

Thomas M. Sanderson

Director and Senior Fellow, CSIS Transnational Threats Project

Thomas Sanderson works on terrorism, transnational crime, global trends, and intelligence. He currently investigates violent extremist activity across Africa and the Middle East. Tom has conducted field-work in more than 60 countries where he engages militants, traffickers, intelligence officials, journalists, social activists, NGOs, and clergy. He has published several times in The New York Times and the Washington Post, and is also a consultant to the U.S. Government and the private sector. Sanderson held fellowships in Berlin (2005) and in Shanghai (2001), and earned a B.A. from Wheaton College (Massachusetts) and an M.A. from the Fletcher School at Tufts University.

Contact: tsanderson@csis.org