

Ray Takeyh

Ray Takeyh is a Senior Fellow for Middle East Studies at the Council on Foreign Relations and Adjunct Professor at Georgetown University. His areas of specialization are Iran, political reform in the Middle East and Islamist movements and parties.

Takeyh was previously Senior Advisor on Iran at the Department of State. He was Professor at the National Defense University, a fellow at the International Security Studies at Yale, Fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy and a Research Fellow at the Center for Middle East Studies at University of California, Berkeley.

Takeyh is the author of The Guardians of the Revolution: Iran's Approach to the World. He is also the author of two previous books, Hidden Iran: Paradox and Power in the Islamic Republic and The Origins of the Eisenhower Doctrine: The US, Britain and Nasser's Egypt, 1953-1957. Takeyh has published widely, including articles in Foreign Affairs, Foreign Policy, National Interest, Survival, World Policy Journal, Washington Quarterly, Orbis, Middle East Journal and Middle East Policy. His commentary has also been featured in many newspapers, including the New York Times, Washington Post, Los Angeles Times, Financial Times and International Herald Tribune.

Takeyh has testified frequently in front various congressional committees and has appeared on Newshour with Jim Lehrer, Charlie Rose Show, ABC, NBC, CBS, CNN, BBC, FOX and CSPAN.

Takeyh has a doctorate in Modern History from Oxford University in 1997.