, or other guidance on gambling disorder.

Findings on musculoskeletal injuries

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 741) that would express certain findings on musculoskeletal injuries of Active-Duty servicemembers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

National Capital Consortium Psychiatry Residency Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 743) that would express a sense of Congress on the National Capital Consortium Psychiatry Residency Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Pilot program on partnerships with civilian organizations for specialized surgical training

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 746) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a pilot program to establish one or more partnerships with public, private, and non-profit organizations and institutions to provide short-term specialized surgical training to advance the medical skills and capabilities of military medical providers.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Senate Report accompanying S. 1790 (S. Rept. 116-48) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020 encourages the Secretary of Defense to conduct a pilot program to assess the feasibility and advisability of partnerships to advance the skills and capabilities of such providers.

Report on research and studies regarding health effects of burn pits

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 747) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees and the Committees on Veterans Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the status, methodology, and culmination timeline of all the research and studies being conducted to assess the health effects of burn pits.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the numerous research studies on the health effects of burn pits and encourage the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs to continue their efforts to study the long-term health effects of exposure to harmful toxins in burn pits.

Training on health effects of burn pits and other airborne hazards

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 748) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide mandatory training to all medical providers in the Department on the potential health effects of burn pits and other airborne hazards and the early detection of those effects.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees remain concerned regarding the negative health effects to servicemembers from exposure to burn pits and other airborne hazards. The conferees encourage the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs to develop jointly a clinical practice guideline on exposure to airborne environmental hazards, which would optimize patient care to servicemembers and veterans exposed to such hazards.

Report on operational medical and dental personnel requirements

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 749) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, not later than January 1, 2021, on the operational medical and dental personnel requirements of the Department.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Partnerships with academic health centers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 751) that would require the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs to establish a University Affiliated Research Center and to partner with academic health centers to focus on research to address the unique challenges of wounded warriors.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study on use of routine neuroimaging modalities in diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of brain injury due to blast pressure exposure during combat and training

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 752) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the feasibility and effectiveness of the use of routine neuroimaging modalities in diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of brain injuries among servicemembers due to blast pressure exposures during combat and training.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

TITLE VIII—ACQUISITION POLICY, ACQUISITION MANAGEMENT, AND RELATED MATTERS

SUBTITLE A—ACQUISITION POLICY AND MANAGEMENT

Authority for continuous integration and delivery of software applications and upgrades to embedded systems (sec. 800)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 852) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish initial guidance, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, authorizing the use of special pathways for the rapid acquisition of software applications and upgrades that are intended to be fielded within 1 year. These new pathways would prioritize continuous integration and delivery of working software in a secure manner and prioritize continuous oversight from automated analytics.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 801).

The House recedes with amendments that would modify the timeline for developing the guidance; allow for the use of one or more pathways; clarify that first fielding of capability for operational use shall occur within one year of the date funds are first obligated for software development; and direct a report on use of the authority and recommendations for any changes to statute by October 15, 2020.

The conferees commend the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment's commitment to adopting the recommendations of the Defense Innovation Board. The conferees emphasize that the ability to deliver meaningful capability for operational use within one year is foundational to the establishment of this authority and associated procedures. The conferees remind the Department that delivery of increments of useful software capability no less frequently than every six months is not only a best practice for software-intensive systems but it has also been a standing government-wide requirement for years. Overcoming the Department's institutional and cultural resistance to delivering in a year or less requires ruthless prioritization of features, which hinges on more effective cooperation among stakeholders. The conferees also believe that cost estimation and assessment and program evaluation methods are critical to well-informed program oversight, and note that, for software initiatives, such approaches remain nascent. The conferees therefore direct the Director, Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, in coordination with the Defense Digital Service and the directors of developmental test and operational test and evaluation, to incorporate lessons learned from the implementation of sections 873 and 874 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018, and sections 215 and 869 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 in the development of guidance and oversight procedures for managing, estimating, and assessing software programs. First, the conferees remind the Department of flexibility already written into its directive and instruction that the milestone decision authority and program managers "shall tailor program strategies and oversight, including documentation of program information, acquisition phases, the timing and scope of decision reviews, and decision levels, to fit the particular conditions of that program, consistent with applicable laws and regulations and the time sensitivity of the capability need." Accordingly, the conferees also remind the Department that the use of source lines of code, or "SLOC", to estimate or to measure productivity, is inadequate, inappropriate, and can be detrimental in incentivizing bad code design. As such, the conferees encourage the Department to implement the recommendations on software metrics in the Defense Innovation Board Software Acquisition and Practices Study. Finally, the conferees request a briefing no later than March 30, 2020 from the Joint Staff on how the JCIDS process can be updated to accommodate more flexibility given the iterative and ever-changing nature of present-day acquisition of software.

Pilot program on intellectual property evaluation for acquisition programs (sec. 801)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 801) that would permit the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the military departments to jointly carry out a pilot program to assess mechanisms to evaluate intellectual property in acquisition programs.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 861(b)).

The House recedes with an amendment which clarifies the selection of programs and activities to be carried out under the pilot.

Pilot program to use alpha contracting teams for complex requirements (sec. 802)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 802) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a pilot program to use third-party industry, academia, or not-for-profit technical organizations as part of alpha contracting teams for complex technical requirements for services.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that this construct revives in a modern context the "alpha contracting" concept that is more than a decade old. Further, it brings together all government personnel involved in the functions that support acquisition actions, to include contracting staff as well as technical staff, operators, and cost personnel. This is intended to ensure that technical requirements are appropriately valued and that the most effective acquisition strategy to achieve these requirements is identified.

Failure to provide other than certified cost or pricing data upon request (sec. 803)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 803) that would modify section 2306a of title 10, United States Code, to revise the conditions under which the Department of Defense requires offerors to provide certain data. Specifically, in a case where the head of contracting activity determines the Department is the only buyer of certain commercial items, it introduces a new requirement for those offerors to provide cost or pricing data. Further, in a case where the Department of Defense is determining whether a sole-source offeror's price is reasonable, the provision would direct the Secretary of Defense to require that offeror to provide other than certified cost or pricing data. The provision would further direct the Defense Contract Management Agency to propose which commercial products require should-cost analysis before award.

The House amendment contained a another provision (sec. 804) that would modify section 2306a(c) of title 10, United States Code, and section 3504 of title 41, United States Code, to give contracting officers, instead of the head of the procuring activity, the discretion to request certified cost or pricing data in cases where, although not required, the contracting officer deems it necessary to determine price reasonableness. The provision would further add commercial items to the list of products where contracting officers may request such data.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would combine the two provisions, to instead modify section 2306a(d) of title 10, United States Code, to specify that offerors who do not make a good faith effort to comply with a contracting officer's reasonable requests for data other than certified cost or pricing data are ineligible for award. The amendment would also direct contracting officers, when determining whether an offeror's price is fair and reasonable, to not base that assessment solely on the historical prices paid by the government. The amendment would further add a requirement for the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to identify and report those offerors who denied multiple such requests and nonetheless received awards, as part of assessing whether to conduct should-cost analysis on such products in the future.

Comptroller General report on price reasonableness (sec. 804)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 805) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report not later than March 31, 2021, to the congressional defense committees, the House Committee on Oversight and Reform, and the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs on the efforts of the Department of Defense to obtain cost and pricing data for sole source contracts for spare parts.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Limitation on transfer of funds related to cost overruns and cost underruns (sec. 805)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 814) that would repeal an annual requirement for the Secretary of each military department to pay penalties for cost overruns on major defense acquisition programs, which were then credited to the Rapid Prototyping Fund.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would make the repeal effective beginning in fiscal year 2020.

Standardizing data collection and reporting on use of source selection procedures by Federal agencies (sec. 806)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 829) that would amend section 813 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) and section 880 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to repeal the requirements for the Comptroller General of the United States to provide annual reports on the government's use of lowest price technically acceptable (LPTA) source selection procedures. The provision would also require revising the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) to capture more data on the use of lowest price technically acceptable procedures.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Department of Defense use of fixed-price contracts (sec. 807)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 806) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to review how the Department of Defense uses fixed-price contracts, including fixed-price incentive contracts, to support acquisition objectives and brief the congressional defense committees not later than February 1, 2020. The provision would further require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report on the Department's use of fixed-price contracts over time no later than February 1, 2021. This provision would also delay the implementation of regulations requiring the use of fixed-price contracts for foreign military sales until after 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Repeal of continuation of data rights during challenges (sec. 808)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 812) that would repeal section 866 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), pertaining to revisions of authority for the government to use non-commercial technical data during a period of challenge, in an agency Board of Contract Appeals, or the U.S. Court of Federal Claims under certain circumstances.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

The conferees understand that the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment is working with industry to address possible policy modifications related to technical data rights and their disposition during challenges. The conferees encourage the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to continue these engagements and keep the Congress informed of progress with respect to these matters.

Repeal of authority to waive acquisition laws to acquire vital national security capabilities (sec. 809)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 813) that would repeal section 806 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), which allowed the Secretary of Defense to waive any provision of acquisition law or regulation in certain circumstances.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that the Department did not use the waiver.

Repeal of the Defense Cost Accounting Standards Board (sec. 810)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 834) that would repeal section 190 of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE B—AMENDMENTS TO GENERAL CONTRACTING AUTHORITIES, PROCEDURES, AND LIMITATIONS

Modification of Director of Operational Test and Evaluation report (sec. 815)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 805) that would amend section 139(h) of title 10, United States Code, to require the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation to solicit comments from the Secretaries of the military departments for inclusion in the Director's annual report to Congress, retaining the Director's discretion to issue the report without comments if they are not timely. This provision does not change or alter any Director of Operational Test and Evaluation authorities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 252) that would amend section 139(h) of title 10, United States Code, to change the sunset date pertaining to the same annual report.

The House recedes with an amendment that would extend the sunset date through January 31, 2025.

Modification of written approval requirement for task and delivery order single contract awards (sec. 816)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 803) that would amend section 2304a(d)(3) of title 10, United States Code, to eliminate the requirement that single award task or delivery order contracts over $100.0 million receive additional approval when already authorized under one of the exceptions to full and open competition.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Responsibility for data analysis and requirements validation for services contracts (sec. 817)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 825) that would amend section 2329 of title 10, United States Code, to specify that the Secretary of Defense act through the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) and Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation to annually collect data on the amount contracted for services procured by the Department of Defense, which would be included in the Future Years Defense Program submitted to Congress.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

The conferees note that Senate Report 116-48 accompanying S. 1790 directs the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Chief Management Officer, the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, and the Secretaries of the military departments, to identify updated approaches for overseeing service contracts and address how these will support the oversight, data analytics, and outcome measures specified in section 2329 of title 10, United States Code. The Senate Report further directs the Department to leverage the expertise of the Chief Data Officer, to ensure that the approaches identified align with and support the Department's analytic capabilities. The conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) and Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation to coordinate with the parties identified as they carry out the efforts specified in Senate Report 116-48.

Documentation of market research related to commercial item determinations (sec. 818)

The Senate bill contained two provisions (sec. 809 and sec. 5802) that would amend section 2377(c) of title 10, United States Code, and section 3307(d) of title 41, United States Code, respectively, to require that market research for commercial products and services be documented in a manner appropriate to the size and complexity of the acquisition.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Availability of data on the use of other transaction authority and report on the use of authority to carry out prototype projects (sec. 819)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 826) that would amend section 2371b of title 10, United States Code, to add a requirement for the Secretary of Defense to report annually to the congressional defense committees on the use of other transaction authority.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would revise section 873 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-323) to extend the requirement to 2023 and require data on the use of other transactions are accessible to any official designated by the Secretary of Defense.

Notification of Navy procurement production disruptions (sec. 820)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 861) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to require prime contractors of any Navy procurement program to report, within 15 calendar days of any contractor or subcontractor stop work order or within 15 days of a contractor or subcontractor manufacturing disruption that has lasted 15 calendar days, to the respective program manager and Navy technical authority.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would limit such notifications to programs procured with funds from the Shipbuilding and Conversion, Navy and Other Procurement, Navy accounts.

The conferees direct the Secretary to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act that details the plan to implement this provision as soon as possible.

Modification to acquisition authority of the Commander of the United States Cyber Command (sec. 821)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 862) that would modify section 807 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), which established the acquisition authority of the Commander of U.S. Cyber Command, to change the applicability of the annual limit to new contract efforts.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical and clarifying amendment.

Extension of Never Contract With the Enemy (sec. 822)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 834) that would extend the Never Contract With the Enemy program through 2023 and would provide for various expansions, including the contracts covered and the authorities of the combatant commands to mitigate threats posed by vendors supporting operations outside the United States.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that maintains only the program extension through 2023.

Modification of justification and approval requirement for certain Department of Defense contracts (sec. 823)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 842) that would revise authorities relating to Department of Defense approval of certain sole source awards to 8(a) firms, which include tribes, Alaska Native, and Hawaiian firms. Specifically, the threshold for requiring justification and approval would be increased to $100.0 million and the approving authority would be the head of procuring activity or a designee. The provision would also require the Department to collect data and the Comptroller General of the United States to report to the congressional defense committees on the impact of the provision.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 830).

The House recesses with an amendment that clarifies details of the Comptroller General review.

Extension of sunset relating to Federal Data Center Consolidation Initiative (sec. 824)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 895) that would extend the sunset date of the Federal Data Center Consolidation Initiative established in section 834 of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291) from October 1, 2020, to October 1, 2022.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Pilot program to accelerate contracting and pricing processes (sec. 825)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 807) that would amend a pilot established in section 890 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232). That law authorized the Secretary of Defense to reform and accelerate the contracting and pricing processes for 10 programs on a pilot basis. The amendment would remove the 10-program limitation and would delay the program's sunset from January 2, 2021, to January 2, 2022.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Uniformity in application of micro-purchase threshold to certain task or delivery orders (sec. 826)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899I) that would amend section 4106(c) of title 41, United States Code, to replace $2,500 with the micro-purchase threshold.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Requirement for cost estimates on models of commercial e-commerce portal program (sec. 827)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 891) that would direct the Administrator of General Services to establish a five-year program to test each of the three models of commercial e-commerce portals before awarding a final contract to a provider.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that replace the requirement for a five-year test program with a requirement for cost estimates, and directs that the estimates be submitted within a year after the first contracts are awarded under the program.

In implementing this section, the conferees do not intend to require the Administrator to provide independent government cost estimates, but rather a range of potential costs or a general order of magnitude for each model.

SUBTITLE C—PROVISIONS RELATING TO MAJOR DEFENSE ACQUISITION PROGRAMS

Modification of requirements for reporting to Congress on certain acquisition programs (sec. 830)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 893) that would exclude the selected acquisition reports required by section 2432 of title 10, United States Code, from the reports that will sunset under section 1080 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92). The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to propose an alternative for reporting the status of major defense acquisition programs and other acquisition activities that would include information on cybersecurity tests, software development metrics, and quality metrics for software.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require selected acquisition reports for any defense program estimated to require a total expenditure of more than $300.0 million for research, development, test and evaluation or a total expenditure of more than $1,800.0 million for procurement through fiscal year 2021 and that would clarify the requirement for the Secretary of Defense to report on alternatives models and thresholds for congressional reporting on acquisition programs.

Pilot program to streamline decision-making processes for weapon systems (sec. 831)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 808) that would require the service acquisition executive for each military department to recommend at least one major defense acquisition program to participate in the pilot program to streamline decision-making processes not later than February 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

The conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to brief the congressional defense committees not later than May 1, 2020, on the acquisition programs selected for the pilot program, the associated action plans and timelines for each program, and the manner in which each program conforms to the required elements of the pilot program.

Analysis of alternatives pursuant to materiel development decisions (sec. 832)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5803) that would require updated guidance for analyses of alternatives conducted pursuant to a materiel development decision for a major defense acquisition program, to include requiring that studies are completed within nine months; establishing procedures to waive this requirement on a case-by-case basis; and reporting late studies or the use of the waiver to congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to assess how the Department conducts analyses of alternatives.

Naval vessel certification required before Milestone B approval (sec. 833)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 821) that would require a certification of compliance with section 8669b of title 10, United States Code, for naval vessel programs prior to Milestone B approval.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE D—PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE ACQUISITION SYSTEM

Extramural acquisition innovation and research activities (sec. 835)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(1)) that would amend chapter 97 of title 10, United States Code, to establish an academic center for acquisition innovation at the Naval Postgraduate School to provide decision-makers with academic analyses and policy alternatives for innovating the defense acquisition system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense to establish extramural acquisition innovation and research activities to include an acquisition research organization within a non-Federal civilian university or college, to provide and maintain essential research and development capabilities through a long-term, strategic relationship with the Department of Defense.

Report on realignment of the defense acquisition system to implement acquisition reforms (sec. 836)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 822) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the committee on lessons learned through the use of the authority provided under section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (10 U.S.C. 2302 note) commonly known as "Middle-Tier of Acquisition," to include certain risks and how the lessons are applicable to procedures for acquiring major defense acquisition programs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that instead require the Secretary of Defense to report on ongoing efforts to realign the whole Defense Acquisition System in response to recent reforms - through changes to the 5000 series of directives, instructions, guidance and procedures and to address certain elements in the report.

The conferees appreciate the careful consideration the Department is giving to implementing the acquisition reforms legislated through these Acts over the last five years. In doing so, the conferees note that the Department of Defense can no longer afford to use cost, schedule, and performance thresholds as simple proxies for risk when designating the path an acquisition program travels through the Defense Acquisition System, and in organizing how programs are managed and overseen. Exclusive attention to cost, schedule, and performance of major defense acquisition programs and other development programs obscures a myriad of other risks in programs large and small, any one of which could be single points of failure for successful acquisition. Such risks include: technical risks such as engineering, software, manufacturing and testing; integration and interoperability risks - complicated by the implications of systems working across multiple domains while using machine learning and artificial intelligence capabilities to continuously change and optimize system performance; operations and sustainment risks - mediated by access to technical data and intellectual property rights; workforce and training risks - to include consideration of the role of contractors as part of the total workforce; and supply chain risks - to include cybersecurity, foreign control and ownership of key elements of supply chains, and the consequences a fragile and weakening defense industrial base, combined with barriers to industrial cooperation with allies and partners pose for delivering systems and technologies in a trusted and assured manner. Finally, the Secretary's report under this section should look ahead to consider the implications of these changes for the acquisition of non-developmental items and the implications of the shift in acquisition of capabilities through development, to acquisition of capabilities "as-a-service".

Based on the Secretary's report under this section, and given the important role of the Comptroller General's annual weapons assessment in enabling the congressional defense committees' detailed oversight of the Defense Acquisition System, the conferees also direct the Comptroller General of the United States to brief the committees on how the Department's efforts are informing the refresh of that annual report as directed under section 803 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019.

Report and limitation on the availability of funds relating to the 'middle tier' of acquisition programs (sec. 837)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 821) that would amend section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) to direct the Secretary of Defense to ensure the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation, the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, and the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering have access to certain data on acquisitions carried out under the authority, and would limit use of the authority to programs below the major defense acquisition threshold unless the Secretary were to issue a waiver. The House amendment also contained a provision (sec. 861(f)) that would direct the Secretary to submit a report that would include the guidance required by section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) and, would limit the Department's ability to obligate or expend funds on Middle Tier programs until that report is submitted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would strike the provision amending section 804, and, relating to the report and guidance, would expand the limitation of funds beyond acquisition programs, to the organizations which are parties to the disagreements that are preventing the guidance from being finalized.

The conferees believe the difficulty the Department has faced in reaching agreement illustrates the tension of balancing empowered execution by the Services with appropriate oversight by the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation, and the Under Secretaries of Defense for Research and Engineering and for Acquisition and Sustainment, as well as Congressional oversight. To address the latter, the conferees direct the Defense Acquisition Executive and the Service Acquisition Executives to notify the congressional defense committees within 30 days of a decision to designate a program to use the authority provided for under section 804 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92). The conferees note the inability of the parties to reach agreement on the use of this authority threatens the momentum of the very initiatives that would most benefit from it. The conferees encourage the parties to focus immediately on the most critical issues, bring them to resolution, and publish the guidance required by section 804.

Report on intellectual property policy and the cadre of intellectual property experts (sec. 838)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(d)) that would amend section 802 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91; 131 Stat. 1450) by requiring the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, to submit a report on activities to implement section 2322 of title 10, United States Code, to include the composition and plans for the cadre, and the policy on the acquisition or licensing of intellectual property required. The provision would also limit the funds the Department may obligate or expend until the report is submitted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a an amendment that would require that the report include a description of the specific activities performed, and the programs and efforts supported by, the cadre of intellectual property experts and would change the Department of Defense offices subject to limitation of funds.

Guidance and reports relating to covered defense business systems (sec. 839)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(a)) that would amend section 2222(d) of title 10, United States Code, to require that guidance developed by the Department of Defense for defense business systems includes policies to ensure compliance with auditability requirements and approvals. The provision would also establish due dates to provide guidance related to covered defense business systems, as well as due dates to provide the Department's information technology enterprise architecture and related integration plans and schedules. The provision would also limit the availability of funds until such guidance, architecture and plans are provided.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the limitation on funds and combine the reporting requirements for the information technology enterprise architecture.

Implementation guidance for use of a modular open system approach (sec. 840)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(c)) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of Cost Assessment and Performance Evaluation, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report that includes the study guidance required under section 2446b(b) of title 10, United States Code, and would limit funding available if the report is not provided by the end of 2019. The provision would also modify section 2446c of title 10, United States Code, to require a policy on the support for the acquisition for modular open system approaches (MOSA).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would instead modify section 2446b of title 10, United States Code, to direct the Secretaries of the military departments to develop implementing guidance for the requirements to address MOSA, and as well would amend section 2446c of title 10, United States Code, to direct the Secretaries of the military departments to develop policies relating to the availability of major system interfaces and support for MOSA.

The conferees note the importance of policies in implementing MOSA to the fullest extent. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretaries of the military departments to submit a report to the congressional defense committee by March 15, 2020, that includes the implementation guidance required under section 2446b of title 10 and section 2446c of title 10. Furthermore, the conferees note that MOSA should go beyond the ability to exchange information broadly through the adoption of standards. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretaries of the military departments to include in their policy a description of the goals and anticipated benefits of MOSA, with respect to maintaining and enhancing competition across the life-cycle of systems and programs; enabling systems to be more easily upgraded over their lifetimes; more easily modifying or replacing components and modules without the risk of adversely affecting software or the functioning of other components and modules; achieving interoperability among a wide range of systems, and thereby enabling the creation of novel cross-domain and cross-service kill chains.

Limitation on availability of funds for the Office of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense (sec. 841)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(e)) that would limit the fiscal year 2020 funds that may be obligated or expended for the Office of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense until the date on which the Chief Management Officer submits either a certification of cost savings or the notice and justification described in Section 921(b)(5) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE E—INDUSTRIAL BASE MATTERS

Modernization of acquisition processes to ensure integrity of industrial base (sec. 845)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 831) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modernize mitigation of risks to the integrity of the supply chain, to include those cited in recent studies on the defense industrial base.

The House amendment contained similar provisions (secs. 853, 855, and 892).

The House recedes with amendments that would establish the requirement for the framework in statute under section 2506 of title 10, United States Code; add certain systems to a list of those being assessed; and provide further detail on phased implementation and reporting on the framework.

The conferees note that contracting is the mechanism by which the Department of Defense operationalizes its relationship with the defense industrial base/national security innovation base. The conferees further note that the Department's ability to maintain awareness of the sources of procured items or materials, including the degree to which the sources are foreign or domestic, are critical elements for understanding supply chain risks. This is particularly the case for items used in critical programs such as major defense acquisition programs. The conferees believe that certain risks to the defense industrial base are not being appropriately considered. These include but are not limited to risks associated with: insufficient insight into ownership structures, fragile sources of supply, and cybersecurity concerns, as well as contractors' violations of law pertaining to fraud, human trafficking, and worker health and safety. The conferees further note that, even where risks may be a high priority, the existing acquisition processes and procedures are not effective or timely in mitigating such risks. As such, the provision would require the Department to rigorously optimize the policy, processes, and procedures throughout the contracting life cycle, beginning with market research, responsibility determination, technical evaluation/award, mobilization, contract administration, contract management and oversight (to include contractor business systems reviews), and contract audit for closeout. It is critical that this optimization incorporate modern sources of data and methods to conduct appropriate and continuous risk assessment for contractors doing business with DOD. The provision would also require the Comptroller General of the United States to coordinate individual reviews in these risk areas, report on them collectively, and begin annual reviews of the Department's progress in this area.

Report requirements for the national technology and industrial base (sec. 846)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861(k)) that would amend section 2501(a) of title 10, United States

Code, to establish a deadline for the Secretary of Defense to submit an already-required strategy to Congress after the submission of the national security strategy report required under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947. The provision would also modify section 2504(3) of title 10, United States Code, to require that the Department's annual report to Congress on the national technology and industrial base include a prioritized list of gaps and vulnerabilities within the base.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that clarifies requirements for the annual report to Congress, and that adds a requirement to submit unfunded priorities for the national technology and industrial base, ten days after the annual budget is submitted to Congress.

The conferees note that the national security strategy developed by the United States for the national technology and industrial base should leverage an analytical framework that uses digital tools, technologies, and approaches to inform decision-makers.

Mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence of Department of Defense contractors or subcontractors (sec. 847)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 833) that would require the Secretary of Defense to amend policy and regulation to take steps to enhance the process for assessing and mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence (FOCI).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with technical and clarifying amendments.

The conferees are concerned by the growing threat to the integrity of the defense industrial base from strategic competitors, like the Russian Federation, the People's Republic of China, and their proxies, seeking to gain access to sensitive defense information or technology through contractors or subcontractors. The conferees recognize that there are existing efforts underway to understand and mitigate some of these risks as directed by several pilot programs including section 1048 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 and section 1969 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018. The conferees also recognize that the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency (DCSA) has transitioned to a new mission and has taken on additional responsibilities despite resource constraints. However, the acquisition community must have greater visibility into all cleared and uncleared potential contractors and subcontractors seeking to do business with the Department. The Department must ensure that contractors and subcontractors do not pose a risk to the security of sensitive data, systems, or processes such as personally identifiable information, cybersecurity, or national security systems.

Prohibition on operation or procurement of foreign-made unmanned aircraft systems (sec. 848)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 863) that would prohibit the operation or procurement of foreign-made unmanned aircraft systems by the Department of Defense. The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 854, as amended by sec. 899D) that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from operating or entering into a contract for the procurement of certain unmanned aircraft systems.

The House recedes.

Additionally, the conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to take such action as necessary to strengthen the domestic production of small unmanned aircraft systems (as defined in section 331 of the FAA Modernization and Reform Act of 2012 (Public Law 112-95; 49 U.S.C. 44802 note)), as described under Presidential Determination No. 2019-13 of June 10, 2019.

Modification of prohibition on acquisition of sensitive materials from non-allied foreign nations (sec. 849)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1411) that would include tantalum in the definition of covered materials. Additionally, the provision would expand the National Defense Stockpile Manager's authority to not sell a material if it is determined to not be in the national interests of the United States.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 808).

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Acquisition and disposal of certain rare earth materials (sec. 850)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6401) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Defense Logistics Agency, to submit a report assessing issues relating to the supply chain for rare earth materials.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 807) that would require the Department of Defense to promulgate guidance on streamlined acquisition of items with rare earth materials and allows exceptions to the Joint Capabilities Integration and Development System Manual and Department of Defense Directive 5000.01. The provision would also provide authority for the disposal of tungsten ores and concentrates contained in the National Defense Stockpile and acquisition of other critical materials.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the requirement to establish guidance on streamlined acquisition of covered rare earth materials and would include an assessment of rare earth supply chain issues.

Pilot program for development of technology-enhanced capabilities with partnership intermediaries (sec. 851)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 879) that would authorize the Commander of U.S. Special Operations Command to use not more than 5 percent of funds required to be expended by the Department of Defense relating to small businesses for a pilot program to increase participation by small business concerns in the development of technology-enhanced capabilities for special operations forces. The authority would terminate on September 30, 2021.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would revise the authority of the Commander of the United States Special Operations Command to use the greater of $2.0 million or 5 percent of funds required to be expended by the Department of Defense relating to small businesses for the pilot program and limits the scope to contracts and agreements to small business concerns.

Authorized official to carry out the procurement technical assistance cooperative agreement program (sec. 852)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 902) that would move the management and oversight of the Procurement Technical Assistance Cooperative (PTAC) Agreement Program from the Defense Logistics Agency to the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 880).

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Requirement that certain ship components be manufactured in the national technology and industrial base (sec. 853)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 806) that would amend section 2534 of title 10, United States Code, and would require certain auxiliary ship components to be procured from a manufacturer in the national technology and industrial base.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require large medium speed diesel engines for certain auxiliary ships to be procured from a manufacturer in the national technology and industrial base.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act that details the plan to implement section 844 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act (Public Law 115-232) as soon as possible.

Addition of domestically produced stainless steel flatware and dinnerware to the Berry Amendment (sec. 854)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 815) that would amend section 2533a(b) of title 10, United States Code, to add dinnerware and stainless steel flatware as covered items, requiring that the Department of Defense procure them only from domestic sources.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would set the addition to expire at the end of fiscal year 2023, and meanwhile require the Secretary of Defense to assess the rationale and implications of limiting procurement of these items to domestic sources.

Application of miscellaneous technology base policies and programs to the Columbia-class submarine program (sec. 855)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 809) that would amend the application of miscellaneous technology base policies and programs to the Columbia-class submarine program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Application of limitation on procurement of goods other than United States goods to the FFG-Frigate Program (sec. 856)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 810) that would allow funds authorized for the FFG-Frigate program to be used to award a contract that does not domestically source propulsion or certain auxiliary equipment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Sense of Congress regarding consideration of price in procurement of the FFG(X) frigate (sec. 857)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 811) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to ensure cost is a critical factor in the procurement of the FFG(X) Frigate.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would express the sense of Congress that in evaluating proposals for a contract to procure a FFG(X) frigate in fiscal year 2020, the Secretary of the Navy should ensure price is a critical factor.

SUBTITLE F—PROVISIONS RELATING TO ACQUISITION WORKFORCE

Establishment of Defense Civilian Training Corps (sec. 860)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861) that would amend part III of subtitle A of title 10, United States Code, to establish a Defense Civilian Acquisition Training Corps.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to create a Defense Civilian Training Corps to prepare selected students for civilian service in the Department of Defense in occupations related to acquisition, science, engineering, or other occupations determined by the Secretary of Defense.

Defense acquisition workforce certification, education, and career fields (sec. 861)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 861) that would amend several sections of chapter 87, of title 10, United States Code, to modify how the defense acquisition workforce is managed, trained, and selected. The provision would also require the Defense Acquisition University to have at least 25 percent of its civilian instructors be visiting professors from civilian colleges or universities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Defense Acquisition University to employ at least five visiting professors by September 1st, 2021.

Software development and software acquisition training and management programs (sec. 862)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 802) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to implement software development and acquisition training and management programs for all software acquisition professionals, developers, and associated functions to provide software practitioners access to modern engagement and collaboration platforms to connect, share their skills and knowledge, and develop solutions leveraging the full defense enterprise.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Modification of temporary assignments of Department of Defense employees to a private-sector organization (sec. 863)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 842) that would create a two-way exchange program between the Department of Defense acquisition workforce and private sector companies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the existing public-private talent exchange program authorized by section 1599g of title 10, United States Code. The amendment would clarify that private-sector organizations shall not be considered to have an organizational conflict of interest with the Department of Defense solely based on participation in the talent exchange. The amendment would also authorize the use of the Defense Acquisition Workforce Development Fund in connection with the talent exchange program.

Incentives and consideration for qualified training programs (sec. 864)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 843) that would amend chapter 141 of title 10, United States Code, by adding a new section to incentivize contractors to invest in workforce development programs to address the workforce needs of the Department of Defense, as determined by the Secretary. This section would also require the Secretary of Defense to include an evaluation of contractor workforce development programs in the contract past performance system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Use of qualified apprentices by military construction contractors (sec. 865)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 844) that would require the Secretary of Defense to revise the Defense Supplement to the Federal Acquisition Regulation to require a system be used to monitor or record contractor past performance of the contractor making a good faith effort to meet or exceed the apprenticeship employment goal of 20 percent. This section would also require the Secretary of Defense to develop an apprenticeship workforce incentive program to encourage contractors to meet the 20 percent goal of employing certified and skilled workers who have completed State-mandated, federally funded programs in the relative career fields and certify to good faith effort to achieve the goal. This section would also require the Secretary of Defense to include an evaluation of whether the contractor meets this goal in the contractor past performance rating system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Defense to also consider certain high-quality industry recognized apprenticeship programs when evaluating contractor performance.

The conferees note that the Department of Labor has issued a proposed rule that would establish a process for recognizing Standards Recognition Entities, which will in turn recognize Industry-Recognized Apprenticeship Programs. The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to work with the Department of Labor as the proposed rule takes effect to ensure any apprenticeship programs recognized by the Department of Defense are of sufficient quality.

SUBTITLE G—SMALL BUSINESS MATTERS

Requirements relating to credit for certain small business concern subcontractors (sec. 870)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 873) that would amend section 8(d) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 637) to clarify that large prime contractors have the ability to receive subcontracting credit for small businesses at lower tiers; strengthen the agency's ability to collect and review data regarding prime contractors' achievement of their subcontracting plans; require the prime contractor to keep and maintain records to demonstrate subcontracting credit claimed; and implement a new dispute process allowing small subcontractors to bring nonpayment issues to the agency small business advocate.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendment that would remove the new dispute process for nonpayment issues.

Inclusion of best in class designations in annual report on small business goals (sec. 871)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 874) that would amend section 15(h) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 644(h)) to require the Small Business Administration (SBA) to report Federal spending made through designated "best in class" vehicles, and to report on the dollars awarded through these vehicles to small businesses. Additionally, this section would require the SBA to report the dollar amount of contracts awarded to HUBZone, women-owned, service-disabled veteran-owned, and socially and economically disadvantaged (also known as 8(a)) small businesses.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Reauthorization and improvement of Department of Defense Mentor-Protege Program (sec. 872)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 841) that would amend Section 831 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 2302 note) to make the Department of Defense's pilot Mentor-Protege Program permanent and to require that the Department's Office of Small Business Programs establish performance goals and outcome-based metrics for the program. The provision would also direct the Secretary of Defense to direct the Defense Business Board to study the effectiveness of the program and make recommendations for program improvements. Further, the provision would repeal the Department's half-size standard restriction for protege participants.

The House amendment contained a similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would extend the pilot program by authorizing new agreements through the end of fiscal year 2024, but limiting them to two years, and would permit reimbursements and subcontracting credits associated with such agreements through fiscal year 2026.

Accelerated payments applicable to contracts with certain small business concerns under the Prompt Payment Act (sec. 873)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 883) that would amend section 3903(a) of title 31, United States Code, to accelerate, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the payment date for prime contractors that are small business concerns or that subcontract with small business concerns, with a goal of 15 days.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Postaward explanations for unsuccessful offerors for certain contracts (sec. 874)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 884) that would revise the Federal Acquisition Regulation to require that contracting officers provide a brief explanation to unsuccessful offerors, if requested, for task or delivery orders in an amount greater than the simplified acquisition threshold and less than or equal to $5.5 million issued under an indefinite delivery-indefinite quantity contract.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Small business contracting credit for subcontractors that are Puerto Rico businesses or covered territory businesses (sec. 875)

The House amendment contained two provisions (secs. 888 and 889) that would amend section 15(x) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C 644(x)). Section 888 would allow agencies to double the value of subcontracts to Puerto Rico businesses when determining agency compliance with small business contracting goals. Section 889 would allow agencies to double the value of contracts awarded to small business concerns that have their principal office located in the United States Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, or the Northern Mariana Islands, when determining agency compliance with small business contracting goals.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that combines the two provisions.

Technical amendment regarding treatment of certain surviving spouses under the definition of small business concern owned and controlled by service-disabled veterans (sec. 876)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would amend section 632 of title 15, United States Code, to clarify the treatment of certain surviving spouses under the definition of small business concerns owned and controlled by service-disabled veterans.

Extension of loan assistance and deferral eligibility to reservists and members of the National Guard beyond periods of military conflict (sec. 877)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would amend section 636 of title 15, United States Code, by extending the loan assistance and deferral eligibility to military reservists beyond periods of military conflict. The provision would also require the President of the United States to submit to the Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the Committee on Small Business and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives a semi-annual report on the number of loans made under the Military Reservist Economic Injury Disaster Loan program and the dollar volume of those loans.

Modification to the Defense Research and Development Rapid Innovation Program (sec. 878)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(e)) that would amend section 2359a(b)(3) of title 10, United States Code, to increase the maximum per award threshold for projects participating in the Defense Research and Development Rapid Innovation Program from $3.0 million per award to $6.0 million per award, and would direct the Secretary of Defense to report on activities under the program, to include summarizing the proposals received, and associated Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program activities, and overall program effectiveness.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would reemphasize the preference under the program for awarding to small business concerns overall, as well as the prioritization of such small business concerns; and would limit the total amount of awards under the program within a fiscal year to no more than 25 percent of the total available for that fiscal year.

Alignment of the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research Program and Small Business Technology Transfer Program with the National Defense Science and Technology Strategy (sec. 879)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(a)) that would direct the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the military departments to align the research topics selected for activities conducted under the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) Programs with the National Defense Science and Technology Strategy, and would amend title 15, United States Code, to refer to this strategy to guide the prioritization of the Department's activities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the amendment to title 15, United States Code.

Assistance for small business concerns participating in the SBIR and STTR programs (sec. 880)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 882) that would amend the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 638) to help small business concerns participating in the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs. The provision would, among other things, require procurement center representatives and the appropriate Director of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization to assist participating small business concerns with researching solicitations and providing technical assistance to bid for federal contracts. The provision would also direct agency senior procurement executives, where appropriate, to assist small business concerns with commercializing research developed under SBIR or SBTT before awarding federal agency contracts.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require procurement center representatives to consult with appropriate agency personnel to assist small business concerns in the SBIR program and STTR program, particularly in Phase III, and to provide technical assistance to submit a bid for an award of a federal contract.

Cybersecurity technical assistance under the SBIR and STTR programs (sec. 881)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(c)) that would permit the Secretary of Defense to enter into an agreement with one or more vendors to provide cybersecurity technical assistance to small business concerns engaged in Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) or Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) projects.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Funding for defense research activities of small business concerns (sec. 882)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(g)) that would amend section 9(f) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C 638(f)) to increase the required expenditure amounts for the Department of Defense from 3.2 percent to 4.0 percent, starting in fiscal year 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would instead direct the Secretary of Defense to report on any assistance to small business concerns in fiscal years 2017 through 2019 under the Small Business Innovation Research and Small Business Technology Transfer programs, and any other research, development, test, and evaluation programs.

Modifications to budget display requirements for the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research Program and Small Business Technology Transfer Program (sec. 883)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 887) that would amend section 857 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232; 132 Stat. 1891) to revise budget display requirements for the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Program and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees' aim is to allow visibility into the SBIR/STTR effort to better support the program, and to support the alignment of each military services' SBIR/STTR program under the Service Secretary's strategic vision for their budget.

Pilot program for domestic investment under the SBIR program (sec. 884)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(b)) that would express a sense of congress encouraging the Administrator of the Small Business Administration to promulgate regulations implementing existing authority under title 15, United States Code, that permits small business concerns that are majority-owned by multiple venture capital operating companies, hedge funds, or private equity firms to participate in the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program. The provision would further direct the Secretary of Defense to establish a pilot program to exercise this authority and make SBIR awards to such business concerns up to 10 percent of the Department's annual SBIR allocation and would exempt the Department from the requirement for written determinations in advance of such awards. The provision would also direct the Secretary of Defense to include information about the activities under the pilot program in the annual report on the SBIR program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would eliminate the sense of congress; limit the Department of Defense exemption from the written determination to only those small business concerns meeting certain requirements related to foreign ownership; further expand the information provided in the SBIR annual report; and add a requirement for the Secretary of Defense to notify the Administrator of the Small Business Administration 30 days following an award.

SUBTITLE H—OTHER MATTERS

Review of guidance to contractors on nondiscrimination on the basis of sex (sec. 885)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899C) that would direct a revision to the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement to allow contracts only with entities that have employee policies penalizing instances of sexual harassment, and would direct the Secretary of Defense to initiate a debarment proceeding for entities seeking contracts with the Department of Defense who do not have such policies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to review the implementation of the requirement under Executive Order 11246 relating to the expectations of contractors to ensure nondiscrimination on the basis of sex, to include sexual harassment, and to update any relevant training guidance based on this review.

The conferees note that the appendix to Part 60-20 of Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations outlines best practices and procedures for contractors pertaining to the environment contractors should foster with regard to sexual harassment, which includes communicating that harassing conduct will not be tolerated, providing anti-harassment training, and establishing and implementing procedures for complaints about harassment and intimidation based on sex. The conferees believe the Department should strongly encourage contractors to incorporate such best practices and procedures.

Comptroller General report on contractor violations of certain labor laws (sec. 886)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899F) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to deliver a report to the Congress on the number of Department of Defense contractors who have been found by the Department of Labor to have committed violation of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (Public Law 91-596) or the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Public Law 75-718).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Comptroller General report on contingency contracting (sec. 887)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899G) that would reauthorize the Commission on Wartime Contracting established under Section 841 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008 (Public Law 110-181; 122 Stat. 230) and amend the Commission's duties to include studying federal agency contracting funded by overseas contingency operations funds.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would direct the Comptroller General of the United States to report on the implementation of the recommendations made by the Commission and the use of contractors to perform work supporting contingency operations since January 1, 2009, and not include the reauthorization of the Commission on Wartime Contracting.

Policies and procedures for contractors to report gross violations of internationally recognized human rights (sec. 888)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899K) that would require that contractors performing Department of Defense contracts in a foreign country report possible cases of gross violations of internationally recognized human rights and that the Secretary of Defense submit a report to congressional committees describing the policies and procedures in place to obtain information about such violations and the resources needed to investigate.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Department to update its policies, guidance, and regulations to include specific guidance for both Department of Defense employees and contractors for monitoring and reporting alleged violations, and clarify its applicability to contractors performing outside the United States.

Comptroller General report on oversight of contractors providing private security functions (sec. 889)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899L) that would direct the Inspector General of the Department of Defense to report on certain contracts for private security performed in contingency operations since 2001, to include data on costs, locations, civilians killed or wounded while performing the work, and disciplinary actions taken against the contractors.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would re-direct the study to the Comptroller General of the United States, and realign the substance of the review to evaluate Department of Defense's efforts to improve its oversight of contractors providing private security functions since 2009, to include how it has implemented certain new industry-wide law, policy, regulation, standards, and guidance.

The conferees note the significant changes that have occurred in the private security sector since certain reforms were initiated following the final report and recommendations of the Commission on Wartime Contracting in 2011.

Prohibition on contracting with persons that have business operations with the Maduro regime (sec. 890)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 864) that would prohibit the Department of Defense from entering into a contract with any person or entity that has business operations with an authority of the Government of Venezuela that is not recognized as the legitimate Government of Venezuela by the United States Government.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 897).

The Senate recedes.

Report on the Combating Trafficking in Persons initiative (sec. 891)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 865) that would direct the Comptroller General of the United States to report on the Department of Defense's efforts to combat trafficking in persons through procurement practices.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1080A) that would require the Department of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees containing an analysis of the Department's progress in implementing the Combating Trafficking in Persons Initiative.

The House recedes with an amendment that would direct the Secretary of Defense to analyze the Department's progress in implementing the Combating Trafficking in Persons initiative described in DOD Instruction 2200.01.

Noting that the Department's report will provide further information on the implementation of this program, the conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the Department of Defense's overall efforts to combat human trafficking not later than January 31, 2021. The required report shall evaluate (1) the processes and procedures to combat human trafficking in the Department's contracting and supply chain policy, regulation, and practices, to include the implementation of title 27 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013 (Public Law 112-239) and Executive Order 13627, as well as the nature and extent of training for contracting officers on how to evaluate compliance plans, monitor contractor adherence to the plans, and respond to reports of noncompliance; (2) the progress of the current trafficking in persons office within the Department of Defense in leading the Department to address all forms of human trafficking, the efficacy of such office in identifying, tracking, and managing any and all trafficking in persons cases, and what, if any, improvements should be made to the office; (3) the process used by contracting officers to evaluate compliance plans with regards to preventing human trafficking and a description of the remedies imposed by contracting officers in cases where an allegation of human trafficking has been substantiated; and (4) the process for reporting instances of human trafficking to the Inspector General of the Department of Defense and the disposition of those cases.

Improved management of information technology and cyberspace investments (sec. 892)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 851) that would require the Department of Defense Chief Information Officer (CIO) to work with the Chief Data Officer to optimize the Department's process to account for, manage, and report its information technology and cyberspace investments and would require the CIO to brief the congressional defense committees and to recommend any necessary legislative changes to the committees not later than February 3, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Department of Defense's process to account for, manage, and report its information technology and cyberspace investments—which account for at least $50.0 billion annually—is inefficient. Further, the conferees are concerned that this process results in unnecessary delays in preparing the annual budget exhibit and in regulatory reporting required by the Federal Information Technology Acquisition Reform Act of 2015, incorporated into the Howard P. “Buck” McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291). After years of legislation and regulation, the definitions pertaining to and the methods for grouping and accounting for spending on these investments have become cumbersome and obscure, and they hinder, rather than facilitating, insight into and oversight of spending plans and portfolio management. The briefing provided to the committees should include alternative methods for presenting budget justification materials to the public and congressional staff to more accurately communicate when, how, and with what frequency capabilities are delivered to end-users, in accordance with best practices for managing and reporting on information technology investments.

Modification to requirements for purchase of commercial leasing services pursuant to multiple award contracts (sec. 893)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899B) that would amend section 877 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232; 41 U.S.C. 3302 note) to extend the termination date for the exemption for commercial leasing services provision from 2022 to 2025 and change the reporting date of the Comptroller General of the United States audit to every five years.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would repeal section 877 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 and would amend section 3302 of title 41, United States Code, to add the exemption for commercial leasing services as a new subsection.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Modification to small purchase threshold exception to sourcing requirements for certain articles

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 810) that would lower the threshold at which the Department of Defense must comply with the rules of section 2533a of title 10, United States Code, known as the Berry Amendment, to $150,000.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Rates for progress payments or performance-based payments

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 823) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide congressional defense committees with a notice of determination and to notify the public through the Federal Register before initiating changes to contract finance rates for progress payments or performance-based payments.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Additional requirements for negotiations for noncommercial computer software

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 824) that would amend section 2322a of title 10, United States Code, and codify existing Defense Federal Acquisition Regulations on noncommercial software rights as well as mandate, to the maximum extent practicable, that specially negotiated licenses be used for weapon systems noncommercial software.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Competition requirements for purchases from Federal Prison Industries

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 827) that would amend section 2410n of title 10, United States Code. This provision would create a requirement for conducting market research before purchasing a product listed in the Federal Prison Industries (FPI) catalog.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Enhanced post-award debriefing rights

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 828) that would amend section 818 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), which required post-award debriefings of the Department of Defense rating for each evaluation criteria and overall award decision, by reducing the award threshold for comprehensive debriefings from $100.0 million to $50.0 million.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Preference for offerors employing veterans

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 831) that would amend chapter 137 of title 10, United States Code, by allowing the head of an agency to establish a preference for offerors that employ veterans on a full-time basis when awarding a contract for the procurement of goods or services for the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Reporting on expenses incurred for independent research and development costs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 832) that would amend section 2372 of title 10, United States Code, to require Department of Defense contractors to report expenses incurred for independent research and development (IR&D) costs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that IR&D is initiated and conducted by Department of Defense contractors and the Department reimburses a portion of industry's costs. The conferees acknowledge that it is beneficial for the Department to understand what technologies its contractors are investing in beyond Department of Defense contracts. However, the conferees note that there is an ongoing Comptroller General review of recent changes to IR&D policies and the extent that recently funded IR&D projects align with the Department's modernization priorities as laid out in the National Defense Strategy. The conferees encourage the Department to use the findings from the Comptroller General's review as a basis for its IR&D strategy going forward, including what information is required to be reported by the contractor. Lastly, the conferees remind the Department that it should share information about contractor costs within the Department in a continuous and strategic manner, including in coordination with the Department's Chief Data Officer.

