

Biographical statement

Robert B. Reich is the Carmel P. Friesen Professor of Public Policy and the Chancellor's Professor of Public Policy at the University of California, Berkeley. He has served in three national administrations, including as secretary of labor under President Clinton, director of the policy planning staff of the Federal Trade Commission under President Carter, and Assistant to the Solicitor General under President Ford. He has written eighteen books, including the best-sellers The System, The Common Good, Saving Capitalism, Aftershock, Supercapitalism, and The Work of Nations (which has been translated into twenty-two languages). He is co-creator of the 2017 Netflix and Emmy-nominated documentary Saving Capitalism and of the award-winning 2013 film Inequality for All. He is co-founder of Inequality Media, a columnist for the Guardian and Newsweek, and writes a daily blog at <https://robertreich.substack.com>. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.