Innovative Construction Materials and Design Process for Military Engineering in Cold Regions

The committee is concerned that the Department of Defense may face challenges to operating in the Arctic, sub-Arctic, and other extreme cold environments, should the need for operations arise. The committee is aware that the Department of Defense is developing an implementation plan for the National Strategy for the Arctic Region. The committee notes that the implementation of the plan may entail engineering challenges such as ability to construct, maintain, and retrofit horizontal and vertical infrastructure in cold regions.

Therefore, the committee directs the Secretary of Defense to perform an assessment of advanced adaptive construction techniques and innovative materials needed to address the challenges of changing physical environments which will enable the Department of Defense to rapidly project force in austere cold regions. The committee directs the Secretary of Defense to provide a briefing to the House Committee on Armed Services, no later than March 1, 2017, on the results of the assessment and the requirements for adaptive construction techniques and innovative materials for extreme cold environments.
