

Paul Gibbs Biography

Paul Gibbs is an independent filmmaker and video production specialist from West Valley City Utah. he studied Film Production at Salt Lake Community College. He received a kidney transplant from a living donor in 2009, and has been an activist on healthcare issues since 2013, and has been heavily involved in the campaign to expand Medicaid in Utah. Since 2018 he has been a member of the board of Utah Health Policy Project, a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization advancing sustainable health care solutions for underserved Utahns through better access, education, and public policy.

He lives in West Valley City, Utah with his wife Becky and their sons Timothy and Peter.