

Ambassador James F. Jeffrey

The Secretary's Special Representative for Syria Engagement
U.S. Department Of State

Ambassador James Franklin Jeffrey currently serves as the Secretary's Special Representative for Syria Engagement. He is a senior American diplomat with experience in political, security, and energy issues in the Middle East, Turkey, Germany, and the Balkans.

He has held senior assignments in Washington and abroad, including as deputy national security advisor (2007–2008); U.S. Ambassador to Iraq (2010–2012); U.S. Ambassador to Turkey (2008–2010); and U.S. Ambassador to Albania (2002–2004). In 2010 Jeffrey was appointed to the highest rank in the U.S. Foreign Service, career ambassador. From 1969 to 1976, Jeffrey was a U.S. Army infantry officer, with service in Germany and Vietnam.