

April Frazier-Camara is the Chief of Lifelong Learning at the National Legal Aid and Defender Association (“NLADA”) and the co-founder of the Black Public Defender Association. She is a former public defender with experience working at D.C. Public Defender Services and the Shelby County Office of the Public Defender. She is currently the chair of the American Bar Association Criminal Justice Section and is a law graduate of Howard University School of Law.