Assessment of precision-guided missiles for reliance on foreign-made microelectronic components

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 832) that would require the Air Force to assess its reliance on foreign sources for all microelectronics in precision guided munitions currently in production.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, not later than August 31, 2020, to brief the congressional defense committees on the reliance of the United States Armed Forces on foreign sources for microelectronics in precision guided munitions currently in production. The briefing should identify whether the microelectronics suppliers are single source or sole-source providers as well as which tier subcontractors supply the microelectronics. The briefing should also include an evaluation of the cybersecurity risk to precision guided munitions posed by foreign-made microelectronics.

Reporting on expenses incurred for bid and proposal costs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 833) that would amend section 2372a(a) of title 10, United States Code, to require that contractors report expenses incurred for bid and proposal costs annually to the Defense Contract Audit Agency, who shall give access to the information to the Principal Director for Defense Pricing and Contracting.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on requirements relating to consumption-based solutions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 835) that would require the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to submit a report on requirements relating to consumption-based solutions to the congressional defense committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees recognize the acquisition of supplies and services is still evolving and believe there is a place for consumption-based solutions. The conferees direct the Deputy Secretary of Defense in conjunction with the Chief Management Officer, the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, and the Director, Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation, to report to the congressional defense committees by March 15, 2020, on the feasibility of using consumption-based solutions as a procurement option to include recommended definitions, processes, contract types, and funding approaches.

Supply chain security of certain telecommunications and video surveillance services or equipment

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 851) that would require the Secretary of Defense to consult with the Federal Acquisition Security Council to comprehensively assess policies and contractors' systems relating to telecommunications and video surveillance services and equipment from foreign suppliers; to mitigate risks through a specific interagency debarment and suspension process; to promulgate guidance; and to issue regulation containing certain elements. The House amendment contained another provision (sec. 852) that would require the Secretary of Defense to procure certain telecommunications services or installations of telecommunications infrastructure on national security installations located on territories of the United States in the Pacific Ocean, only from American-owned or -operated companies, with a national security waiver.

The Senate bill contained similar provisions, (sec. 831) that would require the Secretary of Defense to modernize mitigation of risks to the integrity of the supply chain, to include those cited in recent studies on the defense industrial base, and (sec. 833) that would require the Secretary of Defense to amend policy and regulation to enhance the process for assessing and mitigating risks related to foreign ownership, control, or influence.

The House recedes with amendments to sec. 831 that would direct the Secretary to recommend revisions to certain statutory definitions, would more explicitly emphasize the role of suspension and debarment in supply-chain security, and would direct the Secretary to establish a process to re-assess companies who have addressed certain risks.

The conferees acknowledge that establishing blanket "prohibitions" in legislation can be well-intended and effective in some aspects, while also having unintended consequences. The conferees intend for the Department to be pro-active rather than reactive, in securing its supply chain. The conferees note there are multiple efforts in place and underway at the Department to address supply chain risks, and that similar efforts are being undertaken government-wide. The conferees encourage the Department to harmonize these activities where appropriate in ways that do not inhibit the Department from exercising its discretion in areas of national security interest. In this regard, the Department should pay specific attention to the procurement of telecommunications goods and services for use on installations in the Pacific Ocean.

Revised authorities to defeat adversary efforts to compromise United States defense capabilities

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 853) that would strengthen defense supply chains by including security as a primary purpose for Department of Defense acquisition.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note other sections of the conference report that modernize the Department's supply chain risk mitigation efforts by requiring the Secretary of Defense to develop an analytical framework across the acquisition process, assign risk mitigation roles and responsibilities to organizations and individuals, and modernize access to data necessary to assess risk across the acquisition enterprise.

Supply chain risk mitigation policies to be implemented through requirements generation process

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 855) that would amend section 807 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) to require the Secretary of Defense to develop tools for supply chain risk mitigation policies during the requirements generation process.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 831) which addressed this and several other matters pertaining to the defense industrial base.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the House provision was based on the work of the Advisory Panel on Streamlining and Codifying Acquisition Regulations established by section 809 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92). The conferees commend the work of the Panel and note that, since the Panel was established, it has made 98 recommendations across 3 report volumes and continues to identify areas where United States Code can be reorganized for clarity and efficiency. The Congress has enacted a number of the recommendations from the first two volumes in prior National Defense Authorization Acts and continues to carefully consider the recommendations of the Panel.

Size standard calculations for certain small business concerns

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 872) that would clarify that section 3(a)(2)(C) of the Small Business Act applies to the Small Business Administration (SBA). The section would align the size standards based on data to the Small Business Runway Extension Act of 2018 (Public Law 115-324) by changing the calculation from 3 years to 5 years. This section also would require the SBA to develop a transition plan for small businesses and Federal agencies to help them successfully navigate the transition from the previous 3-year calculation to the new 5-year calculation as mandated and would require that the System for Award Management be updated accordingly.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Small Business Administration cybersecurity reports

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 875) that would require the Small Business Administration to issue reports that assess its cybersecurity infrastructure, including determining the country of origin of its information technology components, and report cyber threats, breaches, and cyber attacks.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Cyber counseling certification program for lead small business development centers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 876) that would amend section 21(a) of the Small Business Act by adding cyber strategy training for Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) and require the Small Business Administrator to establish, or certify, an existing cyber counseling certification program to certify employees at small business development centers (that have directly received a grant from the Administration) to provide assistance to small businesses for planning cybersecurity practices and strategies to respond to cyber attacks. The Small Business Administration would be authorized to reimburse SBDCs for employee certification costs up to $350,000 per fiscal year.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Exemption of certain contracts from the periodic inflation adjustments to the acquisition-related dollar threshold

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 877) that would amend subparagraph (B) of section 1908(b)(2) of title 41, United States Code, to exempt certain contracts from the periodic inflation adjustments to the acquisition-related dollar threshold.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Phase 0 Proof of Concept Partnership program for the Department of Defense

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 878(d)) that would amend section 9(jj) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C 638) to change references to "The Director of the National Institutes of Health" to "A covered agency head" which is defined as the Director of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) for NIH Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs or the Secretary of Defense for Department of Defense STTR programs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Briefing on the Trusted Capital Marketplace pilot program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 885) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to congressional defense committees on the progress of the Trusted Capital Marketplace pilot program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees understand that the Secretary of Defense is intending to establish a Trusted Capital Marketplace pilot program to link technology startup companies with trusted sources of capital in areas relevant to defense missions. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing on the progress of the Trusted Capital Marketplace pilot program to the congressional defense committees to include plans for how the program will: align with critical defense requirements; use the acquisition flexibilities authorized under recent National Defense Authorization Acts; be coordinated with other research and engineering technology investment programs, including the Small Business Innovation Research program; and be managed and resourced so as to evolve into a stable, funded activity. The conferees direct the Secretary to provide this briefing no later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act.

Boots to Business Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 886) that would codify and permanently authorize the Boots to Business program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report and database on items manufactured in the United States for major defense acquisition programs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 892) that would amend chapter 144 of title 10, United States Code, by inserting a new section requiring the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees assessing the domestic source content of procurements carried out in connection with major defense acquisition programs. This section would also require the Secretary of Defense to establish an information repository for the collection of domestic source content information.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Contractor science, technology, engineering, and math programs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 894) that would deem the cost of participating in certain science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) programs an allowable cost under a contract between the contractor and the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the importance of developing a world class cadre of technical talent who can perform critical STEM job functions in both government and industry, including a number which require security clearances. The conferees believe that a strong partnership between the defense industry and the Department of Defense can stimulate efforts to increase that pool of STEM talent. Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to enter into an arrangement with one or more academic institutions to study and develop policy options and recommendations to promote DOD-defense industry collaboration in STEM education activities. The conferees note that these partnerships should be primarily focused on developing collaborative DOD-industry activities relevant to: creating a clearable technical workforce to meet defense missions, supporting educational opportunities for defense sector personnel in both government and industry, and increasing educational opportunities for veterans and military dependents.

Further, the study should focus on activities which are based on metrics and education best practices to ensure maximum effectiveness. The conferees direct that the study, accompanied by an assessment and plan for the Secretary to implement the recommended policy options, if appropriate, should be delivered to the congressional defense committees no later than October 1, 2020. The conferees direct that Secretary to ensure that the study is developed in consultation with industry, education experts, and all appropriate defense organizations with expertise in STEM education.

Report on cost growth of major defense acquisitions programs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 898) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to provide a report analyzing cost growth of major defense acquisition programs to the defense committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives a report analyzing the cost growth of major defense acquisition programs (as defined in section 2430 of title 10 United States Code) during the 15 fiscal years preceding the date of the enactment of this Act.

Report and strategy on terminated foreign contracts

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to Congress a report on contracts performed in foreign countries for which the contract was terminated for convenience because of actions taken by the government of, or an entity located in, the foreign country that impeded the ability of the contractor to perform the contract.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on contracting with persons with willful or repeated violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899E) that would require the head of a Federal department or agency to initiate debarment proceedings for persons who willfully or repeatedly violate the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 201 et seq.).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Federal contractor disclosure of unpaid Federal tax liability

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899H) that would amend section 2313(c) of title 41, United States Code, to include information on any unpaid federal tax liability of covered persons in the federal awardee performance and integrity database.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Pilot program on payment of costs for denied Government Accountability Office bid protests

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899J) that would amend the pilot program established in section 827 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 to require contractors to reimburse the Department of Defense for direct costs incurred by the Department in support of hearings to adjudicate bid protests. The provision would also change the date on which the pilot program begins.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

GAO report on contracting practices of the Corps of Engineers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899M) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a study on the contracting practices of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a study on the contracting practices of USACE, with a specific focus on how USACE complies with and enforces the requirement to pay prevailing wages on federally financed construction jobs, as required by subchapter IV of chapter 31 of title 40, United States Code (commonly referred to as the Davis-Bacon Act). The study should consider the following:

(1) Any programs or protocols USACE has in place for the purpose of carrying out its Davis-Bacon Act enforcement obligations as set forth in the Federal Acquisition Regulation.

(2) Any programs or protocols USACE has in place for the purpose of identifying and addressing independent contractor misclassification on projects subject to the Davis-Bacon Act.

(3) The frequency with which USACE conducts site visits on each covered project to monitor Davis-Bacon Act compliance.

(4) The frequency with which USACE monitors certified payroll reports submitted by contractors and subcontractors on each covered project.

(5) Whether USACE accepts and investigates complaints of Davis-Bacon Act violations submitted by third parties, such as contractors and workers' rights organizations.

(6) Whether USACE maintains a database listing all contractors and subcontractors who have, in one way or another, violated the Davis-Bacon Act and whether USACE consults this database as part of its contract award process.

(7) The frequency, over the last five years, with which USACE penalized, disqualified, terminated, or moved for debarment of a contractor for Davis-Bacon violations.

(8) How USACE verifies that the contractors it hires for its projects are properly licensed.

The conferees further direct the Comptroller General to submit a report that summarizes the results of the study, with recommendations for legislative or regulatory action that would improve the efforts of enforcing the requirement to pay prevailing wages on federally financed construction jobs, to the following committees not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act to: the Committee on Education and Labor; the Committee on Armed Services; and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions; the Committee on Armed Services; and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate.

Comptroller General report on defense business processes

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 899N) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the use of defense business processes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Amendments to research project transaction authorities to eliminate cost-sharing requirements and reduce burdens on use

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5202) that would amend section 2371(e) of title 10, United States Code, to eliminate certain restrictions on the use of the authority and associated funds.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that current law already permits the Secretary to engage in research project transaction authorities with cost sharing from industry that is less than fifty percent of the total costs, as appropriate, to allow for delivering performance with affordability and speed as outlined in the National Defense Strategy. The conferees believe the Secretary should use research project transaction authorities to drive efficiency, adopt and implement new ideas, and leverage leading practices from industry and academia to positively impact and support acquisition, personnel, research, and operational processes.

Report on contracts with entities affiliated with the Government of the People's Republic of China or the Chinese Communist Party

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5801) that would require a report concerning Department of Defense contracts with companies or business entities that are owned or operated by, or affiliated with, the Government of the People's Republic of China or the Chinese Communist Party.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees a report describing all Department of Defense contracts with companies or business entities that are owned or operated by, or affiliated with, the Government of the People's Republic of China or the Chinese Communist Party.

Investment in supply chain security under Defense Production Act of 1950

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6018) that would amend section 303 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 to provide authority through the Defense Production Act for the federal government to rapidly adopt supply chain security measures if a national security need arises.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

TITLE IX—DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT

SUBTITLE A—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE AND RELATED MATTERS

*Headquarters activities of the Department of Defense matters
(sec. 901)*

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 901) that would repeal certain certifications, require a report on numbers of employees in the National Guard Headquarters, provide modest increases in the statutory caps on other headquarters personnel, and sunset the requirements of section 346 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would eliminate the repeal of certain certifications and modify the increases in the statutory caps on headquarters personnel with the intent of enhancing the opportunity for civilian perspective and advice to be considered in the balance on strategic decisions regarding matters of the armed forces.

The conferees are concerned about civilian-military relations and note a perceived unhealthy drift in decision-making on strategic defense issues away from civilian leaders. Therefore, the conferees urge the Secretary of Defense to utilize the relief to existing limitations on civilian personnel supporting the Office of the Secretary of Defense in such a manner as to optimize enhancement of civilian control of the military. For example, the conferees note that section 922 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) assigned additional authority to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations and Low-Intensity Conflict (ASD SO/LIC). As such, the conferees expect the additional authority and relief of limitations on civilian personnel will enhance civilian oversight of U.S. Special Operations Command through its 'service secretary-like' role.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense, not later than January 1, 2020, to submit to the armed services committees a report setting forth:

- 1) the total number of members of the Armed Forces and civilian employees of the Department of Defense assigned to support the Office of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau and the National Guard Joint Staff;

2) a description of the headquarters staff of each geographic combatant command, as well as each sub-unified command and service component command under the geographic combatant command, as of the following dates: October 1, 2014 and October 1, 2019. The description of the headquarters staffs of the geographic combatant commands shall include the number of military and civilian personnel who are authorized, and the numbers assigned or detailed, to duty in, functions of, or direct support to the headquarters element, including a breakout of personnel by functional area as defined in Department of Defense Instruction 5100.73.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense, not later than January 1, 2021, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report setting forth the following:

a) A recommendation for the total number of members and employees required for the Office of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau and the National Guard Joint Staff to execute the missions and functions of the National Guard Bureau and the National Guard Joint Staff.

b) A recommendation for the number of military and civilian personnel who are required in the headquarters element to execute the missions and functions of each geographic combatant command.

Clarifying the roles and responsibilities of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment and the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering (sec. 902)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5902) that would allocate the responsibilities of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics, a position that was eliminated in the National Defense Authorization Act of Fiscal Year 2017, between the two successor entities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 861(j)).

The Senate recedes with amendments that include directing the Secretary of Defense to issue guidance and a framework for independent technical risk assessments (ITRAs), clarifying prototyping responsibilities for the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering, updating the Executive Schedule level for the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering, and adding prototyping responsibilities for the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment.

The conferees note the benefit of having specific guidance detailing the conditions in which the Department would approve ITRAs conducted by independent organizations within the military departments. The conferees therefore direct the Secretary of Defense to issue the required ITRA guidance and framework no later than March 1, 2020, and to provide a briefing to congressional defense committees at that time.

The conferees also direct the Secretary of Defense to further refine and elaborate the definitions of prototyping to ensure that the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering and the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment have clearly defined roles and responsibilities, paying particular attention to the activities executed under budget activity 4, and software activities, which are likely to be difficult to determine.

Return to Chief Information Officer of the Department of Defense of responsibility for business systems and related matters (sec. 903)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 903) that would return the responsibilities for business systems from the Chief Management Officer back to the Chief Information Officer and would realign the Chief Data Officer to report to the Chief Information Officer instead of the Chief Management Officer.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Assessments of responsibilities and authorities of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense (sec. 904)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5901) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to determine the manner in which the Chief Management Officer directs the business-related activities of the military departments and determine the responsibilities and authorities, if any, of the Chief Management Officer for the Defense Agencies and Department of Defense Field Activities. The provision would further direct the Secretary of Defense, in light of these determinations, to assign the responsibilities and authorities of the Chief Management Officer and submit a plan to Congress for carrying out these requirements.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with amendments that would require a Secretary of Defense and an independent assessment of the Chief Management Officer position, and associated reports on those assessments with recommendations regarding the roles and responsibilities of the Chief Management Officer.

The conferees note the Department has faced significant structural challenges in implementing the Chief Management Officer position since its inception. Accordingly, it is the conferees' intention to change the position from senior executive schedule II to III and, pending the assessment directed by this section, to disestablish the Chief Management Officer position altogether. The conferees therefore direct the Secretary to ensure the assessment provided for in this section is sufficiently comprehensive to allow for the reassignment of roles and responsibilities, as well as the authorities that would be necessary for orderly transition of such activities should the conferees decide to do so.

Senior Military Advisor for Cyber Policy and Deputy Principal Cyber Advisor (sec. 905)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 904) that would require the designation of a general or flag officer of the Armed Forces to serve within the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy as the Senior Military Advisor for Cyber Policy and, concurrently, as the Deputy Principal Cyber Advisor.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Exclusion from limitations on personnel in the Office of the Secretary of Defense and Department of Defense headquarters of fellows appointed under the John S. McCain Defense Fellows Program (sec. 906)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 921) that would amend section 932(f)(3) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to stipulate that an individual appointed to a fellowship under this section shall not count against the limitation on the number of Office of the Secretary of Defense personnel in section 143 of title 10, United States Code, or any similar limitation in law on the number of personnel in headquarters of the Department of Defense.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE B—ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT OF OTHER DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE OFFICES AND ELEMENTS

Codification of Assistant Secretaries for Energy, Installations, and Environment of the Army, Navy, and Air Force (sec. 911)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 911) that would amend sections 3016(a), 5016(a), and 8016(a) of title 10, United States Code, to require that each military department maintain an assistant secretary for energy, installations, and environment.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 911).

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE C—OTHER DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT MATTERS

Prohibition on ownership or trading of stocks in certain companies by certain officials of the Department of Defense (sec. 921)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1034) that would prohibit Department of Defense officials who participated personally and substantially in an acquisition valued in excess of $10.0 million who occupy a position on the Executive Schedule, are a member of the Senior Executive Service, a General or Flag Officer, or who served as a program manager, deputy program manager, procuring contracting officer, administrative contracting officer, source selection authority, member of a source selection evaluation board, or chief of a financial or technical evaluation team for a contract in excess of $10.0 million, from owning or trading a publicly traded stock of a company that, during the preceding calendar year, received more than $1.0 billion in revenue from the Department of Defense, including through contracts with the Department.

Further, the provision would direct that no officer or employee of the Department of Defense may own or trade a publicly traded stock of a company that is a contractor or subcontractor of the Department, if the Standards of Conduct Office of the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Defense determines that the value of the stock may be directly or indirectly influenced by any official act of that officer or employee.

Any official who knowingly fails to comply with these requirements would be subject to administrative action by the Secretary of Defense. The definition of publicly traded stock would not include a widely-held investment fund, for purposes of this provision.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would prohibit an individual serving in a key acquisition position in the Department of Defense who is: (1) A civilian officer or employee in a Senior Executive Service, Senior-Level, or Scientific or Professional position; or (2) A member of the Armed Forces in a grade above O-6, from owning or purchasing publicly traded stock of a company that is one of the ten entities awarded the most amount of contract funds by the Department of Defense in a fiscal year during the five preceding fiscal years. This same prohibition would apply to any civilian appointed to a position in the Department of Defense by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The prohibition would not apply if the aggregate market value of the stock holdings ascribed to the individual officer, employee, member of the Armed Forces, or appointee does not exceed the de minimis threshold established in the Code of Federal Regulations, or if the stock is purchased and owned as part of an Excepted Investment Fund or mutual fund.

Limitation on consolidation of Defense Media Activity (sec. 922)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 912) that would prohibit funds authorized or appropriated for the Department of Defense to be used to consolidate the Defense Media Activity until 180 days after the Secretary of Defense submits a report that includes any plans to consolidate the Defense Media Activity.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would remove the funding limitation, direct the Secretary of Defense not to take any actions to consolidate the Defense Media Activity until 60 days after submitting the required report, and change the definition of consolidation.

Report on resources to implement the civilian casualty policy of the Department of Defense (sec. 923)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 922) that would require, not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committee a report on the resources necessary to fulfill the requirements of section 936 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) over the future years defense plan.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE D—UNITED STATES SPACE FORCE

United States Space Force Act (secs. 951-961)

The Senate bill contained a series of provisions (sec. 1601-1608) that would establish the United States Space Force (USSF) within the Department of the Air Force and make changes to the organization of, authorities of, and acquisition associated with space forces assigned to the Department of Defense (DOD).

The House amendment contained a similar series of provisions (sec. 921-925) that would establish a U.S. Space Corps within the Department of the Air Force.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would enact the United States Space Force Act. The amendment would modify title 10, United States Code, to establish the United States Space Force as an Armed Force within the Department of the Air Force. The amendment would make multiple technical and conforming changes necessary to fully establish the United States Space Force in title 10, United States Code.

The Space Force would include military personnel of the Air Force Space Command and other military personnel of the Air Force as assigned to the Space Force by the Secretary of the Air Force. The amendment would prohibit the authorization of additional military billets. The conferees expect that the Space Force would be supported by civilian personnel within the Department of the Air Force and by Air Force Reserve elements, as determined by the Secretary of the Air Force. The conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force to provide to the congressional defense committees a total force management plan in support of the Space Force. The report shall be delivered not later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act.

The amendment would designate the commander of the Space Force as the Chief of Space Operations (CSO), appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The CSO's rank would be that of general with a 4-year term of command. The CSO could be the incumbent Commander, Air Force Space Command, without further appointment. The CSO would report directly to the Secretary of the Air Force upon enactment of this Act. After 1 year, the CSO would be a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The amendment would provide the Secretary of Defense with the temporary authority to establish a dual-hatted arrangement wherein the CSO, for the first year after enactment, would also serve as the Commander, U.S. Space Command (SPACECOM).

The conferees expect the Space Force and its supporting elements to be the exclusive source of personnel of the Department of the Air Force to be assigned, by the CSO, to the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO), unless otherwise specified by the Secretary of the Air Force.

The amendment would establish the position of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (ASD) for Space Policy within the Office of the Secretary of Defense. The amendment would require the Secretary of Defense to seek to enter into an agreement with a Federally Funded Research and Development Center (FFRDC) to develop recommendations on the appropriate elements of the Office of the ASD for Space Policy, including, in particular, whether to include space capabilities and programs currently assigned to the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence or in the Military Intelligence Program. The Secretary would submit to the congressional defense committees such recommendations, together with an assessment of those recommendations, not later than 180 after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The amendment would rename the Principal Assistant to the Secretary of the Air Force for Space as the Assistant Secretary for Space Acquisition and Integration (ASAF/SP), who would report directly to the Secretary of the Air Force and serve as the senior architect for space systems and programs across the Department of Defense, providing advice to the service acquisition executive (SAE) of the Air Force (the existing Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Acquisition). The ASAF/SP would oversee and direct the Space Rapid Capabilities Office, the Space and Missile Systems Center, and the Space Development Agency, providing fiscal and strategic guidance to the organizations. Effective October 1, 2022, the ASAF/SP would also become the SAE for Space Systems and Programs, which would include all space acquisition activities within the Air Force. All space acquisition projects currently managed by the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Acquisition would be transitioned to the ASAF/SP in the role of SAE for Space Systems and Programs, therefore providing for two SAEs reporting to the Secretary of the Air Force. The ASAF/SP would require confirmation by the Senate for this additional role.

The conferees note that the Deputy Secretary of Defense did not submit to the congressional defense committees the plan required by section 1601(b) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232). Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force to provide to the congressional defense committees a report on whether and, if so, how to implement an alternative acquisition system, due not later than March 31, 2020. The report should include an assessment of the feasibility of a new acquisition system specifically tailored for space systems and programs, including with respect to procuring space vehicles, ground segments relating to such vehicles, and satellite terminals. The plan shall include recommendations with respect to whether the alternative acquisition system described in the plan should use the Joint Capabilities Integration and Development System process or instead use a new requirements process developed in a manner that ensures that requirements for a program are synchronized across the space vehicles and ground segments. It should also consider how such a system can achieve faster acquisition and more rapid fielding of critical systems, including by using new commercial capability. The conferees also direct the Secretary to submit, not later than 120 days after the enactment of this Act, to the congressional defense committees a report with recommendations on the integration of acquisition authority for the NRO into acquisition authority of the Air Force for space systems and programs.

The amendment would also establish a Space Force Acquisition Council (SAC) within the Office of the Secretary of the Air Force that would oversee, direct, and manage Air Force acquisitions for space in order to ensure integration across the national security space enterprise. The SAC would meet not less frequently than monthly. The amendment would establish the ASAF/SP as the chair of Council. The Under Secretary of the Air Force, the Director of the NRO, the CSO, the ASD for Space Policy and the Commander, SPACECOM, would also be members of the Council. The amendment would require the SAC to submit quarterly reports to the congressional defense committees through the first calendar year quarter of 2025 on the activities of the Council.

The conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force and Secretary of Defense to submit the following reports and briefings to the congressional defense committees on the establishment of the United States Space Force:

(1) A report and accompanying briefing on a comprehensive plan for the organizational structure of the Space Force, to be submitted by the Secretary of the Air Force not later than February 1, 2020. The report should include the following elements:

(a) A detailed description of the structure and organizational elements required for the Space Force to perform its mission;

(b) A detailed description of the organization and staff required to support the CSO;

(c) A detailed explanation of the manner in which the Space Force is expected to affect the composition and function of current space elements of the Armed Forces;

(d) A description of the manner in which the Space Force will be organized, trained, and equipped; and

(e) A description of the manner in which the Space Force will coordinate with SPACECOM and other space elements of the Armed Forces;

(2) A report and accompanying briefing on the anticipated funding requirements for the establishment of the Space Force and for its operations and activities from fiscal year 2021 through fiscal year 2025, to be submitted by the Secretary of Defense not later than February 1, 2020. The report should include the budget activity, line number, line item, line item title, and a description of the requirements specific to the Space Force for each account of the following:

(a) Procurement accounts;

(b) Research, development, test, and evaluation accounts;

(c) Operation and maintenance accounts; and

(d) Military personnel accounts.

The report should also include, for each project under military construction accounts, the country, location, project title, and project amount by fiscal year, and, for any expenditures and proposed appropriations not included, an explanation with a level of detail at least equivalent to the level of detail provided in the future year's defense program submitted to Congress. The report may be submitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex;

(3) A report setting forth a comprehensive legislative proposal for amendments to the laws under the jurisdiction of the congressional defense committees to fully integrate the Space Force as an Armed Force, and the regular and reserve military and the civilian personnel of the Space Force, into current law, to be submitted by the Secretary of Defense not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act;

(4) A plan to ensure the quality of the military and civilian personnel of the Space Force, to include:

(a) Mechanisms to define career professional milestones and manage the career progression of members and civilian employees of the Space Force throughout their careers;

(b) Identification and establishment of space-related career fields;

(c) Pay and incentive structures;

(d) The management and oversight of the space cadre;

(e) Training relating to planning and executing warfighting missions and operations in space;

(f) Conducting periodic cadre-wide professional assessments to determine how the cadre is developing as a group;

(g) Establishing a centralized method to control personnel assignments and distribution;

(h) The identification of future space-related career fields that the Secretary determines appropriate, including a space acquisition career field; and

(i) Identification of overlap among the operations and acquisition career fields to identify opportunities for cross-functional careers.

The Secretary should submit to the congressional defense committees a report on such plan not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The conferees also direct the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Director of National Intelligence, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing the results of a review on processes designed to achieve more effective integration of capabilities among the NRO, National Security Agency, National Geospatial Intelligence Agency (NGA), and SPACECOM for joint operations. This report should be submitted not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act.

Finally, this amendment would limit the total amount of funds to be obligated and expended in fiscal year 2020 for the establishment of the Space Force to the amount requested for the Space Force in the President's budget request for fiscal year 2020. The amendment would require the Secretary of the Air Force to implement the establishment of the United States Space Force not later than 18 months after the date of the enactment of this Act. The amendment would also require the Secretary and the CSO to jointly provide to the congressional defense committees briefings on the status of the current missions, operations and activities, manpower requirements, budget and funding requirements, and implementation not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and every 60 days thereafter until March 31, 2023.

The conferees note that nothing in this provision is intended to be construed as mandating any changes to the mission or operations of the NRO or NGA.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Repeal of conditional designation of Explosive Ordnance Disposal Corps as a basic branch of the Army

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 912) that would repeal section 582 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), which established the conditional designation of explosive ordnance disposal as a basic branch of the Army.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Modernization of certain forms and surveys

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 913) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study to identify each form and survey that contains a term or classification that the Secretary determines may be considered racially or ethnically insensitive and provide a plan to modernize those forms.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide an interim briefing, no later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives, regarding efforts to date to review and identify forms and surveys under the purview of the Department of Defense or its components, that contain a term or classification that may be considered racially or ethnically insensitive. Additionally, no later than a year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the conferees direct the Secretary to provide the committees a report setting forth the Department's comprehensive plan to modernize the forms identified, and the progress to date in executing such plan.

TITLE X—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—FINANCIAL MATTERS

General transfer authority (sec. 1001)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1001) that would allow the Secretary of Defense, with certain limitations, to make transfers between amounts authorized for fiscal year 2020 in division A of this Act. The section would limit the total amount transferred under this authority to $4.0 billion. This section would also require prompt notification to Congress of each transfer made.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1001) that would allow the Secretary of Defense to transfer up to $1.0 billion of fiscal year 2020 funds authorized in division A of this Act. It would also prohibit transfers to the Drug Interdiction and Counter Drug Activities, Defense-wide account and require the Secretary of Defense to certify the transfer was made to higher priority items based on unforeseen military requirements.

The House recesses.

Defense Business Audit Remediation Plan (sec. 1002)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1002) that would amend the annual reporting and semiannual briefing requirements contained in section 240b of title 10, United States Code, to include a current accounting of the defense business systems of the Department of Defense that will be introduced, replaced, updated, modified, or retired in connection with the audit of the full financial statements of the Department, including a comprehensive roadmap displaying in-service, retirement, and other pertinent dates for affected defense business systems as well as current cost-to-complete estimates for each effort.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would modify the reporting requirements.

Financial improvement and audit remediation plan (sec. 1003)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1003) that would amend section 240b of title 10, United States Code, by updating the elements of annual reports, semiannual briefs, and audit remediation services of financial improvements and audit remediation plans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Reporting requirements relating to Department of Defense audits (sec. 1004)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1004) that would require an annual report ranking each of the military departments and Defense Agencies in order of how advanced they are in achieving auditable financial statements as required by law. This report would include, for the bottom quartile of departments and agencies ranked in the report, an additional report describing the material weaknesses of the reporting entity, underlying causes of the material weaknesses, and a plan for remediation. The provision would also require a report presenting a plan for achieving an unmodified audit opinion on the Department of Defense-wide consolidated audit within 5 years.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the limitation on use of funds and would modify the reporting requirement.

Inclusion of certain military construction projects in annual reports on unfunded priorities of the Armed Forces and the combatant commands (sec. 1005)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1003) that would amend section 222a of title 10, United States Code, to require the military services and combatant commands to submit separate lists of unfunded priorities for military construction. This provision would require the lists to be in priority order.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Prohibition on delegation of responsibility for submittal to Congress of Out-Year Unconstrained Total Munition Requirements and Out-Year Inventory numbers (sec. 1006)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1004) that would amend section 222a of U.S.C 10 to prohibit the chief of staff of each of the Services from delegating the reporting requirement outside the service concerned.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Annual budget justification display for service-common and other support and enabling capabilities for special operations forces (sec. 1007)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1005) that would amend chapter 9 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to include in the budget materials submitted to Congress under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code, for fiscal year 2021 and any subsequent fiscal year, a consolidated budget justification display showing service-common and other support and enabling capabilities for special operations forces requested by a military service or Defense Agency.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Element in annual reports on the Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation Plan on activities with respect to classified programs (sec. 1008)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1005) that would amend section 240b(b)(1) of title 10, United States Code, to include audit results and activities for classified programs in the Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation Plan. The plan shall remain unclassified and include a classified annex, if required.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Plan of the Department of Defense for financial management information (sec. 1009)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1006) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) to track the costs of the audit corrective action plans.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would modify the reporting requirements.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing the following Department-Wide audit metrics:

(1) Total number of open audit notices of findings and recommendations (NFRs) for the most recent fiscal year and the preceding two fiscal years where applicable;

(2) Number of repeat or reissued NFRs from the most recent fiscal year;

(3) Number of NFRs that were previously forecasted to be closed in the most recently completed fiscal year that remain open;

(4) Number of closed NFRs in the current fiscal year and prior fiscal years;

(5) Number of material weaknesses that were validated by external auditors as fully resolved or downgraded in the current fiscal year over prior fiscal years;

(6) Breakdown by fiscal years in which open NFRs are forecasted to be closed; and

(7) Explanations for unfavorable trends in these categories.

Update of authorities and renaming of Department of Defense Acquisition Workforce Development Fund (sec. 1010)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1007) that would amend section 1705 of title 10, United States Code, to rename the Defense Acquisition Workforce Development Fund to the Defense Acquisition Workforce Development Account in recognition that it is funded by appropriations.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Transparency of accounting firms used to support Department of Defense audit (sec. 1011)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1008) that would require audit firms to report fully adjudicated disciplinary proceedings to the Department of Defense, ensure the details of such disciplinary proceedings are kept confidential, and would provide a definition of "associated person".

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would eliminate the insertion of "fully adjudicated" and the definition of associated persons.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing, in conjunction with the Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation Plan, on the implementation of section 1006 of John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 no later than June 30, 2020.

Modification of required elements of annual reports on emergency and extraordinary expenses of the Department of Defense (sec. )

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.1002) that would amend section 127 of title 10, United States Code, to modify the annual reporting requirement on emergency and extraordinary expenses of the Department of Defense.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE B—COUNTERDRUG ACTIVITIES

Modification of authority to support a unified counterdrug and counterterrorism campaign in Colombia (sec. 1021)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.1011) that would amend section 1021 of the Ronald W. Reagan National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2005 (Public Law 108-375), as most recently amended by section 1011 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), to modify authorized assistance to the Government of Colombia to address the emergence of new threats.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would modify the organizations with respect to which assistance may be provided under this authority.

Extension of authority for joint task forces to provide support to law enforcement agencies conducting counter-terrorism activities (sec. 1022)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1012) that would extend for two years section 1022 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004 (Public Law 108-136).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1031) that would extend for two years section 1022 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004 (Public Law 108-136).

The Senate recesses.

Sense of Congress regarding Department of Defense counterdrug activities in the transit zone and Caribbean basin (sec. 1023)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1014) that would express the Sense of Congress that counterdrug activities in the transit zone and Caribbean basin are critical to national security.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Assessment of impact of proposed border wall on volume of illegal narcotics (sec. 1024)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1015) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, to conduct an assessment of the impact that any planned or proposed border wall construction would have on the volume of illegal narcotics entering the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE C—NAVAL VESSELS

Modification of authority to purchase vessels using funds in National Defense Sealift Fund (sec. 1031)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1016) that would amend section 2218(f)(3) of title 10, United States Code, in subparagraph (E) by striking "10 new sealift vessels" and inserting "10 new sealift vessels, auxiliary vessels, or a combination of such vessels".

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Use of National Defense Sealift Fund for procurement of two used vessels (sec. 1032)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1022) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to seek to enter into a contract for two used vessels for mobilization purposes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Transportation by sea of supplies for the Armed Forces and Defense Agencies (sec. 1033)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1021) that would modify section 2631 of title 10, United States Code, to expand application of cargo transported by the Department of Defense to include Defense Agencies. Additionally, this provision would require additional latitude in the transportation of fuel products to better expand opportunities for U.S. flagged resources.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Senior Technical Authority for each naval vessel class (sec. 1034)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1017) that would require the designation of a Senior Technical Authority (STA) for each class of naval vessels.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would remove the prohibition on delegation of the authority to designate STAs and adjust STA tenure requirements.

The conferees' intent is that STAs are primarily or entirely employees of the Naval Sea Systems Command engineering directorate (code 05) with the STA designation and associated duties as primary or collateral responsibilities.

Permanent authority for sustaining operational readiness of littoral combat ships on extended deployment (sec. 1035)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1018) that would amend section 8680 of title 10, United States Code, to provide the Secretary of the Navy with additional flexibility to maintain Littoral Combat Ships (LCSs) by allowing government or contractor personnel to conduct maintenance on deployed LCS vessels regardless of ship location.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would specify allowable maintenance activities.

The conferees note the two classes of LCS have significantly different maintenance requirements and sustainment models as compared to other classes of Navy surface ships.

Accordingly, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Navy to submit to the congressional defense committees, no later than March 1, 2020, comprehensive LCS class maintenance plans for each LCS class. Each such plan shall contain the following elements for such class: (1) An assessment of the implications of extended LCS deployments on material readiness and operational availability; (2) A comprehensive sustainment strategy necessary to support the total number of LCSs, including maintenance requirements, sustainment concepts, and estimated life cycle costs; (3) A description of the permanent and temporary facilities required to support LCSs operating on extended deployments at overseas locations; (4) A description of all contracting strategies for LCS ship repair and maintenance, including short- and long-term; (5) A summary of projected LCS maintenance costs, by fiscal year, for fiscal years 2020 through 2025 and the extent to which actual costs have deviated from prior estimates; and (6) Other related matters the Secretary deems appropriate.

Formal training for shipboard system programs of record (sec. 1036)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1023) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to ensure there is a formal schoolhouse for all shipboard systems that are current programs of record in the fleet.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require formal training for such systems, but not require the training occur at a schoolhouse.

Report on shipbuilder training and the defense industrial base (sec. 1037)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1024) that would require the Secretary of the Defense to submit a report on how the Navy plans to manage the need to grow the shipbuilding workforce as it builds to a 355-ship Navy.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit the report in coordination with the Secretary of Labor.

Use of competitive procedures for CVN-80 and CVN-81 dual aircraft carrier contract (sec. 1038)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1025) that would require to the extent practicable and unless otherwise required by law, the Secretary of the Navy to ensure that competitive procedures are used with respect to any task order or delivery order issued under a dual aircraft carrier contract relating to the CVN-80 and CVN-81.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Report on expanding naval vessel maintenance (sec. 1039)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1026) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on allowing maintenance to be performed on naval vessels at shipyards other than shipyards in the vessels' homeports.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the report to include a description of the ability of non-homeport firms to maintain surge capacity when homeport shipyards lack the capacity or capability to meet homeport requirements and make other technical changes.

SUBTITLE D—COUNTERTERRORISM

Modification of support of special operations to combat terrorism (sec. 1041)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1037) that would amend section 127e of title 10, United States Code, to modify the notification required pursuant to this authority.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Extension of prohibition on use of funds for transfer or release of individuals detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to certain countries (sec. 1042)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1023) that would extend until December 31, 2020, the prohibition on the use of funds provided to the Department of Defense to transfer or release individuals detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to Libya, Somalia, Syria, and Yemen.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1032) that would prohibit the use of funding authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on December 31, 2020, to transfer, release, or assist in the transfer or release of any individual detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to Libya, Somalia, Syria, Yemen, Cuba, Iran, Russia, North Korea, Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, or Venezuela.

The House recesses.

Extension of prohibition on use of funds for transfer or release of individuals detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to the United States (sec. 1043)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1021) that would extend until December 31, 2020, the prohibition on the use of funds provided to the Department of Defense to transfer or release individuals detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to the United States.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Extension of prohibition on use of funds to construct or modify facilities in the United States to house detainees transferred from United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba (sec. 1044)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1022) that would extend until December 31, 2020, the prohibition on the use of funds provided to the Department of Defense to construct or modify facilities in the United States to house detainees transferred from United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Extension of prohibition on use of funds to close or relinquish control of United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba (sec. 1045)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1024) that would extend through fiscal year 2020, the prohibition on the use of funds provided to close or abandon United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; to relinquish control of Guantanamo Bay to the Republic of Cuba; or to implement a material modification to the Treaty between the United States of America and Cuba signed at Washington, D.C., on May 29, 1934, which modification would constructively close United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Chief Medical Officer at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba (sec. 1046)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1026) that would require the establishment of a Chief Medical Officer (CMO) at the United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to conduct oversight of medical care provided to individuals detained at Guantanamo Bay, and to ensure that such medical care meets the defined standard of care. The CMO would report directly to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs and hold a grade not below that of colonel, or captain in the Navy. The CMO would make medical determinations, including: (1) Decisions regarding assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of detainees; and (2) Medical accommodations to detainee living conditions and operating procedures for detention facilities. In the event the commander of Joint Task Force-Guantanamo declined to follow a determination of the CMO, the provision would require the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations and Low Intensity Conflict and the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs to resolve the matter jointly, within 7 days of receipt of the notification of such declination. Additionally, the provision would authorize the CMO to secure access to any individual, information, or assistance that the CMO considered necessary to carry out the duties of the position.

The Senate bill also contained a provision (sec. 1025) that would authorize the temporary transfer of individuals detained at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to the United States for emergency or critical medical treatment not available at Guantanamo.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1034) that would express the sense of Congress that the increasing age of detainees at the United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, poses challenges for the provision of medical care, and that the United States has an ongoing obligation to provide medical care that meets appropriate standards of care to the detainees at Guantanamo. This provision would also express the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense should take into account the standards of care provided at other relevant facilities, including those administered by the Federal Bureau of Prisons, when determining the policies regarding medical care for detainees at Guantanamo.

The House recedes to Senate section 1026, with technical and clarifying amendments.

The Senate recedes to Senate section 1025.

The House recedes to House section 1034.

Independent assessment on gender and countering violent extremism (sec. 1047)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1035) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into contract with a nonprofit entity or federally funded research and development center independent of the Department of Defense to conduct research and analysis on the intersection of gender and violent extremism and terrorism and provide a report to the congressional defense committees on the result of such assessment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

SUBTITLE E—MISCELLANEOUS AUTHORITIES AND LIMITATIONS

Scheduling of Department of Defense executive aircraft controlled by Secretaries of military departments (sec. 1051)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1041) that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure there is coordination in scheduling executive airlift across the entire Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Explosive ordnance defense disposal program (sec. 1052)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1042) that would amend section 2284 of title 10, United States Code, to make technical changes regarding the responsibilities of the executive agent for the explosive ordnance disposal training and technology program. The provision would also eliminate the requirement to designate a combat support agency to manage a Defense-wide program element for certain explosive ordnance disposal activities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Technical correction and extension of reporting requirement regarding enhancement of information sharing and coordination of military training between Department of Homeland Security and Department of Defense (sec. 1053)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1012) that would provide a technical correction to and extend until December 31, 2022, a report required by section 1014 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328).

The Senate bill no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Notification on the provision of defense sensitive support (sec. 1054)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1043) that would modify section 1055 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) to provide additional Defense Sensitive Support reporting requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Revision to authorities relating to mail service for members of the Armed Forces and Department of Defense civilians overseas (sec. 1055)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1081) that would amend section 3401 of title 39, United States Code, to clarify that Active-Duty servicemembers and Department of Defense civilian employees providing support to military operations are authorized to mail personal correspondence at no cost when deployed for a contingency operation in an area designated by the President. The provision also would extend the free mail program to all hospitalized servicemembers wounded in a designated area. Finally, the provision would allow certain mail between military post offices or from a military post office to a point of entry into the United States to be transported by surface shipment.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Access to and use of military post offices by United States citizens employed overseas by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization who perform functions in support of military operations of the Armed Forces (sec. 1056)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1082) that would modify section 406 of title 39, United States Code, to permit the Secretary of Defense to authorize the use of military post offices in locations outside the United States by citizens of the United States who are employed by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and who perform functions in support of the Armed Forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Expenditure of funds for Department of Defense intelligence and counterintelligence activities (sec. 1057)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1047) that would authorize the expenditure of no more than 5 percent of Military Intelligence Program funds for Department of Defense recurring or anticipated intelligence and counterintelligence activities for each of the fiscal years 2020 through 2025. Further, this section would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report of the expenditures covered by this authorization for each of the fiscal years 2020 through 2025. This section would provide additional authorization in response to section 1041 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), which required the Secretary of Defense to clarify use of emergency and extraordinary expenses for intelligence and counterintelligence activities that were determined not to be of an emergent or extraordinary nature.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Limitation on use of funds for the inactivation of Army watercraft units (sec. 1058)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1045) that would prohibit any funds authorized or appropriated by this Act to be used for the inactivation of any Army watercraft unit until the Secretary of Defense submits to Congress a certification on the Army Watercraft Requirements Review and a federally funded research and development center has reviewed and validated the Army's ability to meet watercraft requirements of the combatant commanders.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Independent public accountant audit of financial systems of the Department of Defense

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1007) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to ensure financial systems of the Department of Defense are reviewed by an independent public accountant to validate the financial system will meet applicable Federal requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees are encouraged by the Department of Defense's completion of the first audit in 2018. In order to improve the Department of Defense's ability to continue audit compliance, the Secretary of Defense shall ensure that each major implementation of, or modification to, a financial system of the Department of Defense meets all applicable Federal statutes, regulations, and policies with regards to auditability.

Modification of authority to provide support to other agencies for counterdrug activities and activities to counter transnational organized crime

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1011) that would modify the types of support authorized by section 284 of title 10, United States Code as well as include additional congressional notification requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Repeal of Secretary of Defense review of curricula and program structures of National Guard counterdrug schools

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1013) that would repeal the Secretary of Defense's review of National Guard counterdrug school curricula and program structures.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees note the importance of the National Guard counterdrug schools in the development, training, and maintenance of skills for Federal, State, local, and foreign government officials to combat illicit trafficking. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the House and Senate Armed Services Committees no later than 90 days after enactment of this Act on the Department of Defense review of the curricula and program structures of the National Guard counterdrug schools. The briefing shall include the following:

- (1) An overview of the National Guard counterdrug schools.
- (2) An overview of the Department's guidance related to the National Guard counterdrug program.
- (3) An explanation of the Department's guidance specifically related to the curricula and program structures of the National Guard counterdrug schools.
- (4) A description of the Department's goals, objectives, and effect-based measures of performance related to the National Guard counterdrug schools.
- (5) An initial evaluation of the establishment of the National Guard Bureau counterdrug schools executive steering committees, the committees' progress toward implementing guidance, and the structure to incorporate feedback regarding such guidance from the States.
- (6) An initial evaluation of curricula requirements identified by State counterdrug coordinators.
- (7) An initial evaluation of the National Guard counterdrug schools activity plans received from States.
- (8) A cost analysis of the metrics used to explain how any savings and efficiencies will be achieved by any changes made, including an analysis of the elimination of contracted positions.
- (9) Any other matters the Secretary considers appropriate.

