Background

The National 9/11 Memorial commemorates the attacks of September 11, 2001. The Memorial is the principal tribute of remembrance and honor to the nearly 3,000 people killed in the terror attacks at the World Trade Center site, near Shanksville, Pennsylvania, at the Pentagon, as well as the six people killed in the World Trade Center bombing in February 1993.¹

The 9/11 Memorial plaza opened on September 11, 2011, the 10th anniversary of the attacks. Since 2011, more than 21 million people visited the plaza.² The Memorial plaza is located on the western side of the former World Trade Center complex. The Memorial’s twin reflecting pools, each nearly an acre in size, sit within the footprints where the Twin Towers once stood. The names of every person who died in the 2001 and 1993 attacks are inscribed into bronze panels edging the Memorial pools. Entrance to the Memorial plaza is free and open to the public year-round.

Construction & Ongoing Operation of the 9/11 Memorial and Museum

The National September 11 Memorial & Museum at the World Trade Center Foundation, Inc, is a private, not-for-profit organization, that operates the 9/11 Memorial and Museum. The Foundation began formal operations in the spring of 2005 and worked with the Lower Manhattan Development Corporation on the design and construction management plan.

In the summer of 2006, the organization assumed responsibility for overseeing the design and working with The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey (PANYNJ), the construction manager on the project. Construction of the 9/11 Memorial and Museum totaled roughly $700 million with ongoing operating costs of $65-70 million annually.\(^3\)

The Memorial and Museum does not receive state, city or federal funding for its operations.\(^5\) A breakdown of the 2015 estimated operating costs, as well as a table showing annual visitation to the Memorial and Museum compared to other memorial areas around the country, can be seen below:

Amendments

Representative MacArthur will offer an amendment in the nature of a substitute (ANS). The ANS will authorize the Secretary of the Interior to award a single grant through a competitive process to an eligible entity for the operation and maintenance of any memorial located within the United States established to commemorate the events of and honor:

(1) the victims of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and United Airlines Flight 93 on September 11, 2001; and

(2) the victims of the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center on February 26, 1993.

In awarding the grant, the Secretary of the Interior must give greatest weight in the selection of an eligible entity using the following criteria:

(1) experience in managing a public memorial that will benefit the largest number of visitors each calendar year;

(2) experience in managing a memorial of significant size (4 acres or more);

(3) successful coordination and cooperation with Federal, state and local governments in operating and managing the memorial;

(4) ability and commitment to use grant funds to enhance security at the memorial; and

(5) ability to use grant funds to increase the numbers of economically disadvantaged visitors to the memorial and surrounding areas.
