

Dan Stelpflug Bio

Dan Stelpflug has twenty-two years of senior level utility management experience within the rural electric program. As the Director of Operations, Engineering & Technology with Allamakee-Clayton Electric Cooperative, Dan is responsible for areas of strategic planning, board relations, labor relations, finance, plant accounting, rate issues, engineering, power supply, distribution system planning, member relations, and management of the AC Skyways broadband division, which includes the deployment of new technologies and the overall strategic vision of the department.