Clarification of authority of military commissions under chapter 47A of title 10, United States Code, to punish contempt

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1031) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 47A of title 10, United States Code, to permit a judge of the United States Court of Military Commission Review or a military judge detailed to a military commission to punish contempt. The provision also would provide that the punishment for contempt may not exceed confinement for 30 days, a fine of $1,000, or both and would establish the conditions under which punishment for contempt is reviewable.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Prohibition on use of funds for transfer to and detention of additional individuals, including United States citizens, at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1033) that would prohibit the use of funding authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on December 31, 2020, to detain any additional individuals including United States citizens, under the law of war or pursuant to military commission proceedings, at the detention facility at the United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The provision also would require a plan identifying a disposition other than continued law of war detention at United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for each individual currently detained at Guantanamo.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Enhancement of authorities on forfeiture of Federal benefits by the National Guard

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1037) that would amend section 108 of title 32, United States Code, to provide that the availability of Federal funds provided to the National Guard of individual States is contingent upon compliance with Federal law and policy applicable to the National Guard. The provision would also authorize the President to withdraw Federal recognition of National Guard units and members for failure to comply with Federal law and policy and would authorize the President to bar units and individuals from receiving Federal funds if the unit or individuals fail to comply with Federal law and policy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Public availability of military commission proceedings

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1038) that would amend title 10, United States Code, to provide that, as to any proceeding of a military commission that is made open to the public, the military commission judge may order that the proceedings be made available to be watched remotely by the public through the internet.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Limitation on placement by the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness of work with federally funded research and development centers

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1039) that would amend would prohibit the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness from placing any work with a federally funded research and development center (FFRDC) until a report containing a list of all studies, reports, and other analyses being undertaken for the Under Secretary is submitted to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Modification and technical correction of authority for deployment of members of the Armed Forces to the southern land border of the United States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1044) that would modify the authority under section 1059 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) by requiring a certification and notification requirement prior to the provision of assistance to the United States Custom and Border Protection at the U.S. southern land border. Additionally, this section would amend and add reporting requirements, require that the support be on a reimbursable basis, and terminate the authority on September 30, 2023.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Use of funds for defense of the Armed Forces and United States citizens against attack by foreign hostile forces

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1045) that would allow funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to be used to ensure the ability of the Armed Forces to defend themselves, and the United States, against attack.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The Senate recesses.

Prohibition on use of funds for construction of a wall, fence, or other physical barrier along the southern border of the United States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1046) that would prohibit the obligation, expense, or use of funds, that have been authorized to be appropriated for national defense in fiscal years 2015 through 2020, to design or carry out a project to construct, replace, or modify a wall, fence or other physical barrier along the international border between the United States and Mexico.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Limitation on use of funds to house children separated from parents

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1044) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to house a child separated from a parent, unless the Department of Homeland Security demonstrated in a hearing that the parent or legal guardian was unfit or presented a danger to the child.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1048) that would prohibit amounts made available to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020 from being used to house children separated from their parent or legal guardian by Customs and Border Protection near a port of entry or within 100 miles of the border of the United States, unless a state court, an official with the state or county child welfare agency, or a Custom and Border Protection chief patrol agent or the area port director determines that the separation is in the best interest of the child because the child is in danger of abuse or neglect.

The conference agreement does not include either provision.

Limitation on use of funds for providing housing for unaccompanied alien children

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1049) that would require the Department of Defense to submit a congressional certification that any housing provided to unaccompanied alien children meets the standards of the Department of Health and Human Services, including those provided in the Flores settlement agreement.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Transfer of certain items included in categories I, II, and III of the United States Munitions List to the Commerce Control List

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1050) that would prohibit the President from removing from the United States Munitions List any item that was included in category I, II, or III of the United States Munitions List, as in effect on August 31, 2017.

Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Limitation on use of funds for reimbursement of expenses at certain properties

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1050A) that would prohibit the obligation or expenditure of funds made available for the Department of Defense at a list of properties or to an entity with an ownership interest in such properties.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Limitation on use of funds for exhibition of parade of military forces and hardware for review by the President

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1050B) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized by this Act or otherwise appropriated for Fiscal Year 2020 for the Department of Defense from being obligated or expended for any exhibition or parade of military forces and hardware, with the exception of ceremonial honors and customary ceremonial duties, for review by the President outside authorized military operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on use of DOD equipment, personnel, and facilities for ICE detention

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1050C) that would prohibit the use of facilities, equipment, or personnel of the Department of Defense to house or to construct housing for foreign nationals in the custody of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on joint force plan for implementation of strategies of the Department of Defense for the Arctic

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1054) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with Secretaries of the military departments, to submit a joint force plan for implementing the Department of Defense's December 2016 Report to Congress on the Strategy to Protect United States National Security Interests in the Arctic Region and the updated Arctic strategy to improve and enhance joint operations, which was mandated in the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note the increasing involvement of near-peer competitors in the Arctic region and direct the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with Secretaries of the military departments, to submit a plan for implementing the June 2019 Department of Defense Arctic Strategy.

Report on use of Northern Tier bases in implementation of Arctic strategy of the United States

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1055) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the use of bases in the northern latitudes, including Northern Tier bases, for implementing the recommendations in the December 2016 "Report to Congress on Strategy to Protect United States National Security Interests in the Arctic Region" and the updated Arctic strategy required to be submitted to the congressional defense committees under section 1071 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the use of bases in the northern latitudes, including Northern Tier bases, for implementing the recommendations in the June 2019 Department of Defense Arctic Strategy no later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act.

Comptroller General of the United States report on post-government employment of former Department of Defense officials

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1060) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to update a prior report on the post-government employment of former Department of Defense officials.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to initiate a review, not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, updating the information and findings set forth in the Government Accountability Office report entitled "Defense Contracting: Post-Government Employment of Former DOD Officials Needs Greater Transparency" (GAO-08-485), and to provide an interim briefing on the status of the review to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than December 31, 2020, with a report to follow by a date agreed upon with the committees.

Elimination of requirement to submit reports to Congress in paper format

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1062) that would enable the Department of Defense to provide reports required by the Congress in an electronic format rather than a paper format.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to deliver to the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives reports required by Congress in electronic format only. This practice will begin on a date mutually agreed upon by the Secretary and the committee. This change does not apply to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate. By eliminating the requirement of the delivery of congressional reports in paper format, the conferees believe the Department of Defense will be able to streamline the reporting process both within the Department and in delivery of its reports to the Congress. This process would only apply to unclassified reports.

Additionally, the conferees note that the Department is required by section 122a of title 10, United States Code, to ensure that reports are made available to the public, to the maximum extent practicable, by posting the reports on a publicly accessible website. The Committee on Armed Services of the Senate continues to explore means of reducing the administrative burden to the Department associated with generating and delivering hard copy paper reports to the U.S. Senate, however success in this endeavor is contingent on the Department's compliance with section 122a of title 10, United States Code.

Sense of Congress regarding modular airborne fire fighting system

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1075) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees regarding plans of the Secretary to fund long-term sustainment and operation and maintenance of MAFFS capabilities, including plans for the National Guard Bureau to submit program objective memoranda for funding for lifetime costs to the Department of Defense to be included in future Department of Defense Budget Requests, including the feasibility of establishing a dedicated program-of-record.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on policies relating to small farms

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1077) that would require the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) and the Defense Commissary Agency (DeCA) to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on policies relating to small farms.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the DLA and DeCA to submit a report on the programs, policies, and practices of the DLA and DeCA relating to small farms, farms owned by new and beginning farmers, and farmers who are veterans or minorities not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act to the congressional defense committees. The report should include a description of opportunities and barriers to expanding the use of such programs, policies, or practices.

Report on financial costs of overseas United States military posture and operations

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1079) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the financial costs of U.S. military posture and operations overseas.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Department of Defense currently provides an annual budget exhibit that describes the country-by-country costs of maintaining overseas posture, which estimated worldwide posture costs of just over $24.0 billion in fiscal year 2019. However, the exhibit excludes considerable costs such as those borne in overseas contingency accounts and does not account for host nation contributions, either cash or in-kind, or contributions from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a comprehensive report with the budget submission, or not later than February 15, 2020, to the congressional defense committees on the actual costs of maintaining the overseas posture and presence of the U.S. Armed Forces in fiscal year 2019. The report should address the financial costs incurred by the United States, as well as financial and in-kind contributions made by host-countries and multilateral organizations like NATO, related to overseas enduring and contingency infrastructure and the presence of permanent and rotational U.S. Armed Forces.

Additionally, the conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to review the Department's report to determine whether it accurately captures the full costs of overseas posture and host nation contributions and to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 180 days after the Department's report is submitted to the committees.

Public availability of Chief Management Office annual budget reports

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1080B) that would amend section 132a(c)(1)(B) of title 10, United States Code, to require that the Chief Management Officer's reports on Defense Agency and Department of Defense Field Activity proposed budgets for enterprise business operations be made publicly available on an internet website in a searchable format.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Plan to increase and expand cold weather training

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1080D) that would require the Secretary of the Army to conduct an assessment of cold weather training requirements in light of increased operations and vulnerability to great power competition in the Arctic; and develop a plan to increase and expand cold weather training opportunities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

The conferees directed the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019. The conferees note that the Department has not provided this report to the committees and direct the Secretary to expedite completion and submission of the report by not later than January 31, 2020.

Comptroller General review of Department of Defense support for the Department of Homeland Security operations on the southwest border of the United States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1080E) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a review and provide a report and a briefing on ongoing and future Department of Defense support for Department of Homeland Security border security operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1093) that would prohibit the Secretary of Veterans Affairs from using as a factor in determining whether to guarantee, issue, or make a housing loan the fact that an individual's income is derived from working in the marijuana industry.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Inclusion on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall of the names of the lost crew members of the U.S.S. Frank E. Evans killed on June 3, 1969

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1094) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of the Interior, the American Battlefield Monuments Commission, and other applicable authorities, to authorize the inclusion on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall in the District of Columbia, of the names of the 74 crew members of the U.S.S. Frank E. Evans, killed on June 3, 1969.

The House amendment also contained a similar provision (sec. 10990).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees honor the service of the 74 crew members of the U.S.S. Frank E. Evans, who made the ultimate sacrifice on June 3, 1969, and express their respect and regard for the family members of the crew, and their unflagging dedication to sustaining the memory of their Fallen loved ones.

The conferees note that there is an established process for adding the names of servicemembers to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall. The conferees believe this process should be followed to preserve the integrity of the Wall.

Report on executive helicopter flights in the National Capital Region

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1097) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a publicly available report on the number of helicopter trips used for executive transport by service branch in the national capital region for a period of 90 days after enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, not later than 90 days after enactment of this Act, which shall be made publicly available, and shall detail the number of helicopter missions used for executive transport in the National Capital Region. The report shall also include a consolidated listing of all such flights executed from the date of enactment through 90 calendar days thereafter and a list of the number of helicopters utilized by each service branch.

Review of foreign currency exchange rates and analysis of Foreign Currency Fluctuations Appropriation

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099A) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) to review exchange rates to determine whether cost savings opportunities exist in disbursements pursuant to contracts in foreign currencies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees recognize the difficulty in predicting exchange rate fluctuations and urge the Department to continue investigating methodologies to decrease the magnitude of fluctuations in the Foreign Currency Fluctuations, Defense account.

Contracts by the President or Vice President

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099B) that would amend the federal criminal code (18 U.S.C. 431) to prohibit the President, Vice President, and members of the President's Cabinet, or anyone acting on their behalf or for their benefit, from holding or entering into a contract or agreement with the United States or any agency of the United States. Violations would be subject to a fine. Any contract in violation of the provision would be void automatically, and any monies advanced by the United States or its agency pursuant to such a contract or agreement would be subject to immediate repayment to the government. Absent immediate repayment, the law would provide that suit should be brought immediately for the recovery of the advanced monies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Interoperability of communications between military installations and adjacent jurisdictions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099E) that would require the Department of Defense Fire and Emergency Services Working Group to submit a report on military installations that provide emergency services to areas outside their installations and the interoperability of military installations and adjacent civilian agencies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Department of Defense Fire and Emergency Services Working Group, not later than 12 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on military installations that provide emergency services to areas outside their installations and the interoperability of military installations and adjacent civilian agencies.

Chinese language and culture studies within the Defense Language and National Security Education Office

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099G) that would increase the funds authorized for the Defense Human Resources Activity by $13,404,000 for use by the Defense Language and National Security Education Office to provide support for studies related to Chinese language and culture.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Modification of prohibition on availability of funds for Chinese language programs at certain institutions of higher education

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099H) that would modify section 1091(b) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to require the Secretary of Defense to develop a transition plan for each institution of higher education subject to the limitation under paragraph (1) of such section.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that they appreciate the Department of Defense's effort to ensure that institutions of higher education, which no longer host a Confucius Institute, may regain eligibility to receive funds from the Department for Chinese language instruction.

Lessons learned and best practices on progress of gender integration implementation in the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099I) that would require the Secretary of Defense to direct each component of the Armed Force to share lessons learned and best practices on the progress of their gender integration implementation plans.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Strategies for recruitment and retention of women in the Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099J) that would direct the Secretary of each military department to examine successful strategies used by foreign military services to recruit and retain women and consider implementing those best practices in the United States Armed Forces.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that many of the United States' closest allies have long been successful in recruiting and retaining women into their militaries. The Secretary of Defense is encouraged to examine the techniques used by these countries and, where possible, implement them in the United States military.

Honoring last surviving Medal of Honor recipient of Second World War

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099L) that would allow the last surviving Medal of Honor recipient of World War II to lie in honor in the rotunda of the U.S. Capitol upon death if elected by the individual or next of kin.

Sense of Congress regarding Army Contracting Command-New Jersey

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099P) that would express the sense of Congress about the vital role played by Army Contracting Command-New Jersey.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Review and report on experimentation with ticks and insects

The House bill contained a provision (sec. 1099Q) that required the Department of Defense to review whether the Department experimented with ticks and other insects regarding use as a biological weapon between the years of 1950 and 1975.

The Senate amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the Department's prioritization of addressing tick-borne illnesses as a threat to military forces and their dependents. The conferees support the Department's research efforts to prevent the occurrence, diagnoses, and treatment of tick-borne illnesses, including through the Tick-Borne Disease Research Program established in Fiscal Year 2016.

The conferees note the importance of continued compliance with the Biological Weapons Convention which bans the development, production, and stockpiling of biological weapons of mass destruction.

Pilot program to provide broadband access to military families and medical facilities on remote and isolated bases

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099R) that would direct the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Federal Communication Commission, to conduct a pilot program under which the Secretary would enter into agreements with broadband internet providers to extend residential broadband internet access to families on military installations located in unserved rural areas in the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Congress regarding military working dogs and soldier handlers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099S) that would provide the sense of Congress on the importance of tactical explosive detection dogs and their soldier handlers in combat.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees recognize the service of military working dogs and soldier handlers from the tactical explosive detection program and honor the sacrifices made by them in combat. The conferees also acknowledge that not all tactical explosive detection dogs were adopted by their former soldier handlers and encourage the Army and other government agencies, including law enforcement agencies, with such dogs to prioritize adoption to their former handlers. Lastly, the conferees recognize the efforts of Congressman Walter B. Jones to promote military working dogs as unsung heroes on the battlefield and in helping wounded warriors recover from physical and mental injuries.

Funding limitation for the Erie Canalway National Heritage Corridor

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099U) that would amend section 810(a)(1) of the Erie Canalway National Heritage Corridor Act (Public Law 106-554; 114 Stat. 2763A-303) by striking ``$12,000,000'' and inserting ``$14,000,000''.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Inspection of facilities used to house, detain, screen, and review migrants and refugees

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099V) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Comptroller General of the United States and the Secretary of Health and Human Services, to establish a process to conduct surprise inspections at Government-owned or Department of Defense-owned installations where migrants are housed, detained, screened, or reviewed.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Congress regarding the 2001 Authorization for Use of Military Force

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099W) that would express the sense of Congress that the 2001 Authorization for Use of Military Force (Public Law 107-40; 50 U.S.C. 1541 note) enacted by Congress to authorize the use of force against those responsible for the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, has been cited 41 times as the legal basis for the use of force in 19 countries, well beyond the scope that Congress initially intended. Further, the provision would convey the sense of Congress that any new authorization for the use of force should include: (1) A sunset clause and timeframe within which Congress should revisit the authority provided; (2) A clear and specific expression of mission objectives, targets, and geographic scope; and (3) Reporting requirements to increase transparency and ensure proper Congressional oversight.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on export of air to ground munitions, related components and parts of such munitions, and related services to Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099X) that would prohibit, for the one-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, the President from issuing any license, and require the President to suspend any license or other approval for the export to the Government of Saudi Arabia or the Government of the United Arab Emirates any air to ground munitions, components, or related services.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Reporting regarding cancelled appropriations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6002) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to provide a report to the congressional defense committees on cancelled appropriations across the federal government.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note the importance of understanding why appropriations are cancelled and therefore direct the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a review of cancelled federal appropriations and to provide a briefing to the congressional defense committees and the Budget Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives no later than March 1, 2020, with a report to follow by a date agreed at the time of the briefing.

The review shall include (1) an assessment of the amount of appropriations across federal agencies cancelled under section 1552 of title 31, United States Code, during each of the fiscal years 2009 through 2018; (2) identifying information about each cancelled appropriation, including its type and period of availability; (3) the percentage of each fiscal year's total appropriations canceled broken down by agency; (4) an assessment of the extent to which cancelled appropriations differed significantly across agencies or over time, the extent to which cancelled appropriations are correlated with obligation rates, and the extent to which cancelled appropriations are correlated with the length of continuing resolutions in the original year of the appropriation.

Inclusion of progress of the Department of Defense in achieving auditable financial statements in annual reports on the Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation Plan

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6003) that would amend section 240b(b)(1)(B) of title 10, United States Code, by requiring that a ranking of each military department and Defense Agency be included in the annual report in order of its current progress in achieving auditable financial statements. The provision further requires that additional information be provided for each military department or Defense Agency ranked in the bottom quartile.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Silver Star Service Banner Day

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6005) that would amend Chapter 1 of title 36, United States Code, to designate May 1 as Silver Star Service Banner Day.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.

Comptroller General of the United States report on the effects of continuing resolutions on readiness and planning of the Department of Defense

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6011) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to provide a report to the congressional defense committees on the effects of continuing resolutions on the readiness and financial efficiency of the Department of Defense.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.

The conferees note that the Department of Defense has spent more than 1,000 days under continuing resolutions over the past 10 years. Despite strong anecdotal evidence of negative readiness effects and significant financial waste created by continuing resolutions, a comprehensive tally of their costs, direct and indirect, has not yet been performed. Therefore, the conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to deliver a briefing to the congressional defense committees and the Budget Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives no later than March 1, 2020, with a report to follow by a date agreed at the time of the briefing.

The report shall examine (1) the extent to which continuing resolutions impact Department of Defense purchasing power; (2) the extent to which preparing for and operating under continuing resolutions negatively affect the efficient usage of personnel time, including that of Senior Executive Service personnel and general and flag officers; (3) the extent to which continuing resolutions negatively affect the Department's ability to hire; (4) the extent to which the Department has requested and received anomalies for continuing resolutions since 2010; (5) the extent to which continuing resolutions have delayed acquisition programs; (5) the extent to which the Department has experienced funding misalignments between appropriations accounts due to continuing resolutions.

Sense of Congress on the naming of a naval vessel in honor of Senior Chief Petty Officer Shannon Kent

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6016) that would express the sense of the Congress on the naming of a naval vessel in honor of Senior Chief Petty Officer Shannon Kent. The House amendment contained no similar provision. The Senate recesses.

TITLE XI—CIVILIAN PERSONNEL MATTERS

SUBTITLE A—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency personnel management authority (sec. 1101)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1102) that would increase the number of personnel eligible to be hired under the personnel management authority to attract experts in science and engineering under section 1599h of title 10, United States Code, in the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) by 30, bringing the total for DARPA from 100 to 130, and decreasing the number of such positions available to the laboratories of the military departments by 30, from 40 to 10.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1101) that would increase the number of these positions available to DARPA by 40, bringing its total to 140, with no decrease in the number of positions available to the laboratories.

The Senate recesses.

Report on the probationary period for Department of Defense employees (sec. 1102)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1102) that would amend section 1599e of title 10, United States Code, to change the probationary period for Department of Defense civilian employees from 2 years to 1 year.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct an independent review of the probationary periods applicable to Department of Defense employees. The amendment would also require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report detailing the results of the review to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives, the Committee on Oversight and Reform of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs of the Senate.

Civilian personnel management (sec. 1103)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1103) that would amend section 129 of title 10, United States Code, to clarify that civilian personnel of the Department of Defense may not be managed on the basis of man-years, end strength, or full-time equivalent positions, or maximum number of employees, and instead will be managed based on the total force management policies and procedures established under section 129a of title 10, United States Code, the workload required to carry out the functions and activities of the Department, and the funds made available to the Department for each fiscal year.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from managing Department of Defense civilian personnel primarily on the basis of man-years or end strength.

One-year extension of temporary authority to grant allowances, benefits, and gratuities to civilian personnel on official duty in a combat zone (sec. 1104)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1103) that would extend by 1 year the discretionary authority of the head of a Federal agency to provide allowances, benefits, and gratuities comparable to those provided to members of the Foreign Service to the agency's civilian employees on official duty in a combat zone.

The House bill contained an identical provision (sec.1104).

The conference agreement contains this provision.

One-year extension of authority to waive annual limitation on premium pay and aggregate limitation on pay for Federal civilian employees working overseas (sec. 1105)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1104) that would amend section 1101 of the Duncan Hunter National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2009 (Public Law 110-417), as most recently amended by section 1104 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), to extend through 2020 the authority of heads of executive agencies to waive limitations on the aggregate of basic and premium pay of employees who perform work in an overseas location that is in the area of responsibility of the commander of U.S. Central Command (CENTCOM), or a location that was formerly in CENTCOM but is now in the area of responsibility of the Commander, U.S. Africa Command, in support of a military operation or an operation in response to a declared emergency.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1105).

The House recesses.

Performance of civilian functions by military personnel (sec. 1106)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1106) that would amend section 129a of title 10, United States Code, to ensure that before the Secretary of a military department directs military personnel to perform the functions of civilian personnel, the military department concerned is in compliance with section 129 of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Extension of direct hire authority for domestic industrial base facilities and Major Range and Test Facilities Base (sec. 1107)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1107) that would amend section 1125 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) to extend the authority of the Secretary of Defense to use direct hire procedures for civilian personnel at domestic defense industrial base facilities and the Major Range and Test Facilities Base until 2025.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note Section 1111 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) repealed the authority of the Secretaries of the military departments to waive the restriction on the appointment of retired members of the Armed Forces to positions in the civil service in the Department of Defense within 180 days of a servicemember's retirement based on a state of national emergency.

The conferees remain supportive of this change and note the relevant statute provides a straightforward process to the Secretaries of the military departments in the event that they wish to hire retired servicemembers within the 180-day post-retirement timeframe. The conferees urge the Department of Defense to make full use of the existing, and longstanding, process for hiring recently retired servicemembers, consistent with applicable law, policy, and merit principles.

Authority to provide additional allowances and benefits for certain Defense Clandestine Service employees (sec. 1108)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1108) that would authorize the provision of additional allowances and benefits for certain Defense Intelligence Agency, Defense Clandestine Service employees located in the United States, limited to 125 covered employees per year for locations with living costs determined by the Secretary of Defense to be equal to or higher than the District of Columbia.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Modification of direct hire authorities for the Department of Defense (sec. 1109)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1111) that would amend section 9905 of title 5, United States Code, by consolidating direct hiring authorities for the following positions:

- (1) scientific, technical, engineering, mathematics positions within the defense acquisition workforce;
- (2) scientific, technical, engineering, mathematics positions working outside a scientific and technology reinvention laboratory;
- (3) medical or health professional positions;
- (4) childcare services positions;
- (5) financial management, accounting, auditing, actuarial, cost estimation, operational research, or business or business administration positions; and
- (6) Department of Defense business transformation and management innovation positions.

The consolidation of these direct hiring authorities would sunset on September 30, 2025. In addition, this provision would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, to contract with a federally funded research and development center and submit a report to Congress by February 1, 2021, on improving competitive hiring at the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would remove the requirement for the Department of Defense to contract with a Federally Funded Research and Development Center to complete the required report.

Designating certain FEHBP and FEGLI services provided by Federal employees as excepted services under the Anti-Deficiency Act (sec. 1110)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1113) that would amend sections 8905 and 8702 of title 5, United States Code, to designate certain Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP) and Federal Employees Group Life Insurance (FEGLI) Program services provided by Federal employees as excepted services under the Anti-Deficiency Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Continuing supplemental dental and vision benefits and long-term care insurance coverage during a Government shutdown (sec. 1111)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1114) that would amend sections 8956, 8986, and 9003 of title 5, United States Code, to authorize continuing coverage of supplemental dental and vision benefits and long-term care insurance during a government shutdown.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Limitation on transfer of Office of Personnel Management (sec. 1112)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1116) that would prohibit the President or his designee from transferring, transitioning, merging, or consolidating any functions, responsibilities, information technology systems, staff, resources, or records of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) with the General Services Administration, the Office of Management and Budget, or the Executive Office of the President.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would direct OPM to contract with the National Academy of Public Administration (NAPA) for the conduct of a comprehensive study and report on the full panoply of OPM missions and functions; the challenges associated with the Office's execution of same; and options and recommended courses of action for addressing those challenges. Not later than 180 days subsequent to its receipt of the NAPA report, OPM would be required to submit to the appropriate Committees of Congress its views on the report, any recommendations for change in the structure, functions, responsibilities, and authorities of OPM, a business case analysis setting forth the operational efficiencies and cost savings associated with any such change, and a proposal for legislative or administrative actions required to effect the change proposed. The amendment would preclude the assignment, transfer, transition, merger, or consolidation of any function, responsibility, authority, service, system, or program assigned in law to OPM, to or with the General Services Administration, the Office of Management and Budget, or the Executive Office of the President, until on or after the date that is 180 days after the date on which OPM submits its views on the NAPA report to Congress, and subject to the enactment of any legislation required.

Assessment of Accelerated Promotion Program suspension (sec. 1113)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1118) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to enter into an agreement with a federally funded research and development center to conduct an assessment of the impacts resulting from the Navy's suspension in 2016 of the Accelerated Promotion Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Reimbursement for Federal, State, and local income taxes incurred during travel, transportation, and relocation (sec. 1114)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1105) that would amend section 5724b of title 5, United States Code, to authorize Federal agencies to reimburse individuals associated with the Federal civil service for all taxes incurred as a result of travel, transportation, or relocation expenses reimbursed, or furnished in-kind, by the agency concerned.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1119).

The House recedes with an amendment that would authorize the Federal agencies to reimburse individuals for taxes incurred on or after January 1, 2018.

Clarification of limitation on expedited hiring authority for post-secondary students (sec. 1115)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1120) that would amend section 3116(d) of title 5, United States Code, to limit the total number of students eligible to be appointed under the expedited hiring authority for post-secondary students to no more than 15 percent of the number of students that the agency head appointed during the previous fiscal year at the GS-11 level or below.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Modification of temporary assignments of Department of Defense employees to a private-sector organization (sec. 1116)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1101) that would amend section 1599g (e)(2)(A) of title 10, United State Code, to allow the Department of Defense to temporarily transfer or reassign other personnel within the Department to perform the normal duties and functions of employees who are participating in a public-private talent exchange.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Extension of authority for part-time reemployment (sec. 1117)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would extend, for 5 years, the authority of federal agencies to reemploy retired federal civilian employees under limited conditions, without offset of annuity against salary, for certain specified purposes.

SUBTITLE B—FAIR CHANCE ACT

The House amendment contained several provisions (sec. 1131 through sec. 1134) that would prohibit Federal agencies and contractors from making inquiries regarding a job applicants' criminal history before extending a conditional offer of employment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE C—ATC HIRING REFORM

ATC Hiring Reform (secs. 1131-1135)

The conference agreement includes several provisions (secs. 1131-1135) that would require the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to give hiring preference to veterans and graduates of FAA Certified Collegiate Training Initiative (CTI) schools and remove the 10 percent limitation between the hiring pools created by the FAA Extension Safety and Security Act of 2016.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Prohibited personnel practices

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1109) that would amend section 2302 of title 5, United States Code, to prohibit Federal employees from discriminating for or against interns or applicants for internships on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or handicapping condition.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Enhancement of antidiscrimination protections for Federal employees

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1110) that would amend section 2301 of title 5, United States Code, to require Federal agencies to display publicly any findings of discrimination or retaliation within the agency concerned. The provision would modify congressional reporting requirements related to Federal employee antidiscrimination and retaliation by authorizing electronic submittal of reports and requiring a report of disciplinary actions initiated against Federal employees as a result of a violation of applicable antidiscrimination or retaliation policies. The provision would also require each Federal agency to establish a discrimination complaint tracking system. The provision would also require notations in employee personnel records of any adverse action taken as a result of an act of discrimination or retaliation. The provision would also require each Federal agency to establish an impartial Equal Employment Opportunity Program that is independent of the agency's Human Capital or General Counsel and reports directly to the head of the agency. The provision would also require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to refer any findings of discrimination or retaliation within a Federal agency to the Office of Special Counsel within 30 days.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Permitted disclosures by whistleblowers

The House amendment contained a provision that would amend section 2302(b)(8)(B) of title 5, United States Code, to permit whistleblowers to report fraud, waste, or abuse to the Inspector General of an agency, a supervisor in the employee's direct chain of command, or to an employee designated to receive such disclosures.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Interim stay authority to protect whistleblowers

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1115) that would authorize the General Counsel of the Merit Systems Protection Board to order a 45-day stay of any personnel action, given grounds to believe the action is a prohibited personnel practice (including agency reprisal against a whistleblower). The General Counsel could take such action during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on the first day thereafter that an individual is confirmed by the Senate as a member of the Board. Further, under circumstances in which the Board lacks the number of properly appointed members required to comprise a quorum, any remaining member of the Board would be authorized to execute certain Board functions.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Review of Standard Occupational Classification System

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1117) that would require the Director of the Office of Management and Budget to categorize public safety telecommunicators as a protective service occupation under the Standard Occupational Classification System.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

TITLE XII—MATTERS RELATING TO FOREIGN NATIONS

SUBTITLE A—ASSISTANCE AND TRAINING

Modification of authority to build capacity of foreign security forces (sec. 1201)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1201) that would modify section 333 of title 10, United States Code, to clarify the eligibility of support for international coalition operations as well as modify the congressional notification requirements for support provided pursuant to such section.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Modification and extension of cross servicing agreements for loan of personnel protection and personnel survivability equipment in coalition operations (sec. 1202)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1202) that would extend the authority for cross-servicing agreements for loan of personnel protection and survivability equipment in coalition operations in Afghanistan through 2024.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1202) that would extend section 1207 of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291) through December 31, 2024. This authority allows the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, to loan personnel protection and personnel survivability equipment to military forces of other nations for their use in coalition operations with the United States as part of a contingency operation or a peacekeeping operation under the United Nations Charter or another international agreement.

The Senate recedes.

Modifications of authorities relating to acquisition and cross-servicing agreements (sec. 1203)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1282) that would amend section 2342 of title 10, United States Code relating to acquisition and cross-servicing agreements (ACSA). Specifically, the provision would include new requirements for reimbursement for cost of logistic support, supplies, and services pursuant to such section. The provision would also add new requirements for designation of a non-NATO country under such section by the Secretary of Defense as well as add new oversight and monitoring responsibilities to the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy and to the Director of the Defense Security Cooperation Agency. The provision would also require the Secretary to prescribe regulations regarding ACSA and direct the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a review of the implementation by the Secretary of such regulations.

Lastly, the provision would modify the annual reporting requirements required under such section.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that clarifies the requirements in section 2342 of title 10, United States Code for designation of a non-NATO country under such section by the Secretary of Defense. Further, the amendment adds a requirement for the Secretary to designate an existing senior civilian or military official with primary responsibility for oversight and management of ACSA. Lastly, the provision clarifies the annual reporting requirements required under such section.

Modification of quarterly report on obligation and expenditure of funds for security cooperation programs and activities (sec. 1204)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1204) that would amend section 381(b) of title 10, United States Code, to change the deadline for submission of the quarterly report on the use of security cooperation funds from 30 days after the end of each calendar quarter to 60 days after the end of each calendar quarter.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1203) that would modify the quarterly reporting requirement on obligation and expenditure of funds for security cooperation programs and activities from 30 days after the calendar quarter to 60 days.

The Senate recesses.

Gender perspectives and participation by women in security cooperation activities (sec. 1205)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1204) that would modify section 333 of title 10, United States Code, to require the inclusion of gender perspectives and meaningful participation by women.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would encourage, consistent with the Women, Peace, and Security Act of 2017 (Public Law 115-68), the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to incorporate gender perspectives and participation by women in security cooperation activities to the maximum extent practicable.

Plan to provide consistency of administration of authorities relating to vetting of units of security forces of foreign countries; modification of assessment, monitoring, and evaluation of security cooperation programs and activities (sec. 1206)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1206) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State, to jointly develop, implement, and submit to the appropriate congressional committees, a plan to provide consistency in administration of section 362 of title 10, United States Code, and section 620M of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2378d).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Extension of authority for support of special operations for irregular warfare (sec. 1207)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1201) that would extend for 5 years section 1202 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1208) that would extend for 3 years section 1202 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018.

The Senate recesses.

Extension and modification of Commanders' Emergency Response Program and elimination of certain payments to redress injury and loss (sec. 1208)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1213) that would extend the authorization for the Commanders' Emergency Response Program in Afghanistan through December 31, 2020, and would authorize $5.0 million for use during calendar year 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would authorize $2.5 million for the Commanders' Emergency Response Program, and eliminate the authority for certain payments to redress injury and loss in Afghanistan, Iraq, Syria, Somalia, Libya, and Yemen, which is addressed elsewhere in this act.

Two-year extension of program authority for Global Security Contingency Fund (sec. 1209)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1203) that would amend section 1207 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2012 (22 U.S.C. 2151) to extend for 2 years the funding for the Global Security Contingency Fund. The Senate bill contained another provision (sec. 6203) that would add an exception to the funds, allowing amounts appropriated and transferred to the Fund before September 30, 2019, to remain available for obligation and expenditure after that date, but only for programs under subsection (b).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Legal institutional capacity building initiative for foreign defense institutions (sec. 1210)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1205) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to carry out, consistent with section 332 of title 10, United States Code, a program of legal institutional capacity building with one or more foreign countries to enhance the capacity to organize and administer the legal institutions of such country or countries.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify the elements of the authorized initiative as well the annual reporting requirements.

Department of Defense support for stabilization activities in national security interest of the United States (sec. 1210A)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1206) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State and in consultation with the Administrator of the United States Agency for International Development, to provide certain support for the stabilization activities of other Federal agencies.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify the types and amounts of support authorized to be provided as well as the countries in which such support may be provided.

SUBTITLE B—MATTERS RELATING TO AFGHANISTAN AND PAKISTAN

Extension of authority to transfer defense articles and provide defense services to the military and security forces of Afghanistan (sec. 1211)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1211) that would extend the authority to transfer defense articles and provide defense services to the military and security forces of Afghanistan through December 31, 2021.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1213) that would extend the authority through December 31, 2022.

The Senate recesses.

Extension and modification of authority to acquire products and services produced in countries along a major route of supply to Afghanistan (sec. 1212)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 804) that would extend the authority under section 801(f) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (Public Law 111-84) for the acquisition of products and services produced in countries along a major route of supply to Afghanistan through December 31, 2021.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1214) that would extend this authority through December 31, 2021 and require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on the use of the authority.

The Senate recesses.

Authority for certain payments to redress injury and loss (sec. 1213)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1215) that would authorize $5.0 million from the Office of the Secretary of Defense under the Operation and Maintenance, Defense-wide account, for ex gratia payments for damage, personal injury, or death that is incident to combat operations of the United States Armed Forces in certain countries, through December 31, 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would authorize $3.0 million for this authority for each calendar year through December 31, 2022 and strike the specific country designations.

Extension and modification of semiannual report on enhancing security and stability in Afghanistan (sec. 1214)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6217) that would amend section 1225(b) of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291) to incorporate the August 2017 Strategy of the United States into the reporting requirement and require an assessment of the United States counterterrorism mission, Department of Defense efforts in support of reconciliation, and the expansion of the Afghan Government's reach throughout Afghanistan.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1216) that would extend the report through December 15, 2022 and modify certain elements.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the report include the assessment of the United States counterterrorism mission and efforts to support reconciliation and expand the reach of the Government of Afghanistan throughout Afghanistan.

Special Immigrant Visa Program reporting requirement (sec. 1215)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1217) that would require the Inspector General of the Department of State to submit a report that evaluates the obstacles to effective protection of Afghan and Iraqi allies through the Special Immigrant Visa Program and suggestions for improvements in future programs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Meaningful inclusion of Afghan women in peace negotiations (sec. 1216)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6215) that would require the Secretary of State, in coordination with the Secretary of Defense, to carry out activities to ensure the meaningful participation of Afghan women in the ongoing peace process in Afghanistan consistent with the Women, Peace, and Security Act of 2017 (22 U.S.C. 2151 note; Public Law 115-68), and to submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees on such activities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1218) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to seek to ensure the meaningful participation of Afghan women in the ongoing peace process in Afghanistan, consistent with Public Law 115-68.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of State, in coordination with the Secretary of Defense, to advocate for the inclusion of Afghan women in ongoing and future negotiations to end the conflict in Afghanistan.

Extension and modification of authority for reimbursement of certain coalition nations for support provided to United States military operations (sec. 1217)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1214) that would extend the authority for reimbursement of certain coalition nations for support provided to United States military operations through December 31, 2020. The provision would also eliminate reimbursements for Pakistan under this authority, as reimbursements for Pakistan's efforts to sustain security along its border with Afghanistan are already authorized under section 1213 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1211) that would extend the authority through December 31, 2020.

The House recesses with an amendment that would authorize $450.0 million for use under this authority.

Support for reconciliation activities led by the Government of Afghanistan (sec. 1218)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1215) that would authorize the Department of Defense, with the concurrence of the Department of State, to provide support for local level, Government of Afghanistan-led reconciliation activities with the Taliban.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a clarifying amendment. The conferees note that this provision does not authorize direct reimbursements to members or elements of the Taliban.

Modification and Extension of the Afghan Special Immigrant Visa Program (sec. 1219)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1216) that would express support for the Special Immigrant Visa Program for Afghan allies.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1212) that would modify and extend the Afghan Allies Protection Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-8) by adjusting the number of visas available and individual eligibility requirements. It would not modify the length of employment or security criteria that an applicant must meet.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would make an additional 4,000 visas available through the Afghan Special Immigrant Visa Program.

SUBTITLE C—MATTERS RELATING TO SYRIA, IRAQ, AND IRAN

Modification of authority and limitation on use of funds to provide assistance to counter the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (sec. 1221)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1222) that would extend the authority to provide assistance to counter the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria under section 1236 of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (Public Law 113-291) through December 31, 2021, and provide $645 million for use under the authority. Additionally, the section would limit certain funds under this authority until the Secretary of Defense submits a report to the congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1221) that would provide $663 million for use under the authority, modify existing report requirements, and make clarifying and technical corrections. Additionally, the provision would limit certain funds under this authority until the Secretary of Defense submits a report on the use of the authority and other matters.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would extend the authority and modify associated reporting requirements.

The conferees note the importance of an all-of-government approach in securing the lasting defeat of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria, extinguishing the drivers of future insurgency and instability, and advancing U.S. interests in Iraq. The conferees believe that non-military lines of effort must be appropriately resourced and staffed for the U.S. strategy for Iraq to be successful.

Extension and modification of authority to provide assistance to the vetted Syrian groups and individuals (sec. 1222)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1221) that would modify section 1209 of the Carl Levin and Howard P. "Buck" McKeon National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2015 (FY 2015 NDAA (Public Law 113-291)) by extending the authority to provide assistance to vetted Syrian groups through 2020. The provision would additionally modify the authority to support the temporary detention and repatriation of Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) foreign terrorist fighters in accordance with the Laws of Armed Conflict and Geneva Conventions. The provision would also expand certain reporting requirements.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1222) that would extend and modify section 1209 of the FY 2015 NDAA by extending the authority to support vetted Syrian opposition through December 30, 2020.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the purposes of the authority. Further, the amendment would modify the notification before provision of assistance, the matters to be included in quarterly progress reports, the authority to accept contributions, and the limitation on the cost of construction and repair projects. Finally, the amendment would place a limitation on the obligation of funds pending submission of the first quarterly report.

Modification of authority to support operations and activities of the Office of Security Cooperation in Iraq (sec. 1223)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1223) that would extend the authorization for the Office of Security Cooperation in Iraq through fiscal year 2020 and would amend the Office's authority to support security cooperation activities in Iraq. The provision would reduce the funds available for this authority from $45.3 million to $30.0 million.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1223) that would extend the authority for the Office of Security Cooperation in Iraq through fiscal year 2020. The provision would also limit the amount of authorized funds available to be obligated or expended to not more than 50 percent until the Secretary of Defense certifies that certain reforms are completed.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would combine the two provisions and make technical edits.

The conferees note the challenges attendant in effective security cooperation and believe the Department should seek to staff security cooperation offices with more foreign area officers, particularly in the U.S. Central Command area of responsibility.

Establishing a coordinator for detained ISIS members and relevant displaced populations in Syria (sec. 1224)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1224) that would require the President, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Attorney General, to designate an existing official within the Executive Branch as senior-level coordinator to coordinate all matters for the United States Government relating to the long-term disposition of members of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) and associated forces.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1036).

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require, not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Attorney General, to submit to appropriate committees of Congress a report identifying whether there exists a senior-level coordinator for all matters for the United States Government relating to ISIS members in the custody of Syrian Democratic Forces. If the President is unable to identify a senior-level coordinator for such matters, the President, in consultation with the officials enumerated above, shall designate an existing official within the executive branch to serve in that capacity. The amendment further provides that not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and not less frequently than once each year thereafter through January 31, 2021, the senior-level coordinator shall submit to appropriate committees of Congress a detailed report on certain high-value ISIS detainees.

The conferees believe that the coordinator identified pursuant to this provision should be empowered by the President and of sufficient seniority to adequately leverage and coordinate the expertise and capabilities of the State Department, Department of Defense, Department of Justice, Department of Treasury, intelligence community, and other relevant entities engaged in the repatriation, transfer, and prosecution of members of ISIS.

Report on lessons learned from efforts to liberate Mosul and Raqqa from control of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (sec. 1225)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1225) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on lessons learned from coalition operations to liberate Mosul, Iraq, and Raqqa, Syria, from control of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Expansion of availability of financial assets of Iran to victims of terrorism (sec. 1226)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6206) that would amend section 502 of the Iran Threat Reduction and Syria Human Rights Act of 2012 (22 U.S.C. 8772) to expand the availability of financial assets of Iran to victims of terrorism.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Report on the status of deconfliction channels with Iran (sec. 1227)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1228) that would require, not later than 30 days after the enactment of this Act, the President to submit a report on the status of deconfliction channels with Iran.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Prohibition on provision of weapons and other forms of support to certain organizations (sec. 1228)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1224) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020 to provide weapons or any form of support to al-Qaeda, the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria, Jabhat Fateh al Sham, any individual or group associated with these organizations, or any entity the Secretary of Defense determined may trade or sell arms to terrorist organizations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that adds Hamas, Hizballah, Palestine Islamic Jihad, al-Shabaab, and Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps to the list of organizations to which the provision of weapons or any form of support is proscribed.

SUBTITLE D—MATTERS RELATING TO THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

Extension of limitation on military cooperation between the United States and Russia (sec. 1231)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 1233 and sec. 6210) that would extend through fiscal year 2020 the prohibition established in section 1232 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) as most recently amended by the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), which prohibits funds authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Defense from being used for bilateral military-to-military cooperation between the United States and the Russian Federation without certain certifications by the Secretary of Defense, made in coordination with the Secretary of State, or unless certain waiver conditions are met.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1232) that would extend through fiscal year 2020 the prohibition established in section 1232 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328).

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that, as established in Section 1232, nothing in the limitation shall be construed to limit bilateral military-to-military dialogue between the United States and the Russian Federation for the purpose of reducing the risk of conflict.

Prohibition on availability of funds relating to sovereignty of Russia over Crimea (sec. 1232)

The Senate bill contained two provisions (sec. 1231 and sec. 6231) that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act for fiscal year 2020 for the Department of Defense to be obligated or expended to implement any activity that recognizes the sovereignty of the Russian Federation over Crimea. The provisions would also prohibit the Department to otherwise implement any such activity.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1233) that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2020 for the Department of Defense to be obligated or expended to implement any activity that recognizes the sovereignty of Russia over Crimea.

The House recesses with an amendment that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2020 for the Department of Defense to be obligated or expended to implement any activity that recognizes the sovereignty of Russia over Crimea. The amendment would allow the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, to waive the prohibition if the Secretary determines that a waiver is in the national security interest of the United States; and on the date on which the waiver is invoked, submits a notification of the waiver and a justification of the reason for seeking the waiver to specified congressional committees.

Sense of Congress on updating and modernizing existing agreements to avert miscalculation between the United States and Russia (sec. 1233)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1236) that would express the sense of the Congress that the Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State should explore steps for updating and modernizing existing agreements between the United States and Russia to avert the risk of miscalculation and unintended escalation.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would express the sense of the Congress that: (1) conventional arms control and confidence and security building measures have played an important role in helping to increase military transparency and reduce the risk of miscalculation; (2) Russia's violations of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Georgia and Ukraine, and Russia's ongoing destabilizing and aggressive behavior, have undermined peace, security, and stability in Europe and beyond; (3) Russia's unilateral suspension and violation of the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe, done at Vienna November 19, 1990, and entered into force November 9, 1992, and selective implementation of the Vienna Document of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe 2011 have contributed to a greater risk of miscalculation; (4) Russia's unsafe and unprofessional interactions with United States aircraft and vessels are contrary to the spirit of specified existing agreements and erode military transparency, predictability, and trust; (5) the United States remains committed to upholding its current treaty obligations and commitments with respect to conventional arms control and confidence and security building measures; and (6) the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State should explore options, as practicable, for updated or new frameworks for increasing military transparency, stability, and reducing the risk of miscalculation, including through enhanced diplomatic engagement and military-to-military dialogue.

United States participation in Open Skies Treaty (sec. 1234)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1242) that would realign the requirement contained in section 1235(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) from fiscal year to calendar year. The provision would also reduce the frequency of the reporting requirement in section 1236 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) from quarterly to annual.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1231) that would make a series of findings and express the sense of Congress relating to the Open Skies Treaty. The provision would also prohibit the obligation or expenditure of any funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act for the Department of Defense to take any action to suspend, terminate, or withdraw the United States from the treaty. This prohibition would not apply if the Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State jointly certify that Russia is in material breach of its obligations under the treaty, and that all other states parties to the treaty concur with this assessment; or, that withdrawing from the treaty is in the best interests of U.S. national security and all other states parties have been consulted with respect to this decision. The provision would also repeal the limitation on the use of funds to vote to approve or otherwise adopt an implementing decision of the Open Skies Consultative Commission in section 1236 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017. The provision would also modify the reporting requirement in section 1236 to include assessments of data collected on U.S. observation flights under the treaty, and reduce the reporting frequency from quarterly to biannual. Finally, the provision would make the same realignment to section 1235(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 but would change the report to a briefing.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would strike the findings, sense of Congress, and prohibition on obligation or expenditure of funds for suspension, termination, or withdraw from the treaty, and replace with a requirement to notify the appropriate congressional committees no less than 120 days before such actions. The amendments would also reduce the frequency of the section 1236 reporting requirement from quarterly to annual, and retain the section 1235(a) requirement for a report instead of a briefing.

