

Douglas Rutzen
President and CEO
International Center for Not-for-Profit Law (ICNL)

Doug is president and CEO of ICNL, which has worked on the legal framework for civil society, philanthropy, and public participation in over 100 countries. In addition, Doug is on the faculty of Georgetown Law Center, where he teaches international civil society law.

Doug serves on USAID's Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid, and he previously co-chaired the State Department's Global Philanthropy Working Group. Doug also serves on the advisory boards of the OSCE Civic Space Observatory and the UN Democracy Fund.

After the fall of the Berlin Wall, Doug served as a Legal Advisor in the Czechoslovak Parliament. In private practice, Doug was co-counsel on the first lawsuit against Qaddafi for bombing Pan Am 103. Doug is a graduate of Yale Law School, with undergraduate studies at Cornell and Oxford.