

Dharmesh M. Mehta
Vice President, Customer Trust and Partner Support
Amazon

Dharmesh M. Mehta is the Vice President for Amazon's Customer Trust and Partner Support (CTPS) organization. This team is focused on creating a trustworthy shopping experience across Amazon stores worldwide by protecting customers, brands, selling partners and Amazon from fraud and abuse, and they are also focused on providing world-class support for Amazon's selling partners.

Dharmesh joined Amazon in October 2013 and prior to leading CTPS, he was a part of the Worldwide Marketplace organization, leading teams that were responsible for building tools and services that help Amazon's selling partners create thriving, successful businesses selling on Amazon. Prior to joining Amazon, Dharmesh spent the majority of his career in the technology industry in a variety of product, engineering, and marketing leadership roles. He founded an educational start-up that built and deployed online attendance, grades and other administrative software for large public schools districts, and has also worked in strategy consulting, focused primarily on the technology, defense, and consumer packaged goods industries.

Dharmesh has Bachelor of Science degrees in Electrical Engineering, Computer Science and Finance, a minor in Economics, and a Master of Engineering degree in Electrical Engineering & Computer Science all from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He also has a Master of Business Administration degree with high distinction from Harvard Business School.
