

May 6, 2021

Bio

Charles C Dike is Associate Professor of Psychiatry, and Associate Training Director, Law and Psychiatry Training Program, Yale University School of Medicine. He is also Medical Director, Office of the Commissioner, Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services.

Dr. Dike completed medical school in Nigeria, and psychiatric training in England and Chicago, before completing a fellowship training in Law and Psychiatry at Yale University School of Medical.

Dr. Dike obtained a Diploma in Clinical Psychiatry (DCP) from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ireland, and Membership of the Royal College of Psychiatrists (MRCPsych) of England, United Kingdom, in 1998. He obtained a Masters in Public Health (MPH) degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago in 2004.

A past president of Connecticut Psychiatric Society and current chair of both the nominating and ethics committees of the society, Dr. Dike is a Distinguished Fellow of American Psychiatric Association (DFAPA), Fellow of the Royal College of Psychiatrists of England (FRCPsych), and Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE). He is Chair of the Ethics Committee of the American Psychiatric Association and immediate past Vice President of the American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law (AAPL).

Dr. Dike has worked tirelessly in efforts to increase diversity and inclusion in organized medicine through various organizations and agencies and serves as mentor to under-represented minority residents and fellows at Yale University School of Medicine. He has published widely in peer-reviewed journals and book chapters and frequently speaks at local, national, and international medical conferences.