

Jeff Blum, Executive Vice President of External and Legislative Affairs, DISH

“An estimated 12 to 15 million children do not have the devices or connections they need to learn and develop in our digital economy, and COVID-19 has made that problem even more clear. We thank Chairman Pallone for his leadership in meeting the moment and look forward to working with him and his colleagues in both chambers as well as the FCC to expand connectivity and close the digital divide.”