

AL AYCOCK

MILITARY PARTNERSHIP EXECUTIVE

HIGHLIGHTS

- >Over 37 years of Army experience with 12 years leading centralized Installation Management at every level from Garrison to the Pentagon.
- >Successfully ran the Army's $4 billion military construction program and $3 billion base realignment and closure program for over 4 years.
- >As Deputy Commander and Chief of Staff of IMCOM, oversaw 74 Army Installations and a $13 billion budget.
- >Non-profit leader, board member, and volunteer
- >Bachelor of Science, United States Military Academy, West Point.
- >Master of Arts, Fayetteville State University.
- >Master of Strategic Studies, U.S. Army War College.
- >Certificate in Advanced Strategic Art, U.S. Army War College.
- >Certificate in Non-Profit Management, Duke University.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

- >Corvias Group, Military Partnership Executive, 2019-Present.
- >U.S. Army Special Warfare Center, Senior Executive Service, Deputy to the Commanding General, 2017-2019.
- >U.S. Army, Major General (Retired), 1978-2016.

As a Partnership Executive, Al Aycock is responsible for creating and enhancing the delivery of public private partnerships (P3) and sustainable solutions that are specifically designed for Corvias military partners. Al has key experience from Garrison level to the Pentagon in planning and executing military Installation operations, budgets, and 5-year programs with a focus on P3 implementation in housing, energy, and base realignment. He oversaw 2 major business turn-arounds in Army Morale, Welfare, and Recreation enterprises emphasizing customer service. Al is a leader, board member, and volunteer in numerous non-profit and civic organizations.

SELECT EXPERIENCE AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Director of Operations, Assistant Chief of Staff for Installation Management, The Army Staff.

- >Aligned the Army's $4 billion, 5-year military construction program and $3 billion base realignment program from inception to approval by DoD and Congress.
- >Improved the execution of energy programs on Installations to have the Army recognized as the best in the Federal Government with an emphasis in leveraging P3 programs.
- >Mentored the Army's Installation Senior Commander Course for over 4 consecutive years.

Special Assistant to the Commanding General, 3rd U.S. Army, forward deployed.

- >Directed reviews of 3rd U.S. Army wartime facilities in the U.S. Central Command area of operation to reset strategic requirements and supply chains to better support deployed forces.

Deputy Commanding General/Chief of Staff, U.S. Army Installation Management Command.

- >Aligned worldwide Army requirements on 74 Garrisons with a $13 billion annual budget.
- >Executed a detailed unit move from Arlington VA to San Antonio TX while the organization continuously supported Army commands moving under base realignment and deploying to war.

Commanding General of U.S Special Operations Command, Korea.

- >Trained and prepared for war in Korea ensuring Special Operations and Conventional forces integration across the Army, Air Force, Navy, and Marine Corps combined with Korean forces.

Commanding General for U.S. Army Installation Management Command, Korea.

- >Managed 5 Installations on over 100 sites with a $500 million budget in support of 28,500 forward deployed Soldiers and supporting personnel from the Air Force, Navy, and Marines.
- >Reestablished success in Army Community of Excellence performance standards to Baldrige criteria resulting in 3 of 5 Installations earning Army-level awards within 2 years.
- >Improved Army Morale, Recreation, and Welfare clubs, lodging, golf, bowling, cable television, slot machines, and other businesses in Korea while resetting ethics as a mandatory baseline.

Garrison Commander of Fort Bragg, NC.

- >Commanded one of the Army's largest installations, with an immediate readiness mission for Airborne and Special Operations Forces, supporting 52,000 Soldiers with $300 Million in funding on a base with 161,000 acres and 20 million square feet in facilities.
- >At Army direction, implemented the military portion of an initial Military Housing Privatization Initiative P3 action; a 50 year, $500M partnership with Picerne, now Corvias, receiving customer satisfaction and performance ratings among the highest in the Army.
- >Earned numerous Army-level team commendations: 2 consecutive Army Community of Excellence awards under Baldrige standards; 3 consecutive Army Installation force protection awards; the highest score on record for the Army's environmental performance assessment; and recorded the Army's highest profit-loss improvement for Morale, Welfare, and Recreation businesses while setting an Army record for corporate donations and in-kind contributions.