Modifications of briefing, notification, and reporting requirements relating to non-compliance by the Russian Federation with its obligations under the INF Treaty (sec. 1235)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1237) that would terminate four recurring reporting requirements relating to the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces Treaty if the treaty is no longer in force.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Report on treaties relating to nuclear arms control (sec. 1236)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1235) that would note that the Committees on Armed Services and Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives sent a letter to the Secretary of Defense in October 2018 requesting information on several aspects of U.S. policy related to nuclear arms control, and that the Secretary of Defense did not respond to that letter. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on similar subjects. The provision would withhold 20 percent of funds authorized to be appropriated for operations and maintenance, defense-wide, for the Office of the Secretary of Defense for travel until such report is submitted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees believe that reliable communication between the congressional defense committees and the Department is essential for the conduct of effective oversight.

Reports relating to the New START Treaty (sec. 1237)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1240A) that would express the sense of Congress that the United States should seek to extend New START, and prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Defense by this Act for any actions to withdraw from the treaty. The provision would also require the Director of National Intelligence, the Secretary of State, and the Secretary of Defense to each submit several reports to the appropriate congressional committees on subjects relating to the treaty and its potential expiration.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would strike the prohibition on the use of funds, express the sense of Congress that legally binding, verifiable limits on Russian strategic nuclear forces are in the national security interest of the United States, and modify the number and required elements of the reports.

Report on military activities of the Russian Federation and the People's Republic of China in the Arctic region (sec. 1238)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6214) that would require not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the activities of the Russian Federation and the People's Republic of China in the Arctic region.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment containing technical clarifications.

Updated strategy to counter the threat of malign influence by the Russian Federation and other countries (sec. 1239)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6216) that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State to jointly update the comprehensive strategy to counter the threat of malign influence developed pursuant to section 1239A of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91; 131 Stat. 1667) and to submit a report detailing the updated strategy to the appropriate congressional committees not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE E—MATTERS RELATING TO EUROPE AND NATO

Sense of Congress on support for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (sec. 1241)

The Senate bill contained multiple provisions (sec. 1244 - 1246) that would express the sense of the Senate regarding the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and European security matters.

The House amendment contained multiple similar provisions (sec. 1237, 1238, 1254, 1257, and 1261).

The House recesses with an amendment that would express the sense of the Congress that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is the most successful military alliance in history, founded on the principles of democracy, individual liberty, and the rule of law, and its contributions to the collective defense are indispensable to the security, prosperity, and freedom of its members. The amendment would also express that the United States must remain ironclad in its commitment to uphold its obligations under the North Atlantic Treaty, including Article 5 of such treaty.

Prohibition on the use of funds to suspend, terminate, or provide notice of denunciation of the North Atlantic Treaty (sec. 1242)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1232) that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to be obligated, expended, or reprogrammed for the withdrawal of the United States Armed Forces from Europe during the 1-year period beginning on the date that the President should ever provide notice of withdrawal of the United States from the North Atlantic Treaty, done at Washington, D.C. on April 4, 1949, pursuant to Article 13 of the treaty.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1260A) that would make a series of findings related to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), state the policy of the United States with respect to NATO, and prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated, obligated, or expended to take any action to withdraw the United States from the North Atlantic Treaty, done at Washington, D.C. on April 4, 1949.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would provide that, notwithstanding any other provision of law, no funds may be obligated, expended, or otherwise made available during the period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act and ending on December 31, 2020, to take any action to suspend, terminate, or provide notice of denunciation of the North Atlantic Treaty, done at Washington, D.C. on April 4, 1949. The conferees strongly support membership in NATO, the most successful military alliance in history, as a cornerstone of the security and national defense of the United States.

The conferees affirm the ironclad commitment of the United States to uphold its obligations under the North Atlantic Treaty, including under Article 5 of such treaty. Therefore, the conferees oppose in the strongest possible terms any action to effectuate withdrawal of the United States from NATO, including suspension, termination, or denunciation of the North Atlantic Treaty.

Future years plans and planning transparency for European Deterrence Initiative (sec. 1243)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1241) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Commander of the United States European Command, to submit to the congressional defense committees a future years plan on activities and resources of the European Deterrence Initiative (EDI) for fiscal year 2020 and not fewer than the 4 succeeding fiscal years.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1252) that would require an annual "Future Years Plan" for EDI as previously required by section 1237(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), and require the Department's budget request materials for EDI to include a display that clearly and concisely communicates to Congress, at an appropriate level of detail, which budget lines constitute EDI.

The House amendment also contained a provision (sec. 1253) that would require a congressional report for each obligation of EDI funds above a threshold of $10.0 million and a report at the end of each fiscal year detailing how EDI funds were spent during the fiscal year in comparison to their intended uses.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees a future years plan on activities and resources of EDI for fiscal year 2020 and not fewer than the 4 succeeding fiscal years. The amendment would also require, not later than the date on which the Secretary of Defense submits to Congress the budget request for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2021 and each fiscal year after thereafter, the Secretary to submit to the congressional defense committees a future years plan on activities and resources of EDI for such fiscal year and not fewer than the four succeeding fiscal years. The amendment would also require an annual report on the obligation of EDI funds in a given fiscal year.

Modification and extension of Ukraine Security Assistance Initiative (sec. 1244)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1234) that would extend through December 31, 2022, the authority under section 1250 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), as amended by section 1246 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), for the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, to provide security assistance, including defensive lethal assistance, and intelligence support to military and other security forces of the Government of Ukraine. The provision would also add coastal defense cruise missiles and anti-ship missiles to the categories of appropriate security assistance and intelligence support. The provision would authorize up to $300.0 million in fiscal year 2020 to provide security assistance to Ukraine, of which $100.0 million would be available only for lethal assistance.

The House amendment contained a similar provision that would authorize $250.0 million for the Ukraine Security Assistance Initiative. The provision would also require concurrence by the Secretary of State in the provision of assistance.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would authorize $300.0 million for the Ukraine Security Assistance Initiative, of which $50.0 million would be available only for lethal assistance. The amendment would add coastal defense cruise missiles and anti-ship missiles to the categories of appropriate security assistance and intelligence support. The amendment would also require concurrence by the Secretary of State in the provision of assistance and extend the authority to December 31, 2022.

Limitation on transfer of F-35 aircraft to Turkey (sec. 1245)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 1236, 6218, and 6236) that would, among other things, place limitations on the transfer of F-35 aircraft to the territory of the Republic of Turkey, provide a waiver to such limitations subject to a certification of certain conditions met by the Government of Turkey, and express the sense of the Senate regarding the Government of Turkey's purchase of the S-400 air defense system.

The House amendment contained similar provisions (sec. 1255 and 1267) that would, among other things, place limitations on the transfer of F-35 aircraft to Turkey, provide a waiver to such limitations subject to a certification of certain conditions met by the Government of Turkey, and express the sense of Congress on Turkey's potential acquisition of the Patriot system from the United States.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would provide that none of the funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense may be used to do the following, and the Department may not otherwise do the following: transfer, facilitate the transfer, or authorize the transfer of, any F-35 aircraft or related support equipment or parts to Turkey; transfer intellectual property, technical data, or material support necessary for, or related to, any maintenance or support of the F-35 aircraft necessary to establish Turkey's indigenous F-35 capability; or construct a storage facility for, or otherwise facilitate the storage in Turkey of, any F-35 aircraft transferred to Turkey. The amendment would allow the Secretary of Defense, jointly with the Secretary of State, to waive such limitation if the Secretaries submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a written certification that contains a determination by the Secretaries, and any relevant documentation on which the determination is based, that the Government of Turkey, having previously accepted delivery of the S-400 air and missile defense system from the Russian Federation: no longer possesses the S-400 air and missile defense system or any other equipment, materials, or personnel association with such system; has provided credible assurances that the Government of Turkey will not in the future accept delivery of such system; and has not, since July 31, 2019, purchased or accepted delivery of defense equipment from the Russian Federation in addition to the S-400 air and missile defense system that would increase the risk of compromising the capabilities of the F-35 aircraft and its associated systems. The amendment would not allow the Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State to waive the limitation until 90 days after the date on which the Secretaries submit the required certification. The amendment would also express the sense of Congress that, among other things, the acceptance of the S-400 air and missile defense system by Turkey constitutes a significant transaction within the meaning of section 231(a) of the Countering Russian Influence in Europe and Eurasia Act of 2017 (Public Law 115-44). The amendment would further express that the President should implement sanctions under section 235 of that Act with respect to any individual or entity determined to have engaged in such significant transaction as if such person were a sanctioned person for purposes of such section. The amendment would also authorize the Secretary of Defense to fly up to six Turkish F-35 aircraft to a storage location in the United States and to induct these aircraft into a long-term storage condition. The amendment would further authorize the Secretary of Defense to expend up to $30.0 million of funds authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 2020 for the Department of Defense to conduct activities associated with storage, preservation, and developing a plan for the final disposition of such F-35 aircraft and Turkish F-35 aircraft equipment. The amendment would also require a report and notification of expenditure of funds under specified conditions.

Baltic defense assessment; extension and modification of security assistance for Baltic countries for joint program for interoperability and deterrence against aggression (sec. 1246)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1238) that would amend section 1279D of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) by modifying and extending the authority of the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, to conduct or support a single joint program of the Baltic nations to improve interoperability and build their capacity to deter and resist aggression by the Russian Federation. The provision would modify the authority by: adding command, control, communications, computers, intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance equipment to defense articles and services eligible for a joint program; increasing the total amount of assistance that may be provided under the authority to $125.0 million; requiring that the amount of assistance provided may not exceed the aggregate amount contributed to the joint program by the Baltic nations; and extending the date of termination of the authority to December 31, 2022. The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1260B) that would modify and extend the authority by: adding intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance equipment to defense articles and services eligible for a joint program, increasing the amount of assistance to $125.0 million; extending the date to December 31, 2021; and requiring a report on the use of funding.

The House amendment also contained provisions (secs. 1271-1274) that would establish findings with regard to the Baltic nations; express the sense of the Congress that the United States is committed to the security of the Baltic nations; and require the Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State to jointly conduct an assessment of the military requirements of the Baltic countries to deter and resist aggression by Russia and to submit a report related to such assessment.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would combine both the Senate and House sections to extend and modify the authority to conduct or support a single joint program of the Baltic nations. The amendment would also require the defense assessment as provided in the House amendment.

Extension of authority for and report on training for Eastern European national security forces in the course of multilateral exercises (sec. 1247)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1235) that would extend through December 31, 2022, the authority provided in section 1251 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), as amended by section 1205 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), for the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, to provide multilateral or regional training, and pay the incremental expenses of participating in such training, for countries in Eastern Europe that are signatories to the Partnership for Peace Framework Documents but not members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) or that became NATO members after January 1, 1999.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would extend the authority for training Eastern European national security forces in the course of multilateral exercises through December 31, 2021. Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the amendment would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Commander of United States European Command, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the authority.

Extension and modification of NATO Special Operations Headquarters (sec. 1248)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1281) that would extend for 5 years the authority established in section 1244 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (Public Law 111-84), as most recently amended by section 1280 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1251) that would extend through fiscal year 2023 section 1244 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (Public Law 111-84), as most recently amended by section 1280 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), for the NATO Special Operations Headquarters (NSHQ) and also limit funding for the NSHQ until the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations and Low Intensity Conflict, provides a report on the decision to realign responsibilities for overseeing and supporting NSHQ from U.S. Special Operations Command to U.S. European Command.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

North Atlantic Treaty Organization Joint Force Command (sec. 1249)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6213) that would authorize the establishment of, and participation of members of the armed forces in, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Joint Force Command, including the use of Department of Defense facilities and equipment as well as funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would make available amounts authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Defense to support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Joint Force Command to be established in the United States.

Report on North Atlantic Treaty Organization Readiness Initiative (sec. 1250)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.1239) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Readiness Initiative not later than October 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision. The House recesses.

Repeal of prohibition on transfer of articles on the United States Munitions List to the Republic of Cyprus (sec. 1250A)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6204) that would, among other things, make a series of changes to allow for the export, re-export, and the transfer of defense articles and defense services, including those subject to the United States Munitions List, to the Republic of Cyprus if the President determines and certifies to the appropriate congressional committees not less than annually that: the Government of the Republic of Cyprus is continuing to cooperate with the United States Government in efforts to implement reforms on anti-money laundering regulations and financial regulatory oversight; and the Government of the Republic of Cyprus has made and is continuing to take the steps necessary to deny Russian military vessels access to ports for refueling and servicing.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1270I).

The House recesses with an amendment that would express the sense of Congress that: allowing for the export, re-export or transfer of arms subject to the United States Munitions List to the Republic of Cyprus would advance United States security interests in Europe by helping to reduce the dependence of the Government of the Republic of Cyprus on other countries, including countries that pose challenges to United States interests around the world, for defense-related materiel; and it is in the interest of the United States to continue to support United Nations-facilitated efforts toward a comprehensive solution to the division of Cyprus.

SUBTITLE F—MATTERS RELATING TO THE INDO-PACIFIC REGION

Modification of Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative (sec. 1251)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1241) that would modify the authority for the Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative to include additional elements of assistance and training, require additional information for congressional notifications, mandate an annual report, and incorporate an assessment, monitoring, and evaluation program. The provision would also require a one-time report on the initiative.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would, among other modifications, make clarifying changes to the required annual report on the initiative and strike the requirement for a one-time report. The conferees note that units to receive assistance under the Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative undergo required "Leahy Law" human rights vetting before such assistance is provided.

Expansion of Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative and limitation on use of funds (sec. 1252)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1252) that would modify section 1263(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) to include as recipient countries for assistance and training under the Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative the following: the Federated States of Micronesia, the Kingdom of Tonga, Papua New Guinea, the Republic of Fiji, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Republic of Palau, the Republic of Vanuatu, and the Solomon Islands.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250A) that would require a report on the current status of security cooperation and assistance with Pacific Island countries and the feasibility of expanding such cooperation and assistance.

The House recedes with an amendment that would include the following as recipient countries under in the initiative: the Federated States of Micronesia, the Independent State of Samoa, the Kingdom of Tonga, Papua New Guinea, the Republic of Fiji, the Republic of Kiribati, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Republic of Nauru, the Republic of Palau, the Republic of Vanuatu, and the Solomon Islands, and Tuvalu. The amendment would also provide that none of the funds authorized to be appropriated for the initiative shall be used to provide training or assistance to the additional recipient countries until the Secretary of Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, submits to the appropriate congressional committees a report regarding security cooperation and assistance with such countries.

Report on resourcing United States defense requirements for the Indo-Pacific region and study on competitive strategies (sec. 1253)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1254) that would require the Commander, United States Indo-Pacific Command, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing the independent assessment of the Commander with respect to the activities and resources required for fiscal years 2022 through 2026 to achieve certain objectives.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require specific cost estimates, as practicable, to be included in the required assessment. The amendment would clarify the role of elements of the Office of the Secretary of Defense in providing a briefing related to the required assessment. The amendment would also require, not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Office of Net Assessment, to provide the results of a study on at least three possible long-term competitive strategies with respect to the People's Republic of China with a focus on identifying opportunities to shape strategic competition to the advantage of the United States.

Limitation on use of funds to reduce the total number of members of the Armed Forces serving on active duty who are deployed to South Korea (sec. 1254)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1251) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to reduce the total number of members of the Armed Forces in the territory of the Republic of Korea (ROK) below 28,500 until 90 days after the date on which the Secretary of Defense certifies to the congressional defense committees that: such a reduction is in the national security interests of the United States and will not significantly undermine the security of United States allies in the region; such a reduction is commensurate with a reduction in the threat posed to the security of the United States and its allies in the region by the conventional military forces of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK); and the Secretary has appropriately consulted with allies of the United States, including the ROK and Japan, regarding such a reduction.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1243) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to reduce the number of members of the Armed Forces serving on Active Duty in the Republic of Korea below 28,500 unless the Secretary of Defense first provides certification to the congressional defense committees that such a reduction is in the national security interest of the United States and will not significantly undermine the security of the United States' allies in the region.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act to be used to reduce the total number of members of the Armed Forces serving Active Duty who are deployed to South Korea below 28,500 until 90 days after the date on which the Secretary of Defense certified to the congressional defense committees the following: such a reduction is in the national security interest of the United States and will not significantly undermine the security of United States allies in the region; and the Secretary has appropriately consulted with allies of the United States, including South Korea and Japan, regarding such a reduction.

The conferees recognize that United States military forces deployed on the Korean Peninsula remain vital to deterring, and if necessary, defeating aggression by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, which continues to threaten the national security interests of the United States and the peace and stability of the Indo-Pacific region through both its conventional forces and weapons of mass destruction. While the conferees support diplomatic efforts to achieve the complete and fully verified denuclearization of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, the conferees believe the removal of United States military forces from the Korean Peninsula is a non-negotiable item in such negotiations.

Report on direct, indirect, and burden-sharing contributions of Japan and South Korea (sec. 1255)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1244) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the congressional defense committees, Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, and House Committee on Foreign Affairs, not later than March 1, 2020, and March 1, 2021, on the direct, indirect, and burden-sharing contributions of Japan and South Korea to support overseas military installations of the United States and U.S. Armed Forces deployed to or permanently stationed in Japan and South Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that, among other changes clarifying the process of preparing and delivering the aforementioned report, would require the Comptroller General of the United States to provide the report to the congressional committees described.

The conferees note that Japan and the Republic of Korea have made significant contributions to common security, including through direct, indirect, and burden-sharing contributions. Therefore, the conferees believe that upcoming negotiations concerning new Special Measures Agreements with Japan and the Republic of Korea should be conducted in a spirit consistent with prior negotiations on the basis of common interest and mutual respect.

Sense of Congress on security commitments to the Governments of Japan and the Republic of Korea and trilateral cooperation among the United States, Japan, and the Republic of Korea (sec. 1256)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1259) that would express the sense of the Senate with respect to security commitments to the Governments of Japan and the Republic of Korea and trilateral cooperation between the United States, Japan, and the Republic of Korea.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would express the sense of Congress that the United States strongly encourages strengthened bilateral security ties between Japan and the Republic of Korea as well as deeper trilateral defense coordination and cooperation, including through expanded exercises, training, senior-level exchanges, and information sharing. The amendment would also express that the following bilateral and trilateral agreements are critical to regional security, and should be maintained: the bilateral military intelligence-sharing pact between Japan and the Republic of Korea, signed on November 23, 2016; and the trilateral intelligence sharing agreement among the United States, Japan, and the Republic of Korea, signed on December 29, 2015.

Sense of Congress on North Korea (sec. 1257)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250K) that would express the sense of the Congress concerning North Korea and diplomatic efforts to achieve the denuclearization of North Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would express the sense of Congress that, among other things, a sustained credible diplomatic process based on concrete measures to achieve the denuclearization of North Korea and an eventual end to the Korean War should be pursued. The amendment would also express that continued actions by North Korea that run counter to diplomatic negotiations call into question North Korea's intentions and commitment to a diplomatic solution.

Statement of policy and sense of Congress on, and strategy to fulfill obligations under, Mutual Defense Treaty with the Republic of the Philippines (sec. 1258)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6201) that would state the policy of the United States that, among other things, an attack on the armed forces, public vessels, or aircraft of the Republic of the Philippines in the Pacific, including the South China Sea, would trigger the mutual defense obligations of the United States under Article IV of the Mutual Defense Treaty between the Republic of the Philippines and the United States of America, done at Washington August 30, 1951, "to meet common dangers in accordance with its constitutional processes". The provision would also express the sense of the Senate that the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense should: affirm the commitment of the United States to the Mutual Defense Treaty between the United States and the Republic of the Philippines; preserve and strengthen the alliance of the United States with the Republic of the Philippines; prioritize efforts to develop a shared understanding of alliance commitments and defense planning; and provide appropriate support to the Republic of the Philippines to strengthen the self-defense capabilities of the Republic of the Philippines, particularly in the maritime domain.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would include the statement of policy from the Senate provision, express the sense of the Congress with the respect to the objectives of the Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense as described in the Senate provision, and require, not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report that sets forth the strategy of the Department of Defense for achieving such objectives.

Report on security cooperation with the Philippine National Police (sec. 1259)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1245) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to provide a report to the congressional defense committees, Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, and House Committee on Foreign Affairs, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act on the Department of Defense's objectives and strategy for achieving such objectives for the Philippines.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require, not later than 150 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, in concurrence with the Secretary of State, to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report concerning security sector assistance programs with the Philippine National Police.

Modification of annual report on military and security developments involving the People's Republic of China (sec. 1260)

The House amendment contained two provisions (secs. 1246 and 1247) that would amend section 1202 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2000 (Public Law 106-65) by requiring the Secretary of Defense to consult with the heads of other Federal departments and agencies as appropriate in developing the Annual Report to Congress on Military and Security Developments Involving the People's Republic of China. The provisions would also modify the specified congressional committees that receive the annual report, and add certain elements to the annual report.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 1253) that would amend paragraph 26 of section 1202(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2000 (Public Law 106-65) by requiring the annual report to address the relationship between Chinese overseas investment, including the Belt and Road Initiative and the Digital Silk Road, and Chinese security and military objectives.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would add certain elements to the annual report.

Report on foreign military activities in Pacific Island countries (sec. 1260A)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250B) that would require, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, in coordination with the Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency and the Director of National Intelligence, to submit to the congressional defense committees a report concerning foreign military activities in Pacific Island countries.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Report on cybersecurity activities with Taiwan (sec. 1260B)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250G) that would direct, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on cybersecurity activities with Taiwan.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Review and report related to the Taiwan Relations Act (sec. 1260C)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6211) that would express the sense of the Congress concerning the Taiwan Relations Act (Public Law 96-8). The provision would also direct the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to conduct a review of coercive behavior by the Government of the People's Republic of China directed at Taiwan, as well as the role of United States policy toward Taiwan with respect to the implementation of the 2017 National Security Strategy and the 2018 National Defense Strategy. The provision would direct a report to be delivered to the appropriate committees of Congress on the results of the review.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would make clarifying changes to the content of the required report.

Sense of Congress on enhancement of the United States-Taiwan defense relationship (sec. 1260D)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1257) that would express the sense of the Senate concerning the enhancement of the United States-Taiwan defense relationship.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1248).

The House recesses with an amendment that would express the sense of the Congress that Taiwan is a vital partner of the United States, and that the United States should continue to strengthen defense and security cooperation in support of Taiwan maintaining a sufficient self-defense capability.

In light of the fortieth anniversary of the Taiwan Relations Act (Public Law 96-8), the conferees encourage the Department of Defense to focus attention and resources on the future of the United States-Taiwan defense relationship, particularly in relation to implementation of the National Defense Strategy and strategic competition with China.

Chinese foreign direct investment in countries of the Arctic region (sec. 1260E)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250J) that would make a series of findings and direct an independent study of Chinese foreign direct investment in countries of the Arctic region, with a focus on the effects of such foreign direct investment on United States national security and near-peer competition in the Arctic region.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would strike the findings in the provision.

Sense of Congress on policy toward Hong Kong (sec. 1260F)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6209) that would express the sense of the Congress regarding United States policy concerning Hong Kong.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would express the sense of the Congress that, among other things, Congress stands unequivocally with the people of Hong Kong as they defend their rights and freedoms and preserve their autonomy against the People's Republic of China. The amendment would call for efforts to resolve the remaining demands raised by protestors, who represent a broad cross-section of Hong Kong. The amendment would also express that in the event of use of force by the Government of the People's Republic of China against protestors in Hong Kong, Congress will recommend swift action by the United States, including: a fundamental reevaluation of the special treatment of Hong Kong under the Hong Kong Policy Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-383) and other United States law; and coordinated actions with like-minded countries to impose meaningful costs on the People's Republic of China, including the imposition of sanctions, travel restrictions, and other actions against responsible senior officials in the Chinese Communist Party, the People's Liberation Army, and the People's Armed Police.

Sense of Congress on enhancing defense and security cooperation with the Republic of Singapore (sec. 1260G)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1261) that would express the sense of the Senate concerning defense and security cooperation with the Republic of Singapore.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1249).

The House recesses with an amendment that would express the sense of the Congress that robust defense and security cooperation between the United States and the Republic of Singapore is crucial to promoting peace and stability in the Indo-Pacific region.

Authority to transfer funds for Bien Hoa dioxin cleanup (sec. 1260H)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1043) that would allow the Secretary of Defense to transfer not more than $15.0 million in fiscal year 2020 to the Secretary of State, for use by the United States Agency for International Development, funds to be used for the Bien Hoa dioxin cleanup in Vietnam.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to notify the congressional defense committees prior to such a transfer of funds.

Limitation on removal of Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd. from entity list of Bureau of Industry and Security (1260I)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250D) that would prohibit the removal of Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd. from the entity list maintained by the Bureau of Industry and Security until the Secretary of Commerce certifies to Congress that a number of conditions have been met.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would modify the conditions for removal from the entity list and add a reporting requirement for licenses issued for exports to Huawei.

Report on ZTE compliance with Superseding Settlement Agreement and Superseding Order (sec. 1260J)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250C) that would require the President to submit annual reports to Congress on the compliance of Zhongxing Telecommunications Equipment Corporation (ZTE) and ZTE Kangxun Telecommunications Ltd. with the Superseding Settlement Agreement and Superseding Order reached with the Department of Commerce on June 8, 2018.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Report on the lay-down of United States Marines in the Indo-Pacific region (sec. 1260K)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1255) that would require a review of, certification, and report on the current status of the distributed laydown of forces in the Indo-Pacific region in support of the joint statement of the United States-Japan Security Consultative Committee issued April 26, 2012, in the District of Columbia (April 27, 2012, in Tokyo, Japan) and revised on October 3, 2013, in Tokyo. The provision would also require the Comptroller General to submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing an analysis of the current status of the distributed laydown.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would add certain elements of the report to focus its contents on the implementation of the planned distributed lay-down of U.S. Marines in the Indo-Pacific region and strikes the requirement for a Comptroller General report.

The conferees note that nothing in this provision shall be construed to change the current distributed lay-down of U.S. Marines in the Indo-Pacific region or to express support for any such change. Any potential changes to the distributed lay-down should be considered only after consultation and agreement of impacted countries, especially the Government of Japan.

SUBTITLE G—OTHER MATTERS

Modification to report on legal and policy frameworks for the use of military force (sec. 1261)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1262) that would modify section 1264 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) to require the President to submit an annual report to the appropriate committees of Congress on the legal and policy frameworks for the use of military force and related national security operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Independent review of sufficiency of resources available to United States Southern Command and United States Africa Command (sec. 1262)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1264) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to seek to enter into a contract with an entity independent of the Department of Defense to conduct an assessment of the sufficiency of resources available to U.S. Southern Command and U.S. Africa Command.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with technical amendment.

United States Central Command posture assessment and review (sec. 1263)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1287) that would mandate a comprehensive United States Central Command (CENTCOM) posture review, which would assess the extent to which the United States possesses the force posture and capabilities for countering threats emanating from and affecting CENTCOM's area of responsibilities.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to seek to enter into a contract with a federally funded research and development center to conduct an independent assessment and comprehensive review of United States military force posture and capabilities for countering threats emanating from and affecting CENTCOM's area of responsibilities.

The conferees note that the United States' military presence, posture, and basing in the Middle East region was constituted iteratively over decades to support a range of regional partners, operations, tasks, and activities, against an evolving spectrum of threats and contingencies. The conferees are concerned that the proportion of Department of Defense resources deployed to the CENTCOM area of responsibility no longer reflects departmental priorities, as articulated in the National Defense Strategy. Furthermore, the conferees believe CENTCOM must be appropriately postured in order to maintain resilience and deterrence toward regional adversaries whose doctrine and capabilities continue to evolve. However, the conferees believe CENTCOM must pursue a more resource efficient approach in order to support Department-wide efforts to recover readiness, lethality, and strategic competitiveness with Russia and China, in accordance with National Defense Strategy priorities.

Limitation on production of nuclear proliferation assessment statements (sec. 1264)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1269) that would prohibit the Secretary of State from providing to the President a Nuclear Proliferation Assessment Statement, in accordance with section 123 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2153), with respect to a proposed cooperation agreement with any country that has not signed and implemented an Additional Protocol with the International Atomic Energy Agency. The provision would make an exception for a country that already had in effect an agreement under section 123 as of June 19, 2019. The provision would allow for a waiver of such prohibition if the President submits a report to the appropriate congressional committees, and the Congress enacts a joint resolution of approval of the waiver.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the requirement for a joint resolution of approval of the waiver. The waiver would instead take effect 90 days after the submission of the report to the appropriate congressional committees.

Western hemisphere resource assessment (sec. 1265)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270D) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President, acting through the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, and the Administrator of the United States Agency for International Development, to submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees assessing the sufficiency of resources available to the United States Southern Command, United States Northern Command, Department of State, and United States Agency for International Development, to carry out their respective missions in the Western hemisphere.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify the elements of the required assessment.

Human rights in Brazil (sec. 1266)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1080) that would require, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State to jointly submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees that assesses the human rights climate in Brazil; whether Brazilian security-force units that are engaged in human rights abuses may have received or purchased United States equipment or training; and a strategy to address the human rights abuses found.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that, among other changes, would require the Secretary of Defense to coordinate with the Secretary of State on the report and add additional elements to the report, including U.S.-Brazil security cooperation and related matters.

Certification relating to assistance for Guatemala (sec. 1267)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270S) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available to transfer or purchase vehicles for any joint task force including the Ministry of Defense or the Ministry of the Interior of Guatemala unless the Secretary of Defense certifies that such ministries have made a credible commitment to use such equipment solely for the purposes intended.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require that prior to the transfer of vehicles by the Department of Defense to a joint task force of the Ministry of Defense or the Ministry of Interior of Guatemala during fiscal year 2020, the Secretary of Defense must certify to the appropriate congressional committees that such ministries have made a credible commitment to use such equipment only for the uses for which they were intended.

Independent analysis of human rights situation in Honduras (sec. 1268)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1286) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into an agreement with an independent think tank or a federally funded research and development center to conduct an analysis and assessment of the compliance of the military and security forces of Honduras with international human rights laws and standards.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Briefing on strategy to improve the efforts of the Nigerian military to prevent, mitigate, and respond to civilian harm (sec. 1269)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270E) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on plans to assist the Nigerian military in improving its efforts to prevent, mitigate, and respond to civilian harm arising from its military presence and operations. The provision would also require the President to provide annual updates on progress made with respect to the plan contained in such report.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State to jointly provide a briefing to specified congressional committees on the current strategy to improve defense institutions and security sector forces in Nigeria.

The conferees expect the briefing to discuss steps, if any, that the Departments are taking to increase the ability of the Nigerian military to minimize civilian harm when using equipment provided by the United States, to include the A-29 Super Tucano and related munitions.

Report on implications of Chinese military presence in Djibouti (sec. 1270)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270K) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report containing a comprehensive strategy to address security concerns posed by the Chinese People's Liberation Army Support Base in Djibouti to United States military installations and logistics chains in sub-Saharan Africa and the Middle East.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Rule of construction on the permanent stationing of United States Armed Forces in Somalia (sec. 1271)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270T) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020 to establish any military installation or base for the purpose of providing for the permanent stationing of United States Armed Forces in Somalia.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment to include a rule of construction that states that nothing in this Act may be construed to authorize the permanent stationing of members of the United States Armed Forces in Somalia.

Defense and diplomatic strategy for Libya (sec. 1272)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 12700) that would require, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that contains a strategy for Libya.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that modifies the elements of the required strategy.

Prohibition on in-flight refueling to non-United States aircraft that engage in hostilities in the ongoing civil war in Yemen (sec. 1273)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270N) that would prohibit, for the two-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, in-flight fueling by the Department of Defense to non-United States aircraft engaged in hostilities in the ongoing civil war in Yemen unless and until a declaration of war or a specific statutory authorization has been enacted.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Report on Saudi led coalition strikes in Yemen (sec. 1274)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270M) that would require, not later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act and annually thereafter, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to submit a report detailing the number of civilian casualties caused by the Saudi-led coalition in Yemen, including an assessment of the coalition members' willingness and ability to prevent civilian casualties.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Reports on expenses incurred for in-flight refueling of Saudi coalition aircraft conducting missions relating to civil war in Yemen (sec. 1275)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1288) that would mandate a report detailing the expenses incurred by the United States in providing in-flight refueling services for Saudi or Saudi-led coalition non-United States aircraft conducting missions as part of the civil war in Yemen from March 1, 2015, to November 11, 2018, and the extent to which such expenses have been reimbursed by members of the Saudi-led coalition.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Report on Saudi Arabia's human rights record (sec. 1276)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1296B) that would require not later than 30 days after the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State, in accordance with section 502B(c) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2304(c)), to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the protection of human rights within Saudi Arabia.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Report on intelligence community assessment relating to the killing of Washington Post columnist Jamal Khashoggi (sec. 1277)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1296) that would require, not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director of National Intelligence to submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees detailing intelligence findings regarding the October 2018 killing of Saudi columnist Jamal Khashoggi.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

United States-Israel cooperation to counter unmanned aerial systems (sec. 1278)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1284) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to carry out joint research, development, test, and evaluation to establish capabilities for countering unmanned aerial systems (C-UAS) that threaten the United States or Israel.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Extension and modification of authority for United States-Israel anti-tunnel cooperation activities (sec. 1279)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1283) that would amend section 1279 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) to modify the authority for United States-Israel anti-tunnel cooperation activities. The provision would remove countering unmanned aerial systems from the section 1279 authority. Elsewhere in this Act, the committee recommends a provision that would establish a separate authority for United States-Israel cooperation regarding countering unmanned aerial systems. The provision would also authorize the Secretary of Defense to use amounts available under the section 1279 authority, which are in excess of the amount contributed by the Government of Israel, for costs associated with unique national requirements identified by the United States with respect to anti-tunnel capabilities.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would extend the section 1279 authority through December 31, 2024.

Report on cost imposition strategy (sec. 1280)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1271) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees a report describing the cost imposition strategies of the Department of Defense with respect to the People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that, among other clarifying changes, would require the Secretary of Defense to consult with the heads of other Federal departments and agencies as appropriate in the preparation of the report.

Modification of initiative to support protection of national security academic researchers from undue influence and other security threats (sec. 1281)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1285) that would amend section 1286 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to require the Secretary of Defense to develop a list of academic institutions of the People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation that are: (1) Associated with a defense program of the People's Republic of China or the Russian Federation, including any university heavily engaged in military research; (2) Known to recruit individuals for the purpose of advancing the talent and capabilities of such a defense program or to provide misleading transcripts or otherwise attempt to conceal the connections of an individual or institution to such a defense program; or (3) Pose a serious risk of intangible transfers of defense or engineering technology and research.

The Senate bill contained another provision (sec. 6219) that would amend section 1286 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 to specify that the training and support provided under such program shall emphasize best practices for the protection of sensitive national security information and include the dissemination of unclassified publications and resources.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would: (1) Combine sections 1285 and 6219 with minor modifications; (2) Amend section 1286 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 to require the Secretary of Defense to establish enhanced information sharing procedures to collect appropriate information on any personnel participating in defense research and development activities other than basic research and to maintain appropriate security controls over research activities, technical information, and intellectual property; and (3) Amend the required report in the same section to be an annual report.

The conferees note the important impact that United States academic institutions have had advancing emerging technologies and contributing to the defense research enterprise. Maintaining an open and collaborative environment for unclassified basic and applied research is fundamental to attracting the world's best students and commercializing their innovations. The conferees, however, note the efforts undertaken by foreign adversaries and competitors to exploit the open academic environment through the theft of intellectual property, improper technology transfer, and espionage.

The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to establish a memorandum of understanding with the Secretary of Homeland Security in order to coordinate the implementation of the enhanced information sharing required in this provision. The conferees note, that to greatest extent possible, the Secretary of Defense should streamline information sharing procedures and leverage existing government information systems and repositories, including the Student Exchange Visitor Information System, to reduce the burden on universities and the Department of Defense.

Modification of responsibility for policy on civilian casualty matters (sec. 1282)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1268) that would modify section 1057 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) and section 936 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) relating to civilian casualty matters.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would amend section 936 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to modify the responsibilities of the senior civilian official of the Department of Defense designated to develop, coordinate, and oversee compliance relating to civilian casualties. The conferees direct the senior designated official to coordinate with other relevant U.S. departments and agencies with respect to any other matters related to civilian harm resulting from military operations, including assistance provided to civilians impacted or displaced by such operations.

Report on export of certain satellites to entities with certain beneficial ownership status (sec. 1283)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6207) that would require a report on addressing the threat posed by the export, reexport, or in-country transfer of certain satellites to certain entities.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical/clarifying amendment.

Rule of construction relating to use of military force (sec. 1284)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1265) that would establish that nothing in this Act or any amendment made by this Act may be construed to authorize the use of military force.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would establish that nothing in this Act or any amendment made by this Act may be construed to authorize the use of military force, including the use of military force against Iran or any other country.

Reports and briefings on use of military force and support of partner forces (sec. 1285)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270V) that would require the President not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and every 180 days thereafter, to submit to the congressional defense committees, the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives a report on specific actions taken pursuant to the Authorization for Use of Military Force (Public Law 107-40; 50 U.S.C. 1541 et seq.) and support for partner forces against those nations or organizations described in such law, during the preceding 180-day period.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the President not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and every 180 days thereafter, to submit to the congressional defense committees, the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives a report on actions taken pursuant to the Authorization for Use of Military Force (Public Law 107-40) against those countries or organizations described in such law, as well as any actions taken to command, coordinate, participate in the movement of, or accompany the regular or irregular military forces of any foreign country or government when such forces are engaged in hostilities or in situations where imminent involvement in hostilities is clearly indicated by the circumstances, during the preceding 180-day period.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Report on participants in security cooperation training programs and recipients of security assistance training that have been designated for human rights abuses or terrorist activities

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1205) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the heads of other appropriate Federal departments and agencies, to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on individuals and units of security forces of foreign countries that have participated in security cooperation programs or received security assistance training and have been subject to United States sanctions relating to the violation of human rights or terrorist activities. The Secretaries would also be required to submit an annual update of the report.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note the importance of adherence to human rights by recipients of Department of Defense (DOD) security cooperation training. The conferees note that section 362 of title 10, United States Code, prohibits DOD from providing assistance to foreign security forces if there is credible information that gross violations of human rights have been committed. Among the key elements of the security cooperation reforms contained in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) were an increased emphasis on the integration of human rights training into DOD security cooperation programs and the strengthening of the defense and security institutions of foreign partners in order to more effectively and responsibly train, manage, and employ their forces. The conferees note that DOD faces significant challenges relating to its ability to comprehensively track recipients of DOD security cooperation training in order to identify those who may subsequently have committed gross violations of human rights. The conferees understand that these challenges arise in part from limitations in the Department's ability to collect and maintain data on all individuals who receive security cooperation training under title 10 chapter 16 authorities and in the ability to cross-reference such information with that of other departments and agencies of the United States government. The conferees are aware that the lack of data would result in incomplete information on recipients of security cooperation training that have been designated for human rights abuses or terrorist activities.

Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate not later than 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act on the advisability and feasibility of providing Congress with a report on recipients of security cooperation training programs at the unit and individual level that, after such training, go on to commit gross violations of human rights. The briefing should identify any challenges that DOD may encounter in such an effort as well as recommendations for overcoming such challenges.

Prohibition on use of funds to transfer defense articles and services to Azerbaijan

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1207) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized by this Act or otherwise made available to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020 to transfer defense articles or services to Azerbaijan unless the President certifies to Congress that the transfer of such defense articles or services does not threaten civil aviation.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees are concerned by any threat or use of force against civilians or actions against a nation's sovereignty, which would be contrary to international law. The importance of a diplomatic resolution of the Nagorno-Karabakh conflict is addressed in another section of this report.

Multinational regional security education center

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1209) that would require, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing on the utility and feasibility of establishing a multinational regional security education center.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate a briefing on the utility and feasibility of establishing a multinational regional security education center, including as a satellite entity of the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies that is located in a member country of the Association for Southeast Asian Nations, to offer year-round training and educational courses to Southeast Asian and Indo-Pacific civilian and military security personnel to enhance engagement of territorial and maritime security, transnational and asymmetric threats, and defense sector governance in the Indo-Pacific region. Training may also include English-language training, human rights training, rule of law and legal studies, security governance and institution-building courses, and budget and procurement training.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a written summary of the briefing to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, within 30 days following the briefing.

Training for participants in professional military education programs

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1210) that would require any foreign person participating in professional military education to participate in human rights training.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that every year numerous students from foreign militaries participate in professional military education provided and funded by the United States. These courses should be viewed as a valuable opportunity to foster an appreciation of human rights and the rule of law. The conferees are aware that foreign students in professional military education programs participate in the Department of Defense Field Studies Program, which includes instruction in human rights and law of war, among other topics. The Secretary of Defense is encouraged to continue providing human rights training as a key component of professional military education.

Report on plan to transfer funds in connection with the provision of support under section 385 of title 10, United States Code

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1210A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on Department of Defense plans to transfer funds with the provision of support under section 385 of title 10, United States Code, for fiscal year 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of State, and the Administrator of the U.S. Agency for International Development to provide a briefing not later than December 1, 2019 to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate on any plans to use the authority provided by section 385 of title 10, U.S. Code, in fiscal year 2020. The briefing should also include a description of any issues that may impede the use of such authority.

Rule of construction relating to use of military force against Iran

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1225) that would establish that nothing in this Act or any amendment made by this Act may be construed to authorize the use of military force against Iran.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Congress on support for Ministry of Peshmerga Forces of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1226) stating that it was the sense of Congress that the Ministry of Peshmerga forces of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq had made significant contributions and sacrifices in the United States-led campaign to degrade, dismantle, and destroy ISIS, and that the Department of Defense and Department of State should continue to work with and support the non-partisan forces of the Ministry of Peshmerga of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq in order to continue to develop their capabilities, promote security sector reforms, and enhance sustainability and interoperability with the other elements of the Iraqi security forces in order to provide for Iraq's lasting security against terrorist threats.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the United States-led coalition known as the Combined Joint Task Force-Operation Inherent Resolve (CJTF-OIR) in partnership with the Iraqi Security Forces (ISF), including the Kurdish Peshmerga, successfully liberated significant Iraqi territory from the control of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS). While the conferees applaud this significant achievement, they also express concern that ISIS continues to pose a significant threat to Iraq, the region, and potentially the U.S. homeland.

According to the August 2019 Lead Inspector General report for OIR, CJTF-OIR noted "deep-seated internal Kurdish political divisions and the Kurds' continuing dispute with Iraq's central government over a swath of disputed territory in northern Iraq rich in resources have allowed ISIS insurgents to exploit gaps between ISF and Peshmerga forces, which allows ISIS to regroup and plan attacks in the region." Furthermore, the Lead Inspector General report for OIR stated "that the ISF and the Peshmerga has made progress this quarter in ongoing planning of 'joint security mechanisms'-coordination to effectively combat ISIS in the disputed territories. However, on-the-ground cooperation between the ISF and the Peshmerga remained limited and security gaps remained." The conferees believe a lasting defeat of ISIS is critical to maintaining a stable and tolerant Iraq in which all faiths, sects, and ethnicities are afforded equal protection and full integration into the government and society of Iraq and support the provision of U.S. security and other assistance for such purposes. As part of those efforts, the conferees support continued reform of, and materiel and training assistance to, Kurdish Peshmerga forces with the objective of enabling them to more effectively partner with the ISF, the United States, and other international partners. In furtherance of those objectives, the conferees believe continued efforts by the Peshmerga and ISF to establish joint security mechanisms are critical to addressing the threat of ISIS in disputed territories.

The conferees strongly support continuation of the partnership between the U.S. military and ISF, including the Kurdish Peshmerga in furtherance of our shared interests. In the coming years, the conferees encourage the Department to normalize its support to the Peshmerga by focusing assistance on the reform and professionalization at the ministerial and unit level and the development of capabilities and interoperability with other ISF elements that contribute to the long-term stability of Iraq.

Sense of Congress on supporting the return and repatriation of religious and ethnic minorities in Iraq to their ancestral homelands

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1227) that expressed the sense of Congress that it should remain a policy priority of the United States to support the safe return of displaced indigenous people of the Nineveh Plan and Sinjar to their ancestral homeland and that it should be a priority to ensure reintegration and restoration of fundamental human rights.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition of unauthorized military force in or against Iran

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1229) that would prohibit the use of Federal funds for any use of military force in or against Iran unless Congress has declared war or enacted a specific statutory authorization.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on Russian military involvement in the AFRICOM AOR

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1240) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act to provide a report to the appropriate congressional committees on military assistance provided by the Russian Federation or any private military corporations headquartered or registered in Russia to countries in the U.S. Africa Command area of responsibility (AOR).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act on the presence, activities, and strategic objectives of the Russian Federation in Africa. The briefing shall address, at a minimum, the following:

1) A description of the presence, activities, and strategic objectives of the Russian Federation in Africa.

2) A description of all known bilateral agreements between Russia and African governments negotiated since 2014, including military and technical cooperation, arms sales, and mineral exploration.

3) An analysis of any direct or indirect military support Russia or private military corporations based in Russia are providing to state and non-state armed groups in Africa, including a description of the types of support.

4) A description of arms sales within the previous calendar year by the Russian defense sector to African countries, and an analysis of whether any of such arms sales constitute significant transactions within the meaning of section 231 of the Countering America's Adversaries Through Sanctions Act of 2017 (22 U.S.C. 9525).

5) An analysis of the extent to which such arms sales may be in violation of United Nations Security Council-imposed arms embargoes in Africa, including with regard to South Sudan, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and the Central African Republic.

6) An analysis of Russian disinformation and propaganda operations in African countries, and the extent to which such operations pose a risk to United States interests in Africa.

7) A description of any plans to counteract destabilizing Russian activities in Africa.

8) Any other matters the Secretary deems relevant.

United States actions relating to Russian interference in elections for Federal office

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1240B) that would impose a prohibition on transactions relating to new Russian sovereign debt, require a determination of Russian interference in elections for Federal office, and create procedures for lifting and reimposing the prohibition.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Extension and modification of report on military and security developments involving North Korea

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1242) that would amend section 1236 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2012 (Public Law 112-81) to extend and modify the requirement to provide a report on the military and security developments involving the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that Congress's ability to evaluate the security threat posed by North Korea and to conduct oversight of United States policy toward North Korea has been impaired by a lack of transparency and associated delays in providing information necessary for such oversight. For example, the report to Congress on the status of North Korea's nuclear program to establish a baseline of progress for negotiations with respect to denuclearization as required by section 1265 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) was recently submitted over 300 days late. The conferees reiterate support for diplomatic efforts to achieve the denuclearization of North Korea. The conferees urge the Administration to review its policies related to North Korea to ensure they are consistent with a priority on open and timely communication with the Congress.

Report by Defense Intelligence Agency on certain military capabilities of China and Russia

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250F) that would require the Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency to submit to the Secretary of Defense and the appropriate congressional committees a report on the military capabilities of China and Russia.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, the conferees direct the Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency to provide to the Committees on Armed Services of the House of Representatives and the Senate a briefing concerning the military capabilities of China and Russia, including: (1) an update on the presence, status, and capability of the military with respect to any national training centers similar to the Combat Training Center Program of the United States; (2) an analysis of a readiness deployment cycle of the military, including as compared to such a cycle of the United States and an identification of metrics used in the national training centers of that military; (3) a comprehensive investigation into the capability and readiness of the mechanized logistics of the army of the military, including an analysis of field maintenance, sustainment maintenance, movement control, intermodal operations, and supply, and how such functions interact with specific echelons of that military; and (4) an assessment of the future of mechanized army logistics of the military.

Modification of report relating to enhancing defense and security cooperation with India

The House amendment contained two provisions (sec. 1250 and sec. 1250I) concerning defense and security cooperation with India.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

In addition to regular briefings and reports on U.S.-India defense relations, the conferees direct the Department of Defense to provide a briefing to the congressional defense committees on U.S.-India defense cooperation in the Western Indian Ocean no later than March 1, 2020. Topics to be covered in the briefing shall include: (1) a description of military activities of the United States and India, separately, in the Western Indian Ocean; (2) a description of military cooperation activities between the United States and India in the Western Indian Ocean; (3) a description of how the relevant geographic combatant commands coordinate their activities with the Indian military in the Western Indian Ocean and the mechanisms in place to ensure such cooperation is maximized; (4) a description of how the major defense partnership with India will be utilized to enhance cooperation in the Western Indian Ocean; and (5) areas of future opportunity to increase military engagement with India in the Western Indian Ocean.

