Emily Heitman

Emily Heitman was appointed VP and GM of Commercial Operations for ABB's Medium & Large Power Transformers in North America in November 2013. In her role, she manages the engineering design, business development, marketing, and logistics of Power Transformers. Her team has responsibility for customers in North America and delivering transformers from ABB factories in the US, Canada, and other global operations.

In her 15 years in industry, Emily has held various positions in operations, supply chain, and product management. She joined ABB in 2010 as the VP of Marketing for Power Transformers and is currently a key member of ABB's strategic initiative for Grid Resiliency and Reliability.

Emily earned her bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering from Auburn University and has a Master's degree in Business Administration from Marquette University.
