Foreign Military Sales Procedural Improvements

The committee is aware that although decisions on Foreign Military Sales (FMS) involve several interagency steps, internal Department of Defense processes for considering arms transfers remain a significant part of the time frame for decision-making. The committee is concerned that there have been long delays continue to occur in approving some FMS cases and is pleased that the senior management of the Department of Defense has been focused on this issue. The current reform effort began in August 2008, when the Deputy Secretary of Defense established a Defense Senior Steering Group on Arms Transfers and Technology Release to review and improve the Department’s decision-making on arms transfers and release of sensitive technology. In July 2010, the Deputy Secretary issued a memorandum to revise the Department’s Technology Security and Foreign Disclosure processes, pursuant to the Steering Group’s recommendations and Presidential Study Directive 8, issued in December 2009. Nevertheless, long delays continue to occur in some cases. The committee therefore directs the Undersecretary of Defense for Policy to provide the committee and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs with a briefing on the results of the Deputy Secretary’s initiative and memoranda to streamline the FMS procedures and additional steps that can be taken to reduce the FMS decision-making time frame not later than November 1, 2015.