Sense of Congress on the enduring United States commitment to the Freely Associated States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250E) that would express the sense of the Congress concerning the enduring commitment of the United States to the Freely Associated States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees recognize that the United States has strong and enduring interests in the security and prosperity of Oceania and the Western Pacific region, including close relationships with the countries of Palau, the Marshall Islands, and the Federated States of Micronesia, with whom the United States shares Compacts of Free Association. The United States and the Freely Associated States share values including democracy and human rights, as well as mutual interest in a free, open, and prosperous Indo-Pacific region. Therefore, the conferees believe the United States should expeditiously begin negotiations on the renewal of the Compacts of Free Association and conclude such negotiations prior to the expiration of the current compacts in 2023 and 2024.

Sense of Congress on United States-India defense relationship

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1250H) that would express the sense of the Congress on the United States-India defense relationship.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on value of investments in dual use infrastructure projects by NATO member states

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1256) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report, not later than June 1, 2020, on the value of investments in dual use infrastructure projects by the member states of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Senate on the United States-Japan alliance and defense cooperation

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1256) that would express the sense of the Senate concerning the United States-Japan alliance and opportunities for enhancing defense cooperation.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees underscore that the United States-Japan alliance remains the cornerstone of peace and security for a free and open Indo-Pacific region. The conferees also recognize that the Government of Japan has made among the most significant "burden sharing" contributions of any United States ally, including through direct cost sharing, paying for the realignment of United States forces currently stationed in Okinawa, community support, and other alliance-related expenditures.

European Center of Excellence for Countering Hybrid Threats

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1258) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide $2.0 million for the European Center of Excellence for Countering Hybrid Threats.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees strongly support the efforts of the European Center of Excellence for Countering Hybrid Threats (henceforth referred to as "the Center"), and encourage the Department of Defense to cooperate fully and actively with the Center. The conferees note that the Center could play an important role in addressing the strategic challenge described by the National Defense Strategy: revisionist powers and rogue regimes increasing "efforts short of armed conflict by expanding coercion to new fronts, violating principles of sovereignty, exploiting ambiguity, and deliberately blurring the lines between civil and military goals." The conferees also anticipate the Center serving as a unique forum to address the common concerns of transatlantic democracies and as a hallmark of cooperation between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Union.

To better understand the full scope of capability and impact the Center could have to further the strategic and operational objectives of the Department of Defense, the conferees direct the Department of Defense to provide the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives a briefing, no later than 60 days after the enactment of this Act, on the Center, including the following components: the strategic vision for the Center, associated resources and manpower, planned or current activities, and intended engagement strategy of the Department with the Center.

Sense of Senate on United States-India defense relationship

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1258) that would express the sense of the Senate on the United States-India defense relationship.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Sense of Congress on European investments in national security

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1259) that would express the sense of Congress that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is central to United States-European defense matters and that military cooperation and coordination in Europe among NATO member countries should complement NATO efforts and not detract from NATO military system interoperability and burden sharing among NATO allies.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the importance of NATO is addressed elsewhere in this report.

Briefing on Department of Defense program to protect United States students against foreign assets

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1260) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the congressional defense committees on the program to protect United States students against recruitment efforts by foreign intelligence agents as described in section 1277 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to update the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House no later than March 15, 2019 on the status of the program required in section 1277 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018, including an assessment of whether the program is beneficial to students interning, working part time, or in a program that will result in post-graduation employment with the Department of Defense components or contractors.

Sense of Senate on enhanced cooperation with Pacific Island countries to establish open-source intelligence fusion centers in the Indo-Pacific region

The Senate bill contained two provisions (sec. 1260 and sec. 6202) that would express the sense of the Senate that U.S. Indo-Pacific Command should pursue the establishment of one or more open-source intelligence fusion centers in the Indo-Pacific region to enhance cooperation with Pacific Island countries.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Limitation on availability of certain funds until report submitted on Department of Defense awards and disciplinary action as a result of the 2017 incident in Niger

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1263) that would prohibit the use of more than 80 percent of any funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2020 for Operations and Maintenance, Defense-Wide, Office of the Secretary of Defense, for Travel of Persons, until the Secretary of Defense submits a report containing a description of each award and disciplinary action issued, by rank, as a result of the AR 15-6 investigation findings relating to the incident in Niger on October 4, 2017.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees have serious concerns about the executive branch's handling of the ambush in Niger that occurred on October 4, 2017, which led to the death of four U.S. servicemembers. These concerns include the Department of Defense's repeated delays in providing to Congress the report on the investigation into the incident as well as information on the disciplinary actions issued in connection with the incident. The executive branch has a duty to conduct itself with candor and it must act in a way that is transparent and responsive to congressional oversight.

Therefore, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate not later than January 15, 2020 a report containing a description of each disciplinary action issued by rank as a result of the AR 15-6 investigation findings relating to the incident in Niger on October 4, 2017. The report shall be submitted in a format that protects personally identifiable information and is consistent with national security.

Rule of construction relating to use of military force against Venezuela

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1266) that would establish that nothing in this Act or any amendment made by this Act may be construed to authorize the use of military force against Venezuela.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Restriction on emergency authority relating to arms sales under the Arms Export Control Act

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270) that would amend section 36 of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776) by modifying a restriction on emergency authority requiring the President to consult with appropriate congressional committees not later than 3 days after the determination and submit further certifications to Congress. The modifications would also require the delivery of defense articles within 90 days of the issuance of the emergency determination and the submittal of a report to Congress not later than 30 days after the delivery of defense articles. Further, the waiver of congressional review would not apply to begin manufacturing or co-production of articles outside the United States.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Report on annual defense spending by ally and partner countries

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1240) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to certain congressional committees a report containing a summary of the key findings of the annual report of the Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) as well as assessments of various elements of burden-sharing and defense cooperation with and among NATO allies.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1270A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report concerning defense spending by each mutual defense treaty ally and major non-NATO ally of the United States, as well as other matters.

These legislative provisions were not adopted.

Not later than 60 days after the date on which the next annual report of the Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) for the preceding calendar year is published, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives, a report that includes the following:(1) an assessment, incorporating the key findings of the such annual report of the Secretary General of NATO, of progress toward meeting the Defense Investment Pledge made at the 2014 NATO summit in Wales by member countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; a description of the personnel and financial contributions of each member country of NATO to NATO missions; and a description of NATO initiatives to accelerate the speed of decision, ensure viable military reinforcement, and to support the deployability of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces. The conferees direct that the report be submitted in an unclassified form, but may include a classified annex.

The conferees note that the contributions of United States allies to collective defense and shared security are critical. The conferees note that reports relating to ally and partner "burden-sharing" contributions are addressed elsewhere in this report.

Reports on contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1240) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to certain congressional committees a report containing a summary of the key findings of the annual report of the Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) as well as assessments of various elements of burden-sharing and defense cooperation with and among NATO allies.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1270A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report concerning defense spending by each mutual defense treaty ally and major non-NATO ally of the United States, as well as other matters.

These legislative provisions were not adopted.

Not later than 60 days after the date on which the next annual report of the Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) for the preceding calendar year is published, the conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives, a report that includes the following: (1) an assessment, incorporating the key findings of the such annual report of the Secretary General of NATO, of progress toward meeting the Defense Investment Pledge made at the 2014 NATO summit in Wales by member countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; a description of the personnel and financial contributions of each member country of NATO to NATO missions; and a description of NATO initiatives to accelerate the speed of decision, ensure viable military reinforcement, and to support the deployability of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces. The conferees direct that the report be submitted in an unclassified form, but may include a classified annex.

The conferees note that the contributions of United States allies to collective defense and shared security are critical. The conferees note that reports relating to ally and partner "burden-sharing" contributions are addressed elsewhere in this report.

Sense of Congress on the United States-Israel relationship

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270B) that would express the sense of Congress that Israel has been one of the United States' strongest friends and allies, that the United States should continue to offer full security assistance and related support to Israel, and that such assistance and support is vital as Israel confronts a number of potential challenges, including threats from Iran.

The Senate contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees strongly support the enduring strategic partnership between the United States and Israel, which is based on common democratic values and seven decades of strong cooperation. Furthermore, the conferees believe close defense cooperation between the two countries remains a critical component of this partnership given shared security challenges.

Sense of Congress on stability of the Caucasus region and the continuation of the Nagorno Karabakh cease-fire

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270C) that would express the sense of Congress regarding methods to advance United States interests in the stability of the Caucasus region and the continuation of the Nagorno Karabakh cease-fire.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees underscore the importance of preventing further violence and making progress toward a peaceful resolution of the Nagorno-Karabakh conflict.

Limitation on use of funds from the Special Defense Acquisition Fund

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270F) that would amend section 114(c) of title 10, United States Code, to prohibit the use of funds made available from the Special Defense Acquisition Fund for any fiscal year to provide any assistance to Saudi Arabia or the United Arab Emirates if such assistance could be used by either country to conduct or continue hostilities in Yemen.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on the use of emergency authorities for the sale or transfer of defense articles and services to Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270G) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available by this or any other Act to process a commercial or foreign military sale, or to transfer, deliver, or facilitate the transfer or delivery, of any defense article or service to Saudi Arabia or the United Arab Emirates pursuant to any certification of emergency circumstances submitted in accordance with section 36(b) of the Armed Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776(b)).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Prohibition on support for military participation against the Houthis

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270H) that would prohibit the use of funds authorized or otherwise made available by this Act to provide intelligence for the purpose of strikes or logistical support for coalition strikes to the Saudi-led coalitions operations against the Houthis in Yemen.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on efforts to combat Boko Haram in Nigeria and the Lake Chad Basin

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270L) that expresses the sense of Congress on Boko Haram and would require, not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General to jointly submit to Congress a report on efforts to combat Boko Haram in Nigeria and the Lake Chad Basin.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act to provide a joint briefing to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate on the initiatives undertaken by the Department of Defense (DoD) and the Department of State (DoS) to assist the Government of Nigeria and countries in the Lake Chad Basin to develop capabilities to combat Boko Haram, the Islamic State in West Africa, and other terrorist organizations that threaten regional security. The briefing shall also include a description of any activities by DoD and DoS to enhance the capacity of Nigeria and countries in the Lake Chad Basin to investigate and prosecute human rights abuses as well as promote respect for the rule of law.

Sense of Congress relating to Mongolia

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270P) that would express the sense of the Congress that the United States and Mongolia have a shared interest in supporting and preserving Mongolia's democracy, including Mongolia's ability to pursue an independent foreign policy, defend against threats to its sovereignty, and maintain territorial integrity.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that defense cooperation, a strong military-to-military relationship, and increased interoperability between the United States and Mongolia are in the interest of both countries, and the United States should continue to take steps to strengthen its security partnership with Mongolia.

Report on relationship between Lebanese armed forces and Hizballah

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270Q) that would require, not later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act, the President to submit a report identifying personnel with influence over the Lebanese Armed Forces who are influenced by Hizballah and describing military activities conducted by the Lebanese Armed Forces to disarm Hizballah.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees within 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act that, at a minimum, assesses whether Hizballah exerts influence over the Lebanese Armed Forces, describes the nature of the Lebanese Armed Forces' communication and interaction with Hizballah, details U.S. and other international efforts to build the capacity of the Lebanese Armed Forces to provide for the security and stability of Lebanon, and outlines efforts by the Lebanese Armed Forces to maintain accountability for U.S.-provided equipment. The report may contain a classified annex if necessary.

Imposition of sanctions relating to Central America

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270R) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President to impose sanctions on individuals listed in the reports provided to Congress pursuant to section 1287 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 114-232) and section 7019(d) of the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Relative Programs Appropriations Act, 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Report on hostilities involving United States Armed Forces

The House amendment contained a provision (sec.1270U) that would require the President to report to the congressional defense committees, the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives within 48 hours any incident in which United States Armed Forces are involved in an attack or hostilities, including in an offensive or defensive capacity, except in specified circumstances.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Repeal of Authorization for the Use of Military Force

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270W) that would repeal the Authorization for Use of Military Force Against Iraq Resolution of 2002 (Public Law 107-243; 50 U.S.C. 1541 note).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Short title

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1281) that would allow Subtitle I to be cited as the "Return Expenses Paid and Yielded Act" or "REPAY Act."

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Modification of certification and report requirements relating to sales of major defense equipment with respect to which nonrecurring costs of research, development, and production are waived or reduced under the Arms Export Control Act

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1282) that would amend the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776(b)) to modify certification and report requirements relating to sales of major defense equipment with respect to which nonrecurring costs of research, development, and production are waived or reduced.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Review and report on use and management of administrative surcharges under the foreign military sales program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1283) that would require the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of the Defense Security Cooperation Agency, to review options for expanding the use of administrative surcharges under the foreign military sales program. The provision would also require, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of the Defense Security Cooperation Agency, submit a report on the findings of the review and any legislative changes needed.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Performance measures to monitor foreign military sales program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1284) that would direct the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of the Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) and in consultation with the heads of other relevant components of the Department of Defense (DOD), to enhance the ability of the DOD to monitor the foreign military sales program. The provision would also require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, acting through the Director of the DSCA, to submit a report on plans to enhance the ability of DOD to monitor foreign military sales program performance. The provision would then direct the Comptroller General to provide a briefing on that report within 180 days of its submission.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Definitions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1287) that would provide definitions.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Senate on security concerns with respect to leasing arrangements for the Port of Haifa in Israel

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1289) that would express the sense of the Senate that the United States has an interest in the future forward presence of United States naval vessels at the Port of Haifa in Israel but has serious security concerns with respect to current the leasing arrangements of the Port of Haifa. Therefore, the provision would express the view that the United States should urge the Government of Israel to consider the security implications of foreign investment in Israel.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that the United States has an interest in the continued presence of United States naval vessels in the Eastern Mediterranean region, including United States naval vessels continuing to make port calls in Israel. The conferees believe the United States should convey to the Government of Israel the serious security concerns with respect to the leasing arrangements of the Port of Haifa, and urge consideration of the security implications of such foreign investment in Israel.

Matters relating to Burma

The House amendment contained multiple provisions (secs. 1291-1295) that would, among other things: prohibit security assistance or security cooperation with Burma until the Secretary of State certifies that the military and security forces of Burma have demonstrated significant progress in abiding by international human rights standards and are undertaking meaningful and significant security sector reform, including reforms that enhance transparency and accountability, to prevent future abuses; require mandatory sanctions against human rights abusers in Burma; provide private sector guidance related to Burma's mining sector; and require a report and a determination whether events that took place in the Rakhine State starting in August 2017 constitute ethnic cleansing, crimes against humanity, or genocide.

The Senate bill contained no similar provisions.

The House recesses.

Sanctions with respect to foreign persons that engage in activities described in section 1281(a)(2)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1296A) that would require that, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, sanctions be imposed with respect to each foreign person listed in the report described in section 1281(a)(2) of the House-passed bill.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Stop Financing of Al-Shabaab Act

The House amendment contained two provisions (sec. 1297 and sec. 1297A) that would express a sense of Congress and a statement of policy regarding measures to combat illicit trafficking that finances al-Shabaab. The House amendment also contained a provision (sec. 1297B) that would require a report on illicit trafficking in Somalia.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Horn of Africa region remains integral to United States interests in Africa and the Indian Ocean region. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to submit a report no later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate on efforts to combat illicit trafficking that finances al-Shabaab. The report shall include an overview of illicit trafficking in the Horn of Africa region; a description of al-Shabaab's sources of income; a description of past, current, and planned efforts by the United States and regional partners to combat illicit trafficking that finances al-Shabaab; and, any other matters the Secretary determines appropriate.

Report on contracts with entities affiliated with the Government of the People's Republic of China or the Chinese Communist Party

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Implementation of the Asia Reassurance Initiative Act with regard to Taiwan arms sales

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6212) that would, among other things, express the sense of the Congress that the United States should fully implement the provisions of the Asia Reassurance Initiative Act of 2018 (Public Law 115-409) with regard to regular defensive arms sales to Taiwan.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that the matter of arms sales to Taiwan is addressed elsewhere in this report.

TITLE XIII—COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION

Funding allocations; specification of cooperative threat reduction funds (sec. 1301)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1301) that would authorize $338.7 million for the Cooperative Threat Reduction (CTR) program, define the funds as authorized to be appropriated in section 301 of this Act, and authorize CTR funds to be available for obligation for fiscal years 2020, 2021, and 2022.

The House amendment contained similar provisions (secs. 1301 and 1302).
The Senate recesses.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Funding for cooperative biological engagement program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1303) that would increase funding for the cooperative biological engagement by $20.0 million by taking a reduction from Defense-wide Advanced Innovative Technologies funding.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Cooperative Threat Reduction Program enhancement

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1304) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to submit a report on the Cooperative Threat Reduction Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to submit a report on the Cooperative Threat Reduction Program to the congressional defense committees, the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. The report should include recommendations to improve the implementation of the program.

TITLE XIV—OTHER AUTHORIZATIONS

SUBTITLE A—MILITARY PROGRAMS

Working capital funds (sec. 1401)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1401) that would authorize appropriations for Defense Working Capital Funds at the levels identified in section 4501 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1401).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Chemical agents and munitions destruction, defense (sec. 1402)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1402) that would authorize appropriations for Chemical Agents and Munitions Destruction, Defense at the levels identified in section 4501 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1402).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Drug interdiction and counter-drug activities, defense-wide (sec. 1403)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1403) that would authorize appropriations for Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities, Defense-wide at the levels identified in section 4501 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1403).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Defense inspector general (sec. 1404)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1404) that would authorize appropriations for the Office of the Inspector General at the levels identified in section 4501 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1404).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Defense health program (sec. 1405)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1405) that would authorize appropriations for the Defense Health Program at the levels identified in section 4501 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1405).

The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE B—OTHER MATTERS

Authority for transfer of funds to joint Department of Defense-Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Facility Demonstration Fund for Captain James A. Lovell Health Care Center, Illinois (sec. 1411)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1431) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to transfer $127.0 million from the Defense Health Program to the Joint Department of Defense-Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Facility Demonstration Fund, established by section 1704 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (Public Law 111-84), for the operation of the Captain James A. Lovell Federal Health Care Center.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1411).

The House recesses.

*Authorization of appropriations for Armed Forces Retirement Home
(sec. 1412)*

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1421) that would authorize an appropriation of $64.3 million from the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund for fiscal year 2020 for the operation of the Armed Forces Retirement Home.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1412).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

National Defense Sealift Fund

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1406) that would authorize appropriations for the National Defense Sealift Fund.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Expansion of eligibility for residence at the Armed Forces Retirement Home

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1422) that would amend section 1512(a) of the Armed Forces Retirement Home Act of 1991 (24 U.S.C. 412(a)) to: (1) Expand eligibility to retired veterans under age 60 and retired members of the National Guard and Reserves (NGR); and (2) Provide parity of fees for veterans eligible for active military service and those newly eligible through NGR service by requiring the income used for fee determination for an NGR-eligible resident to be not less than an Active-Duty resident's military retirement pay at the same grade and length of service. The provision would also amend section 1514(c) of the Armed Forces Retirement Home Act of 1991 (24 U.S.C. 414(c)) to provide parity for monthly withholding from pay of NGR members and Active-Duty members by applying the withholding across the total force, as well as requiring newly eligible NGR residents to pay a fee upon admission for years prior to the date of the enactment of this Act when the withholding was not taken from pay.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6422) that would cause section 1422 and its amendments to have no force or effect.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The Senate recedes.

TITLE XV—AUTHORIZATION OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS FOR OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS

Purpose (sec. 1501)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1501) that would establish the purpose of this title and make authorization of appropriations available upon enactment of this Act for the Department of Defense, in addition to amounts otherwise authorized in this Act, to provide for additional authorization of funds due to overseas contingency operations and other additional funding requirements.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1501).

The conference agreement includes this provision with a clarifying amendment.

Treatment as additional authorizations (sec. 1502)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1521) that would state that amounts authorized to be appropriated by this title are in addition to amounts otherwise authorized to be appropriated by this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1511).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

SUBTITLE A—AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS

Overseas contingency operations (sec. 1511)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1502) that would designate authorization of appropriations in this section as Overseas Contingency Operations.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Procurement (sec. 1512)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1503) that would authorize additional appropriations for procurement at the levels identified in section 4102 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1502).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Research, development, test, and evaluation (sec. 1513)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1504) that would authorize additional appropriations for research, development, test, and evaluation at the levels identified in section 4202 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1503).

The conference agreement includes this provision

Operation and maintenance (sec. 1514)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1505) that would authorize additional appropriations for operation and maintenance programs at the levels identified in section 4302 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1504).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Military personnel (sec. 1515)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1506) that would authorize additional appropriations for military personnel at the levels identified in section 4402 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1505).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Working capital funds (sec. 1516)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1507) that would authorize additional appropriations for Defense Working Capital Funds at the levels identified in section 4502 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1506).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Drug interdiction and counter-drug activities, defense-wide (sec. 1517)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1508) that would authorize additional appropriations for Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities, Defense-Wide, at the levels identified in section 4502 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1507).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Defense inspector general (sec. 1518)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1509) that would authorize additional appropriations for the Office of the Inspector General at the levels identified in section 4502 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1508).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Defense health program (sec. 1519)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1510) that would authorize additional appropriations for the Defense Health Program at the levels identified in section 4502 of division D of this Act.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1510).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Afghanistan Security Forces Fund (sec. 1520)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1212) that would extend the authority to continue certain established provisions applicable to the Afghanistan Security Forces Fund (ASFF), including the use of funds, transfer authority, and acceptance of contributions to provide assistance to the security forces of the Ministry of Defense and Ministry of Interior of Afghanistan and to increase the recruitment and integration of women into the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces (ANDSF).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1521) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to submit an assessment of the Government of Afghanistan's ability to meet shared security objectives and manage, employ, and sustain equipment divested under ASFF, and would require the Secretary to withhold $450,000,000 until such time as the Secretary can certify that the Government of Afghanistan has made sufficient progress in these areas. It would also set a goal of using $45.5 million to support efforts to promote the recruitment, training, integration, and retention of Afghan women into the ANDSF.

The Senate recesses with an amendment to the elements of the required assessment.

The conferees understand that the Department recently modified long standing guidance on the use of ASFF to cover program management expenses by transitioning the responsibility for costs associated with Indirect Assistance to the Services. It is the conferees' understanding that ASFF should cover all costs associated with building the ANDSF, including program and security assistance management support. The conferees know of no reason for such a change and encourage the Department to revisit this internal policy decision. The conferees direct the Department to brief the congressional defense committees on its policy regarding program management expenses within 60 days after the enactment of this Act.

Special transfer authority (sec. 1520A)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1522) that would authorize the transfer of up to $2.5 billion of additional war-related authorizations in this subtitle among the accounts in this subtitle.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1512) that would allow the Secretary of Defense to transfer up to $500 million.

The House recesses with an amendment that would set the transfer level at $2.0 billion.

SUBTITLE B—AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR EMERGENCY FUNDS FOR RECOVERY AND RESTORATION

Procurement (sec. 1521)

The agreement includes a provision that would authorize appropriations for emergency procurement at the levels identified in section 4103 of division D of this Act.

Research, development, test, and evaluation (sec. 1522)

The agreement includes a provision that would authorize appropriations for emergency research, development, test, and evaluation at the levels identified in section 4203 of division D of this Act.

Operation and maintenance (sec. 1523)

The agreement includes a provision that would authorize appropriations for emergency operation and maintenance at the levels identified in section 4303 of division D of this Act.

Restriction on transfer of funds authorized by this subtitle (sec. 1524)

The agreement includes a provision that would authorize and place restrictions upon the transfer of emergency-designated amounts of authorizations for the recovery and restoration of military installations in California, Florida, North Carolina, and Nebraska impacted by natural disasters.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Review of Joint Improvised-Threat Defeat Organization research relating to humanitarian demining efforts

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6501) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a review of Joint Improvised-Threat Defeat Organization research and submit a report identifying information that may be released to United States humanitarian demining organizations for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of humanitarian demining efforts.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than October 1, 2020, identifying Joint Improvised-Threat Defeat Organization research that may be released to United States humanitarian demining organizations for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of humanitarian demining efforts.

TITLE XVI—STRATEGIC PROGRAMS, CYBER, AND INTELLIGENCE MATTERS

BUDGET ITEMS

Standard Missile-3 Block IIA flight test against intercontinental ballistic missile target

The budget request included $53.8 million across several defense-wide research, development, test and evaluation lines to conduct a flight test of the Standard Missile-3 Block IIA (SM-3 IIA) against an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) target ("FTM-44").

The House amendment would authorize a reduction of $41.7 million below the request.

The Senate bill would authorize the funding level in the request.

The conference agreement authorizes the funding level in the request.

The conferees note that a Government Accountability Office assessment ("Missile Defense: Delivery Delays Provide Opportunity for Increased Testing to Better Understand Capability," GAO-19-387) found that the SM-3 IIA has not been adequately tested against threats it was designed to intercept, potentially leading to design issues being discovered well into production of interceptors. Further, the Director for Operational Test and Evaluation (DOT&E) stated that flight test failures of the SM-3 IIA in operational testing should have been discovered in developmental testing that was not conducted. The conferees strongly urge the Director of the Missile Defense Agency and DOT&E to look for opportunities to conduct additional tests of the SM-3 IIA against threats it was designed to intercept, adhering to fly-before-you-buy principles. Additionally, the conferees recommend continued engagement with allies to discuss potential policy implications of the planned SM-3 IIA ICBM flight test.

SUBTITLE A—SPACE ACTIVITIES

Repeal of requirement to establish United States Space Command as a subordinate unified command of the United States Strategic Command (sec. 1601)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1611) that would repeal the requirement to establish U.S. Space Command as a subordinate unified command of U.S. Strategic Command.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 931).

The Senate recedes with a technical/clarifying amendment.

Coordination of modernization efforts relating to military-code capable GPS receiver cards (sec. 1602)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 228) that would require the Secretary of Defense to designate an entity within the Department of Defense to have responsibility for Global Positioning System military code (M-code) receiver card acquisition planning, and take actions to integrate and streamline modernization of the M-code receiver card across the Department.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would add the provision to existing statute and add a requirement for the Secretary to clarify the role of the Council on Oversight of the Department of Defense Positioning, Navigation, and Timing Enterprise with respect to M-code modernization efforts.

Demonstration of backup and complementary positioning, navigation, and timing capabilities of Global Positioning System (sec. 1603)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1609) that would extend both the authority to carry out a backup Global Positioning System capability demonstration and the due date of the report on such demonstration to December 31, 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Annual determination on plan on full integration and exploitation of overhead persistent infrared capability (sec. 1604)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1603) that would add a sunset clause to the requirement for the annual determination on the plan on full integration and exploitation of overhead persistent infrared capability.

The Senate bill contained no similar amendment.

The Senate recedes with a technical/clarifying amendment.

Space-based environmental monitoring mission requirements (sec. 1605)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1604) that would require the Director of the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO) to competitively procure and launch a modernized pathfinder program satellite to mitigate risks related to cloud characterization and theater weather imagery requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar amendment.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would move the requirement to procure such pathfinder program satellite from the Director, NRO, to the Secretary of the Air Force, specify that such satellite may be a free-flyer or a hosted payload satellite, and withhold 10 percent of the travel funds of the Office of the Secretary of the Air Force until a contract for such satellite procurement is awarded.

Resilient enterprise ground architecture (sec. 1606)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1608) that would require the Secretary of Defense to develop future satellite ground architectures to be compatible with complementary commercial systems that can support uplink and downlink capabilities with dual-band spacecraft. It would also require the Secretary to emphasize that future ground architecture should transition away from stove-piped systems to a service-based platform that provides members of the Armed Forces with flexible and adaptable capabilities.

The Senate bill contained no similar amendment.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would add a requirement for the Secretary to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the future satellite ground architectures developed under this provision.

Prototype program for multi-global navigation satellite system receiver development (sec. 1607)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1613) that would direct the Secretary of the Air Force to ensure that military Global Positioning System (GPS) user equipment terminals can incorporate signals from the European Union's Galileo and Japan's QZSS satellites, while enabling the Secretary to waive this requirement on a case-by-case basis if certain criteria are met. The provision would also require the Secretary to ensure that military GPS terminals can receive allied and non-allied positioning, navigation, and timing (PNT) signals, provided that analysis indicates that the benefits outweigh the risks or that the risks can be appropriately mitigated.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1605) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish under the Space Development Agency (SDA) a program to prototype an M-code based, multi-global navigation satellite system (GNSS) receiver that would incorporate both allied and non-allied, trusted and open GNSS signals to increase the resilience and capability of military PNT equipment. The provision would require the Secretary to provide an assessment of the benefits and risks of each potential signal and require the Director of the SDA to provide a relevant briefing and report to the congressional defense committees. Finally, the provision would fence 75 percent of funds for the Military GPS User Equipment Program until the submission of such briefing and report.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would move responsibility of the M-code multi-GNSS prototype program from the Director of the SDA to the Secretary of the Air Force and clarify the waiver authority for trusted signals capabilities. The amendment would also change the fence from 75 percent to 90 percent.

Commercial space situational awareness capabilities (sec. 1608)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1606) that would require the Director of the Space Development Agency (SDA) to procure commercial space situational awareness (SSA) services by awarding at least two contracts for such services. The provision would limit the obligation or expenditure of funds to 75 percent for the enterprise space battle management command and control until the Secretary of Defense certifies to the congressional defense committees the award of these contracts. The provision would also require a report on using commercial SSA requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would strike the findings and change the requirement for the Director of the SDA to procure commercial SSA services to a requirement for the Secretary of the Air Force to certify to the congressional defense committees that the Air Force is using commercial SSA services. The amendment would also change the limitation of funds to be obligated or expended until the Secretary makes such certification from 75 percent to 85 percent.

Program to enhance and improve launch support and infrastructure (sec. 1609)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1612) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to carry out a program to enhance infrastructure and improve support activities for the processing and launch of Department of Defense small-class to medium-class payloads.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary to coordinate with the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration in carrying out such program and submit the required report to other relevant congressional committees in addition to the defense committees.

*Preparation to implement plan for use of allied launch vehicles
(sec. 1610)*

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1602) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Director of National Intelligence, to take actions necessary to prepare to implement the plan developed pursuant to section 1603 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) regarding using allied launch vehicles to meet the requirements for achieving the policy relating to assured access to space set forth in section 2273 of title 10, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Independent study on plan for deterrence in space (sec. 1611)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1607) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a contract with a federally funded research and development center to conduct a study on deterrence in space, to then be assessed by the Defense Policy Board. The provision would require the Secretary to submit a report and provide a briefing on the plan and assessment.

The Senate bill contained no similar amendment.

The Senate recesses with a technical/clarifying amendment.

Study on leveraging diverse commercial satellite remote sensing capabilities (sec. 1612)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1610A) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the status of the transition from the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency to the National Reconnaissance Office of the leadership role in acquiring commercial remote sensing data.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would change the requirement for the Secretary to study the NRO's plans to acquire medium-and high-resolution data to a full range of data at all resolutions.

Annual report on Space Command and Control program (sec. 1613)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1615) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to provide annually a report on progress in executing the acquisition strategy and assessment of risk for the Space Command and Control program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would add an additional requirement to the annual report and extend the due date of the first report to May 1, 2020, but concurrent with the President's Budget each year thereafter.

The conferees have been informed by the Secretary of the Air Force that the acquisition strategy directed by the Senate bill's report, found under "Acquisition Plan for Space Command and Control Program," may take longer to complete. Accordingly, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force to submit the acquisition strategy not later than February 1, 2020. The time period between February 1, 2020, and May 1, 2020, would give the Comptroller General adequate time to review the strategy and assess any deviations the Secretary should address in the report required in this provision.

Report on Space Debris (sec. 1614)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1610) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on the risks posed by man-made space debris in low-earth orbit, including recommendations with respect to the remediation of such risks and outlines of plans to reduce the incident of such space debris.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE B—DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AND INTELLIGENCE-RELATED ACTIVITIES

Redesignation of Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence as Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security (sec. 1621)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1621) that would redesignate the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence as the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security and Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security, respectively, and make conforming changes to existing laws.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would redesignate the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence as the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security and Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security. The amendment would also make modifications relating to the responsibilities of the Under Secretary regarding the protection of privacy and civil liberties as well as inclusion of a rule of construction stating that nothing in the section shall be construed to modify or expand the authorities, resources, responsibilities, roles, or missions of the Under Secretary.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to notify the Armed Services Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives within 30 days of assigning any significant new responsibilities to the Under Secretary during Fiscal Year 2020.

Modifications to ISR Integration Council and annual briefing requirements (sec. 1622)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1622) that would repeal section 426 of title 10, United States Code, which requires the establishment of the Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance (ISR) Integration Council.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1611) that would amend section 426 of title 10, United States Code, to modify the ISR Integration Council membership and related annual briefing requirements.

The Senate recesses.

Modification of annual authorization of appropriations for National Flagship Language Initiative (sec. 1623)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1613) that would amend section 1911 of title 50, United States Code, to increase the annual authorized amount for the National Flagship Language Initiative from $10.0 million to $16.0 million beginning in fiscal year 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Improving the onboarding methodology for intelligence personnel (sec. 1624)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1623) that would require the Secretary of Defense and the Director of National Intelligence, consistent with Department of Defense Instruction 1400.25, as in effect on the day before the date of the enactment of this Act, to provide several reports relating to the onboarding methodology for certain intelligence personnel.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency activities on facilitating access to local criminal records historical data (sec. 1625)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.1624) that would authorize the Director of the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency to carry out a set of activities relating to facilitating access by the Agency to local criminal records historical data in support of its personnel security mission.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would limit the commencement of activities authorized by this section until certain reporting requirements are satisfied as well as impose other limitations on the use of the authority.

Survey and report on alignment of intelligence collections capabilities and activities with Department of Defense requirements (sec. 1626)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1612) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, in coordination with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Director of National Intelligence, to review and provide a report to the congressional defense committees and the congressional intelligence committees, not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, on the organization, posture, and processes of intelligence collections capabilities and activities, for the purpose of assessing the ability of the intelligence collecting capabilities and activities to support the current and future requirements of the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Reports on Consolidated Adjudication Facility of the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency (sec. 1627)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1059) that would require the Director of the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency to submit to the congressional defense committees on a semi-annual basis a report on the inventory and timeliness metrics relating to the Consolidated Adjudication Facility.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on the expanded purview of the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency (sec. 1628)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6606) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to Congress a report on the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency, including: (1) Identification of Inspector General resources and authorities appropriate to the expanded purview of the Agency; (2) Identification of the resources and authorities needed to perform the civil liberties and privacy officer function of the Agency; (3) An assessment of the Agency's security protocols for personally identifiable information; (4) An assessment of the Agency's governance structure vis-a-vis the Department of Defense; (5) An assessment of the Agency's governance structure relative to interagency partners; and (6) The methodology the Agency will use to prioritize background investigation requests from government agencies and industry. The report must be submitted not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Termination of requirement for Department of Defense facility access clearances for joint ventures composed of previously-cleared entities (sec. 1629)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1040) that would prohibit the requirement for joint ventures that are composed entirely of entities that already have been granted facility clearances to obtain an additional clearance for the venture.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE C—CYBERSPACE-RELATED MATTERS

Matters relating to military operations in the information environment (sec. 1631)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1681) that would affirm the authority of the Secretary of Defense to conduct military operations in the information environment, including clandestine operations, to defend the United States, its allies, and its interests, including in response to malicious activities carried out against the United States or a United States person by a foreign power. The provision would also clarify that military operations in the information environment are traditional military activities for the purposes of section(e)(2) of the National Security Act of 1947 (Public Law 80-253).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would affirm the authority of the Secretary of Defense to conduct military operations, including clandestine operations, in the information environment as well as clarify that clandestine military operations in the information environment shall be considered a traditional military activity for the purposes of section 503(e)(2) of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3093(e)(2)). The amendment would also amend Chapter 19 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to designate a Principal Information Operations Advisor with specified responsibilities. Further the amendment includes a rule of construction that would state that nothing may be construed to limit, expand, or otherwise alter the authority of the Secretary to conduct specified military operations in the information environment or to limit, expand, or otherwise alter or affect the War Powers Resolution (50 U.S.C. 1541 et seq.) or an authorization for the use of military force in effect on the day before the date of enactment of this Act. Lastly, the amendment would establish various briefing and reporting requirements.

Notification requirements for sensitive military cyber operations (sec. 1632)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1621) that would modify section 395 of title 10, United States Code, which requires the Secretary of Defense to provide notification of sensitive military cyber operations to the congressional defense committees, to include additional parameters to further define what offensive and defensive operations constitute a sensitive military cyber operation for the purposes of this requirement.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Defense's designee to provide written notification to the congressional defense committees in the event of an unauthorized disclosure of a sensitive military cyber operation.

Evaluation of cyber vulnerabilities of major weapon systems of the Department of Defense (sec. 1633)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1625) that would modify section 1647 of the National Defense Authorization

Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), which required evaluations of cyber vulnerabilities of each major weapon system of the Department of Defense by December 31, 2019, by requiring notification and justification for not meeting the deadline. The provision would also require a comprehensive report from the Secretary of Defense on the evaluations of cyber vulnerabilities for each major weapon system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would add further requirements to the report, including details on the technologies used for vulnerability assessments and the schedule for future vulnerability assessments.

Quarterly assessments of the readiness of Cyber Mission Forces (sec. 1634)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1636) that would require the Secretary of Defense to develop metrics for the assessment of the readiness of the Cyber Mission Forces and to brief the congressional defense committees on these metrics within 90 days of the enactment of this Act. The provision would also modify section 484 of title 10, United States Code, to require the briefing of readiness of the Cyber Mission Forces, informed by these metrics, as part of the quarterly cyber operations updates, effective 180 days after the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1622) that would modify the same section of United States Code to require an overview of the readiness of the Cyber Mission Force to be presented as part of the mandatory cyber operations quarterly briefings.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify the briefing requirement to include an overview of the readiness of the Cyber Mission Forces and would require quarterly briefings on the required metrics until their finalization.

Cyber posture review (sec. 1635)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1623) that would amend section 1644 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) by directing the Secretary of Defense to conduct a review of the cyber posture of the United States on a quadrennial basis to begin not later than December 31, 2022.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would add recurrent problems or capability gaps that remain unaddressed since the previous posture review to the elements of the review.

Modification of elements of assessment required for termination of dual-hat arrangement for Commander of the United States Cyber Command (sec. 1636)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1640) that would amend section 1642 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) by requiring the Secretary of Defense and Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, prior to the termination of the dual-hatted arrangement in which the Commander of United States Cyber Command serves as the Director of the National Security Agency, to certify that: (1) Processes to deconflict military cyber operations and national intelligence operations have been put in place; (2) Tools, weapons, and accesses used in and available for military cyber operations are sufficient for achieving required effects and United States Cyber Command is capable of acquiring or developing these tools, weapons, and accesses; and (3) The Cyber Mission Force has demonstrated the capacity to execute the cyber missions of the Department, including the execution of national-level missions through cyberspace, defense of the Department of Defense Information Network, and support for other combatant commands, including targeting of adversary military assets.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1632) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide quarterly briefings to the congressional defense committees and congressional intelligence committees on the current and future nature of the National Security Agency and United States Cyber Command partnership.

The House recesses with an amendment that would also require the Secretary of Defense to provide annual briefings to the congressional defense committees and congressional intelligence committees on the current and future cooperation of the National Security Agency and United States Cyber Command.

Modification of cyber scholarship program (sec. 1637)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1633) that would amend section 2200a of title 10, United States Code, to allow scholarships granted by the Department of Defense to go toward validated and accredited cyber training programs.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Tier 1 exercise of support to civil authorities for a cyber incident (sec. 1638)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1624) that would amend section 1648 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) by directing the Commanders of U.S. Northern Command and U.S. Cyber Command to conduct a Tier 1 exercise by February 1, 2020; the provision would also place a limitation on 10 percent of fiscal year 2020 funds authorized to be appropriated for the White House Communications Agency until the exercise is initiated.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would change the required by-date for the execution of the Tier 1 exercise.

Extension of the Cyberspace Solarium Commission (sec. 1639)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1639) that would amend section 1652 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) by making a technical correction and changing the final due date for the Cyberspace Solarium Commission's final report to February 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1626) that would extend the Cyberspace Solarium Commission, as established in the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) and its final report by 1 year, from September 1, 2019, to September 1, 2020.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would change the final due date for the Cyberspace Solarium Commission's final report to April 30, 2020.

Authority to use operation and maintenance funds for cyber operations-peculiar capability development projects (sec. 1640)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1643) that would allow the Secretaries of the military departments to use money authorized for appropriation for Operation and Maintenance (O&M) to develop cyber operations-peculiar capabilities up to $3.0 million annually. The provision would allow the Department of Defense to use its O&M funds for the rapid creation, testing, fielding, and operation of cyber capabilities that would be developed and used within the 1-year appropriation period.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1627) that would also require a Commander of U.S. Cyber Command certification for each use of the provided authority and the Secretary of Defense to notify the congressional defense committees within 15 days of exercising the provided authority.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would remove the certification requirement, allow the Secretary's designee to notify the congressional defense committees of the exercise of the provided authority, and would limit the notification requirement to exercises of the authority in excess of $500,000.

Role of Chief Information Officer in improving enterprise-wide cybersecurity (sec. 1641)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1635) that would assign additional responsibilities to the Department of Defense Chief Information Officer (CIO), including the modernization of the Department's cybersecurity architecture, the mandating of cybersecurity data sharing, and the acquisition of additional computing infrastructure to meet the Department's cybersecurity needs.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require that the CIO utilize the expertise of the National Security Agency and the Defense Digital Service in improving the Department's cybersecurity.

Notification of delegation of authorities to the Secretary of Defense for military operations in cyberspace (sec. 1642)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1628) that would require the Secretary of Defense to notify the congressional defense committees and describe various operational details within 15 days of any delegation of authorities from the National Command Authority for military cyberspace operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary to notify the congressional defense committees of delegations of authority and to describe operational details separately to account for the potential immaturity of operational plans as of the initial delegation of authorities.

Limitation of funding for Consolidated Afloat Networks and Enterprise Services (sec. 1643)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1629) that would place a limitation on 15 percent of all funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act for the Navy's Consolidated Afloat Networks and Enterprise Services until the Secretary of Defense certifies that the Navy has implemented the recommendations of the Office of the Inspector General.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Annual military cyberspace operations report (sec. 1644)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1630) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide to the congressional defense committees, not later than March 1 of each calendar year, an annual report on military cyberspace operations, to include cyber effects-enabling and cyber effects operations, activities, and missions.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would modify certain requirements of the report.

Annual report on cyber attacks and intrusions against the Department of Defense by certain foreign entities (sec. 1645)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1239) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees annual reports on cyberattacks and intrusions in the previous 12 months by agents or associates of the Governments of the Russian Federation, the People's Republic of China, the Islamic Republic of Iran, and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would modify the report.

Control and analysis of Department of Defense data stolen through cyberspace (sec. 1646)

The Senate bill contained a provision(sec. 1637) that would define requirements for the Department of Defense (DOD) in the event that DOD data have been stolen or are suspected to have been stolen via cyber means. The provision provides a series of requirements for the DOD when it directly controls the data or access to the data. The provision would further require that, when the DOD does not have unilateral control of the data and when law enforcement or intelligence community information controls have been imposed on the handling of and access to the data, the Secretary of Defense coordinate with the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or Director of National Intelligence, as appropriate, to carry out the same series of requirements.

The House contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify the requirements to: (1) allow the Department to have consistent access to the relevant data by other means; (2) specify mission critical Department systems should have analytic products developed; (3) modify the mission affected entities definition; (4) modify requirements of the counterintelligence organizations; and (5) modify the requirements for data in possession of or under the controls imposed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or the Director of National Intelligence.

Use of National Security Agency cybersecurity expertise to support evaluation of commercial cybersecurity products (sec. 1647)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1641) that would establish as a mission of the National Security Agency the advising and assistance of the Department of Defense in its acquisition and adaptation of cybersecurity products and services from industry, especially the commercial cybersecurity sector.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would specify that this technical mission would be conducted in support of the Department's selection and adaptation of commercial products rather than the Department's contracting and business-specific acquisition functions.

Framework to enhance cybersecurity of the United States defense industrial base (sec. 1648)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1634) that would require the Secretary of Defense to develop a consistent, comprehensive framework to enhance the cybersecurity of the U.S. defense industrial base and to provide the congressional defense committees a briefing on the framework not later than March 11, 2020. The framework would include: (1) Identification of cybersecurity standards and requirements imposed on the defense industrial base; (2) Responsibilities of the prime contractor and all subcontractors in the supply chain for implementing those standards and requirements; (3) A plan to provide cybersecurity guidance and assistance to contractors; and (4) Methods and programs for defining and managing controlled unclassified information.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1631) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the congressional defense committees not later than May 1, 2020, on the Department of Defense's efforts related to cybersecurity and the Defense Industrial Base.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify certain requirements of the framework.

Report on cybersecurity training programs (sec. 1649)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1634) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees detailing all Department of Defense efforts and programs to train elementary, secondary, and post-secondary students in fields related to cybersecurity, cyber defense, and cyber operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment that would limit the report delivery to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives.

National Security Presidential Memorandums relating to Department of Defense operations in cyberspace (sec. 1650)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1635) that would require the President to provide the congressional defense committees with copies of all National Security Presidential Memoranda relating to Department of Defense operations in cyberspace.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the committees to read and return all National Security Presidential Memorandums relating to Department of Defense operations in cyberspace.

Reorientation of Big Data Platform program (sec. 1651)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1631) that would require the Secretary of Defense to reorient the Department of Defense's Big Data Platform program by establishing a common baseline and security classification scheme for the collection, querying, analysis, and accessibility of a common and comprehensive set of metadata from sensors, applications, and systems deployed across the Department of Defense Information Network.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical and clarifying amendment.

Zero-based review of Department of Defense cyber and information technology personnel (sec. 1652)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1632) that would require the heads of Department of Defense departments, agencies, and components to complete zero-based reviews of the cyber and information technology personnel in those departments, agencies, and components.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study on improving cyber career paths in the Navy (sec. 1653)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1633) that would require the Secretary of the Navy to conduct a study on improving cyber career paths in the Navy. The provision would also require the Secretary to submit a report to the congressional defense committees, no later than October 1, 2020, on the findings of the study.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would specify that the report should include an evaluation of the Cyber Warfare Engineer career field for officers.

Accreditation standards and processes for cybersecurity and information technology products and services (sec. 1654)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1638) that would require the Department of Defense (DOD) Chief Information Officer (CIO) to assess the accreditation standards and processes of the military departments and other components of the DOD for cybersecurity and information technology products and services.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would specify that this assessment should be carried out in accordance with the CIO's existing responsibilities for cybersecurity and cyber capability architectures of the Department of Defense and with the budget review authority established in section 142 of title 10, United States Code.

