

Sean Vitka Biography

Sean Vitka is the Executive Director of Demand Progress Action and Demand Progress Education Fund, where he leads advocacy and policy efforts focused on civil liberties, democratic accountability, technology policy, surveillance reform, and government transparency. He previously served as policy counsel at Demand Progress and at the Sunlight Foundation, advancing open government and transparency reforms. Earlier in his career, he held policy roles at CREDO Action and Fight for the Future, working on campaigns related to internet freedom, privacy, corporate accountability, and digital rights. Vitka earned his J.D. from Boston College Law School.