About Public Citizen

Public Citizen is a national nonprofit organization founded in 1971 with more than 400,000 members and supporters across the United States. We represent consumer interests through lobbying, litigation, administrative advocacy, research, and public education on a broad range of issues including affordable and sustainable energy markets, climate change, consumer rights in the marketplace, product safety, financial regulation, worker safety, safe and affordable health care, campaign finance reform and government ethics, fair trade, and corporate and government accountability. Detail on our work and accomplishments, including financials that we report to the Internal Revenue Service, is found at citizen.org.

Tyson Slocum is director of Public Citizen's Energy Program, covering the regulation of petroleum, natural gas and power markets. Tyson serves on the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission's Energy & Environmental Markets Advisory Committee, and frequently intervenes before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission representing the interests of household consumers. Tyson presents his research in Congressional testimony and appears regularly in the media, including guest appearances on The Colbert Report. Tyson is a member of the faculty at the University of Maryland Honors College, where he teaches energy and climate policy. Prior to joining Public Citizen in 2000, Tyson served as an analyst with the Institute on Taxation & Economic Policy.