Study on future cyber warfighting capabilities of Department of Defense (sec. 1655)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1642) that would require the Secretary of Defense to direct the Defense Science Board to carry out a study on the future cyber warfighting capabilities of the Department of Defense (DOD). The Board's study would include: (1) A technical evaluation of the Joint Cyber Warfighting Architecture of the DOD; (2) A technical evaluation of the Department's tool development and acquisition programs; (3) An evaluation of the operational planning and targeting of U.S. Cyber Command; and (4) Recommendations for legislative and administrative action relating to the DOD's future cyber warfighting capabilities.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Study to determine the optimal strategy for structuring and manning elements of the Joint Force Headquarters-Cyber organizations, Joint Mission Operations Centers, and Cyber Operations-Integrated Planning Elements (sec. 1656)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1646) that would require the Department of Defense Principal Cyber Advisor (PCA) to conduct a study to determine the optimal strategy for structuring and manning elements of the following: (1) Joint Force Headquarters-Cyber organizations; (2) Joint Mission Operations Centers; and (3) Cyber Operations-Integrated Planning Elements.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would include the Joint Cyber Centers in the study.

Cyber governance structures and Principal Cyber Advisors on military cyber force matters (sec. 1657)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1647) that would require each secretary of the military departments to designate a Principal Cyber Advisor to act as the principal advisor to the secretary on the cyber forces, cyber programs, and cybersecurity matters of the military department, including matters relating to weapons systems, enabling infrastructure, and the defense industrial base.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would: (1) Require each secretary of the military departments to appoint a Principal Cyber Advisor for each military service; (2) Require each Principal Cyber Advisor to be a senior civilian, a member of the Senior Executive Service equivalent to a 3-star flag officer, or by exception a military officer; (3) Prohibit the dual-hatting of any existing position as the Principal Cyber Advisor and require each Principal Cyber Advisor to be independent of the service chief information officers; and (4) Clarify the responsibilities of each Principal Cyber Advisor.

Designation of test networks for testing and accreditation of cybersecurity products and services (sec. 1658)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1648) that would require the Secretary of Defense to designate three test networks for the testing and accreditation of cybersecurity products and services.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would make available the information generated to the Office of the Director, Operational Test and Evaluation.

Consortia of universities to advise Secretary of Defense on cybersecurity matters (sec. 1659)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1649) that would establish one or more consortia of universities to advise and assist the Secretary of Defense on matters relating to cybersecurity. The functions of the consortium or consortia would be: (1) To provide to the Secretary access to the expertise of the members of the consortium on matters relating to cybersecurity; (2) To align the efforts of constituent members to priorities of the Department of Defense; and (3) To act as a facilitator in responding to Department requests relating to advice and assistance on matters relating to cybersecurity and to provide feedback to the Secretary from constituent members.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would: (1) Clarify the purpose and functions of the consortium or consortia; (2) Require that the consortium or consortia be open to all universities designated as centers of academic excellence by the Department of Homeland Security and National Security Agency; and (3) Require that the Secretary of Defense or a senior level designee meet with the consortium or consortia at least twice per year.

Joint assessment of Department of Defense cyber red team capabilities, capacity, demand, and requirements (sec. 1660)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6605) that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a joint assessment of Department of Defense cyber red team capabilities, capacity, demand, and future requirements that affect the Department's ability to develop, test, and maintain secure systems in a cyber environment.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

SUBTITLE D—NUCLEAR FORCES

Conforming amendment to Council on Oversight of the National Leadership Command, Control, and Communications System (sec. 1661)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1663) that would make several conforming changes to the governing statute of the Council on Oversight of the National Leadership Command, Control, and Communications System, section 171a of Title 10, United States Code.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Modification of authorities relating to nuclear command, control, and communications system (sec. 1662)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1661) that would reassign principal responsibility within the Office of the Secretary of Defense for nuclear command, control, and communications from the Chief Information Officer to the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 901).

The House recesses.

Briefings on meetings held by Nuclear Weapons Council (sec. 1663)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1642) that would require the Nuclear Weapons Council (NWC) to provide semi-annual briefings to the congressional defense committees covering all NWC meetings in the previous 6 months, including a summary of decisions made at each meeting but excluding decisions relating to the budget submission if the budget request for such fiscal year has not been submitted to Congress as of the date of the briefing. The provision would also require the NWC to submit any decision memoranda used to support decisions made at such meetings, including a summary of the considerations that informed each decision.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would strike the requirement to submit decision memoranda.

Consideration of budget matters at meetings of Nuclear Weapons Council (sec. 1664)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1651) that would modify the enabling statute of the Nuclear Weapons Council (NWC) as contained in section 179 of title 10, United States Code, to require that certain budget officials attend meetings of the NWC, and that the same officials be members of the Standing and Safety Committee (SSC).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would remove the provision from code, require that the same officials attend meetings of the NWC and SSC, and allow the Chairman of the NWC to exclude an official in exigent circumstances.

Improvement to annual report on the modernization of the nuclear weapons enterprise (sec. 1665)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1641) that would extend the reporting requirement in section 1043(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2012 (Public Law 112-81) by 1 year to 2024. The provision would also add to the report a requirement to estimate the cost of modernizing and recapitalizing the nuclear enterprise as a relative percentage of acquisition costs of the Department of Defense over the 10 years following the date of the report. It would also add a requirement to provide a 25-year plan, including timelines and acquisition and life cycle costs, for nuclear delivery systems and platforms, nuclear command and control systems, and facilities, infrastructure, and critical skills relating to nuclear weapons that are being modernized or sustained. Finally, the provision would also transfer the complete reporting requirement to title 10, United States Code, redesignating it section 492a.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would strike the requirement for the 25-year plan and change the entity required to report on modernization as a percentage of acquisition costs from the Secretary of Defense to the Director of the Congressional Budget Office, as part of the report previously required as part of section 1043.

Expansion of officials required to conduct biennial assessments of delivery platforms for nuclear weapons and nuclear command and control system (sec. 1666)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1662) that would add the Commander of the United States Air Forces in Europe to a list of officials required to report biennially on the safety, security, reliability, sustainability, performance, and military effectiveness of the delivery platforms for nuclear weapons and nuclear command and control systems for which each official has responsibility.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Extension of annual briefing on costs of forward-deploying nuclear weapons in Europe (sec. 1667)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1644) that would extend by 3 years the requirement contained in section 1656 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92) for the Secretary of Defense to provide an annual briefing to the congressional defense committees on the cost of forward-deploying U.S. nuclear weapons in Europe, and add additional committees to those receiving the briefing.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would retain the list of committees from section 1656.

Elimination of conventional requirement for long-range standoff weapon (sec. 1668)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1643) that would repeal the requirement in section 217(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2014 (Public Law 113-66) for the Air Force to develop a conventional variant of the long-range standoff weapon.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Briefing on long-range standoff weapon and sea-launched cruise missile (sec. 1669)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1665) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, in consultation with the Administrator for Nuclear Security, to provide a briefing to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on opportunities to increase commonality between the long-range standoff weapon (LRSO) and the nuclear sea-launched cruise missile (SLCM-N), and to leverage technology developed for LRSO in the development of the SLCM-N.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Extension of prohibition on availability of funds for mobile variant of ground-based strategic deterrent missile (sec. 1670)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1645) that would extend until 2030 the prohibition contained in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) on availability of funds for development of a mobile variant of the ground-based strategic deterrent program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would extend the prohibition through 2024.

Reports on development of ground-based strategic deterrent weapon (sec. 1671)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6601) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force, in coordination with the Administrator for Nuclear Security and the Chairman of the Nuclear Weapons Council, to submit an annual report to the congressional defense committees on the joint development of the ground-based strategic deterrent (GBSD) and the W87-1 warhead modification program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would add an additional required report if the Air Force receives only one bid for the engineering and manufacturing development phase of the GBSD program, assessing plans to mitigate any risks or costs resulting from the submission of a single bid. Such report would be due 60 days after award of the contract for that phase.

Prohibition on reduction of the intercontinental ballistic missiles of the United States (sec. 1672)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1664, as modified by sec. 6664) that would prohibit the Department of Defense from reducing, or preparing to reduce, the responsiveness, alert level, or quantity deployed of U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles. The provision would provide an exception for activities required for maintenance or sustainment, or to ensure the safety, security, or reliability of such missiles.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Independent study on policy of no-first-use of nuclear weapons (sec. 1673)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1649) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a contract with a federally funded research and development center to conduct a study on the United States' adopting a policy to not use nuclear weapons first.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would modify some elements of the required study, move the deadlines for submission 30 days later, and add a requirement for an interim briefing not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

Independent study on risks of nuclear terrorism and nuclear war (sec. 1674)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1650) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a contract with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study on the potential risks of nuclear terrorism and nuclear war.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would modify a number of elements of the required study.

Report on military-to-military dialogue to reduce risks of miscalculation leading to nuclear war (sec. 1675)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1646) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report describing current military-to-military dialogue between the United States and other countries to reduce the risk of miscalculation, unintended consequences, or accidents that could precipitate a nuclear war, as well as bilateral or multilateral agreements to which the United States is a party that address the same risks. The report would also contain a joint assessment by the Secretary and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the policy and operational necessity, risks, benefits, and costs of establishing military-to-military discussions with Russia, China, Iran, and North Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with several clarifying amendments, as well as an amendment that would add consideration of other efforts conducted between the U.S. government and foreign governments, or between nongovernmental organizations and foreign counterparts, to reduce such risks. The amendments would also require assessment of the willingness of the above governments to engage in such discussions.

Report on nuclear forces of the United States and near-peer countries (sec. 1676)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1243) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) and the Secretary of State, to submit a report on Russian nuclear systems deployed or under development not covered by New START, Russian non-deployed strategic nuclear systems, nuclear modernization programs of China, and the implications of these assessments on the New START central limits.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1652) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the DNI, to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on current and planned nuclear systems of the United States, Russia, and China, including projections through 2040.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would change the report's deadline to February 15, 2020, and specify the inclusion of Russian nuclear systems deployed or under development not covered by New START and Russian non-deployed strategic nuclear systems.

Report on operation of conventional forces of military departments under employment or threat of employment of nuclear weapons (sec. 1677)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6603) that would require the secretaries of the military departments, and the Commandant of the Marine Corps, to each submit to the congressional defense committees a report detailing measures taken to ensure the ability of conventional forces to operate under employment or threat of employment of nuclear weapons.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with amendments that would consolidate the four reports into a single report by the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the service secretaries, and modify elements of the report's contents.

Report on operation of conventional forces of certain combatant commands under employment or threat of employment of nuclear weapons (sec. 1678)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6604) that would require the Commander, U.S. European Command, and the Commander, U.S. Indo-Pacific Command, to each submit a report to the congressional defense committees detailing measures taken to ensure the ability of conventional forces to operate under employment or threat of employment of nuclear weapons.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with amendments that would consolidate the two reports into a single report from the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in coordination with the Commanders of U.S. European Command, U.S. Indo-Pacific Command, and U.S. Strategic Command, and modify elements of the report's contents.

Briefings on plan for future-systems-level architecture of nuclear command, control, and communications systems (sec. 1679)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1648) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Commander of U.S. Strategic Command, to submit a plan on the future of nuclear command, control, and communications systems within 270 days of the date of enactment of this Act. The provision would also require the Secretary to provide an interim briefing within 90 days of the date of enactment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would change the requirement to a series of biannual briefings beginning in February 2020 through 2025, and modify some elements contained within the plan, including the addition of an assessment of personnel required to evaluate and execute the architecture.

Sense of Congress on nuclear deterrence commitments of the United States (sec. 1680)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1667) that would express the sense of the Senate on the importance of the extended nuclear deterrence commitments of the United States, including forward deployment of U.S. dual-capable aircraft.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with several clarifying amendments.

SUBTITLE E—MISSILE DEFENSE PROGRAMS

National missile defense policy (sec. 1681)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1672) that would express the sense of the Senate regarding the need for a comprehensive U.S. missile defense policy and program. It would also modify national missile defense policy as established by section 1681 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) to add defense against cruise and hypersonic missile threats. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary of Defense to redesignate all Department of Defense strategies, policies, programs, and systems to reflect that U.S. missile defense programs defend against ballistic, cruise, and hypersonic missiles in all phases of flight.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1661) that would modify section 1681 to reflect the principles governing U.S. missile defense as outlined by the 2019 Missile Defense Review (MDR), and would require the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation (CAPE) to provide a briefing to the Committees on Armed Services of the House and Senate.

The Senate recedes with several clarifying amendments, as well as amendments that would strike the briefing requirement and retain the redesignation requirement from the Senate bill.

The conferees direct the CAPE Director to provide to the congressional defense committees, no later than January 31, 2020, a briefing on the programmatic impacts of implementation of the 2019 MDR across the Department.

Development of space-based ballistic missile intercept layer (sec. 1682)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1664) that would repeal the requirement contained in section 1688(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) for the Director of the Missile Defense Agency to establish a space test bed to conduct research on a space-based missile intercept layer.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Development of hypersonic and ballistic missile tracking space sensor payload (sec. 1683)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1673) that would require the Secretary of Defense to assign primary responsibility for the development and deployment of a hypersonic and ballistic tracking space sensor (HBTSS) to the Director of the Missile Defense Agency (MDA). The provision would also require the Comptroller and the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation to certify to the congressional defense committees whether this program is fully funded through the future years defense program submitted with the fiscal year 2021 budget request, and require the Director of the MDA to begin on-orbit testing of the system no later than December 31, 2021. Finally, the provision would require the Secretary to submit a report on efforts relating to space-based sensing and tracking capabilities for missile defense at the MDA, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), the Air Force, and the Space Development Agency (SDA).

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1662) that would require the Director of the MDA, in coordination with the Director of the SDA and the Secretary of the Air Force, to develop an HBTSS payload and integrate it into the broader space-based sensing architecture in support of the ballistic missile defense system. The provision would also require the Director of the MDA to submit to the appropriate congressional committees a plan for how the Director, in coordination with the Director of the SDA and the Secretary of the Air Force, will develop and integrate such a payload, how such a payload will address the U.S. Strategic Command requirement, and estimated costs to develop, acquire, deploy, operate, and sustain this payload.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would make the Secretary of Defense responsible for submitting the plan, and include the requirement to report on efforts across the MDA, DARPA, the Air Force, and SDA. The amendment would also retain the requirement from the Senate bill for the Secretary to assign primary responsibility for development of an HBTSS payload to the Director of the MDA, and to submit to the congressional defense committees a certification of such assignment.

Modifications to required testing by Missile Defense Agency of ground-based midcourse defense element of ballistic missile defense system (sec. 1684)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1677) that would express the sense of the Senate on a highly successful 2018 Missile Defense Agency (MDA) flight test campaign.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1671) that would modify requirements for flight testing of the ground-based midcourse defense (GMD) element of the ballistic missile defense system pursuant to section 1689 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328), including by eliminating the ability for the Director of the MDA to forgo a test of the GMD in any given year due to any condition not specified in subsection (c) of section 1689.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would strike the elimination of such ability but retain the other modifications in the House amendment.

The conferees commend the MDA and all other Department components involved on a successful 2018 flight test campaign, especially on FTG-11, the first salvo test of the GMD system.

Iron Dome short-range rocket defense system and Israeli cooperative missile defense program co-development and co-production (sec. 1685)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1671) that would authorize funds for the Missile Defense Agency to provide to the Government of Israel to procure components for the Iron Dome short-range rocket defense system, the David's Sling Weapon System, and the Arrow 3 Upper Tier Interceptor Program, including through co-production of such components in the United States. The provision would also provide a series of certification requirements relating to implementation of the relevant bilateral agreements before disbursement of these funds, consistent with previous legislative requirements.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Limitation on availability of funds for lower tier air and missile defense sensor (sec. 1686)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1668) that would limit obligation or expenditure of funds for fiscal year 2020 to 75 percent for the Army for the lower tier air and missile defense sensor until the Secretary of the Army provides a report to the congressional defense committees on the results of the test events held in the third quarter of fiscal year 2019, and on the decision of the Army to award a contract for initial operational capability based on those test events.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Plan for the redesigned kill vehicle replacement (sec. 1687)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1675) that would require the Director of the Missile Defense Agency (MDA) to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the delay in the Redesigned Kill Vehicle (RKV) program.

The Senate bill also contained a provision (sec. 1676) that would require the Director to submit a report on options to increase the capability, capacity, and reliability of the ground-based midcourse defense system, including the infrastructure requirements for increasing the number of ground-based interceptors.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1663) that would express the sense of Congress that the Director of the MDA must address the technical issues with the RKV program before moving forward with development, procurement, and fielding of the vehicle. The provision would also modify the waiver contained in section 1683(b) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), which prohibited a lot production decision for the RKV until after a successful intercept flight test, such that the Secretary of Defense would also need to conduct an assessment of the missile developments of both North Korea and Iran during the 18-month period preceding the date of the waiver.

The House recedes with amendments that would add a sense of Congress addressing the termination by the Department of the RKV contract in August 2019 and encouraging the Director to proceed with a follow-on program guided by principles of responsible acquisition, including conducting a successful flight test before making production decisions. The amendments would also modify certain elements of the reporting requirement to reflect the program replacing the RKV, and include elements of the report from section 1676 of the Senate bill. Finally, the amendments would prohibit the obligation or expenditure of more than 50 percent of fiscal year 2020 funds for the next-generation improved homeland defense interceptor until the Secretary of Defense submits such report.

Organization, authorities, and billets of the Missile Defense Agency (sec. 1688)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1674) that would express the sense of the Senate in support of the nonstandard acquisition processes used by the Missile Defense Agency (MDA). It would also prohibit obligation or expenditure of funds to change these processes until the Secretary of Defense has consulted with a number of senior defense officials with responsibility for aspects of missile defense, submitted a report to the congressional defense committees, and allowed 270 days to elapse after submittal.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1665) that would contain a similar prohibition on obligation or expenditure of funds until the Secretary notifies the congressional defense committees of the proposed changes to the nonstandard acquisition processes, and allows 90 days to elapse after such notification. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to enter into a contract with a federally funded research and development center (FFRDC) to assess the organization of the MDA under the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering, in comparison with alternative organizational structures, and assess the risks and benefits of transitioning the MDA to the standard Department of Defense acquisition process. Finally, the provision would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from transferring civilian or military billets from the MDA to any element of the Department under the authority of the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering until the Secretary notifies the congressional defense committees of the proposed transfer, and allows 90 days to elapse after such notification.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would extend the deadline for submission of the FFRDC assessment by 30 days, retain the report required in the notice in the Senate provision with the addition of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment as a consulted official, and change the waiting period after the notification of any change to the acquisition processes to 120 days.

Annual assessment of ballistic missile defense system (sec. 1689)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1670) that would express the sense of Congress that operational test and evaluation of the ballistic missile defense system (BMDS) should be conducted thoroughly in accordance with title 10, United States Code. The provision would also require the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation to include in the annual report to Congress under section 139 of title 10, United States Code, an assessment of the BMDS, including all elements of the system that are fielded or are planned to be fielded.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would strike the sense of Congress.

Command and control, battle management, and communications program (sec. 1690)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1669) that would prohibit the Missile Defense Agency (MDA) from releasing the command and control, battle management, and communications (C2BMC) program to foreign partners until the Director of the MDA submits a report to the appropriate congressional committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Missile defense interceptor site in contiguous United States (sec. 1691)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1679) that would require the Secretary of Defense to make available to the public the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) prepared in accordance with section 227(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013 (Public Law 112-239).

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1666) that would require the Secretary of Defense to designate the preferred location of a missile defense site in the contiguous United States from among the locations evaluated pursuant to section 227. The provision would also require the Secretary to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on such designation.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would strike the requirement to designate a preferred location but retain the requirement for a report.

The conferees note that the EIS was made available to the public in August 2019. The conferees also note that the Secretary identified a preferred location in June 2019, while maintaining the determination made in the Missile Defense Review that there is no operational requirement to develop a third site in the contiguous United States at this time.

Independent study on impacts of missile defense development and deployment (sec. 1692)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1672) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study on the impacts of the development and deployment of U.S. long-range missile defenses on the security of the United States as a whole.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with several clarifying amendments and an amendment that would change the entity conducting the study to a federally funded research and development center.

Report and briefing on multi-volume kill capability (sec. 1693)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1673) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the potential need for a multi-object kill vehicle in future architecture of the ballistic missile defense system.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with several technical and clarifying amendments, as well as an amendment that would require the Under Secretary to coordinate such report with the Director of the Missile Defense Agency, the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, and the Director of Cost Assessment and Program Evaluation.

SUBTITLE F—OTHER MATTERS

Extension of authorization for protection of certain facilities and assets from unmanned aircraft (sec. 1694)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1682) that would provide an extension of the authority that exists in Title 10, United States Code, section 130i, for protection of Department of Defense facilities and assets associated with certain mission areas from unauthorized operation of unmanned aircraft.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would extend the existing authority to the year 2023.

The conferees also direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the congressional defense committees not later than April 1, 2020 that details how the Secretary plans to protect Department of Defense ammunition manufacturing facilities that are government-owned and contractor-operated from unauthorized overflight of unmanned aircraft not covered by the protection authority provided under Title 10, United States Code, section 130i, concerning protection of certain facilities and assets from unmanned aircraft. The report should also include recommendations, if appropriate, regarding any legislative authorities that may be required to protect these facilities.

Repeal of requirement for commission on electromagnetic pulse attacks and similar events (sec. 1695)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1683) that would acknowledge the release of the Executive Order dated March 26, 2019, on coordinating national resilience to electromagnetic pulses (EMP), and repeal the requirement in section 1691 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) for a congressional commission on EMP.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would strike the findings.

Repeal of review requirement for ammonium perchlorate report (sec. 1696)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1682) that would repeal the requirement for the Comptroller General of the United States to review the report required by section 1684(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Transferability of conventional prompt global strike weapon system technologies to surface-launched platforms (sec. 1697)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1684) that would express the sense of Congress related to hypersonic weapon systems, prohibit any fiscal year 2020 funds for a submarine-launched conventional prompt global strike capability unless such capability is transferable to a surface-launched platform, and require the Secretary of the Navy to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the programmatic changes required to integrate such a system into surface ships.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with amendments that would strike the sense of Congress and change the prohibition to a requirement that the Secretary of the Navy ensure that technologies developed for such a system are transferable to surface-launched platforms.

Prohibition on availability of funds for certain offensive ground-launched ballistic or cruise missile systems (sec. 1698)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1270J) that would make a series of findings related to the U.S. withdrawal from the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces (INF) Treaty. The provision would also prohibit the use of any funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act for research and development, procurement, or deployment of a ground-launched intermediate-range ballistic or cruise missile system, unless the Secretary of Defense submits a report to Congress related to the termination of the INF Treaty and the development or deployment of INF-range missile systems.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would strike the findings and modify the prohibition to apply only to fiscal year 2020 funds for procurement or deployment of such systems. The amendments would also separate the report from the prohibition, modify the required contents of the report, and apply a deadline of January 31, 2020.

Hard and deeply buried targets (sec. 1699)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1683) that would require the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in consultation with the Commander of U.S. Strategic Command, to submit to the congressional defense committees a classified report on hard and deeply buried targets associated with U.S. military operations plans, including an assessment of the ability of the United States to hold such targets at risk currently and as projected in 2030. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to develop a plan to ensure the United States possesses capabilities to pose a credible deterrent threat against such targets by 2025, and submit a recurring certification that such plan is being implemented.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with amendments that would change the report to a briefing, strike the certification requirement, and add certain elements to the content of the briefing.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Intelligence assessment of relationship between women and violent extremism

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1614) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Director of National Intelligence, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, and the head of any element of the intelligence community the Director determines appropriate, shall submit an intelligence assessment on the relationship between women and violent extremism and terrorism.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees note that elsewhere in this Act is a provision that would require the Secretary of Defense to seek to enter into a contract with an independent research and development center to conduct an independent analysis on gender and violent extremism.

Modification of term of Commander of Air Force Space Command

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1614) that would change the term of the Commander, Air Force Space Command, from 6 years to 4 years.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Funding for Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1615) that would increase, by $5,206,997 the amounts available in section 301 for Operation and Maintenance for Defense Security Service for the purposes of acquiring advanced cyber threat detection sensors, hunt and response mechanisms, and commercial cyber threat intelligence. The provision would include an offset in section 4101, for Integrated personnel and pay system.

The Senate amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on potential Defense Intelligence Polygraph Examination Military Transition Program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1616) that would require, not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report assessing the feasibility of establishing a Defense Intelligence Polygraph Examination Military Transition Program for members of the Armed Services transitioning to civilian employment.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Comptroller General of the United States to submit a report not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act to the Armed Services Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate that assesses the advisability and feasibility of establishing a Defense Intelligence Polygraph Examination Military Transition Program for members of the Armed Forces transitioning to civilian employment. The report shall include, at a minimum, the following:

(1) A review of the feasibility of establishing a program in the Department of Defense under which members of the Armed Forces with an active top secret security clearance that provides for access to sensitive compartmented information and a current counterintelligence scope polygraph examination can be provided an opportunity to obtain an expanded scope polygraph (ESP) if the member receives a written offer of employment, subject to suitability or security vetting, with an element of the intelligence community or a contractor of such an element;

(2) The cost to the Department of Defense for implementing such program and whether such cost could be shared by other departments or agencies of the Federal Government or the private sector;

(3) The factors the Department needs to consider in determining whether such program would be viable;

(4) The obstacles that exist in implementing such program;

(5) Whether such a program could increase workforce diversity in the intelligence community;

(6) Whether such a program could increase or decrease retention among members of the Armed Forces serving in defense intelligence roles;

(7) Whether any changes are required to be made to policies of the Department or to Federal law to implement such a program;

(8) Identification of the current average length of time in the intelligence community to investigate and adjudicate an initial and a periodic update top secret security clearance that provides for access to sensitive compartmented information and conduct an expanded scope polygraph;

(9) Any other matters the Comptroller General deems relevant.

National Security Space Launch Program

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1616) that would prohibit the Secretary of the Air Force from modifying the acquisition schedule for phase 2 of the National Security Space Launch (NSSL) program or from awarding missions to more than two launch service providers.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1601) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to stay on schedule for Phase 2 of the NSSL program, but would reopen competition after the first 29 launches of phase 2 and award $500 million to providers that have not entered into a phase 2 contract for launch services occurring before fiscal year 2022, or have entered into a phase 2 contract but have not entered into a Launch Services Agreement, or both. The provision would require the Secretary of the Air Force to notify Congress of its down select decision before the public announcement, and require a report on the total defense investments made for each awardee and how such investments were accounted for in the evaluation of the offers.

The conference agreement does not include either provision.

Cybersecurity Defense Academy pilot program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1636) that would require the Secretary of Defense to carry out a pilot program to create a public-private partnership that would train and place veterans as cybersecurity personnel within the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Expansion of authority for access and information relating to cyberattacks on Department of Defense operationally critical contractors

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1644) that would amend section 391 of title 10, United States Code, to extend the ability of the Department of Defense (DOD) to react immediately to reports of intrusions that may affect critical DOD data.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees are sympathetic to the need for this additional authority, which the Department already has in the case of cleared defense contractors and which the Department requested via a legislative proposal. The Department relies on operationally critical contractors to move troops and supplies across the world, in peacetime and during conflict, and adversaries' cyberattacks on these critical contractors pose a genuine threat to the Department's conduct of operations. The conferees, however, are concerned that the Department's legislative proposal was not scoped in such a way that this authority would be operationalized through contractual mechanisms. The conferees are also concerned that the Department's broader efforts to improve the cybersecurity of its contractors and the Department's ability to respond in the event of a cyberattack are primarily focused on the defense industrial base as traditionally conceived of—namely, those companies that supply the Department's weapons systems. The cybersecurity of operationally critical contractors is at least as important as that of traditional defense industrial base contractors, and the conferees seek greater clarity as to what efforts are underway to ensure their cybersecurity.

The conferees therefore direct the Commander of U.S. Transportation Command, the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment, the Chief Information Officer, and the Director of the Protecting Critical Technologies Task Force to brief the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives, no later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act, on: (1) The expected use-case for the requested authority; (2) The expected implementation through contractual mechanisms of such an authority; (3) The need for and purpose of subsections (2) and (3) of the legislative proposal; and (4) How the Department is treating operationally critical contractors within its broader efforts to secure the defense industrial base against cyber attacks and respond, in the event of a cyberattack, more aggressively in its investigatory and counterintelligence actions.

The conferees look forward to this briefing and to legislating on this issue in the Fiscal Year 2021 National Defense Authorization Act.

Briefing on memorandum of understanding relating to joint operational planning and control of cyberattacks of national scale

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1645) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing, not later than March 1, 2020, to the congressional defense and homeland security committees on the Joint Department of Defense and Department of Homeland Security Memorandum of Understanding, signed by the Secretary of Defense on October 6, 2018.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives a briefing on the Joint Department of Defense and Department of Homeland Security Memorandum of Understanding signed by the Secretary of Defense on October 6, 2018.

The briefing shall include information on the following: (1) The number of planners assigned by the Department of Defense to line of effort three and line of effort four and the areas of expertise of those planners; (2) Whether these planners are physically co-located with their counterparts in the Department of Homeland Security and are assigned full-time or part-time to line of effort three and line of effort four; (3) Under what authority these planners have been assigned; (4) The status of the development of operational plans and playbooks that will be implemented in response to actual cyberattacks of national scale; (5) The standing arrangements for interagency coordination and orchestration of response in the event of a cyberattack of national scale, including the status of the process established in Presidential Policy Directive-41 and the relevant principal, organization, and staff tasked with orchestrating a whole-of-government response; (6) The charter and implementation plan of the Joint Department of Defense and Department of Homeland Security Cyber Protection and Defense Steering Group; (7) The status of any Department of Defense cyber intelligence activities and operational preparation of the environment intended specifically to deter and disrupt adversary cyberattacks on United States critical infrastructure and planned in coordination with the Department of Homeland Security; (8) The current operational planning activities and standing arrangements between the Department of Defense and Department of Energy, including a determination as to whether the Secretary of Energy can directly request Defense Support of Civil Authorities; and (9) The status of implementing section 1650 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) on the pilot program authority to enhance cybersecurity and resilience of critical infrastructure.

Prohibition on availability of funds for deployment of low-yield ballistic missile warhead

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1646) that would prohibit the use of any funds authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 2020 by this Act for deployment of the W76-2 warhead.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Sense of the Senate on industrial base for ground-based strategic deterrent program

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1666) that would express the sense of the Senate on the importance of ensuring the viability of the industrial base for large solid rocket motors for the ground-based strategic deterrent program.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to continue to consider the long-term health and viability of the industrial base when structuring and awarding major procurement or development contracts.

Missile defense radar in Hawaii

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1667) that would allow the Missile Defense Agency to use research, development, test, and evaluation (RDT&E) funds for fiscal year 2020 to construct portions of the Homeland Defense Radar-Hawaii (HDR-H).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Missile Defense Agency notified Congress that the HDR-H project has been delayed due to activities regarding the environmental impact statement. Due to these delays, the Department's previous legislative proposal requesting use of RDT&E funds for HDR-H radar elements would not be executable in fiscal year 2020.

Sense of the Senate on missile defense technology development priorities

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1678) that would express the sense of the Senate on the importance of advanced missile defense technologies in preventing and defeating the rapidly expanding offensive missile threat.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Modification to reports on certain solid rocket motors

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1681) that would modify the reporting requirement contained in section 1696 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to include the provision of space launch services, and to require coordination with the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Senate on support for a robust and modern ICBM force to maximize the value of the nuclear triad of the United States

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6602) that would express the sense of the Senate in support of a robust and modern intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) force.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that, while the United States has reduced the number of deployed ICBMs in order to comply with New START limits, other countries have continued to enhance, enlarge, or modernize their ICBM forces.

TITLE XVII—REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

SUBTITLE A—STUDIES AND REPORTS

Modification of annual reporting requirement on defense manpower (sec. 1701)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1051) that would amend section 115a of title 10, United States Code, to rename, change the due date of, and modify the elements of the Defense Manpower Requirements Report. The provision would also require that the (renamed) Defense Manpower Profile Report be delivered to the Congress each year by April 1. Additionally, the provision would repeal reporting requirements related to contractor personnel, major military force unit justifications, support and overhead manpower functions, overseas manpower, medical personnel, and the military technician program. Finally, the provision would set separate due dates for reporting requirements related to major Department of Defense headquarters activities and the diversity of the Armed Forces.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would repeal reporting requirements related to contractor personnel, major military force unit justifications, support and overhead manpower functions, and overseas manpower. Reports related to medical personnel and the military technician program would continue to be required to be submitted to the Congress.

Termination of requirement for submittal to Congress of certain recurring reports (sec. 1702)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1073) that, effective on December 30, 2021, would terminate the requirement that the Department of Defense submit to the Congress any a recurring report required by an annual national defense authorization act enacted on or after December 30, 2016.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would eliminate the requirement for the Department of Defense to submit to Congress the 10 reports specifically enumerated. In addition, the amendment would provide that except as expressly provided in the law, any report submitted to Congress pursuant to a provision of the National Defense Authorization Act shall be written by a civilian employee of the Federal Government, a member of the Armed Forces, or both, and not by a contractor. This limitation will take effect for reports enacted in law on or after the date that is three years after the date of the enactment of this Act. Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall provide a briefing to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the actions to be taken to implement this limitation.

Modification of annual report on civilian casualties in connection with United States military operations (sec. 1703)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.1053) that would extend through December 31, 2025, the reporting requirement established by section 1057 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), as most recently amended by section 1062 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232).

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1063) that would modify and extend for ten years section 1057 of the fiscal year 2018 National Defense Authorization Act, as most recently amended by section 1062 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232).

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would extend for 7 years section 1057 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91), as most recently amended by section 1062 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) and add elements to the required report.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees not later than 45 days following the enactment of this Act identifying any instances from the preceding year in which an individual was determined to be a combatant solely based upon proximity to the intended target or location of a strike or other United States military direct action operation.

Extension of requirement for briefings on the national biodefense strategy (sec. 1704)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1084) that would amend section 1086(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) by extending to March 1, 2025, the requirement for annual briefings on the status and implementation plan of the National Biodefense Strategy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Authorization of appropriations for title III of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (sec. 1705)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6017) that would amend section 711 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (50 U.S.C. 4561) to designate, for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024, an additional $117.0 million above the current authorization level of $133.0 million for carrying out the provisions and purposes of the Defense Production Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would make technical changes and require an annual briefing to congressional committees on such activities.

Report on the Department of Defense plan for mass-casualty disaster response operations in the Arctic (sec. 1706)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1056) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of Homeland Security, to submit a report on the plan of the Department of Defense for assisting mass-casualty disaster response operations in the Arctic.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Transmittal to Congress of requests for assistance from other departments of the Federal Government that are approved by the Department of Defense (sec. 1707)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1058) that would require the Secretary of Defense to transmit electronically requests for assistance received from the Department of Homeland Security or the Department of Health and Human Services to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than 7 calendar days after receiving those requests. The provision also requires the Secretary to transmit any responses to such requests.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Report and briefing on implementation of national defense strategy (sec. 1708)

The House amendment contained two provisions (secs. 1052 and 1074) that would facilitate implementation of the National Defense Strategy (NDS) by requiring the Department of Defense to review its operational concepts and plans regarding strategic competitors on matters identified in the NDS.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require two independent studies, to be performed by a federally funded research and development center and an independent, non-governmental institute, on the development of joint operational concepts within the Department of Defense.

The conferees note the pivotal importance of NDS implementation to national security and strongly encourage the Department of Defense to continue to construct and validate new joint operational concepts to accomplish the objective of deterring and, if necessary, defeating strategic competitors.

Actions to increase analytic support (sec. 1709)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1053) that would require the Department to provide an assessment of the decision support capacity, specifically the analytic expertise resident within the Department, to link National Defense Strategy (NDS) objectives to innovative approaches to meet future challenges.

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1052) that would require a report from the Department of Defense on the plan and processes the Department is setting forth to provide analytic support to senior leaders for force planning, as it relates to implementing the NDS.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

The conferees note the fundamental importance of underlying analytic capability to the effective implementation of the NDS as well as to making fully-informed and timely decisions regarding national security.

Inclusion of certain individuals investigated by Inspectors General in the semiannual report (sec. 1710)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1064) that would require the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense to include in its quarterly reports, the already-public names of senior officials who commit misconduct.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would modify section 5(a)(19) of the Inspector General Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-452), to require an Inspector General to include in semiannual reports, a report on each investigation conducted by the Office involving a senior Government employee against whom allegations of misconduct were substantiated, including the name of the senior government official (as that term is defined by the department or agency), if already made public, together with: (1) The facts and circumstances of the investigation; and (2) The status and disposition of the matter, including if it was referred to the Department of Justice and that department's action on the referral.

Annual report on Joint Military Information Support Operations Web Operations Center (sec. 1711)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1065) that would require the Commander of U.S. Special Operations Command to provide an annual report to the congressional defense committees not later than March 1 of each year on the Joint Military Information Support Operations Web Operations Center.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

Mobility capability requirements study (sec. 1712)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1066) that would require the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations/Low-Intensity Conflict and the Commander, U.S. Transportation Command, to submit a report and a briefing to the House Committee on Armed Services by January 1, 2021, with an interim update by June 1, 2020, assessing the operational risk for meeting the mobility requirements of the geographic combatant commanders.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Assessment of special operations force structure (sec. 1713)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1067) that would require the Secretary of Defense not later than 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act to enter into an agreement with a federally funded research and development center for the conduct of an independent assessment of the force structure and roles and responsibilities of special operations forces.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Army aviation strategic plan and modernization roadmap (sec. 1714)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1068) that would require the Secretary of the Army to develop a comprehensive strategic plan for Army aviation and to provide a report to Congress containing the required comprehensive strategic plan and an analysis of sustainment and modernization decisions to meet such plan.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Report on ground based long-range artillery to counter land and maritime threats (sec. 1715)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1069) that would require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and House of Representatives on the efforts of the Army and Marine Corps to develop and deploy ground-based long-range rocket and cannon artillery to counter land and maritime threats.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1070) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretaries of the military departments, to contract with an independent federally funded research and development center to conduct a review of the Transportation Working Capital Fund of the U.S. Transportation Command.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.

Geographic command risk assessment of proposed use of certain aircraft capabilities (sec. 1717)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1071) that would require selected commanders of geographic combatant commands to provide a report to the congressional defense committees not later than March 31, 2020, that assesses the level of operational risk posed by the plans of the Department of the Air Force and the Department of the Navy to provide a mix of fifth generation and advanced fourth generation tactical aircraft capabilities to meet each commanders' contingency and steady-state operational requirements.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Report on the backlog of personnel security clearance adjudications (sec. 1718)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1076) that would require the Suitability Executive Agent to submit a report to Congress on the backlog of personnel security clearance adjudications.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Security Executive Agent, in coordination with members of the Performance Accountability Council, to submit a report to Congress on the backlog of personnel security clearance adjudications conducted by all Government agencies that adjudicate decisions for security clearances.

Report regarding outstanding Government Accountability Office recommendations (sec. 1719)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1080C) that would direct the Secretary of Defense to report to Congress on the priority recommendations of the Comptroller General of the United States regarding matters of the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to report on priority recommendations that have not yet been implemented due to funding limitations and the estimated costs associated with implementing such recommendations.

Report on National Guard and United States Northern Command capacity to meet homeland defense and security incidents (sec. 1720)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6010) that would require, not later than September 30, 2020, the Chief of the National Guard Bureau, in consultation with the Commander of United States Northern Command (NORTHCOM), to provide a report that assesses National Guard and NORTHCOM resources and readiness.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 520C).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Assessment of standards, processes, procedures, and policy relating to civilian casualties (sec. 1721)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1087) that would require the Secretary of Defense to enter into an agreement with a federally funded research and development center for conduct of an independent assessment of the sufficiency of Department of Defense standards, processes, procedures, and policy relating to civilian casualties resulting from United States military operations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

When conducting the assessment required by this provision, the conferees encourage the selected federally funded research and development center to consider whether and how pre-strike Collateral Damage Estimates are factored in to post-strike analysis and investigations. The conferees also commend the Department for their ongoing efforts to engage and consider the views of non-governmental organizations on issues surrounding civilian casualties and potential methods to mitigate such events, and encourage this necessary engagement to continue as the results of this assessment are considered and incorporated into Department of Defense policy.

Report on transfers of equipment to prohibited entities (sec. 1722)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec.1061) that would amend chapter 16 of title 10, United States Code, to require an annual report on transfers of equipment to prohibited entities. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense not later than March 1, 2020 to submit a report to specified congressional committees on the transfer of defense articles during the period beginning on January 1, 2015 and ending on the date of enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require not later than March 1, 2021 and each subsequent year through 2025, the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of State, to submit a report to specified congressional committees on transfers of equipment to prohibited entities.

Annual report on strikes undertaken by the United States against terrorist targets outside areas of active hostilities (sec. 1723)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1072) that would require an annual report to congress not later than May 1 of each year on the number of strikes undertaken by the United States against terrorist targets outside areas of active hostilities during the preceding calendar year, as well as assessments of combatant and non-combatant deaths resulting from those strikes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Director of National Intelligence and the Secretary of Defense to jointly submit to congress an annual report not later than May 1, 2020 and for two years thereafter on the number of strikes undertaken by the United States against terrorist targets outside areas of active hostilities during the preceding calendar year, as well as assessments of combatant and non-combatant deaths resulting from those strikes.

Review and assessment of mitigation of military helicopter noise (sec. 1724)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1096) that would require the Secretary of Defense to develop a noise inquiry website to assist in directing mitigation efforts.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense to conduct a study on the causes and effects of military helicopter noise on the National Capital Region.

SUBTITLE B—OTHER MATTERS

Technical, conforming, and clerical amendments (sec. 1731)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1081) that would make a number of technical, conforming, and clerical amendments of a non-substantive nature to existing law.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with technical amendments.

Establishment of lead Inspector General for an overseas contingency operation based on Secretary of Defense notification (sec. 1732)

The Senate Bill contained a provision (sec. 6511) that would amend section 113 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to provide written notification to the Chair of the Council of Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency of the commencement or designation of a military operation as an overseas contingency operation, so as to facilitate the Chair's timely designation of a Lead Inspector General for that overseas contingency operation.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Clarification of authority of Inspectors General for overseas contingency operations (sec. 1733)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6512) that would amend section 8L(d)(2) of the Inspector General Act of 1978 (5 U.S.C. App), to enhance cooperation among Inspectors General and encourage comprehensive oversight of any contingency operation. The provision provides that upon request by the Inspector General with principal jurisdiction over a matter with respect to a contingency operation, and with the approval of the lead Inspector General, an Inspector General specified in the Act may provide investigative support or conduct an independent investigation of any allegation of criminal activity by any United States person or agent in the applicable theater of operations.

In the case of a determination by the lead Inspector General that no Inspector General has principal jurisdiction over a matter with respect to a contingency operation, the lead Inspector General may conduct an independent investigation of such criminal allegations, or request that an Inspector General specified in the Act do so.

Finally, the provision clarifies that any Inspector General responsible for conducting oversight of any program or operation performed in support of a contingency operation may coordinate such activities with, and provide information requested by the lead Inspector General.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Employment status of annuitants for Inspectors General for overseas contingency operations (sec. 1734)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6513) that would amend section 8L(d) of the Inspector General Act of 1978 (5 U.S.C. App.) to permit an annuitant receiving an annuity under the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System or the Foreign Service Pension System to continue to receive a foreign service annuity while reemployed by an Inspector General for an overseas contingency operation.

Further, the provision establishes that upon completion of 2 years of continuous service in the employ of a lead Inspector General for an overseas contingency operation, an employee acquires competitive status for appointment to any position in the competitive service for which he or she possesses the requisite qualifications. This enhanced appointment authority will sunset as to persons first employed by a lead Inspector General for an overseas contingency operation more than 2 years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Extension of National Security Commission on Artificial Intelligence (sec. 1735)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1042) that would delay the termination of the National Security Commission on Artificial Intelligence to March 1, 2021, and amend the due dates of the Commission's reports.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1083) that would delay the termination of the National Security Commission on Artificial Intelligence to March 1, 2021, and amend the due date of the Commission's first report.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify the termination date and add an authority to accept gifts.

The conferees are pleased that the National Security Commission on Artificial Intelligence has begun executing its critical mandate with resolve and purpose. The original intent of the conferees was to create a Commission with limited duration and minimal staffing and with status as an independent entity. The conferees acknowledge the President of the United States' signing statement of August 13, 2018, that the Commission will be treated as an independent entity, separate from the executive branch due to its legislative branch appointees and the necessity to uphold the separation of powers. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide appropriate resources to enable the Commission to process and support security classification and administrative related issues as well as comply with other legal requirements.

Exemption from calculation of monthly income, for purposes of bankruptcy laws, of certain payments from the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense (sec. 1736)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6004) that would amend section 101(10A) of title 11, United States Code, by exempting payments provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense in connection with a disability, combat-related injury or disability, or death of a member of the uniformed services from being included in bankruptcy calculations.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 1099K).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Extension of postage stamp for breast cancer research (sec. 1737)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1085) that would amend section 414(h) of title 39, United States Code, by extending the postage stamp for breast cancer research to 2027.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

National Commission on Military Aviation Safety (sec. 1738)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1085) that would extend the reporting date for the National Commission on Aviation Safety from March 1, 2020, until December 1, 2020. It would also authorize an additional $3.0 million for the Commission to conduct its work.

The House amendment included a similar provision (sec. 1084) that would extend the reporting date and provide an additional authorization of $3.0 million.

In addition, the House provision would require a report from the Secretary of Defense within 120 days after the Commission submits its report that would include: (1) an assessment of the findings and conclusions of the Commission; (2) the plan of the Secretaries for implementing the recommendations of the Commission; and (3) any other actions taken or planned by the Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of any of the military departments to improve military aviation safety.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees understand that the Commission is relying heavily on the services' safety centers for data, which is appropriate. However, the conferees also understand that the Commission may be intending to rely solely on the safety centers for analysis of that data. The conferees believe it is important for the Commission to conduct its own independent analysis of the data in order to develop its own set of conclusions and recommendations.

Guarantee of residency for spouses of members of uniformed services (sec. 1739)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1083) that would amend title VI of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (50 U.S.C. 4021 et seq.) to allow a spouse of a servicemember to elect the same residence as the servicemember for any purpose regardless of the date on which the marriage occurred.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would allow a spouse of a servicemember to elect the same residence as the servicemember for any purpose, to include the registration of a business, regardless of the date on which the marriage occurred.

Electromagnetic pulses and geomagnetic disturbances (sec. 1740)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6006) that would make a series of modifications to section 320 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 195f), to improve preparedness for and resilience to the effects of electromagnetic pulses and geomagnetic disturbances. The provision would also require the Secretary of Homeland Security, in coordination with other relevant agency officials, to submit several reports to the appropriate congressional committees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a series of technical and clarifying amendments.

Improvements to Manufacturing USA Program (sec. 1741)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6008) that would amend section 34 of the National Institute of Standards and Technology Act (15 U.S.C. 278s) to provide various improvements in the Manufacturing USA program, including eliminating funding limits for high performing institutes, adding new networks in innovate sectors such as advanced sensors, increasing interagency collaboration, and facilitating the development of standards-based certifications.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

The conferees note the importance of the Hollings Manufacturing Extension Partnership Program in providing education, guidance, and technical assistance to strengthen the cybersecurity of small- and medium-sized manufacturers that provide goods or services in the supply chain for the Department of Defense and encourage the Secretary of Defense to continue work with this program to strengthen the industrial base.

Regional innovation program (sec. 1742)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6009) that would amend section 3722 of title 15, United States Code, to revise the regional innovation program, including replacing regional innovation clusters with regional innovation initiatives and authorizing the Secretary of Commerce to use up to $50.0 million of appropriated funds to carry out the program in each of the fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with clarifying amendments.

