

Title:

Richard Wilson
Lieutenant of Police
Dallas Fusion Center Director
Dallas Police Department

Biography:

Lieutenant Wilson is the Director of the Dallas Fusion Center and a twenty-eight year veteran of the Dallas Police Department. In his current position, Lt. Wilson commands a regional fusion center staffed by sworn officers and civilian analysts employed by the Dallas Police Department. The fusion center's primary focus is to provide intelligence and investigative support to the Dallas Police Department, and regional, state, and federal agencies in conducting criminal and terrorism investigations. The entirety of Lieutenant Wilson's law enforcement career has been with the Dallas Police Department. His knowledge on law enforcement operations and management come from a combined knowledge gained from his formal education (Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of North Texas) and his current and prior assignments throughout the police department that include Patrol, Crimes Against Persons and Narcotics investigations, Crime Scene Response, and Communications.
