

Steve Charter Bio:

Steve Charter is a third-generation cattle rancher whose ranch lies over private and Federal coal reserves. He has been active for many years to ensure protection from damage from mining. He is a past president of the northern plains resource Council and a board member of the western organization of resource councils.