

Lucas Gjovig BIO

Lucas Gjovig is the President of GO Wireline, LLC, a leading provider of wireline and pressure pumping services throughout the Bakken and the Rockies. Prior to joining GO Wireline, Lucas was a practicing litigation attorney in Las Vegas, Nevada, where he represented financial institutions as they unwound bad loans during the 2008 financial crisis. Lucas serves on the Advisory Board of the Energy Workforce & Technology Council, and volunteers on the Legislative Committee of the North Dakota Petroleum Council. Lucas is an active citizen in his hometown of Williston, North Dakota, where he serves as Chair of the Williston Planning and Zoning Commission. In his free time, Lucas enjoys flying airplanes, curling, the outdoors, and spending time with his wife and five, soon to be six, children.