Aviation workforce development (sec. 1743)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6019) that would amend Section 625(c)(1) of the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2018 (P.L. 115-254).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Oversight of Department of Defense execute orders (sec. 1744)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1033) that would require the Secretary of Defense, except in extraordinary circumstances, to provide the congressional defense committees with an execute order approved by the Secretary of Defense or a combatant commander for review within 30 days of receiving a written request from the Chairman or Ranking Member of any such committee.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1082) that would add a new section in chapter 2 of title 10, United States Code, requiring the Secretary of Defense to provide to the Chairman and Ranking Member of each of the congressional defense committees, and their designated staff with the appropriate security clearance, copies of each execute order issued by the Secretary or by a commander of a combatant command before the date of the enactment of this Act, and within 30 days of issuing an execute order after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense, except in extraordinary circumstances, to provide to the congressional defense committees an execute order that has been approved by the Secretary of Defense or a combatant commander for review and a detailed briefing on the requested execute order within 30 days of receiving written request from the Chairman or Ranking Member of any such committee. The provision would also require that, not later than 30 days after the date on which the budget of the President is submitted to Congress under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, and every 90 days thereafter, the Secretary of Defense submit to the congressional defense committees a comprehensive report identifying and summarizing all execute orders approved by the Secretary or the commander of a combatant command in effect for the Department of Defense as of the date of the report.

Processes and procedures for notifications regarding special operations forces (sec. 1745)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1086) that would mandate the Secretary of Defense establish and submit processes and procedures for providing notifications to the congressional defense committees regarding members of special operations forces. This section would also mandate that the processes and procedures include clarification of the roles and responsibilities of the Secretaries of the military departments, the Assistance Secretary of Defense for Special Operations and Low Intensity Conflict, and the Commander of U.S. Special Operations Command in providing such notifications to Congress.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Securing American science and technology (sec. 1746)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1089) that would establish an interagency working group to coordinate activities for the protection of federally funded research and development from foreign interference while accounting for an exchange of ideas and for the international talent required for scientific progress and American leadership in science.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would: (1) Modify the membership of the working group; (2) Modify the responsibilities of the working group; (3) Require the Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy to develop and issue policy guidance; and (4) Establish a roundtable sunset.

Standardized policy guidance for calculating aircraft operation and sustainment costs (sec. 1747)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1090) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to develop and implement standardized policy guidance for calculating aircraft operation and sustainment costs for the Department of Defense.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the standardized policy guidance to include a calculation of the average annual operational and sustainment cost per aircraft and other cost metrics as considered appropriate by the Under Secretary.

Special Federal Aviation Regulation Working Group (sec. 1748)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1091) that would require the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Transportation, and the Secretary of State to establish a Special Federal Aviation Regulation interagency working group to review the current options for the Department of Defense to use contracted U.S. civil aviation to provide support for Department of Defense missions in areas where a Federal Aviation Administration Special Federal Aviation Regulation is in effect.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Prohibition on names related to the Confederacy (sec. 1749)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1092) that would prohibit the Secretary of Defense from naming any asset that refers to, or include a term referring to, the Confederate States of America.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would explicitly state that nothing in this provision may be construed as requiring the Secretary concerned to initiate a review of previously named assets.

Support for National Maritime Heritage Grants program (sec. 1750)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099F) that would allow the Secretary of Defense to contribute up to $5.0 million to provide support for the National Maritime Heritage Grants program under section 308703 of title 54, United States Code.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Support for world language advancement and readiness (sec. 1751)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099N) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to make grants to eligible entities to carry out innovative model programs providing for the establishment, improvement, or expansion of world language study for elementary school and secondary schools.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to provide support to eligible entities for the establishment, improvement, or expansion of world language study for elementary school and secondary school students.

Designation of Department of Defense strategic Arctic ports (sec. 1752)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1041) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Commanding General of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the Commandant of the Coast Guard, and the Administrator of the Maritime Administration, to submit a report to the congressional defense committees evaluating potential sites for one or more strategic ports in the Arctic region. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to designate one or more ports as Department of Defense Strategic Arctic Ports not later than 90 days after the submission of the report.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1099T) that would require the same report outlined in the Senate bill, and based on that report the Secretary of Defense may designate one or more ports as Department of Defense Strategic Arctic Ports not later than 90 days after the submission of the report.

The Senate recesses.

Independent studies regarding potential cost savings with respect to the nuclear security enterprise and force structure (sec. 1753)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099Y) that would require the Comptroller General of the United States to conduct a report with cost analyses on options for reducing the nuclear security enterprise, options for reductions in services contracts, options for rebalancing force structure and the force mix between active and reserve components, options for reducing or realigning overseas military presence, options for the use of pre-award audits, and options for replacing military personnel with civilian employees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Defense enter into contracts with two federally funded research centers to conduct independent reviews of alternative defense postures that achieve U.S national security objectives and could produce cost savings. These reviews will examine alternative nuclear deterrence postures with increased and decreased force posture levels, changes to conventional force structure and posture, alterations to the mix of military and civilian workforces, and options for reducing services contracts. The amendment also requires a briefing by the Comptroller General of the United States on open recommendations for cost savings at the Department of Defense.

Comprehensive Department of Defense policy on collective self-defense (sec. 1754)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1032) that would require the Secretary of Defense to prescribe a comprehensive written policy for the Department of Defense on the issuance of authorization of, and the provision by members and units of the United States Armed Forces of, collective self-defense to designated foreign nationals, their facilities, and their property.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Policy regarding the transition of data and applications to the cloud (sec. 1755)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 1035) that would require the Chief Information and Chief Data Officers of the Department of Defense to develop and implement a policy relating to the transition of data and applications to the cloud under the Department's cloud strategy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Integrated public alert and warning system (sec. 1756)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6012) that would require the Administrator of the Federal Emergency Management Agency to develop minimum requirements for State, Tribal, and local governments to participate in the public alert and warning system.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment to clarify the definition of "appropriate congressional committees" and to include a false alert reporting requirement.

Improving quality of information in background investigation request packages (sec. 1757)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec.6014) that would require, not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director of the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency, in consultation with the Security, Suitability, and Credentialing Performance Accountability Council, submit a report on metrics and best practices in the background investigation process. The provision would also require, not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Security, Suitability, and Credentialing Performance Accountability Council to report on performance against the metrics and return rates identified in the provision. The provision would also require the subsequent identification of agencies in need of improvement and plans to improve performance.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Parole in place for members of the Armed Forces and certain military dependents (sec. 1758)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099C) that would establish the eligibility of a non-citizen member of the Armed Forces, as well as that servicemember's spouse, widow, widower, parent, son, or daughter, for "parole in place" under section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Further, the provision would express the sense of Congress as to the value of family unity in promoting the readiness and mission accomplishment in the Armed Forces, and reaffirm the parole in place authority of the Secretary of Homeland Security.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of Homeland Security to consider, on a case-by-case basis, whether granting the request of a member of the Armed Forces for parole in place would enable military family unity that would constitute a significant public benefit. The Secretary of Homeland Security would apply like consideration to parole in place requests from the spouse, son, daughter, or parent of a member of the Armed Forces, and from the widow, son, daughter, or parent of a member of the Armed Forces who is deceased. Further, the amendment sets forth the sense of Congress that: (1) parole in place reinforces the objective of military family unity; (2) except as required in furtherance of the missions of the Armed Forces, disruption to military family unity should be minimized in order to enhance military readiness; and (3) the importance of the parole in place authority of the Secretary of Homeland Security is reaffirmed.

Report on reducing the backlog in legally required historical declassification obligations of the Department of Defense (sec. 1759)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1098) that would require that not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, and the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency each shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees, a report detailing progress made by the Secretary or the Director, as the case may be, toward reducing the backlog in legally required historical declassification obligations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would scope the requirement such that only the Secretary of Defense need submit a report, and that the Secretary's report would be submitted only to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Military type certification for light attack experimentation aircraft (sec. 1760)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1095) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to make available and conduct military type certifications for light attack aircraft participating in the experiment as needed.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 146) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force to conduct a Military Type Certification for AT-6 and A-29 Light Attack Experimentation Aircraft.

The Senate recedes.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Short title

The House amendment contained provisions (sec. 1051) that would establish that this subtitle may be cited as "the National Defense Strategy Implementation Act."

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Definitions

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1054) that would define the terms "operational challenges" and "strategic competitors" for the purposes of this subtitle.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

No Force and Effect

The Senate bill contained two provisions (secs. 5546 and 5585) that would provide respectively that: (1) Part III of subtitle D of title V of the bill, and the amendments made by that part, would have no force and effect; and (2) Section 585 of the bill would have no force and effect.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The Senate recesses.

DIVISION B—MILITARY CONSTRUCTION AUTHORIZATIONS

Summary and explanation of funding tables

Division B of this Act authorizes funding for military construction projects of the Department of Defense. It includes funding authorizations for the construction and operation of military family housing as well as military construction for the reserve components, the defense agencies, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program. It also provides authorization for the base closure accounts that fund military construction, environmental cleanup, and other activities required to implement the decisions in base closure rounds. The tables contained in this Act provide the project-level authorizations for the military construction funding authorized in Division B of this Act and summarize that funding by account.

The conferees continue to believe in the value and appropriateness of providing a full authorization but incremental authorization of appropriations for certain military construction projects. The conferees believe incremental funding of large and complex military construction projects enables the Department to execute additional infrastructure projects in a fiscal year, enables continuous congressional oversight, and provides opportunities to adjust the authorization of appropriations level for projects should issues arise or requirements change over the course of construction. In instances where the conference agreement provides full authorization but incremental authorization of appropriations for certain military construction projects, the committee expects the Department to award these projects in the year of authorization and not defer award until the full appropriation amount is received.

Short title (sec. 2001)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2001) that would designate division B of this Act as the ``Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020.``

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2001).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Expiration of authorizations and amounts required to be specified by law (sec. 2002)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2002) that would establish the expiration date for authorizations in this Act for military construction projects, land acquisition, family housing projects, and contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program as of October 1, 2024, or the date of the enactment of an act authorizing funds for military construction for fiscal year 2025, whichever is later.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2002).

The House recedes.

Effective date (sec. 2003)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2003) that would provide an effective date for titles XXI through XXVII and title XXIX of October 1, 2019, or the date of the enactment of this Act, whichever is later.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2003).

The House recesses.

TITLE XXI—ARMY MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Summary

The budget request included $1,453,499,000 for Army military construction and $499,279,000 for family housing for fiscal year 2020. The conference agreement includes authorization of appropriations of $1,270,999,000 for military construction and $604,012,000 for family housing for the Army in fiscal year 2020.

The agreement includes authorization and authorization of appropriations for 3 military construction projects that were not included in the budget request but submitted to the congressional defense committees as part of the Army's unfunded requirements list. These projects include: $40.0 million for an Air Traffic Control Tower and Terminal at Kwajalein Atoll; $21.0 million for a Railhead at Fort Drum, New York; and $18.5 million for a Vehicle Bridge at Fort Hood, Texas.

The agreement also includes authorization and authorization of appropriations of $27.0 million for the Secretary of the Army to carry out Child Development Center projects, with prior notification to the congressional defense committees. The conferees recommend the Secretary use this authority to alleviate issues with the condition and capacity of Child Development Centers in support of military families.

The agreement provides for full authorization and incremental authorization of appropriations in an amount equal to the Department's ability to execute in the year of the authorization of appropriations for the following projects: Cyber Instruction Facility (Admin/Command) at Fort Gordon, Georgia; and the General Instruction Building at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania.

The agreement provides an additional $5,000,000 for Family Housing, Construction Army Planning and Design for the housing pilot program mandated in this Act.

Finally, the conferees note that the budget request included $211.0 million in Army military construction as a placeholder to support the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force response to the challenges facing the management and oversight of Military Housing Privatization Initiative developments. The conferees support additional resources to hire additional civilian personnel at the headquarters and installation level to improve the management and oversight of MHPI developments. The conferees also support applying additional resources towards improved maintenance of government-owned and operated housing units. However, the conferees believe these resources should be directed to the appropriate military departments' family housing accounts. Therefore, the agreement recommends a reduction of $211.0 million from the placeholder, but an increase of $54.7 million for Army Family Housing Maintenance and $45.0 million for Army Housing Privatization Support.

Authorized Army construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2101)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2101) that would authorize military construction projects for the active component of the Army for fiscal year 2020. The authorized amount is listed on an installation-by-installation basis.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2101) that would also require the Secretary of Defense to provide a study of near-term facility alternatives to house high value detainees current detained at Naval Station Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Family housing (sec. 2102)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2102) that would authorize new construction, planning, and design of family housing units for the Army for fiscal year 2020. This provision would also authorize funds for facilities that support family housing, including housing management offices, housing maintenance, and storage facilities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2102).

The Senate recesses.

Authorization of appropriations, Army (sec. 2103)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2103) that would authorize appropriations for the active component military construction and family housing projects of the Army authorized for construction for fiscal year 2020. This provision would also provide an overall limit on the amount authorized for military construction and family housing projects for the active component of the Army. The state list contained in this report is the binding list of the specific projects authorized at each location.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2103).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Modification of authority to carry out certain fiscal year 2019 projects (sec. 2104)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2104) that would modify the authorization contained in section 2101(a) of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (division B of Public Law 115-232) for the construction of a weapon maintenance shop at Anniston Army Depot, Alabama.

The House bill contained a similar provision (sec. 2104).

The Senate recedes.

TITLE XXII—NAVY MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Summary

The budget request included $2,805,743,000 for Navy and Marine Corps military construction and $365,531,000 for family housing for fiscal year 2020. The conference agreement includes authorization of appropriations of $2,774,961,000 for military construction and $479,864,000 for family housing for the Navy and Marine Corps in fiscal year 2020.

The agreement includes authorization and authorization of appropriations for 13 military construction projects that were not included in the budget request but submitted to the congressional defense committees as part of the United States Indo-Pacific Command, Navy, and Marine Corps' unfunded requirements list. These projects include: $99.6 million for a Bachelor Enlisted Quarters at Yuma, Arizona; $79.0 million for an Aircraft Paint Complex at Coronado, California; $74.6 million for a Machinery Control Development Center at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; $60.0 million for a MH-60 & CMV-22B Corrosion Control and Paint Facility at Norfolk, Virginia; $59.0 million for NMC Ordnance Facilities Recapitalization, Phase 1 at Yorktown, Virginia; $50.0 million for the first increment of an Aircraft Parking Apron at Darwin, Australia; $48.0 million for the Seawolf Service Pier Cost-to-Complete at Kitsap, Washington; $37.4 million for a Child Development Center at Miramar, California; $37.2 million for Range Improvements & Modernization Phase 3 at Parris Island, South Carolina; $28.0 million for a Missile Magazine at Seal Beach, California; $18.7 million for a Police Station and EOC Facility at Blount Island, Florida; $15.0 million for an Air Traffic Control Tower at Saint Inigoes, Maryland; and $9.9 million for a PMO Facility Repair at San Diego, California.

The agreement provides for full authorization and incremental authorization of appropriations in an amount equal to the Department's ability to execute in the year of the authorization of appropriations for the following projects: I MEF Consolidated Information Center at Camp Pendleton, California; Ammunition Pier at Seal Beach, California; Master Time Clocks & Operations Facility at the Naval Observatory in the District of Columbia; Bachelor Enlisted Quarters at Joint Region Marianas, Guam; Bachelor Enlisted Quarters at Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii; Pier 5 (Berths 2 and 3) at Yokosuka, Japan; II MEF Operations Center Replacement at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina; and Wargaming Center at Quantico, Virginia.

The agreement also includes authorization and authorization of appropriations of $62.4 million for the Secretary of the Navy to carry out Child Development Center projects at Navy and Marine Corps installations, with prior notification to the congressional defense committees. The conferees recommend the Secretary use this authority to alleviate issues with the condition and capacity of Child Development Centers in support of military families.

The agreement includes an increase of $54.7 million for Navy and Marine Corps Family Housing Maintenance and $59.6 million for Navy and Marine Corps Housing Privatization Support. The conferees support using these additional resources to hire additional civilian personnel at the headquarters and installation level to improve the management and oversight of MHPI developments towards improved maintenance of government-owned and operated housing units.

Finally, the agreement transfers the following two military construction projects from the base budget request to Title XXIX, Overseas Contingency Operations Military Construction: $53.3 million for Electrical System Upgrades in Bahrain and $77.4 million for a Communication Station at Sigonella, Italy.

Authorized Navy construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2201)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2201) that would authorize Navy and Marine Corps military construction projects for fiscal year 2020. The authorized amounts are listed on an installation-by-installation basis.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2201).

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Family housing (sec. 2202)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2202) that would authorize new construction, planning, and design of family housing units for the Navy for fiscal year 2020. This provision would also authorize funds for facilities that support family housing, including housing management offices, housing maintenance, and storage facilities.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2202).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Improvements to military family housing units (sec. 2203)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2203) that would authorize the Secretary of the Navy to improve existing family housing units of the Department of the Navy in an amount not to exceed $41.8 million.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2203).

The Senate recesses.

Authorization of appropriations, Navy (sec. 2204)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2204) that would authorize appropriations for the active component military construction and family housing projects of the Department of the Navy authorized for construction for fiscal year 2020. This provision would also provide an overall limit on the amount authorized for military construction and family housing projects for the active components of the Navy and the Marine Corps. The state list contained in this report is the binding list of the specific projects authorized at each location.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2204).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Modification of authority to carry out certain fiscal year 2017 project (sec. 2205)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2205) that would modify the authority provided by section 2201 of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (division B of Public Law 114-328) and authorize the Secretary of the Navy to make certain modifications to the authorized cost of a previously authorized construction project.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

TITLE XXIII—AIR FORCE MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Summary

The budget request included $2,179,230,000 for Air Force military construction and $398,647,000 for family housing for fiscal year 2020. The conference agreement includes authorization of appropriations of $1723,579,000 for military construction and $484,580,000 for family housing for the Air Force in fiscal year 2020.

The agreement includes authorization and authorization of appropriations for 10 military construction projects that were not included in the budget request but submitted to the congressional defense committees as part of the Air Force's unfunded requirements list. These projects include: $7.0 million for Dormitory Cost-to-Complete at Little Rock Air Force Base, Arkansas; $17.0 million for ADAL Aerial Port Squadron Materiel Warehouse at Travis Air Force Base, California; $49.0 for Consolidate Cadet Prep School Dormitory at the United States Air Force Academy, Colorado; $54.0 million for SOCNORTH Theater Operational Support Facility at Peterson Air Force Base, Colorado; $12.5 million for 41 RQS HH-60W Apron at Moody Air Force Base, Georgia; $27.0 million for Consolidated Vehicle Ops and MX Facility at Whiteman Air Force Base, Missouri; $20.0 million for NC3 Support WRM Storage/Shipping Facility at Holloman Air Force Base, New Mexico; $3.1 million for F-35 Munitions Maintenance Facilities Cost-to-Complete at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada; $36.0 million for AFPC B-Wing at Joint Base San Antonio, Texas; and $4.8 million for SERE Pipeline Dormitory Cost-to-Complete at Fairchild Air Force Base, Washington.

TITLE XXIV—DEFENSE AGENCIES MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Summary

The budget request included $2,504,190,000 for military construction and $60,545,000 for family housing for defense agencies for fiscal year 2020. The conference agreement includes authorization of appropriations of $2,202,910,000 for military construction and $60,545,000 for family housing for defense agencies in fiscal year 2020.

The agreement includes authorization and authorization of appropriations for 12 Energy Resiliency Conservation Investment Program (ERCIP) projects that were not included in the budget request but submitted to the congressional defense committees as part of the Department's unfunded requirements list. These projects include: $8.9 million for an Energy Storage System at Naval Air Weapons Station China Lake, California; $9.7 million to Install Microgrid Controller, 75 kw PV and 750 Kwh Battery at Mountain View, California; $10.5 million for a Cogeneration Plant B236 at Monterey, California; $16.9 million for Smart Grid and ICS Infrastructure at Naval Base Guam, Guam; $4.0 million to Install 500kw Covered Parking PV System & Electric Vehicle Charging Stations B479 at Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam, Hawaii; $13.8 million for Chiller 3-9 Replacement at Bethesda, Maryland; $18.4 million for IH Water Project - CBIRF/IHEODTD/Housing at South Potomac, Maryland; $5.8 million to Install Microgrid, 700kw PV, 150 Kw Generator, and Batteries at White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico; $4.5 million to Install Microgrid, 650Kw PV, & 500 Kw Generator at Camp Swift, Texas; $16.5 million to Install a Central Energy Plant at Fort Hood, Texas; $66,000 for Integration Systems Upgrades at NRO Headquarters, Virginia; and $23.6 million for Keyport Main Substation Replacement at Naval Base Kitsap, Washington.

The agreement includes authorization and authorization of appropriations for the following project that was not included in the budget request but submitted to the congressional defense committees as part of the Department's unfunded requirements list: $66.8 million for Landstuhl Elementary School at Ramstein, Germany.

The agreement includes an authorization of appropriations for $30.0 million for Planning and Design: Military Installations Resiliency at unspecified worldwide locations. As noted elsewhere in this report, the conferees believe it is critical for the Department of Defense to appropriately account for the impacts of extreme weather and natural disasters, energy resiliency, a cyber-security threats when planning and designing infrastructure investments at military installations. Therefore, the conferees expect the Department to utilize this authorization of appropriations to conduct appropriate planning when developing resilient infrastructure masterplans and military construction projects.

The agreement provides for full authorization and incremental authorization of appropriations in an amount equal to the Department's ability to execute in the year of the authorization of appropriations for the following projects: Kinnick High School, Increment 2 at Yokosuka, Japan; Bulk Storage Tanks Phase 1 at Yokota Air Base, Japan; MEDCEN Addition/Alteration Increment 3 at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Maryland; Next NGA West (N2W) Complex, Phase 2, Increment 2 at St. Louis, Missouri; and Operations Center Phase 2, Defense Distribution Depot Richmond, Virginia.

Authorized Defense Agencies construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2401)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2401) would authorize military construction projects for the Defense Agencies for fiscal year 2020. The authorized amounts are listed on an installation-by-installation basis.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2401).

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Authorized Energy Resilience and Conservation Investment Program projects (sec. 2402)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2402) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to carry out energy conservation projects. The authorized amounts are listed on an installation-by-installation basis.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2402).

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Authorization of appropriations, Defense Agencies (sec. 2403)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2403) that would authorize appropriations for the military construction and family housing projects of the Defense Agencies authorized for construction for fiscal year 2020. This provision would also provide an overall limit on the amount authorized for military construction and family housing projects for the Defense Agencies. The state list contained in this report is the binding list of the specific projects authorized at each location.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2403).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

TITLE XXV—INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

SUBTITLE A—NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY ORGANIZATION SECURITY INVESTMENT PROGRAM

Summary

The budget request included $144,040,000 for military construction in fiscal year 2020 for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program. In addition, pursuant to agreement with the Republic of Korea, the budget request included a list of military construction projects to be funded as in-kind contributions by the Republic of Korea.

The conference agreement includes this amount for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program projects and the authorization to accept the military construction projects funded by the Republic of Korea.

Authorized NATO construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2501)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2501) that would authorize the Secretary of Defense to make contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program in an amount equal to the sum of the amount specifically authorized in section 2502 of this title and the amount of recoupment due to the United States for construction previously financed by the United States.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2501).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

The conference agreement includes this provision.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Review and report on construction of new, or maintenance of existing, direct fuel pipeline connections at Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve installations

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2607) that would require the Secretary of the Air Force, in conjunction with the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), to complete a review on the construction of new, or maintenance of existing, direct fuel pipeline connections at Air National Guard (ANG) and Air Force Reserve (AFRES) installations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

The conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force, in conjunction with the DLA, to complete a review on the construction of new, or maintenance of existing, direct fuel pipeline connections at ANG and AFRES installations not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. The review should contain the following elements:

(1) An analysis of the extent to which the Air Force and DLA have identified direct fuel pipeline projects as an effective and efficient way to enhance the ability of regular component, ANG, and AFRES installations to improve the readiness of affected units and help them to meet their mission requirements. This should include an assessment of how the ANG and AFRES facilities, across all States and territories, can leverage such connections to better support current and emerging air refueling requirements.

(2) An assessment of how direct fuel pipeline connections enhance the resiliency and efficiency of the installations and help meet existing DLA requirements for secondary storage and other fuel requirements.

(3) A list of ANG and AFRES installations that do not currently have a direct connection pipeline but have access to such a pipeline within reasonable proximity (less than 5 miles) to the facility.

(4) An overview and summary of the current process for considering such proposals, including the factors used to consider requests, the weight provided to each factor, and a list of ANG and AFRES installations that have sought funding for projects to create direct access to a national fuel pipeline or to maintain access to such pipelines over the last 5 years.

(5) A list of the total instances in the past 5 years in which projects for direct fuel pipeline connections have been approved for regular component, ANG, or AFRES installations, including the costs of each project and the justification for such approval.

(6) A list of ANG and AFFRES installations with current pipeline connections that the Air Force or DLA has determined should no longer be used, including:

(A) An analysis of the justifications for each determination, such as decisions to switch from pipelines to trucks as the primary fuel delivery method;

(B) An assessment of whether these determinations fairly weigh the costs and benefits of building or maintaining a pipeline tap as a practical primary or secondary fuel delivery method for the installation compared to railroad, barge terminal, or truck delivery; and

(C) An assessment of whether these determinations fairly consider or weigh how direct fuel pipeline connections increase security for the fuel supply by reducing the threat of interruption, how the connections enhance mission reliability by providing access to greater fuel storage capability, and the ability of such projects once completed to better support the domestic and global operations of the ANG or AFRES installation.

(7) An assessment of how costs associated with each direct fuel pipeline connection project is considered by the Air Force or DLA and the weight given to such costs in the final analysis.

(8) An assessment of the effectiveness or usefulness of guidance or technical assistance provided to installations that request or propose direct fuel pipeline connection projects and recommendations for additional ways to provide assistance to ensure the Air Force and DLA receive the most up-to-date information about the costs and benefits of proposed projects from installations.

(9) An assessment of the available funding sources through the Air Force, DLA, other Department of Defense entities, or other mechanisms, such as a public-private partnership or enhanced use lease, that can support direct fuel pipeline connection projects either in whole or in part.

(10) An assessment of the extent to which direct fuel pipeline connection projects have been incorporated in any comprehensive plan the Air Force has developed or will develop regarding investments needed to improve regular component, ANG, and AFRES installations to meet the Department's needs.

The conferees further direct the Secretary to provide a final report containing the results of the review to the congressional defense committees not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act. The report should include recommendations on how the Air Force can better expedite and support the use of fuel pipelines at ANG and AFRES installations. The recommendations should include options for accelerating the development and consideration of such projects where most feasible and appropriate, including whether costs savings could be obtained by including such projects as part of other related projects already authorized at an installation.

TITLE XXVII—BASE REALIGNMENT AND CLOSURE ACTIVITIES

Summary

The budget request included $278,526,000 for Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) activities related to previous BRAC rounds. The conference agreement includes authorization of appropriations of $392,526,000 for Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) activities related to previous BRAC rounds in fiscal year 2020.

Authorization of appropriations for base realignment and closure activities funded through Department of Defense base closure account (sec. 2701)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2701) that would authorize appropriations for fiscal year 2020 for ongoing activities that are required to implement the decisions of the 1988, 1991, 1993, 1995, and 2005 base realignment and closure rounds.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2701).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Prohibition on conducting additional base realignment and closure (BRAC) round (sec. 2702)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2702) that would prohibit the Department of Defense from conducting another base realignment and closure (BRAC) round.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

TITLE XXVIII—MILITARY CONSTRUCTION AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—MILITARY CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Military installation resilience plans and projects (sec. 2801)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2801) that would amend subchapter I of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretaries of the military departments to develop and implement military installation resilience plans for installations in coastal areas.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2803) that would amend section 2864 of title 10, United States Code, to provide additional clarity on the required elements of military installation resilience plans; encourage coordination with relevant local, State, and Federal entities in the development of plans; and require an assessment of resiliency gaps and best practices. This section would further require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the House Committee on Armed Services by March 1, 2020, listing the installation master plans completed or in progress during the previous 12 months.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Defense to carry out military construction projects for military installation resilience.

Improved consultation with tribal governments when proposed military construction projects potentially impact Indian tribes (sec. 2802)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2804) that would require the military departments to assess whether any military construction project has the potential to significantly affect tribal lands, sacred sites, or tribal treaty rights. Additionally, the Secretary concerned shall include a description of the current status of consultation with the tribal government of each impacted Indian tribe on military construction projects proposed to Congress.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Increased authority for use of certain appropriations amounts for restoration or replacement of damaged or destroyed facilities (sec. 2803)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2804) that would allow the Secretary of the military department concerned to carry out unspecified minor military construction projects, not to exceed $12.0 million with an area cost factor of $19.0 million, at the following installations: (1) Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida; (2) Camp Ashland, Nebraska; (3) Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska; (4) Camp Lejeune, North Carolina; and (5) Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point, North Carolina. This provision would include a termination clause of 5 years after the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would instead amend section 2854(c)(3) of title 10, United States Code, by striking "$50,000,000" and inserting "$100,000,000".

Amendment of Unified Facilities Criteria to promote military installation resilience, energy resilience, energy and climate resiliency, and cyber resilience (sec. 2804)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2805) that would prohibit the Department of Defense from spending more than 25 percent of the funds available for military construction planning and design until the Secretary of Defense submits a certification to Congress that the Tri-Service Engineering Senior Executive Board has initiated the process of updating the Unified Facility Criteria to ensure building practices and standards promote military installation resilience, energy resilience, energy and climate resiliency, and cyber resilience. The Secretary of Defense would further certify that the review and revision process will be complete by September 1, 2020.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with a clarifying amendment.

Modification to Department of Defense Form 1391 regarding consideration of potential long-term adverse environmental effects (sec. 2805)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2806) that would require the Secretary of Defense or Secretary of the military department concerned to certify, prior to submitting a military construction project for consideration, construction takes into account known extreme weather risks and employs best practices and local building code requirements for resiliency in the face of those risks.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Improved flood risk disclosure for military construction (sec. 2806)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2807) that would amend section 2805(a)(1) of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (division B of Public Law 115-232; 132 Stat. 2262; 10 U.S.C. 2802 note) to ensure sea level fluctuation is considered when evaluating military construction projects.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Prioritization of projects in annual report on unfunded requirements for laboratory military construction projects (sec. 2807)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 7801) that would amend section 2806 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91; 10 U.S.C. 222a note) by, among other things, requiring that the projects in the annual report on unfunded requirements for laboratory military construction projects are listed in prioritized order, with specific amounts and elements identified.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Technical corrections and improvements to defense access road resilience (sec. 2808)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2805) that would amend section 210 of title 23, United States Code, to improve the construction and reconstruction of defense access roads subject to weather conditions. Additionally, this provision would update the United Facilities Criteria to ensure that the Department of Defense accounts for weather and population projections during the construction projects.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2808).

The Senate recesses.

Military construction projects for child development centers at military installations (sec. 2809)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 7804) that would require the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, in coordination with the Assistant Secretary for Energy, Installations, and Environment for each military department, to submit to the congressional defense committees an annual report listing, in priority order, unfunded requirements for major and minor military construction projects for Department of Defense child development centers (CDCs). This provision would also increase the maximum amounts applicable to minor construction projects for CDCs to $15.0 million for no more than 3 years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would authorize specific funds for CDCs as delineated in the funding table in section 4601 with specific conditions for authorization.

The conferees direct the Undersecretary of Defense, in coordination with the Assistant Secretary for Energy, Installations, and Environment for each military department, to submit a report to the congressional defense committees by February 15, 2020, listing unfunded requirements for major and minor military construction projects for CDCs of the Department of Defense in priority order. The report shall include appropriate DD Form 1391 documentation for each project.

Prohibition on use of funds to reduce air base resiliency or demolish protected aircraft shelters in the European theater without creating a similar protection from attack (sec. 2810)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2802, as amended by sec. 7802) that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense to be obligated or expended to implement any activity that reduces air base resiliency or demolishes protected aircraft shelters in the European theater without creating similar protection from attack until such time as the Secretary of Defense certifies that protected aircraft shelters are not required in the European theater.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes.

Prohibition on use of funds to close or return certain bases to the host nation (sec. 2811)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2803, as amended by sec. 7803) that would prohibit funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense to be obligated or expended to implement any activity that closes or returns to host nations any existing airbases until such time as the Secretary of Defense certifies that there is no longer a need for a rotational military presence in the European theater.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE B—REAL PROPERTY AND FACILITIES ADMINISTRATION

Improved energy security for main operating bases in Europe (sec. 2821)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2831) that would prohibit the use of Russian Federation sourced natural gas at main operating bases in Europe.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recedes.

Access to Department of Defense installations for credentialed transportation workers (sec. 2822)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2832) that would enable the Transportation Worker Identification Credential card to be accepted as a valid credential for unescorted access to a work site at a maritime terminal of the Department of Defense (DOD) and other DOD facilities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Improved recording and maintaining of Department of Defense real property data (sec. 2823)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2835) that would require the Undersecretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment to submit a report evaluating service-level best practices for recording and maintaining real property data to Congress not later than 150 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. This provision would also require the Undersecretary to issue service-wide guidance on the best practices described in the report not later than 300 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE C—LAND CONVEYANCES

Land conveyance, Hill Air Force Base, Ogden, Utah (sec. 2831)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2841) that would authorize the Secretary of the Air Force to convey 35 acres on Hill Air Force Base to the State of Utah for the purposes of permitting the State to construct a new interchange for Highway 15.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment that would include a savings provision.

Release of interests retained in Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas, for use of such land as a veterans cemetery (sec. 2832)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2811) that would allow the Secretary of the Army to release the terms and conditions and reversionary interests retained on approximately 141.5 acres previously owned by the United States government. The provision would also require that the transferred land be used for the sole purpose of expanding the Arkansas State Veterans Cemetery.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2842).

The House recesses.

Modification of authorized uses of certain property conveyed by the United States in Los Angeles, California (sec. 2833)

The Senate amendment contained a provision (sec. 7805) that would modify the authorized uses of a certain property conveyed by the United States to the State of California.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2843).

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment.

Transfer of administrative jurisdiction over certain parcels of Federal land in Arlington, Virginia (sec. 2834)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2812) that would require the Secretary of the Interior to transfer a specified 16.09 acres parcel to the Secretary of the Army and for the Secretary of the Army to transfer a specified 1.04 acre parcel to the Secretary of the Interior. The provision would not require any form of payment or consideration from either party. The provision would require that the 16.09 acre parcel transferred to the Army be managed as part of Arlington National Cemetery.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require the Secretary of the Army to seek to enter into a memorandum of understanding with the Women in Military Service for America Memorial Foundation to define roles and responsibilities for the shared responsibility and resources for operation and maintenance of the Women's Memorial and surrounding grounds.

SUBTITLE D—MILITARY LAND WITHDRAWALS

Public notice regarding upcoming periods of Secretary of the Navy management of Shared Use Area of the Johnson Valley Off-Highway Vehicle Recreation Area (sec. 2841)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2851) that would amend section 2942 of the Military Land Withdrawals Act of 2013 to require the Secretary of the Navy to provide public notice prior to the use of the Shared Use Area for military training purposes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE E—WHITE SANDS NATIONAL PARK AND WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE

White Sands Missile Range Land Enhancements (sec. 2851)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2814) that would establish White Sands National Park and abolish White Sands National Monument. The establishment of a national park would increase the public recognition of the significant resources of White Sands. This provision would modify the boundary of White Sands National Park and convey 3,737 acres of land from the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary of the Army. This provision would also convey 8,592 acres of land from the Secretary of the Army to the Secretary of the Interior.

The House amendment contained a series of similar provisions (secs. 2861-2866).

The House recesses with an amendment that would remove the findings and provide for technical changes.

SUBTITLE F—OTHER MATTERS

Installation and maintenance of fire extinguishers in Department of Defense facilities (sec. 2861)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2871) that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that portable fire extinguishers are installed and maintained at Department of Defense facilities in accordance with the requirements of national model fire codes.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Definition of community infrastructure for purposes of military base reuse studies and community planning assistance (sec. 2862)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2872) that would amend section 2391(c)(4) of title 10, United States Code, to add not-for-profit, member-owned utility services to the definition of community infrastructure.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Temporary authority for acceptance and use of contributions for certain design and construction projects mutually beneficial to the Department of Defense and the Republic of Korea (sec. 2863)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2822) that would amend section 2804 of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016, Division B of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016 (Public Law 114-92), to include the Government of the Republic of Korea.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would allow the Secretary concerned to accept cash contributions for two specific military construction projects in the Republic of Korea and allow for a cost-sharing agreement for said projects as long as the projects are in support of a bilateral defense cooperation agreement between the United States and the Republic of Korea or if the Secretary concerned determines that the United States may derive a benefit from the project.

Black start exercises at military installations (sec. 2864)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2874) that would require the Department of Defense to conduct three additional black start exercises at joint bases to test installation energy resiliency systems. This section would also require the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the defense committees by June 1, 2020, on lessons learned from black start exercises concluded prior to December 31, 2019.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would modify the exercise requirements.

Pilot program to extend service life of roads and runways under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense (sec. 2865)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2825) that would authorize the Secretaries of the military departments to carry out a pilot program to design, build, and test technologies in order to extend the service life of roads and runways under their jurisdiction. Further, this provision would require that, not later than 2 years after the commencement of the pilot program, the Secretaries of the military departments submit a report on the program to the congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Restrictions on rehabilitation of Over-the-Horizon Backscatter Radar System receiving station, Modoc County, California (sec. 2866)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2880) that would prohibit the use of funds to rehabilitate the Over-the-Horizon Backscatter Radar system receiving location in Modoc National Forest.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would extend the sunset on the provision to 2025.

Designation of Sumpter Smith Joint National Guard Base (sec. 2867)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2823) that would designate the Sumpter Smith Air National Guard Base in Birmingham, Alabama, as the ``Sumpter Smith Joint National Guard Base.``

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Santa Ynez Band of Chumash Indians land affirmation (sec. 2868)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2876) that would place land into trust for the benefit of the Santa Ynez Band of Chumash Mission Indians.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Lands to be taken into trust as part of the reservation of the Lytton Rancheria (sec. 2869)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 1099D) that would take into trust land owned by the Lytton Rancheria of California.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Little Shell Tribe of Chippewa Indians of Montana (sec. 2870)

The Senate amendment contained a provision (sec. 6020) that would extend federal recognition of the Little Shell Tribe of Chippewa Indians of Montana, make the tribe and its members eligible for services and benefits provided to federally recognized tribes, and take land into trust.

The House bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Sense of Congress on restoration of Tyndall Air Force Base (sec. 2871)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 5306) that would express the sense of Congress that the Secretary of the Air Force should restore Tyndall Air Force Base to achieve military installation resilience.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Prohibition on use of military construction funds for construction of a wall, fence, or other physical barrier along the southern border of the United States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2801) that would prohibit the obligation, expense, or use of funds that have been authorized to be appropriated for military construction projects in fiscal years 2015 through 2020 to design or carry out a project to construct, replace, or modify a wall, fence, or other physical barrier along the international border between the United States and Mexico.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Modification and clarification of construction authority in the event of a declaration of war or national emergency

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2802) that would amend section 2808 of title 10, United States Code, to limit the total cost of military construction projects undertaken during a national emergency to $500.0 million, with a further limit of $100.0 million for construction projects within the United States, clarify the ability to waive any other provision of law, and add elements to required congressional notifications.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Modification of requirements relating to land acquisition in Arlington County, Virginia

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2813) that would amend section 2829A of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) to require the Secretary of the Army to expend amounts up to fair market value for cemetery expansion and include an in-kind consideration clause.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Equal treatment of insured depository institutions and credit unions operating on military installations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2821) that would amend section 2667 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Department of Defense (DOD) to ensure that policies governing depository institutions and credit unions operating on military installations are equally applied to all relevant institutions. Additionally, the provision would prohibit any requirement for Secretaries of the military departments to provide no-cost office space or no-cost land lease to any insured depository institution or insured credit union.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Prohibition on use of funds to privatize temporary lodging on installations of Department of Defense

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2824) that would prohibit the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2020 to privatize temporary lodging on installations of the Department.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

The conferees note that the significant management shortfalls in the privatized family housing program may cast doubt regarding the efficacy of future privatization initiatives.

Report on encroachment challenges on military installations posed by non-military aircraft

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2833) that would require the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment to submit a report on encroachment challenges and mitigation strategies posed by non-military aircraft overflying military installations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment to submit a report, not later than 180 days after the enactment of this act, which would describe:

(1) The encroachment challenges and security risks posed by non-military aircraft overflying military installations inside the United States, to include operational impacts, installation and personnel security, and intelligence concerns, and

(2) Practicable strategies and recommendations for mitigation of any such challenges and risks, to include an increased military regulatory authority and distinctions, if any, among government/first responder, commercial, civil and recreational aviation.

The term ``aircraft`` does not include unmanned aerial vehicles known as drones, whether used for military or non-military purposes, except that the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment may make reference in the report to the use of such unmanned aerial vehicles if the Secretary considers reference to such use relevant to the subject of the report.

Report on capacity of Department of Defense to provide survivors of natural disasters with emergency short-term housing

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2834) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on the capacity of the Department of Defense to provide survivors of natural disasters with emergency short-term housing.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report analyzing the capacity of the Department of Defense to provide survivors of natural disasters with emergency short-term housing to the congressional defense committees not later than 220 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

Continued Department of Defense use of heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems utilizing variable refrigerant flow

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2836) that would allow the Department of Defense to continue to consider and select heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems that utilize variable refrigerant flow as an option for use in Department facilities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on Department of Defense use of intergovernmental support agreements

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2837) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on the Department of Defense's use of intergovernmental support agreements to the congressional defense committees.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report containing a plan to improve the collection and monitoring of information regarding the consideration and use of intergovernmental support agreements, as authorized by section 2679 of title 10, United States Code, including information regarding the financial and nonfinancial benefits derived from the use of such agreements.

The report should be submitted to the congressional defense committees not later than July 31, 2020.

Report on vulnerabilities from sea level rise to certain military installations located outside the continental United States

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2873) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on vulnerabilities from sea level rise at certain installations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on vulnerabilities from sea level fluctuation to covered installations located outside of the continental United States. For each covered installation, the report should include the following:

(1) An analysis of the impacts to the operations, contingency plans, and readiness of such installation from sea level fluctuation.

(2) A discussion of mitigation efforts, including dredging, reclaiming land, and island building, that may be necessary due to a sea level fluctuation to ensure the continued operational viability of such installation and to increase the resiliency of such installation. The estimated costs of such efforts should be included in the report.

(4) An identification of alternative locations for the continuance of operations of such installation if such installation is rendered inoperable.

The report should be submitted in unclassified form but may contain a classified annex. For the purposes of this report, the term "covered installation" means Naval Support Facility Diego Garcia and Ronald Reagan Ballistic Missile Defense Test Site, Kwajalein.

Report on projects awaiting approval from the Realty Governance Board

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2875) that would require that the Secretary of Defense submit a report describing the projects that are awaiting approval from the Realty Governance Board to Congress.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report describing the projects that, as of the date of the report, are awaiting approval from the Realty Governance Board. The report should include the following:

(1) A list of projects awaiting evaluation for a Major Land Acquisition Waiver; and

(2) An assessment of the impact a project described above would have on the security of physical assets and personnel at the military installation requesting the Major Land Acquisition Waiver.

The report should be submitted to the congressional defense committees not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Report on lead service lines at military installations

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2877) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit to the congressional defense committees a report on lead services lines at military installations.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit a report on lead service lines at military installations to the congressional defense committees not later than January 1, 2021. The report should contain the following:

(1) The number of military installations at which lead service lines are connected to schools, childcare centers and facilities, buildings, and other facilities of the installation as the Secretary determines appropriate.

(2) The total number of members of the Armed Forces affected by the presence of lead service lines at military installations and the number of such members with dependents.

(4) Actions, if any, undertaken by the Secretary to inform individuals affected by the presence of lead service lines at military installations of such presence.

(5) Recommendations for legislative action relating to the replacement of lead service lines at military installations.

Renaming of Lejeune High School in honor of Congressman Walter B. Jones

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2878) that would rename Lejeune High School at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, "Walter B. Jones Camp Lejeune High School."

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note Congressman Walter B. Jones' years of service in support of servicemembers in the United States Armed Forces and encourage the Secretary of the Navy and the Commandant of the Marine Corps to rename a suitable building or other infrastructure in honor and memoriam of Congressman Jones.

Operation, maintenance, and preservation of Mare Island Naval Cemetery, Vallejo, California

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2879) that would allow the Secretary of Defense to provide not more than $250,000 per fiscal year to aid in the operation, maintenance, and preservation of the Mare Island Naval Cemetery in Vallejo, California, if certain criteria, such as the city entering into an agreement with a nonprofit historical preservation organization, are met within 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act. The provision would further allow the Secretary to reduce or forgo assistance in a fiscal year and require the organization to submit to the Secretary an annual report containing an audit of its financial revenues and expenditures and describing how funds were used.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE A—OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Summary

The budget request included $9,844,526,000 for Overseas Contingency Operations military construction for fiscal year 2020. The conference agreement includes $921,420,000 for Overseas Contingency Operations military construction for fiscal year 2020. In addition, the conference agreement includes $4,119,813,000 in emergency designated funding required for military construction projects in support of disaster recovery efforts at several military installations.

The agreement includes a $60.0 million increase in the authorization of appropriations for Air Force Planning and Design in support of overseas infrastructure requirements. In addition, the agreement includes an increase of $36.2 million for the Army, $36.2 million for the Navy and Marine Corps, and $36.2 million for the Air Force in support of unspecified military construction projects, with prior notification to the congressional defense committees, that support the European Deterrence Initiative.

As noted earlier in this report, the conferees recommend the transfer of certain military constructions from the Base budget request to the Overseas Contingency Operations title of this Act. Specifically, these projects include:

- (1) $53.3 million for an Electrical System Upgrade in Bahrain;
- (2) $77.4 million for a Communications Station at Sigonella, Italy;
- (3) $24.0 million for an Air Traffic Control Tower at Azraq, Jordan; and
- (4) $42.0 million for a Munitions Storage Area at Azraq, Jordan.

Finally, the conference agreement does not include an authorization or an authorization of appropriation for a High-Value Detainee Facility at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The conferees continue to have questions about the need to construct a new permanent detention facility with increased capacity and capabilities. Furthermore, the conferees believe the Department has not adequately assessed alternative options to support current and foreseeable detention requirements.

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Authorization of appropriations (sec. 2905)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2907) that would authorize appropriations for military construction in the overseas contingency operations account for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 2905).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

SUBTITLE B—EMERGENCY MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

Authorization of emergency Navy construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2911)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3001) that would authorize emergency military construction projects for the Department of the Navy to support recovery of military facilities and infrastructure damaged by natural disasters.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 2905) that would authorize emergency construction projects for the Department of the Navy, Air Force, Defense-wide Agencies, and Reserve Components.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize Department of Navy emergency construction projects.

Authorization of emergency Air Force construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2912)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3002) that would authorize emergency military construction projects for the Air Force to support recovery of military facilities and infrastructure damaged by natural disasters.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 2905) that would authorize emergency construction projects for the Department of the Navy, Air Force, Defense-wide Agencies, and Reserve Components.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize Air Force emergency construction projects.

Authorization of emergency Army National Guard construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2913)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2905) that would authorize emergency construction projects for the Department of the Navy, Air Force, Defense Agencies, and Reserve Components.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3004) that would authorize emergency military construction projects for the Army National Guard and Army Reserve to support recovery of military facilities and infrastructure damaged by natural disasters.

The House recedes with an amendment that would authorize Army National Guard and Army Reserve emergency construction projects.

Authorization of emergency Defense Agencies construction and land acquisition projects (sec. 2914)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3003) that would authorize emergency military construction projects for the Army National Guard and Army Reserve to support recovery of military facilities and infrastructure damaged by natural disasters.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 2905) that would authorize emergency construction projects for the Department of the Navy, Air Force, Defense-wide Agencies, and Reserve Components.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would authorize defense agency emergency construction projects.

