Senior Director of Advocacy and Policy

Kids in Need of Defense

Jennifer Podkul is an international human rights lawyer and expert on child migration in the United States. Prior to joining KIND, Jennifer Podkul was a senior program officer at the Women's Refugee Commission where she researched issues facing vulnerable migrants seeking protection in the United States and advocated for improved treatment. She is a national expert on issues affecting immigrant children, has published articles, handbooks and reports on U.S. immigration law, and she presents regularly as an expert at various conferences, briefings, and professional trainings. She co-authored "Forced From Home: The Lost Boys and Girls from Central America" and was a contributing author to "Childhood, Migration, and Human Rights in Central and North America: Causes, Policies, Practices, and Challenges." Jennifer has taught child migration at Georgetown Law Center's Human Rights Institute. Jennifer began her legal career as an attorney at Ayuda in Washington, D.C. first as an Equal Justice Works Fellow and later as a KIND Fellow.

She served as a Peace Corps volunteer in Honduras, holds a B.A. in American Studies and Spanish from Franklin and Marshall College and a J.D. with honors from the Washington College of Law, American University, where she was a Public Interest/Public Service Scholar.
