

Flavio Darío Espinal obtained his Law Degree (Summa Cum Laude) at the Pontificia Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra (PUCMM). He holds a Master Degree in Political Sciences from Essex University in England and for his PHD in Government, Dr. Espinal attended the University of Virginia, in the United States. He has been awarded with three renowned international scholarships and programs such as the LASAPAU-Fulbright Scholarship and Research Scholarships from the Bradley Foundation, The Dupont Foundation and the Institute of World Politics of the United States.

During the years 1996-2000 he served as Ambassador of the Dominican Republic to the Organization of American States (OAS) where he held several positions: Chair of the Permanent Council, Chair of the Committee on Legal and Political Issues and the Chair of the Committee on Hemispherical Security. In the process of the “Summits of the Americas”, he was co-coordinator of the Civil Society Agenda, representing the Dominican Republic. While holding these chairs, Ambassador Espinal acted as Chairman of several important hemispherical reunions that dealt with issues such as Justice, Democracy, Human Rights and the Development and Strengthening of the Interamerican System.

Dr. Espinal has worked as an attorney at law in his native city of Santiago and in Santo Domingo, Capital of the Dominican Republic as well. He has served as Counselor for several private corporations and for international organizations such as the Interamerican Development Bank, the United Nations Programs for Development (PNUD) and the Organization of American States (OAS).

Dr. Espinal was the Director of the University Center of Political and Social Studies (CUEPS) and of the Center for the Study, Prevention and Resolution of Conflicts (CEPREC) of the Pontificia Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra (PUCMM). He was also the Director of the Law School of this university and taught Introduction to Law, International and Public Law and Constitutional Law.

He served as Ambassador of the Dominican Republic to the government of the United States of America from 2004 until 2009. After his tenure in the United States he joined global law firm Squire, Sanders & Dempsey L.L.P, until launching his own practice in 2013.