

Dianna Muller

Dianna Muller is a retired, 22 year veteran of the Tulsa, OK Police Department, a renowned competitive shooter, firearms instructor and founder of Women for Gun Rights.

With a law enforcement career spanning over 20 years, she is experienced with firearms and violence. Her assignments included patrol, Street Crimes, Narcotics, and Gangs.

Muller retired early to begin a second career as a professional shooting competitor. She has competed at the highest levels of shooting sports and represented the United States on a world stage, earning multiple national and world titles.

Her dedication to promoting responsible gun ownership, safety, and education has made her a respected figure in the firearms industry. Through her advocacy work, Muller aims to empower women to take control of their personal safety and become confident in their use of firearms.
