

Kevin McPartland is the Head of Research for Crisil Coalition Greenwich's market structure and technology practice. He has over 25 years of capital markets industry experience with deep expertise in market structure, electronic trading, and financial technology.

Prior to joining Crisil Coalition Greenwich, Kevin was with BlackRock, where he was a Director on the Electronic Trading and Market Structure team. Before joining BlackRock, he was a Principal at TABB Group, where he founded and led the firm's fixed-income research practice. Earlier in his career, Kevin worked in a consulting capacity at JPMorgan, UBS, RBC, and Deutsche Bank, focusing on operational and technology improvements. Kevin started his career at JPMorgan, supporting and building the firm's electronic trading technology.

Kevin has presented at a wide range of industry conferences and is quoted regularly in the financial media including the Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, Bloomberg News, Reuters, and numerous other industry publications. He has also provided live and taped commentary for Bloomberg TV, CNBC, Bloomberg Radio, and National Public Radio.

Kevin provided testimony discussing the Dodd-Frank Act to the U.S. Senate's Banking Committee in 2011, presented three times to the U.S. Commodities and Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), and presented to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Fixed Income Market Structure Advisory Committee.

Kevin earned a B.S. in Computer Science from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, NY.

Crisil Irevna US LLC

A Subsidiary of Crisil Ltd, an S&P Global Company

281 Tresser Boulevard, 11th Floor, Stamford, CT 06901 | www.coalitiongreenwich.com
Registered Office: Global Corporate Services Inc., 704 N. Kind St. #500, Wilmington, DE 19899