

Mr. Ilir Bytyqi is the eldest surviving brother to Ylli, Agron, and Mehmet Bytyqi - three American citizens murdered by Serbian special forces at the end of the Kosovo war. Since 1999, Ilir and his brother Fatose have worked tirelessly to bring their brothers' assailants to justice. Together, they have made nearly fifty trips to Belgrade and many more to Washington D.C. to advocate for accountability. He is an executive chef in Long Island, New York where he lives with his brother Fatose, both of their families, his mother, father and sister.
