

Dan Lips

Dan Lips is Head of Policy and a Senior Fellow at Lincoln Network. Dan has well over two decades of experience working in public policy and has built up deep expertise in K-12 education policy, congressional oversight, as well as cyber and national security policy.

Prior to Lincoln, from 2011 to 2019, Dan worked on the staff of the U.S. Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee, including serving as the majority staff's homeland security policy director.

He earned his bachelor's degree in Politics from Princeton University and his master's degree in Statecraft and National Security Affairs from the Institute of World Politics.