

DR. LOREN B. THOMPSON

Loren B. Thompson is Chief Operating Officer of the Lexington Institute and Chief Executive Officer of Source Associates. Lexington Institute is a non-profit public policy research organization headquartered in Arlington, Virginia. Source Associates is a for-profit consulting company headquartered in McLean, Virginia. Dr. Thompson is also a long-time contributor to Forbes, writing primarily on national security and economic policy.

Dr. Thompson previously served as Deputy Director of the Security Studies Program at Georgetown University, and taught graduate-level courses there in the School of Foreign Service. He also has taught at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government.

Dr. Thompson has written hundreds of essays on national defense and economic competitiveness, which have appeared in outlets such as Forbes, the Washington Post, the Wall Street Journal, and the Los Angeles Times. He is widely quoted in the national media. Born in 1951, he is married to the former Carla Ross, with whom he has two children -- Matthew and Ariel, twins born in 1997.