

Samantha Feinstein Bio

Senior Legal and International Analyst

Samantha Feinstein is the Senior Legal and International Analyst at the Government Accountability Project. She develops and advances whistleblower-rights legislation, represents whistleblower clients, and leads the international program. She has over 19 years of experience including extensive work in international law and development on anti-corruption, international access to justice, good governance, human rights, and humanitarian aid. Before joining Government Accountability Project, she worked at the American Bar Association (ABA) Section of International Law and the ABA Rule of Law Initiative. Ms. Feinstein has also worked at International Rescue Committee where she managed their Middle East and their East and Central Africa refugee assistance programs, and Banyan Global where she worked as a consultant on the USAID Advancing the Agenda of Gender Equality (ADVANTAGE) IDIQ bid. She also worked in Brussels as Middle East Policy Advisor the Nirj Deva, UK Member of European Parliament (MEP) and Vice Chairman of the Development Committee.

Ms. Feinstein holds a B.A. in Government and World Affairs from the University of Tampa, an M.A. in International Relations from Hult International Business School in London, and a J.D. from the University of the District of Columbia David A. Clarke School of Law.