

Ken Ahmann, Colusa Indian Community

House Appropriations Subcommittee on Interior, Environment, and Related Agencies
American Indian/Alaska Native Public Witness Hearing

Ken Ahmann serves as Tribal Utility Authority Director at the Cachil Dehe Band of Wintun Indians of the Colusa Rancheria and is the Chief Operating Officer of Colusa Indian Energy, the only Tribally owned microgrid developer in the nation. He built and directs operations of the Colusa Tribe's home microgrid, which has operated voluntarily off-grid for 20 years and without a power interruption in over 13 years. Ken is also the Vice Chairman of Tribal Energy Solutions (non-profit), Board member of the Colusa Indian Community's Economic Development Corporation, Board member of the California Tribal Solar For All Consortium, and Board member of the National Renewable Energy Laboratory's Developer Advisory Council.