Authorization of emergency supplemental appropriations for military construction projects (sec. 2915)

The agreement includes a provision that would authorize appropriations for emergency military construction at the levels identified in section 4603 of division D of this Act.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Replenishment of certain military constructions funds

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 2906) that would authorize $3.6 billion in military construction, overseas contingency operations, for the purposes of replenishing funds for previously authorized military construction projects that were repurposed under section 2808 of title 10, United States Code, from the national emergency declared on the southern border under the National Emergencies Act (Public Law 94-412).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

TITLE XXX - MILITARY HOUSING PRIVATIZATION REFORM

Definitions (sec. 3001)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3001) that would provide definitions for specific terms for this title.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would modify certain definitions and provide for a technical change.

SUBTITLE A—ADDITION OF NEW REFORM
SUBCHAPTER

Improved accountability and oversight of privatized military housing and protections and responsibilities for tenants of privatized military housing (sec. 3011)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3011) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the secretaries of the military departments, to develop a document to be known as the "Tenant Bill of Rights," which would include, but not be limited to, minimum rights, such as homes that meet minimum health and environmental standards, the ability to report inadequate living standards to the military chain of command without fear of reprisal, and the ability to enter into a dispute resolution process for purposes of recouping basic allowance for housing.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2811).

The House recedes with an amendment that would include general contract requirements for military housing units, require congressional notification 30 days before changes to the bill of rights are released, and provide for a technical change.

Designation of Chief Housing Officer for privatized military housing (sec. 3012)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3012) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring that the Secretary of Defense designate a Chief Housing Officer, who shall be a presidentially appointed and Senate-confirmed Department of Defense official. The provision would require the Chief Housing Officer to establish and maintain the Office of the Chief Housing Officer, whose purpose would be to conduct oversight of the Military Housing Privatization Initiative (MHPI) by standardizing policies and conducting audits of contracts, agreements, and work order incentive fees.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would make the role of Chief Housing Officer non-delegable; change the scope of responsibility to include oversight of any Department-wide policies related to the MHPI; drop the requirement that the Chief Housing Officer conduct audits of contracts, agreements, and work order incentive fees; and provide for a technical change.

Additional requirements relating to contracts for privatized military housing (sec. 3013)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3044) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary of Defense to include certain requirements for any contract with a term of more than 10 years for the purpose of privatized military housing. The provision would require that contracts: allow the Department of Defense to renegotiate the contract at minimum every 5 years, prohibit the continued working under the contract of any employee who has committed work order fraud under the contract, and require the private contractor to pay a tenant's relocation fees and living expenses if a tenant is required to move due to health or environmental hazards.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would remove the 10-year timeframe and requirement that contacts be renegotiated at minimum every 5 years; require that the private management company or private partner reimburse the Department of Defense for the costs of any medical evaluations and treatment provided to a tenant if the landlord is found by the Secretary concerned to have failed to maintain safe and sanitary conditions; require that the Secretary of Defense seek agreement from all property management companies or private partners to participate in the requirements retroactively and submit to the congressional defense committees a list of landlords who decline to participate; and provide for a technical change.

Additional requirements relating to management of privatized military housing (sec. 3014)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3043) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary of Defense to ensure that operating agreements for any Department of Defense installation where on-base housing is managed by a private contractor include certain requirements. The provision would also include requirements for the installation commander, the head of each housing management office, and the private contractor.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would require the landlord to maintain an electronic work order system that can be accessed by the tenant; prohibit the landlord from imposing a supplemental payment, such as an out-of-pocket fee, on a tenant in addition to rent; require that the Secretary of Defense seek agreement from all property management companies or private partners to participate in the requirements retroactively and submit to the congressional defense committees a list of landlords who decline to participate; and provide for a technical change.

Consideration of contractor history in contracts for privatized military housing (sec. 3015)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3014) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary of Defense to consider a private contractor's past performance when deciding whether or not to enter into a new contract or renew an existing contract with that contractor.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Additional improvements for management of privatized military housing (sec. 3016)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3019) that would amend chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to establish a database that makes available to the public complaints from tenants related to privatized military housing units, together with the landlord's response to each such complaint.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2820) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to establish a publicly available database of complaints relating to privatized military family housing. This section would also require an annual audit to be performed by the Comptroller General of the United States of a small, medium, and large military installation with privatized military family housing. This section would also amend section 2884 of title 10, United States Code, by directing the Secretary of Defense to provide an annual report on military housing to the defense committees.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would ensure the collected information exclude personally identifiable information and be limited to the installation, management company, and nature of the complaint and provide for a technical change.

Maintenance work order system for privatized military housing (sec. 3017)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3020) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring each private contractor that provides housing under this subchapter to provide the housing management office at each installation access to their maintenance work order system.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Access by tenants of privatized military housing to maintenance work order system (sec. 3018)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3021) that would require that each landlord for a privatized military housing unit have an electronic work order system and provide tenants with access to such system.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Access by tenants to historical maintenance information for privatized military housing (sec. 3019)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3033) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring each private contractor that provides housing under this subchapter to provide prospective tenants with information regarding maintenance conducted at prospective housing units for the previous 10 years.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would change 10 years to 7 years, require any renovations be included in the provided history, and provide for a technical change.

Prohibition on requirement to disclose personally identifiable information in certain requests for maintenance of privatized military housing (sec. 3020)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3034) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by adding a section prohibiting any private contractor who is responsible for military housing from using a maintenance work order call center outside the United States.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would change the prohibition to a prohibition on requiring tenants to disclose personally identifiable information to call centers and provide for a technical change.

Treatment of incentive fees for landlords of privatized military housing for failure to remedy a health or environmental hazard (sec. 3021)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3045) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to withhold incentive fees, which would otherwise be paid to a private contractor under this subchapter, for failure to remedy a health or environmental hazard.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Dispute resolution process for landlord-tenant disputes regarding privatized military housing and requests to withhold payments during dispute resolution process (sec. 3022)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3031) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to require the Secretary of Defense to implement a formal dispute resolution process on each military installation with privatized military housing units.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would clarify the dispute resolution process, ensure that tenants entering into such a process have access and assistance from a military housing advocate or military legal assistance attorney, and provide for a technical change.

Investigation of reports of reprisals relating to privatized military housing and congressional notification (sec. 3023)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2824) that would require the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment to investigate all reports of reprisal against a member of the Armed Forces for reporting an issue relating to a housing issue under this subchapter.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

Prohibition on use of nondisclosure agreements in connection with leases of privatized military housing (sec. 3024)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2812) that would amend section 2882 of title 10, United States Code, to prohibit the use of non-disclosure agreements in connection with entering into, continuing, or terminating a lease for a housing unit covered under the Military Housing Privatization Initiative.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

SUBTITLE B—OTHER AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Installation of carbon monoxide detectors in military family housing (sec. 3031)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2821) that would amend section 2821 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary concerned to provide for the installation and maintenance of carbon monoxide detectors in each unit of military family housing under their jurisdiction.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Authority to furnish certain services in connection with use of alternative authority for acquisition and improvement of military housing (sec. 3032)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2813) that would amend section 2872a of title 10, United States Code, to add street sweeping and tree trimming and removal to the list of reimbursable services that may be furnished under that section.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Treatment of breach of contract for privatized military housing (sec. 3033)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3015) that would amend subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, by requiring the Secretary of Defense to withhold any amount owed under the contract as well as to rescind the contract if a material breach is found and not remedied within 90 days.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Modification to requirements for window fall prevention devices in military family housing units (sec. 3034)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3036) that would amend section 2879(c) of title 10, United States Code, by striking "24 inches" and inserting "42 inches".

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2814) that would amend section 2879 of title 10, United States Code, to modify the requirements and applicable standards for window fall prevention devices.

The Senate recesses.

Expansion of direct hire authority for Department of Defense for childcare services providers for Department child development centers to include direct hire authority for installation military housing office personnel (sec. 3035)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3046) that would amend section 559 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 (Public Law 115-91) to extend direct hire authority to fill civil service position vacancies at installation military housing offices.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Modification of authority to make payments to lessors of privatized military housing (sec. 3036)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3017) that would amend section 606 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232), by repealing the requirement that the Secretary of Defense pay an additional 5 percent of the calculated Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) for residents of Military Housing Privatization Initiative (MHPI) projects to MHPI projects. The provision would require the Secretaries of the military departments to provide additional payments to MHPI projects equivalent to 2 percent of the calculated BAH for residents of MHPI projects. The Secretaries of the military departments would be required to use

3 percent of the calculated BAH for MHPI residents to make improvements to the oversight and management of MHPI projects.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require service secretaries to provide additional payments to MHPI projects equivalent to 2.5 percent of the calculated BAH for residents of each MHPI project. Service secretaries would also be required to provide an additional 2.5 percent of the calculated BAH for MHPI residents to MHPI projects that are determined to be underfunded. If the Chief Housing Officer determines no MHPI projects within a particular military department are underfunded, the Secretary of the military department concerned shall use any remaining funds to enhance the quality of life of military families residing in MHPI housing.

Technical correction to definition used to make payments to lessors of privatized military housing (sec. 3037)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3055) that would amend section 606(d) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (Public Law 115-232) to define eligible privatized housing projects as those that were procured, acquired, constructed, or for which any phase or portion of a project was first finalized and signed on or before September 30th, 2014.

The House bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

SUBTITLE C—ONE-TIME REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Report on civilian personnel shortages for appropriate oversight of management of military housing constructed or acquired using alternative authority for acquisition and improvement of military housing (sec. 3041)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2817) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the secretaries of the military departments, to provide a report to the congressional defense committees not later than September 30, 2020, on the manpower requirements and execution plan to staff military housing offices and headquarters to fill gaps in oversight personnel.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require a breakdown of requirements by function, such as oversight, home inspectors, and maintenance, for additional personnel required.

Plans for creation of councils on privatized military housing (sec. 3042)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3042) that would require the Assistant Secretary for energy, installations, and environment of each military department to establish a military housing council to identify and resolve problems with military housing managed by private contractors.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would instead require each Assistant Secretary concerned to submit a plan for the creation of a privatized military housing council to the congressional defense committees not later than February 1, 2020.

Plan for establishment of Department of Defense jurisdiction over off-base privatized military housing (sec. 3043)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3047) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the secretaries of the military departments, to submit a plan to establish jurisdiction at locations with privatized military housing not located on a military installation to the congressional defense committees not later than 30 days after the enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would change the due date for the plan from 30 days to 180 days.

Inspector General review of Department of Defense oversight of privatized military housing (sec. 3044)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2818) that would require the Inspector General of the Department of Defense to conduct an annual review of the Department's oversight of privatized military family housing at 15 randomly selected installations and publish the results on a publicly available website.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would change the number of installations to be reviewed from 15 to 3.

Information on legal services provided to members of the Armed Forces harmed by health or environmental hazards at military housing (sec. 3045)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3053) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report not later than 90 days after the enactment of this Act to the congressional defense committees on the legal services available to members of the Armed Forces who have been harmed by health and environmental hazards while living in military housing.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 550M).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

SUBTITLE D—DEVELOPMENT OF HOUSING REFORM STANDARDS AND PROCESSES

Uniform code of basic standards for privatized military housing and plan to conduct inspections and assessments (sec. 3051)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3016) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a uniform code of basic housing standards for safety, comfort, and habitability for privatized military housing. The provision would also require the Secretary to submit to the congressional defense committees, not later than February 1, 2020, this uniform code and a plan for the Department of Defense to contract with home inspectors to conduct inspections and assessments of habitability and structural integrity of each housing unit as specified under subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code. Finally, the provision would require that said inspections be completed no later than February 1, 2021.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2819).

The House recedes with an amendment that would require that the uniform code of basic housing standards be implemented by February 1, 2021, and meet or exceed requirements informed by a nationally recognized, consensus-based, model property maintenance code.

Tool for assessment of hazards in Department of Defense housing (sec. 3052)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2815) that would require the Secretary of Defense to develop an assessment tool to identify and measure health and safety hazards in Department of Defense housing, to include privatized housing, and provide a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Process to identify and address environmental health hazards in Department of Defense housing (sec. 3053)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 2816) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the secretaries of the military departments, to develop a process to identify, record, and resolve environmental health hazards in Department of Defense housing, to include privatized housing, and to provide a report to the Committees on Armed Services of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

Department of Defense policy on lead-based paint testing on military installations (sec. 3054)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3051) that would require the Secretary of Defense to establish a policy under which a qualified individual may access a military installation to conduct lead testing, with all results to be shared with the installation civil engineer, housing management office, and major subordinate command with jurisdiction over the installation. Additionally, the provision would require the Secretary of Defense to annually submit a report, not later than February 1 of each year, to the congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2822).

The Senate recesses with a technical amendment that would amend the annual reporting requirement by including it in the annual housing report.

Standard for minimum credentials for health and environmental inspectors of privatized military housing (sec. 3055)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3018) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on a standard for common credentials to be used throughout the Department of Defense for purposes of health and environmental hazard inspection to include, at a minimum, categories for lead, mold, and radon.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Requirements relating to move-in, move-out, and maintenance of privatized military housing (sec. 3056)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3037) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the secretaries of the military departments, to develop a uniform move-out checklist for tenants of privatized military housing. This provision would also require that all maintenance issues and work orders related to health and safety issues at privatized military housing be reported to the commander of the installation at which the housing is located.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would change the deadline from 30 days to 60 days, among other technical and clarifying changes.

Standardized documentation, templates, and forms for privatized military housing (sec. 3057)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3041) that would require the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the secretary of each military department, to develop standard documentation, templates, and forms for privatized military housing. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to issue guidance within 30 days of the enactment of this Act and to deliver an implementation plan to the congressional defense committees not later than February 1, 2020.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Satisfaction survey for tenants of military housing (sec. 3058)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3052) that would require the Secretary of Defense to ensure that each military department utilizes the same electronic satisfaction survey for all surveys relating to the customer service experience of all military housing residents, those living in both government and privately managed housing units. The committee believes that one standard survey will allow for improved data collection to pinpoint problems and best practices with ease and assist in regaining the trust of military families and servicemembers.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

SUBTITLE E—OTHER HOUSING REFORM MATTERS

Radon testing of privatized military housing (sec. 3061)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3035) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report not later than March 1, 2020, to the congressional defense committees that identifies all Department of Defense installations that should be monitored for levels of radon in excess of that in the Environmental Protection Agency's recommendations. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to establish testing procedures for all privatized military housing at installations that have been identified as requiring radon monitoring and would include a requirement to complete initial testing for all privatized military housing by June 1, 2020. The provision would also require the Secretary of Defense to certify on an annual basis that radon testing is being conducted for privatized military housing.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would drop the annual testing certification and make technical changes.

Mitigation of risks posed by certain items in military family housing units (sec. 3062)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3054) that would require the Secretary of Defense to allow a resident of a military family housing unit to anchor any furniture, television, or large appliance to the wall of the unit for purposes of preventing such item from tipping over without incurring a penalty or obligation to repair the wall upon vacating the unit. Further, the provision would require the Secretary to ensure that certain freestanding furniture taller than 27 inches be securely anchored in furnished military family housing units under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Suspension of Resident Energy Conservation Program and related programs for privatized military housing (sec. 3063)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3032) that would suspend the Department of Defense's Resident Energy Conservation Program (RECP) until the Secretary of Defense can certify that 100 percent of military housing on installations is individually metered and certified by an independent entity through an energy audit. Furthermore, the provision would terminate the RECP if the Secretary of Defense is unable to certify the individual usage 2 years after enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would remove the term of suspension requirement that the military housing be certified by an independent entity through an energy audit.

Department of the Army pilot program to build and monitor use of single family homes (sec. 3064)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3056) that would require the Secretary of the Army to carry out a pilot program to build and monitor the use of not fewer than five single family homes for members of the Army and their families.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 2823).

The Senate recedes with a technical amendment.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

Command oversight of military privatized housing as element of performance evaluations

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3013) that would require each service secretary to ensure that performance evaluations indicate the extent to which the following individuals have or have not exercised effective oversight and leadership of military privatized housing: (1) Commanders of military installations with privatized military housing; (2) Each officer or senior enlisted member whose duties include facilities or housing management at such installations; and (3) Any other officer or enlisted member as specified by the secretary concerned.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree that commanders of military installations have an important responsibility for ensuring safe, high quality housing for servicemembers and their families living on such installations. The conferees intend to watch closely how commanders and other senior officer and enlisted personnel oversee the housing conditions on their installations, including such conditions in military barracks and dormitories.

DIVISION C—DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY
NATIONAL SECURITY AUTHORIZATIONS AND OTHER AUTHORIZATIONS

TITLE XXXI—DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY NATIONAL SECURITY PROGRAMS

SUBTITLE A—NATIONAL SECURITY PROGRAMS
AUTHORIZATIONS

National Nuclear Security Administration (sec. 3101)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3101) that would authorize appropriations for the National Nuclear Security Administration for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 3101).

The House recesses.

Defense environmental cleanup (sec. 3102)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3102) that would authorize the appropriation of funds for the Department of Energy's defense environmental cleanup activities.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 3102).

The House recesses.

Other defense activities (sec. 3103)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3103) that would authorize appropriations for other defense activities of the Department of Energy for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 3103).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Nuclear energy (sec. 3104)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3104) that would authorize appropriations for certain nuclear energy programs of the Department of Energy for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 3104).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

SUBTITLE B—PROGRAM AUTHORIZATIONS, RESTRICTIONS, AND LIMITATIONS

Personnel matters at National Nuclear Security Administration (sec. 3111)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3113) that would remove the cap on the use of excepted service hiring authority pursuant to section 3241 of the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) Act (50 U.S.C. 2441).

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3111) that would raise the cap on the number of full-time equivalent federal employees of the NNSA from 1,690 to 1,890, and modify the reporting requirement contained in section 3241A(f) of the NNSA Act relating to service support contracts of the NNSA.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would also raise the cap on the use of excepted service hiring authority pursuant to section 3241 from 600 to 800 employees.

Estimation of costs of meeting defense environmental cleanup milestones required by consent orders (sec. 3112)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3121) that would require the Secretary of Energy to submit, along with the budget justification materials, a report on the cost of meeting milestones required by a consent order at each defense nuclear facility at which environmental cleanup activities are taking place.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

Office of Cost Estimating and Program Evaluation (sec. 3113)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3112) that would express the sense of Congress regarding the persistent under-staffing of the Office of Cost Estimating and Program Evaluation (CEPE) at the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA). The provision would also require that the Director of CEPE report directly to the Administrator of the NNSA, and require the Administrator to provide a briefing to the congressional defense committees on the plan to ensure the full staffing of the office.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would strike the sense of Congress.

Clarification of certain Stockpile Responsiveness Program objectives (sec. 3114)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3113) that would clarify the objectives of the Stockpile Responsiveness Program as defined in section 4220 of the Atomic Energy Defense Act (50 U.S.C. 2538b).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Elimination of limitation on availability of funds relating to submission of annual reports on unfunded priorities (sec. 3115)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3117) that would repeal the limitation on funds authorized to be appropriated for travel and transportation within the Federal salaries and expenses account at the National Nuclear Security Administration until the Administrator for Nuclear Security submits a report to the congressional defense committees containing at least one unfunded priority pursuant to section 4719 of the Atomic Energy Defense Act (50 U.S.C. 2756).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would add a requirement that, if the Administrator determines that there are no unfunded priorities to include in the report, the Administrator, without delegation, shall certify and explain such determination to the congressional defense committees.

Modification to certain requirements relating to plutonium pit production capacity (sec. 3116)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8102) that would express the sense of the Senate that rebuilding plutonium pit production infrastructure of the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) with a capacity of up to 80 pits per year is critical to maintaining the viability of the nuclear stockpile, and any further delay to achieving this capability would be unacceptable. The provision would also amend section 4219 of the Atomic Energy Defense Act (50 U.S.C. 2538a) to repeal the requirement for the NNSA to demonstrate for 90 days by 2029 the capability to produce pits at a rate sufficient to produce 80 pits per year, and replace it with a requirement to produce no fewer than 80 pits per year in 2030.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3114) that would express the sense of Congress that the NNSA should prioritize achieving production of 30 plutonium pits per year at Los Alamos National Laboratory, and ensure that efforts to design and construct a second site do not divert resources. The provision would also amend section 4219 of the Atomic Energy Defense Act to repeal the requirement for the 90-day demonstration by 2029.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Annual certification of shipments to Waste Isolation Pilot Plant (sec. 3117)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3115) that would extend the certification of shipments of waste to the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant from a 3-year period to a 10-year period.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Extension and modification of pilot program on unavailability for overhead costs of amounts specified for laboratory-directed research and development (sec. 3118)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3114) that would make permanent the pilot program conducted under section 3119 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328) that temporarily prohibited the use of laboratory-directed research and development to cover general and administrative overhead costs, including for nuclear weapons production facilities.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3124) that would express the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Energy should ensure that the National Nuclear Security Administration's laboratories, plants, and sites are operated using generally accepted accounting best practices for laboratory-, plant-, or site-directed research and development. The provision would also require the Administrator for Nuclear Security to submit to the congressional defense committees a report assessing the pilot program conducted under section 3119 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017.

The House recesses with an amendment that would extend the pilot program conducted under section 3119 for an additional year, and clarify the deadline for the report required by the same section.

Modification to limitation on availability of funds for acceleration of nuclear weapons dismantlement (sec. 3119)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3116) that would repeal section 3125 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328), including the limitation on the maximum amount of funding available in a fiscal year for nuclear weapons dismantlement and disposition and the limitation on acceleration of dismantlement activities.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would, instead of repealing section 3125, increase the limitation on dismantlement funding in that section from $56.0 million to $87.0 million.

Implementation of common financial reporting system for nuclear security enterprise (sec. 3120)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8101) that would prohibit obligation or expenditure of more than 90 percent of fiscal year 2020 funds for the National Nuclear Security Administration's federal salaries and expenses account for travel and transportation until the Administrator for Nuclear Security completes implementation of the common financial reporting system for the nuclear security enterprise as required by section 3113(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-328).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Limitation relating to reclassification of high-level waste (sec. 3121)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3128) that would provide that none of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act, or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2020 for the Department of Energy, may be obligated or expended by the Secretary of Energy to apply the interpretation of high-level radioactive waste described in the ``Supplemental Notice Concerning U.S. Department of Energy Interpretation of High-Level Radioactive Waste'' (84 Fed. Reg. 26835), or successor notice, with respect to such waste located in the State of Washington.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would eliminate section (b) Rule of Construction.

The conferees note that the inclusion of the provision does not prejudice how to process high-level waste nor does it discourage the use of the Department of Energy's interpretation of high-level waste in future years or at other locations.

National Laboratory Jobs ACCESS Program (sec. 3122)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3120) that would authorize the Secretary of Energy to establish the Department of Energy National Lab Jobs ACCESS Program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with certain clarifying amendments.

SUBTITLE C—REPORTS AND OTHER MATTERS

Civil penalties for violations of certain whistleblower protections (sec. 3131)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3127) that would clarify civil penalties for violations of Department of Energy whistleblower protections, especially for employees of contractors or subcontractors of the National Nuclear Security Administration.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with several technical amendments.

Repeal of assessments of adequacy of budget requests relating to nuclear weapons stockpile (sec. 3132)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3122) that would extend the suspension through fiscal year 2023 of the requirement contained in section 3255 of the National Nuclear Security Administration Act (50 U.S.C. 2455) for the Comptroller General of the United States to review the budget submission of the National Nuclear Security Administration.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would repeal section 3255 and the requirement for Comptroller General review altogether.

The conferees note that, elsewhere in this Act, a similar review requirement originally contained in section 1043 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2012 (Public Law 112-81) has been further extended through 2024.

Repeal of requirement for review relating to enhanced procurement authority (sec. 3133)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3123) that would terminate the requirement for the Comptroller General of the United States to review the Secretary of Energy's enhanced procurement authority after fiscal year 2019.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

The conferees note that the Comptroller General recently completed a report required by the same subsection, entitled "Nuclear Supply Chain: NNSA Should Notify Congress of Its Recommendations to Improve the Enhanced Procurement Authority" (GAO-19-606R). According to the report, the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) has not used the enhanced procurement authority since it was authorized in 2013, because of concerns related to the process. The sole recommendation contained in the report is that the Secretary of Energy and the Administrator of the NNSA formally communicate to Congress their suggested changes to the authority in a timely manner; the conferees urge the Secretary and the Administrator to do so in time for consideration in the fiscal year 2021 authorization process.

Improvements to Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act of 2000 (sec. 3134)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3126) that would modify the duties of the Office of the Ombudsman of the Department of Labor, and extend the Office through October 28, 2020. The provision would also make certain modifications to the Advisory Board on Toxic Substances and Worker Health.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Replacement of W78 warhead (sec. 3135)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3119) that would require the Administrator for Nuclear Security to conduct an analysis of alternatives with respect to replacing the W78 warhead, including the technical risks and costs for each option to replace the W78. The provision would require the Director for Cost Estimating and Program Evaluation (CEPE) at the National Nuclear Security Administration to review the analysis. The provision would further require the Administrator to submit a report on the W78 replacement, including the analysis of alternatives and the CEPE review, and would prohibit the obligation or expenditure of more than 75 percent of funds for this program until such report is submitted. Finally, the provision would require the Administrator to arrange for the JASON advisory group to conduct a study on the W78 replacement, including an assessment of the risks to certification and the need for planned upgrades to the warhead.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would remove the prohibition on obligation or expenditure of funds, and change the analysis of alternatives to a report describing alternatives previously considered, including any changes since January 15, 2014, to the requirements for the program.

Independent review of capabilities for detection, verification, and monitoring of nuclear weapons and fissile material (sec. 3136)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3121) that would require the Secretary of Energy to enter into a contract with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct an independent review and assessment of a plan for nuclear detection and verification and monitoring of nuclear weapons and fissile material. The provision would require the Secretary to submit the resulting study to the congressional defense committees no later than 270 days from the date of enactment of this Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would modify some elements of the study, and modify the required date of submission to 1 year from the date of enactment of this Act.

Assessment of high energy density physics (sec. 3137)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3125) that would require the Administrator for Nuclear Security to enter into an arrangement with the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine to conduct an assessment of the current status of the field of high energy density physics.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Determination of effect of treaty obligations with respect to producing tritium (sec. 3138)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3124) that would require the Secretary of Energy to determine whether the Agreement for Cooperation on the Uses of Atomic Energy for Mutual Defense Purposes, signed at Washington on July 3, 1958, permits obtaining uranium from the United Kingdom to produce tritium for defense purposes using reactor irradiation.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Technical corrections to National Nuclear Security Administration Act and Atomic Energy Defense Act (sec. 3139)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3111) that would make certain technical corrections to the National Nuclear Security Administration Act (50 U.S.C. Ch. 41) and the Atomic Energy Defense Act (50 U.S.C. Ch. 42).

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

National Nuclear Security Administration Personnel System

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3112) that would make permanent the personnel demonstration project carried out by the National Nuclear Security Administration since 2008.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

Program for research and development of advanced naval nuclear fuel system based on low-enriched uranium

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3115) that would prohibit the obligation or expenditure of any funds for fiscal year 2020 or thereafter for the National Nuclear Security Administration to conduct research and development for an advanced naval nuclear fuel system based on low-enriched uranium (LEU) unless the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of Energy, and Secretary of the Navy submit certain certifications to the congressional defense committees.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3118) that would require the Administrator for Nuclear Security to establish a program to assess the viability of using LEU in naval nuclear propulsion reactors, including reactors located on aircraft carriers and submarines, that meet the requirements of the Navy. The provision would require this program to include down-blending of high-enriched uranium (HEU) into LEU, manufacturing of candidate fuels, irradiation tests and post-irradiation examination capabilities, and modification or procurement of equipment and infrastructure related to these activities. Finally, the provision would require the Administrator to submit a plan to carry out this program, including the funding requirements associated.

The House amendment also contained a provision (sec. 3122) that would authorize to be appropriated $20.0 million for low-enriched uranium research and development within the defense nuclear nonproliferation account.

The conference agreement does not include any of these provisions.

Availability of amounts for denuclearization of Democratic People's Republic of North Korea

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3123) that would increase by $10.0 million the funding authorized for defense nuclear nonproliferation to develop and prepare to implement a monitoring and verification program for the phased denuclearization of the Democratic People's Republic of North Korea.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Funding for inertial confinement fusion ignition and high yield program

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3125) that would increase by $5.0 million the funding authorized for the inertial confinement fusion ignition and high yield program, facility operations and target production.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

TITLE XXXII—DEFENSE NUCLEAR FACILITIES SAFETY BOARD

Authorization (sec. 3201)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3201) that would authorize funding for the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board at $29.5 million, consistent with the budget request.

The House amendment contained an identical provision (sec. 3201).

The conference agreement includes this provision.

Improvements to Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board (sec. 3202)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3202) that would establish an Executive Director for Operations at the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board. It would also authorize the Chairman of the Board to organize the staff as he considers appropriate to accomplish the mission, and repeal a prohibition contained in section 311 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2286) on the Chairman's withholding of information relating to management of the Board from the other Board members.

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3202) that would also establish an Executive Director for Operations and specify that employee's role within the Board staff structure. The provision would require the Board staff to consist of the equivalent of between 110 and 130 full-time employees. The provision would also clarify that the mission of the Board includes provision of recommendations covering adequate protection of employee health and safety at defense nuclear facilities. The provision would also require the Secretary of Energy to provide to the Board prompt and unfettered access to facilities within its purview, regardless of hazard or risk category of such facilities. Finally, the provision would limit the ability of the Secretary of Energy to deny information to Board staff, while clarifying that the Board may not publicly disclose any information that is otherwise protected from disclosure by law.

The Senate recedes with amendments that would retain the Senate bill's authorization for the Chairman to organize the staff as he considers appropriate, and the repeal of the prohibition on withholding information. The amendments would also require that the Board employ no fewer than the equivalent of 100 full-time employees in fiscal year 2020, and clarify the Board's purview of defense nuclear facilities. Finally, the amendments would require the Secretary of Energy to provide written notification of any denial of a written request for access made by the Board; require the Board to provide biannual reports to Congress enumerating requests for access that were denied by the Secretary in the preceding 6 months; and require the Secretary to provide biannual reports to Congress identifying each request denied by the Secretary in the same period, including the reason for such denials.

Membership of Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board (sec. 3203)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 3203, as modified by sec. 8202) that would require the National Academy of Sciences to maintain a list of qualified individuals for consideration for nomination to fill vacancies on the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board. The provision would also prohibit Board members from serving on expired terms, and prohibit Board members from being nominated for two consecutive terms, unless the member was confirmed by the Senate more than 2 years into the member's first term; such changes would take effect on April 1, 2020. Finally, the provision would include measures to encourage the President to promptly submit nominations to fill vacant seats.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with amendments that would prohibit Board members from serving on expired terms, unless the departure of a member would result in the loss of a quorum for the Board. The amendments would also modify the date of effect from April 1, 2020, to 1 year from the date of enactment of this Act.

TITLE XXXIV—NAVAL PETROLEUM RESERVES

Authorization of Appropriations (sec. 3401)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3401) that would authorize funds for the purpose of carrying out activities under chapter 869 of title 10, United States Code, relating to the naval petroleum reserves.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.

TITLE XXXV—MARITIME MATTERS

SUBTITLE A—MARITIME ADMINISTRATION

Authorization of the Maritime Administration (sec. 3501)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8511) that would authorize appropriations for certain aspects of the Maritime Administration for fiscal year 2020.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 3501).

The House recesses with an amendment that would reduce the amount of appropriations authorized for the Port and Intermodal Improvement Program from $600.0 million to $500.0 million for fiscal year 2020. The amendment would also make changes to the determination made by the Secretary of Transportation as it relates to funds being used for fully automated cargo handling equipment.

Reauthorization of Maritime Security Program (sec. 3502)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3502) that would authorize the Maritime Security Program until 2035. It would authorize a stipend of $5.3 million for fiscal years 2022-2025, $5.8 million for fiscal years 2026-2028, $6.3 million for fiscal years 2029-2031, and $6.8 million for fiscal years 2032-2035 for each of the 60 vessels in the Maritime Security Program.

The Senate bill contained a similar provision (sec. 8512).
The Senate recesses.

Maritime technical assistance program (sec. 3503)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8522) that would clarify that the Maritime Administrator shall act on behalf of the Secretary of Transportation for the Maritime Technical Assistance Program. The provision would also broaden the scope of the existing program to include research on propeller cavitation, U.S. maritime environmental performance to meet international standards and guidelines, and improve the efficiency and competitiveness of domestic maritime industries.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Appointment of candidates attending sponsored preparatory school (sec. 3504)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8514) that would allow the Secretary of Transportation to appoint no more than 40 qualified cadets per year who have successfully met the terms and conditions of sponsorship at a sponsored preparatory school during the previous academic year to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

General support program (sec. 3505)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8516) that would require the Secretary of Transportation to designate State Maritime Academies as Centers of Excellence.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would designate the State Maritime Academies as American Maritime Centers of Excellence.

Improvements to the maritime guaranteed loan program (sec. 3506)

The Senate amendment contained a provision (sec. 8525) that would modify the Maritime Guaranteed Loan Program in certain ways.

The House bill contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would add a requirement for a 45-day public comment period for stakeholder input in the federal register prior to issuing guidance for expedited consideration of applications for maritime guaranteed loans.

Requirement for small shipyard grantees (sec. 3507)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8523) that would prohibit funds from being obligated for the Maritime Administration's Small Shipyard Grant Program unless the articles, materials, and supplies purchased with grant funds have been mined, produced, or manufactured in the United States, subject to certain exceptions.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Salvage recoveries of cargoes (sec. 3508)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8518) that would authorize a Federal entity to transfer funds to the Secretary of Transportation when the Secretary has provided for the use of Department of Transportation vessels, services, or goods to a Federal, State, or local entity in support of the salvage of federally owned cargoes.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would allow the Secretary of Transportation to enter into reimbursable agreements for the reimbursement of funds for legal services related to the salvaging of federal cargoes.

Salvage recoveries for subrogated ownership of vessels and cargoes (sec. 3509)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8519) that would authorize the Secretary of Transportation to enter into marine salvage agreements for the recoveries, sale, and disposal of sunken or damaged vessels or property owned or insured by the Maritime Administration or its predecessor agencies.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would allocate 50 percent of the proceeds from recoveries to Maritime Academies for maintenance, repair, and modernization and 50 percent of the proceeds to maritime heritage grants.

Maritime Occupational Safety and Health Advisory Committee (sec. 3510)

The House bill contained a provision (sec. 3503) that would amend section 7 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 by establishing a Maritime Occupational Safety and Health Advisory Committee to advise the Secretary of Labor on issuing standards for the maritime industry.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes.

Military to mariner (sec. 3511)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8517) that would provide military to mariner transition assistance.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 3504).

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Department of Transportation Inspector General Report (sec. 3512)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8513) that would require the Department of Transportation Office of Inspector General to conduct an audit and submit a report to Congress on the Maritime Administration's actions to address certain recommendations promulgated by the National Academy of Public Administration in a report entitled "Maritime Administration: Defining its Mission, Aligning its Programs, and Meeting its Objectives."

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Independent study on the United States Merchant Marine Academy (sec. 3513)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8515) that would require the Maritime Administrator to enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Public Administration to produce a study on the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Port operations, research, and technology (sec. 3514)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8520) that would amend section 50302 of title 46, United States Code. This provision would establish a competitive grant program for port and intermodal projects.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would clarify certain requirements associated with eligible projects, reduce the grant request amount for eligible projects covered under the small project set aside, clarify the definition of a port eligible for funding, and make technical changes.

Additionally, the amendment would amend section 533 of the Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2015 (Public Law 114-120) to allow the Coast Guard to complete certain remedial actions required by section 120(h) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (Public Law 96-510).

Assessment and report on strategic seaports (sec. 3515)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8521) that would require the Secretary of Defense to submit a report to the congressional defense committees on port facilities used for military purposes at designated strategic ports.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

Technical corrections (sec. 3516)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8526) that would direct the Director of the Office of Personnel Management to identify key skills and competencies necessary to maintain a balance of expertise in merchant marine seagoing service and strategic sealift military service for certain positions within the Office of the Commandant of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. This section would also clarify that criteria for participation in the Sea Year program applies to both domestic and international vessels.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with a technical amendment.

United States Merchant Marine Academy sexual assault prevention and response program (sec. 3517)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8527) that would ensure the recommendations of the Inspector General of the Department of Transportation's report on the effectiveness of the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy are implemented within 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Report on vessels for emerging offshore energy infrastructure (sec. 3518)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8528) that would require the Secretary of Transportation, Secretary of Energy, Secretary of the Interior, and the heads of other relevant agencies to submit a report on the need to install, operate, and maintain emergency offshore energy infrastructure in vessels.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would require the report to be completed by the Comptroller General of the United States and specify that vessels considered in this report be documented under chapter 121 of title 46, United States Code, and operated under U.S. coastwise laws.

Report on United States flagged fuel tanker vessel capacity (sec. 3519)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3511) that would authorize a tanker security fleet program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses with an amendment that would require a report on U.S.-flagged fuel tanker vessel capacity.

SUBTITLE B—CABLE SECURITY FLEET

Establishment of cable security fleet (sec. 3521)

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3521) that would authorize a cable security fleet program.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.
The Senate recesses.

SUBTITLE C—MARITIME SAFE ACT

Short titles (sec. 3531)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8531) that would name a subtitle, "The Maritime Security and Fisheries Enforcement (Maritime SAFE) Act."

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Definitions (sec. 3532)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8532) that would define several terms.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Purposes (sec. 3533)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8533) that would establish that the purposes of a subtitle are to support a whole-of-government approach to combating illegal, unregulated, and unreported fishing.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

Statement of policy (sec. 3534)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8534) that would establish the policy of the United States to take immediate action against illegal, unregulated, and unreported fishing through diplomatic, military, development, and economic tools.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.
The House recesses.

PART I—PROGRAMS TO COMBAT IUU FISHING AND INCREASE MARITIME SECURITY

Coordination with international organizations (sec. 3541)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8541) that would direct the Departments of State and Commerce to coordinate with Regional Fisheries Management Organizations, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, and other relevant international organizations to enhance regional responses to illegal, unregulated, and unreported fishing and related illegal activity.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Engagement of diplomatic missions of the United States (sec. 3542)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 8542) that would direct each chief of mission to a relevant country in the priority region to convene a working group of stakeholders to examine illegal, unregulated, and unreported (IUU) fishing in the region and to designate a counter-IUU Fishing Coordinator from among existing mission personnel, if the Secretary of State determines such action is appropriate.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

DIVISION E—INTELLIGENCE AUTHORIZATIONS FOR FISCAL YEARS 2018, 2019, AND 2020

Intelligence authorizations for fiscal years 2018, 2019, and 2020 (secs. 5001-6747)

The Senate bill contained Division F that included the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020 and Division G that included the Intelligence Authorization Act for fiscal years 2018 and 2019.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The House recedes with an amendment that would make various modifications to such provisions.

DIVISION F—OTHER MATTERS

TITLE LXXI—SANCTIONS WITH RESPECT TO NORTH KOREA

Sanctions with respect to North Korea and Financial Industry Guidance to Halt Trafficking Act (secs. 7101-7155)

The Senate bill contained multiple provisions (sections 6901, 6911-6913, 6921-6925, 6931-6935, 6941-6946, 6951-6954, 6961-6966) that would strengthen United States sanctions on North Korea, impose oversight measures concerning sanctions on North Korea, and strengthen the Department of Treasury's role in combating human trafficking, among other measures.

The House amendment contained multiple similar provisions (sections 1099Z-1-1099Z-8).

The House recedes with an amendment that would provide for significant enhancement of economic sanctions on North Korea and foreign persons involved with North Korea, including new secondary banking sanctions and broadening primary trade-based sanctions provided for in the North Korea Sanctions and Policy Enhancement Act of 2016 (Public Law 114-122), hereafter referred to as NKSPEA. In addition, it would provide for increased congressional oversight in response to North Korea's aggressive nuclear and ballistic missile testing, sanctions evasion, and global compliance failures weakening enforcement of United Nations Security Council (UNSC) resolutions. The amendment would also provide for significant guidance to the financial industry on strengthening measures to combat human trafficking.

More specifically, the amendment would impose such "secondary banking sanctions" as asset blocking and restrictions on correspondent accounts, and any other penalty authorized by the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (Public Law 95-223), hereafter referred to as IEEPA, against foreign financial institutions that provide financial services to certain sanctioned persons. Furthermore, the amendment would prohibit transactions with the same types of certain sanctioned persons by persons owned or controlled by U.S. financial institutions, and provides for civil IEEPA penalty authority against both the person owned or controlled and as appropriate its parent U.S. financial institution.

The amendment would also expand on the list of designation requirements for mandatory sanctions provided in NKSPEA, by adding as mandatory: any person that engages in the import or export, including of related services or technology, of coal, textiles, seafood, iron, or iron ore; and in crude oil or refined petroleum products above UNSC-set limits. The amendment would also require the imposition of sanctions with respect to any person who engages in, or otherwise facilitates: a transfer of North Korean government funds or property, contributing to a material violation of a UNSC resolution; the exportation of workers from North Korea; the sale or transfer of vessels to North Korea, or their registration, chartering or insurance; bribery of a North Korean official; or the significant misappropriation of public funds.

The amendment would also provide for enhanced guidance to the financial industry to combat human trafficking by: elevating human trafficking as an enumerated function of the U.S. Treasury Office of Terrorism and Financial Intelligence and requiring increased coordination and reporting related to human trafficking; strengthening the role that anti-money laundering and other tools play in combating human trafficking by requiring the U.S. Inter-Agency Task Force to Monitor and Combat Trafficking to provide certain policy recommendations to federal regulators and to Congress; and underscoring the sense of Congress that adequate funding be provided for public outreach and critical federal efforts to combat human trafficking at home and abroad.

TITLE LXXII—SANCTIONS WITH RESPECT TO FOREIGN TRAFFICKERS OF ILLICIT SYNTHETIC OPIOIDS

Sanctions with respect to foreign traffickers of illicit synthetic opioids (secs. 7201-7235)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6801-6837) that would strengthen United States sanctions against foreign synthetic opioid traffickers, financial institutions, and others that assist such entities. It would also establish a Commission on Combating Synthetic Opioid Trafficking to report on how to combat more effectively the flow of synthetic opioids from China, Mexico, and elsewhere, among other measures.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 1701-1736).

The House recedes with a clarifying amendment.

TITLE LXXIII-PFAS

Definition of Administrator (sec. 7302)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6701) that would define the term "Administrator" for this title.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes.

Drinking Water (secs. 7311-7312)

The Senate bill contained a series of provisions (sec. 6721-6724) that would require the Administrator of the Environmental Protection agency to promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for, require monitoring of, and establish drinking water state revolving funds for perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with an amendment that would eliminate the requirement to establish a national primary drinking water standard and the accompanying enforcement provision and makes various other technical modifications.

PFAS Release Disclosure (secs. 7321)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6711) that would include Perfluorooctanoic acid, Perfluorooctane sulfonic acid and their associated salts in the toxics release inventory.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

USGS Performance Standard (secs. 7331-7335)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 6731-6736) that would direct the director of the United States Geological Survey to establish a performance standard for the detection of highly fluorinated compounds, to conduct nationwide sampling, and to use the data to inform and enhance assessments of exposure.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 330G)

The House recedes with multiple technical amendments.

Emerging Contaminants (secs. 7341-7342)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 6741-6742) that would require the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to review the Federal efforts of research, development, and response to emerging contaminants.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recedes with a technical amendment.

Toxic Substances Control Act and Other Matters (secs. 7351-7362)

The Senate bill contained provisions (sec. 6751-6754) that would direct the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to take final action on the proposed rule entitled "Long-Chain Perfluoroalkyl Carboxylate and Perfluoroalkyl Sulfonate Chemical Substances; Significant New Use Rule," to publish interim disposal guidance, to conduct research and development efforts focused on perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances.

The House amendment contained no similar provisions.

The House recedes with multiple technical amendments.

TITLE LXXIV-CAESAR SYRIA CIVILIAN PROTECTION ACT OF 2019

Caesar Syria Civilian Protection Act of 2019 (secs. 7401-7438)

The conference agreement includes a provision known as the Caesar Syria Civilian Protection Act of 2019 that would sanction foreign persons who knowingly provide significant financial, material, or technological support to, or knowingly engage in a significant transaction with the Government of Syria, or military contractors, mercenaries, or paramilitary forces that knowingly operate in a military capacity inside Syria for or on behalf of the Government of Syria, the Government of the Russian Federation, or the Government of Iran. The provision would also require the Secretary of the Treasury to determine whether reasonable grounds exist for concluding that the Central Bank of Syria is a financial institution of primary money laundering concern and, if so, impose relevant sanctions on the Central Bank of Syria. The provision would also authorize the Secretary of State to provide support to entities conducting criminal investigations, supporting prosecutions, or collecting evidence against those who have committed war crimes or crimes against humanity in Syria. Lastly, the provision would require the President to produce various strategies, assessments, and briefings related to the provision of humanitarian assistance and the protection of civilians.

TITLE LXXV-PROTECTING EUROPE'S ENERGY SECURITY

Protecting Europe's Energy Security (secs. 7501-7503)

The conference agreement includes a provision that would express the sense of Congress concerning United States relations with the European Union and Germany and impose sanctions with respect to provision of certain vessels for the construction of the Nord Stream 2 and TurkStream pipeline projects.

TITLE LXXVI-OTHER MATTERS

SUBTITLE A-FEDERAL EMPLOYEE PAID LEAVE ACT

Federal Employee Paid Leave Act (secs. 7601-7606)

The House amendment contained several provisions(sec. 1121 through 1126) that would provide 12 weeks of paid leave to the Federal workforce for reasons covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (Public Law 115-232).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would provide 12 weeks of paid leave to Federal employees in connection with the birth or placement of a child to an eligible employee.

SUBTITLE B-OTHER MATTERS

Liberian refugee immigration fairness (sec. 7611)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6013) that would require, not later than December 31, 2019, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State, to submit a report on the impact of Liberian nationals on the national security, foreign policy, and economic, and humanitarian interests of the United States, and a justification for adjustment of status of qualifying Liberians to that of lawful permanent residents.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with an amendment that would provide for the adjustment of the status of certain nationals of Liberia to that of lawful permanent residents.

Pensacola Dam and Reservoir, Grand River, Oklahoma (sec. 7612)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6021) that would clarify the respective jurisdictions of the Army Corps of Engineers and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) at the Grand Lake O' the Cherokees, Oklahoma.

The House bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses with technical amendments and an amendment that would require the Army Corps of Engineers to conduct a study of the resiliency of upstream infrastructure and lands.

Limitation on certain rolling stock procurements; cybersecurity certification for rail rolling stock and operations (sec. 7613)

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6015) that would amend section 5323 of title 49, United States Code, to prevent the use of Federal transit dollars to procure rolling stock from certain manufacturers and an associated annual process for certifying compliance, with an exception for preexisting contracts for rail rolling stock. This provision also would require that any transit service operator of rail rolling stock develop and execute a cybersecurity risk reduction plan in accordance with certain standards and would include arrangements for third-party testing of certain components.

The House amendment contained a similar provision (sec. 896) that would apply overall, only to rail rolling stock.

The House recesses with amendments that would add exceptions to implementation including a grace period of two years from enactment, for certain rolling stock, and other technical amendments.

LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED

PFAS designation, effluent limitations, and pretreatment standards

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 330A) that would require the Administrator of the Environmental protection agency to include per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances to the toxic pollutant list in the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Designation as hazardous substances

The House amendment contained a provision (sec. 3300) that would require the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to designate all per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances as hazardous substances under section 102(a) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9602(a)).

The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The House recesses.

Utilizing significant emissions with innovative technologies

The Senate bill contained a provision (sec. 6001) that would require the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to conduct direct air capture research.

The House amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recesses.
